Homecoming Set For November 2 & 3

The annual Southwestern Oklahoma State University Homecoming has been set for Nov. 2 and 3. Various committees and departments are working on the two-day homecoming schedule. The complete schedule of activities will be published in the September issue of ECHOES FROM THE HILL. Some activities are listed on this page.

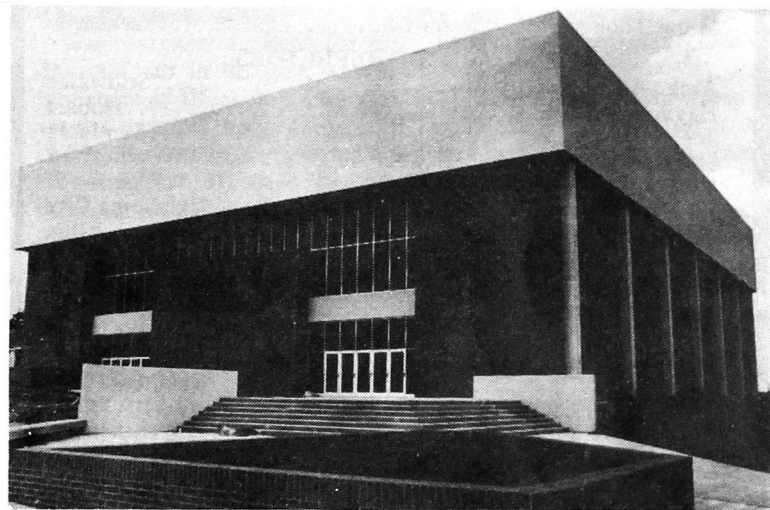

The Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame Committee will be meeting at the start of the fall semester to select two or three alumni. Presentation of these alumni will be made at the alumni luncheon and at halftime during the football game.

Color portraits of the honorees are on display at the Al Harris Library in the Southwestern Room. Alumni receiving this honor have been: Frances Avritt Curb, Marion A. Diel, and Margaret Renz Replogle, 1983; Ed Berrong and W. T. Malone, 1982; Harry Mabry, Joe Schwemin, and Millie Thomas, 1981; Dawson "Tack" Nail and Richard D. Shelby, 1980; A. J. Alexander and Jerry Hodge, 1979; James P. Dawson and Carl M. Bogdahn, 1978; E. H. "Hack" McDonald and Major-General John J. Murphy, 1977; and Congressman Glenn English Jr. and James Witherspoon, 1976.

A reunion of all the athletes that played from 1950 through 1958 is being planned. Names and addresses of these people were published in the March issue of ECHOES and again in this issue.

The Southwestern Oklahoma State University Bulldogs will play host to the "Rangers" from Northwestern Oklahoma State University.

PICTURED IS the new 1,500-seat Fine Arts Building still under construction, with most of the remaining work being done inside. You'll want to tour the new building at Homecoming.

Governor Appoints SWOSU Graduate To Serve On State Supreme Court

YVONNE KAUGER

A Southwestern Oklahoma State University graduate and former Colony resident who has spent 12 years drafting opinions for the State Supreme Court now is becoming the second woman to sit on that high bench.

Gov. George Nigh appointed Yvonne Kauger, daughter of John and Alice Kauger of Colony, to the State Supreme Court over Joseph Young Jr. of Woodward and Holland Meacham of Elk City.

She is the second woman Nigh has appointed to the high court, joining Alma Wilson, appointed to the Supreme Court in 1982.

For the last 12 years, 46-year-old Kauger has worked as a judicial assistant to Supreme Court Justice Ralph B. Hodges. She graduated from SWOSU in the mid-1960s and from Oklahoma City University Law School in 1969.

Kauger graduated magna cum laude from Southwestern and finished first in her graduating class at Oklahoma City University Law School. She is also a member of the board of directors of Lyric Theatre and founded an art gallery for Indian artists at Colony.

At 46, Kauger will be the youngest of the 11 justices.

"I believe in women's issues, but I think so many times we can do more by not being quite so militant and being a little more effective," she added.

Kauger indicated that her grandfather built Main Street in Colony. "He is a Russian immigrant who floated down the Volga River to escape no telling what," she said. "The last judge in the family was my uncle David Kauger who was a judge under the czar, so it has been a long time for the Kauger's."

Alumni Donate Lake Front

Dr. Ken Rose, professor of health and physical education at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, has announced that Dale and Mary Beth Crowder, both of Weatherford and both graduates of Southwestern State, have donated two acres of land to the University, for use as an outdoor education laboratory.

The land, located on the east end of Crowder Lake which is south of Weatherford, will be adjacent to the new Crowder Lake State Park project and will be used for such University interests as outdoor seminars, sailing classes, camp counseling seminars, biology classes, art classes, and teacher education courses.

Dale Crowder is a 1956 industrial arts and history graduate of Southwestern and has worked as a foot mail carrier for the past 28 years. He has also been involved in Boy Scouts as well as the Masons and Eastern Star. Mrs. Crowder went back to school and graduated from Southwestern with her son, Mark, after devoting her energies to raising a family and doing much community work, including Girl and Cub Scouts and the Contact Crisis Intervention program. She has worked for the Weatherford Head Start Program before encountering a life-threatening battle with cancer.

Both Crowder offspring are Southwestern graduates. Mark, already mentioned, is employed at Texas Instruments in Dallas; and Linda Kay, a business education graduate, is married to another Southwestern graduate, David Smith, and lives and works in Tecumseh. Linda Kay and David provided a big thrill to the Crowder family in the form of a new addition, Catherine Renee, born December 21, 1983.

Dr. Rose commented that "The Crowder's gift of those two acres shows their belief and faith in young people. We are very thankful for this donation."

Margaret Renz Replogle Donates $250,000.00 to Southwestern University

Margaret Renz Replogle, a Southwestern Oklahoma State University alumni and recently inducted into the Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, has given $250,000.00 toward the construction of the music building on the new Fine Arts Auditorium, the largest single gift given in the history of the University and one-half of the building's construction cost.

When state funds for construction became short, the music wing on the Fine Arts Building had to be dropped. The donation by Mrs. Replogle brought to life a dying dream of the Southwestern State Music Department and her Alma Mater. The new facility contains a large practice room, percussion room, music library, 14 individual practice rooms, conference room, listening room, and three offices. The music hall will serve students for many years to come.

The donation will be made in two payments--the first payment of $125,000.00 in February 1984 and the second payment of $125,000.00 in February 1985. Upon completion of the facility, the University will officially name the building the "Margaret Renz Replogle Music Hall." Matching funds and private donations will be used to complete the building.

Mrs. Replogle has given $38,400.00 to the Southwestern State Foundation for the purpose of establishing a permanent scholarship fund and named the "Margaret Renz Replogle Scholarship."

Mrs. Replogle recognizes that the need for new buildings and facilities go hand in hand in recruiting music students with outstanding abilities and a genuine desire to obtain a degree in higher education. The new music hall will give the Southwestern Oklahoma State University Music Department a facility that will compliment the fine instrumental and vocal programs offered at its University. Mrs. Replogle seeks to help deserving young Oklahomans. Her love for music has helped endow music scholarships at other universities.

The new music hall will be built on the southwest corner of the new Fine Arts Building facing Davis Road.

Margaret Renz Replogle was born in Odessa, Russia, where her father was an Indo European telegrapher. When she was only a small child, her parents, Jacob and Marie Renz, decided to leave the wealth and prosperity of their heritage and move their young family of six away from Russia's increasing turmoil and impending bloody revolution. On August 15, 1911, they boarded the passenger ship Hanover for the 22-day trip to the United States.

After visiting with relatives for several weeks in Hillsboro, Kan., the Renz family settled on farmland at Weatherford. Mrs. Replogle remembers well the hours she spent helping bale hay, chop corn, milk cows, and wash the family laundry on scrub boards.

Determined and intensely interested in acquiring an education, she worked for the Ben Kramer's for her room and board while attending high school and college. Upon receiving her coveted bachelor of science degree, she began teaching school in Erick.

She later accepted a position as a laboratory technician in the University of Oklahoma Medical School Histology and Embryology Department, and still later became an X-ray technician in the Balyeat Hayfever and Asthma Clinic in Oklahoma City where she met her future husband, Dakotah Replogle. They were married in 1944.

Since the loss of Mr. Replogle in 1957, Margaret has kept an active volunteer involvement with a number of organizations.

The Replogle Chapel at the First Christian Church in Oklahoma City was funded in the amount of $35,000.00 by Mrs. Replogle in 1978.

In 1982, Margaret presented Deaconess Hospital a gift for $100,000.00 earmarked for equipment and furnishings for the hospital's center for newborn infants. The gift was one of the largest in the hospital's history. The center has been named the Margaret R. Replogle Neonatology Center.

Mrs. Replogle was involved in the organization of the Ladies Advisory Board of the Deaconess Home and served three terms as president. She also was active in planning the new home which was completed in 1971. She served on the executive committee and co-chaired the fund drive for the home, contributing $40,000.00 toward its construction.

The gift is one of two $125,000.00 gifts that will be used to build the music wing on the Fine Arts Building. The second gift will be given next February, completing the quarter million dollar donation.

The Margaret R. Replogle Endowed Chair in Religion was established at Oklahoma City University through the generous gift of $250,000.00 in memory of her late husband, D. Replogle. She received an honorary doctor's degree from OCU at the commencement ceremonies in 1982. She also endowed $200,000.00 for music scholarships at OCU in 1965 and 1967.

She serves on the Board of Directors and the Executive Board of the Salvation Army and Women's Auxiliary. She donated total funds ($100,000.00) for the "Heart of The Hills" Salvation Army Chapel in Tahlequah and donated total funds of $100,000.00 for a new Salvation Army Chapel being built in Oklahoma City.

She is on the Administrative Board of her church, St. Luke's United Methodist; the Ladies' Advisory Board of the Home of Redeeming Love; and a member of the Board of the Willow View Psychiatric Treatment Center in Oklahoma City.

The Oklahoma City woman is a co-organizer of the Junior Auxiliary to the Salvation Army and has been its advisor for more than 10 years. She is an active participant in the Big Sisters organization, a staunch supporter of World Neighbors, the Oklahoma City Symphony, and the Oklahoma Art Center.

In 1970 she established and has since made sizeable contributions to a fund in the Oklahoma City Community Foundation with annual proceeds going to World Neighbors and the Salvation Army.

Accreditation Teams Visit

Dr. Leonard Campbell, President of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, announced that all undergraduate and graduate teacher education degree/certificate programs at the University have received maximum reaccreditation by state and national evaluation agencies. The Professional Standards Board of the Oklahoma State Department of Education and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) have approved Southwestern's teacher education programs through June 1989. These are maximum numbers of years possible in both state and national accreditation sequences. The notifications are the results of evaluation team visits to the Southwestern campus in October and November of the current academic year.

"The significance of these accreditations is indeed multiple and has far-reaching effects with regard to recruitment, teaching excellence, and future developments," said Dr. Gary H. Gilliland, Dean, School of Education at Southwestern. It is especially positive to receive such recognition for achievement of established standards when you consider that, of approximately 1600 teacher preparation institutions in the United States, only 550-560 are accredited by the National Council. "Perhaps the most important factors involved in these successes are that they are the results of the concentrated effort by the University teacher education faculty, by the administration, and by students. Furthermore, the findings by these evaluation teams support the long-standing contention that Southwestern Oklahoma State University does have one of the best teacher education programs in the United States," said the Dean.

Thomas Receives Award

At an Awards Banquet held at the Lincoln Plaza Inn of Oklahoma City on April 28, 1984, Dr. Leroy Thomas became the fifteenth person to receive the annual Honorary Life Member award from the Oklahoma Writers' Federation, Inc. (OWFI). The banquet marked the end of the organization's sixteenth year.

The award includes a commemorative plaque and a waiving of organizational dues.

Criteria for the award are service to the state organization, assistance to other writers, overall interest in writing, and publications.

For the past five years, Thomas has served as editor of the official organ of the OWFI, the OWFI REPORT newsletter. Since 1981, he has been editor of WESTVIEW, a journal of Western Oklahoma published by Southwestern Oklahoma State University. He is also available as a writer's consultant.

He has conducted workshops for writers and for teachers of writing at Moore High School and at the Sheerar Cultural Center for the Stillwater Arts and Humanities Council and the Stillwater Writer's Club. During the summer of 1984, he will conduct a workshop on writing for area junior-high students.

Thomas' own writing--including poetry, fiction, and non-fiction--has appeared in publications such as HOME NEWS, POETS' FORUM, KALEIDOSCOPE, WEATHERFORD DAILY NEWS, WESTVIEW, WORLDWIDE CHALLENGE, HEALTHWAYS, STANDARD, GUIDEPOSTS, VOICES INTERNATIONAL, and THE EXPLICATOR.

Blood Drives A Success

The Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Student Senate-sponsored Blood Drive was honored by the Oklahoma Blood Institute for the second consecutive year for donating the largest amount of blood in the college and university division.

Nine hundred and twenty-nine pints of blood were donated by Southwestern students during the 1983 Blood Drive. Kurt Winden, Student Association president, credits the success of the drive to Ed Parsley, Guymon senior, who had been in charge of the drive over three years. Winden stated, "Ed has played an integral part in the coordination of the SWOSU spring and fall blood drives for the past three years. He is primarily responsible for the overwhelming success of our blood drives for 1982 and 1983."

Winden and Student Senate member, Ginger James, attended the Fourth Annual Awards Luncheon held by the Sylvan N. Goldman Center of the Oklahoma Blood Institute on Feb. 16 to receive the plaque honoring the drive's success.

THREE SOUTHWESTERN Oklahoma State University faculty members were guests of honor at the annual Southwestern Retirement Luncheon, held April 6. Those honored for their dedicated service to Southwestern were (seated, l-r): Joanna Thurston Roper of the Southwestern Language Arts Department, Henry G. Reynolds of the Southwestern Social Sciences Department, and Dr. Freda Johnson, Southwestern's Dean of Women.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: We regret to inform the readers that Henry G. Reynolds, member of the Southwestern social sciences faculty for the past 17 years, died at his home on Saturday, May 12. Obituary appears elsewhere in this publication.)

Student Body Election Results

The student body at Southwestern Oklahoma State University held elections April 10 to determine the officers for each academic class, as well as the officers for the Southwestern Student Association. The results are as follows:

therford, president; Sedrick Love, Borger, Tex., vice-president. Sophomore class: Brian Box, Fairview, president; Ginger James, Granite, vice-president.

The officers for the Student Association include: Mike Ratke, Cordell, president; Randy Willard, Weatherford, vice-president, and Sandy Hill, Enid, treasurer.

SWOSU Tours

The Southwestern Oklahoma State University-sponsored Southwestern Tours will be making a New Orleans World's Fair trip July 2-15.

The tour, under the supervision of Cedric Crink, Director of Southwestern Tours, will feature stops in Dallas and Houston before arriving for a two-day stay in New Orleans, one day of which will be spent at the 1984 World's Fair. After New Orleans, the tour will move on to Mobile, Ala.; Tallahassee, Tampa, Miami, and St. Augustine, Fla.; Charleston, S.C.; Asheville, N.C.; Nashville, Tenn., and Little Rock, Ark., before returning to Weatherford.

For more information on this once-in-a-lifetime tour, contact Mr. Cedric Crink, Director of the Southwestern Tours, Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford, OK 73096.

New Dean For Women, SWOSU

DR. KAY SCRUGGS

The Oklahoma Board of Regents for State Colleges has announced the appointment of Dr. Kay Scruggs to the position of Associate Dean of Student Personnel Services for Women at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford, Okla.

Dr. Scruggs is a native of Oklahoma and is a graduate of Rocky High School. She attended Southwestern for two years and finished her B.S.Ed. degree from Austin Peay State University in Clarksville, Tenn. She received her master's and doctorate degrees from Oklahoma State University.

Dr. Scruggs' wide range of experiences include teaching science in public schools, extension service for homemakers, coordinator of the Homemakers Department for the State Department of Vocational Education of Oklahoma. She is presently the Training Coordinator of the 3M Plant at Weatherford.

Dr. Scruggs is replacing Dr. Freda Johnson who will be retiring this summer.

Crink Keeps Busy

Who is more powerful than a locomotive? Able to leap tall buildings in a single bound? Faster than a speeding bullet? Although those first two questions may not apply here, the consensus vote for the third question would have to go to one Cedric Crink.

Crink, a Southwestern speech professor until retirement in the mid-70s, has been the director of the Southwestern Tours since 1959, spending some 752 days during that time enlightening his fellow travelers from Alaska to Hawaii; from the Pacific Northwest to Mexico; from Europe to Nassau. Need we say more? In his 42 outings, Mr. Crink has taken some 1390 people to some 84 foreign countries. His groups have stayed in 690 hotels/motels. The groups have traveled by rickshaws, camels, ox carts, gondolas, dog sleds, and sometimes airplanes, boats, and trains.

Currently, Mr. Crink is planning a New Orleans World's Fair trip from July 2-15 and, at this time, there are still open spaces in the group.

Aside from his tour-leader duties, Mr. Crink is quite the entertainer. At a recent breakfast in Clinton, Crink transformed himself into a Scotland Yard detective and proceeded to spend the entire program in character, explaining in an oh-so British accent the many differences between his country and the "colonists." Crink knew what he was doing--during World War II, he was stationed in London and, by the time he was through, could fool even the stoutest British official over the phone.

Another passion for Crink is his knowledge of and his ability to share parliamentary procedure. Crink is the only Certified Professional Parliamentarian in the state of Oklahoma, a title he received after passing a rigorous test at a convention of the American Institute of Parliamentarians in 1965. At times, Crink hesitates to make it known that he is a parliamentarian; he tells of a friend who was awakened at all hours by different groups with parliamentary problems.

Alumni Receives Coaching Honor

Rene Huckaba, Southwestern alumni and currently the Yukon High School athletic director, was inducted into the Oklahoma Track Coaches Hall of Fame on May 5 at the Yukon school track. Huckaba was inducted prior to the finals of the Class A and Class B State Track and Field Championships.

Huckaba's induction was fitting since the long-time athletic director was instrumental in establishing the small school track and field championships. "I'm real honored. I feel there's a lot of guys who probably should have gone in before me," Huckaba said. "One of the reasons may have been that we had some success without a track."

Yukon did not have a track until the early 1970s. Workouts were conducted at the football field, inside school buildings, and on school grounds. "If it rained, we didn't have a place to practice," said Huckaba.

Huckaba coached track at Sayre High School from 1961-62 before coming to Yukon as head football and track coach, as well as athletic director. In 12 years at Yukon, Huckaba-coached teams won 55 track meet titles, including nine regional titles and 10 conference championships. In 14 years, 13 of his teams won or finished second at a regional meet. He had 132 individuals qualify for the state meet, and his teams finished in the top 10 at six state meets.

Huckaba helped start the small school state track meet and the Oklahoma Track Coaches Association. He has been active in the Oklahoma Track Coaches Association, Oklahoma Athletic Directors Association, and served as a past-president of the Oklahoma Coaches Association.

Huckaba started the Meet of Champions, a track meet pitting state champions and record holders from all high school classes, and served as its meet director in 1967.

His coaching accomplishments in all sports were honored in 1979 when he was named to the Oklahoma Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

He left coaching in 1974 to become a full-time athletic director but will again take over the head football coaching job at Yukon High in the fall.

SOUTHWESTERN OKLAHOMA State University nursing student Becky Russell, Putnam City High School, Oklahoma City, was awarded the Alice Robinson Memorial Scholarship by the National Student Nurses Association. Russell was selected from over 10,000 applicants for the $1,000 scholarship and was the only nursing student in Oklahoma to receive it. Becky is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eugene Russell of Oklahoma City.

LoBaugh Selected As YHS Principal

Yukon's newest high school principal had little trouble finding his way around the building when he assumed office June 1.

Assistant principal Larry LoBaugh became the new high school principal, moving to a new office in the same building when the 1983-84 school year began.

Board of Education members approved LoBaugh's appointment during the board meeting at the administration offices. LoBaugh replaces outgoing principal Charles Callum, who accepted an assistant superintendent's position with the Ponca City public school system.

A popular administrator among high school students, LoBaugh has been in education for 21 years and with Yukon Schools since 1974. He taught history and government before becoming an administrative assistant in charge of attendance in 1976.

He was named assistant principal in 1977. LoBaugh became a full-time administrator after retiring from coaching in 1978.

"We have an excellent school, an excellent athletic program. This is where I want to be in my career," said LoBaugh.

LoBaugh was graduated from Southwestern in 1962 and began his teaching career at Burns Flat. He taught at Burns Flat for three years, then accepted a teaching position at Hobart.

He came to Yukon as an assistant football coach and head baseball coach. He also served as head football coach in 1978.

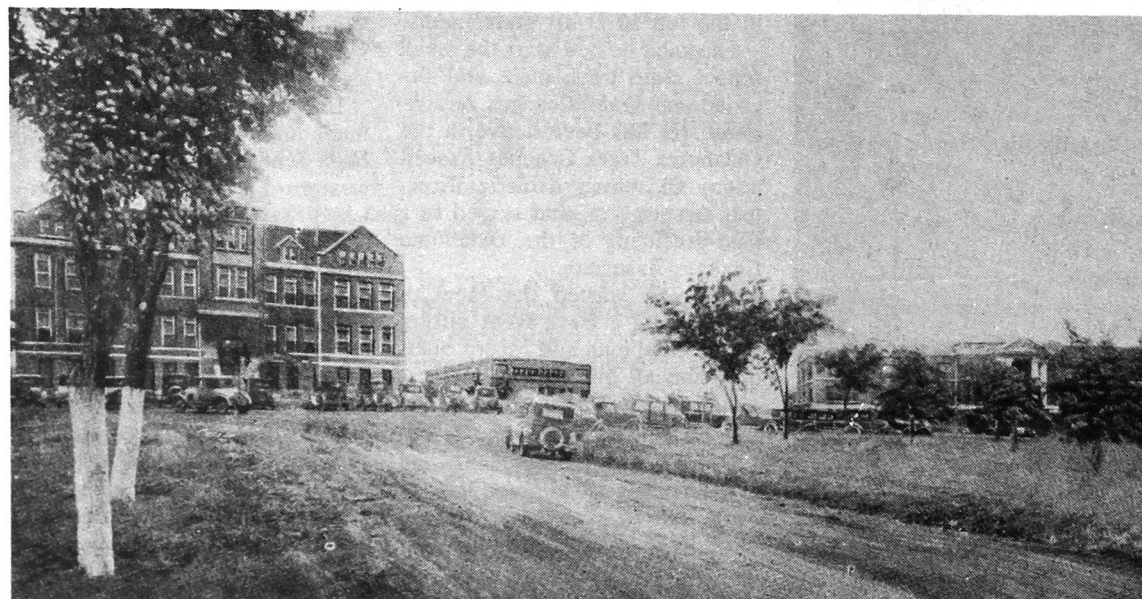

Yukon Hires SWOSU Alumni

Bob Hart, one of the most recognizable figures in coaching circles in Oklahoma, has resigned at Altus High School after 18 highly successful years as head track coach and assistant football coach.

Hart is taking the position of assistant football coach at Yukon under head coach Rene Huckaba.

Hart has coached two state championship teams--the Class 3A state champions in football in 1971 and the Class 4A state championship track team in 1972. He was also named the State Track Coach of the Year in 1972. Hart has coached 23 Altus High School athletes who have won state gold medals in track.

Hart was a versatile prep athlete at Temple before enjoying standout college track and football careers at Cameron Junior College and Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

SOUTHWESTERN STATE Teachers College had a long way to go before reaching its present status when this photograph was made, probably in 1929. Only three buildings were on the campus then--the Administration Building (at left), since destroyed by fire; the Gymnasium (center), now the Music Building, and the Science Building.

Teachers Of The Year Are Listed

Listed are the names of alumni that have been named "Teacher of The Year." If we missed you, please send us information about you for our next issue of ECHOES FROM THE HILL.

VIVIAN CREASON SMITH was honored by the Beckham-Roger Mills Retired Teachers Association recently. Mrs. Smith, now 90 years old, was presented a plaque from Oklahoma Retired Teachers for her 34 years of teaching in Oklahoma schools. Her teaching began at Emerson and included Mayfield, Elk City, Berlin, and others, ending at Canute in 1950. Presenting the framed tribute to her was one of her students at Mayfield, Pauline Roberts, president of the bi-county group. Others attending the ceremony were Elma Spencer, Eunice Gamble, and Ruby Bullard.

GAYLUND STONE uses art to teach more than just how to draw. He puts into words what he does this way, "I teach them to see; to use their senses on an individual basis."

It is this dedication which earned Stone the Clinton Education Association "Teacher of the Year" award during the annual CEA Banquet at the Granada Inn.

Stone has been teaching in the Clinton school system for six years. He taught science at Clinton Junior High School before taking over the art program at Clinton High School. He and his wife, Terri, live in Custer City.

The art teacher received his undergraduate education from Princeton University, Princeton, N.J., where he graduated in 1971 with a bachelor's degree in art and archaeology. He received his master's degree in art education from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1977.

Prior to coming to Clinton, the educator worked with the State Department of Education in Lawton for a few years and taught art history from 1977 to 1978 at SWOSU in Weatherford.

Stone utilizes his profession as more than just a high school teacher. For the past year he has been conducting evening art courses through the Clinton Community Education program for students in elementary through adult levels.

He admitted that he enjoys working with just about all levels of students and finds different challenges in meeting the needs of each.

The 34-year-old teacher is currently president-elect of the Clinton Education Association. He is serving as coordinator for the CEA's "Arts in Education" program and in that capacity organized a teacher seminar recently for local educators.

MRS. LYNN DENNEY, third grade teacher in the Granite Public Schools, has been chosen by the Granite Association of the OEA as "Teacher of The Year" in the Granite school system.

Mrs. Denney is completing her 13th year as a teacher, all in the Granite schools. She taught the second grade until the retirement of Mrs. Fern Nelson four years ago, when she began teaching the third grade previously taught by Mrs. Nelson.

She is a member of the OEA and NEA teacher organizations and actively involved in her profession.

She and her husband, Tommy, reside in the Willow community. They have a daughter, Mrs. Carl Murphy, and a grandson, Jason.

MRS. YVONNE COVEY, a vocal music teacher in the Custer City Public Schools, has been named Custer County "Teacher of The Year" for 1984-85.

Mrs. Covey has taught for 10 years, including two years in Watonga and eight in Custer City. Along with her music classes for students in kindergarten through 12th grade, she is also involved in such programs as an annual Christmas program for all grades, spring and fall concerts and All-School Musical, contests, honor choir, and special performances.

Some of the educator's ensemble groups have performed on Channel 4 television, at State FFA Conventions, Oklahoma Education Association meetings, and for many civic organizations. Mrs. Covey also finds time to direct community contatas.

The honoree is a member of both the Oklahoma and National Education Associations, American Choral Directors, Oklahoma Music Educators, Kappa Kappa Iota, Western Oklahoma Choir Association, and is on the teaching staff of the Choral Camp at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford.

She is well-known throughout the state, having judged many contests and instructed choral workshops. Her music groups have won many awards over the years with both her choirs and several ensemble groups going to State Vocal Music Contests each year she has taught.

Mrs. Covey and her husband, James, along with sons, Burke and Justin, and daughter, Jill, live on a farm-ranch north of Custer City.

The teacher is a native of the Custer-Independence communities. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland DeBord and is a graduate of Custer City High School. She holds a master of education degree from Southwestern.

MISS SUSAN TURNER, Erick elementary teacher, has been chosen the Erick "Teacher of the Year" for 1983-84.

Miss Turner has 12 years teaching experience, all at Erick elementary. She has taught kindergarten nine years, first grade one year, and second grade two years. She is presently the kindergarten teacher.

Susan, the daughter of Mrs. Bill Turner, is a 1968 graduate of Erick High School. She received her B.S. degree from SWOSU in 1972 and her M.Ed. degree in 1982.

She has been a member of OEA-NEA for 10 years, a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, and a member of the International Honor Society for Women Educators for five years.

DEBRA JONES was named "Teacher of the Year" for 1984-85 at a breakfast presentation on May 3 in Mangum.

Mrs. Jones graduated from Laverne High School in 1969 and attended SWOSU, receiving her bachelor's degree in music education in 1973. She later received her master's degree in special education.

Mrs. Jones is an elementary special education teacher. She has taught in the Mangum school system for nine years. Subjects and grades taught include music aide, first grade, second grade, kindergarten, and EMH and LD special education.

BRENDA ARCHER of Hammon was recently chosen at Hammon Education Association's "Teacher of the Year" for 1984. She is completing her sixth year of teaching at Hammon.

Brenda graduated from Southwestern in 1977 with a B.A.E. degree. She majored in speech-theater and minored in social studies. She then entered graduate school and received a library science degree with an English minor.

The teacher has served as an officer of the Hammon Education Association for five years and is currently serving as president. She has also served as a member of several committees for the group.

MRS. GLENDA BAIR, English teacher at Altus High School, has been named "Teacher of the Year" for 1984.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Clayton Smith, Bair grew up in Tipton where her parents still reside.

Bair has been involved with all of the Altus schools, either through teaching, attending the schools, or having children who attend them.

She began teaching at Southeast Junior High the second semester of the 1972 school year. After that semester, she said, Dr. Morris Foster asked her to teach at Altus High School, and she has been there since.

At Southeast she taught ninth grade English and drama, and she is currently teaching senior English at the high school.

Bair attended Western Oklahoma State College for two years and then went on to Southwestern Oklahoma State University where she received her bachelor's and master's degrees.

She has held the office of building representative for Altus Education Association and wrote the draft for Project Excellence which was incorporated in the grade schools this year. Included in the draft were proposals, how the program would work, the deadlines, and who was to get the award.

She is also involved in Oklahoma Education Association, National Education Association, and is a member of the Officer's Wives Club at Altus Air Force Base.

Byrd Named Lookeba-Sickles Superintendent

Dennis Byrd has been named the new superintendent of the Lookeba-Sickles Public Schools beginning July 1.

He is a 1964 graduate of Hinton High School and received his Bachelor of Science degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University at Weatherford in January of 1969; his M.Ed. degree in 1976; and he holds a provisional superintendent's certificate from Oklahoma University.

He taught industrial arts in Port Arthur, Tex., for one semester in 1969. He coached girl's basketball at Lomega from 1969 to 1972. He coached basketball and taught driver education at Cement from 1972 to 1975 where he also served as high school principal for one year. He was then high school principal at Cyril for five years from 1975 to 1980. He came to Lookeba-Sickles in 1980 where he has served as high school principal for four years.

More Teachers Honored

A former Bessie girl has been honored as "Teacher of the Year" for Seminole County.

CINDY HENDERSON is remedial English and reading teacher at Butner High School, north of Wewoka.

She was chosen "Teacher of the Year" by the county chapter of the Oklahoma Education Association.

Mrs. Henderson, the former Cindy Intemann, is the daughter of Mrs. Floyd Nonast of Bessie.

A graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, she has taught six and a half years at Dill City High School, Moore West Mid-High, and Butner.

Besides her teaching responsibilities, Mrs. Henderson sponsors the eighth grade class and Pep Club at Butner.

Her husband, Ron, is Baptist Student Union director at Seminole Junior College. He is a former youth and music director of the Cordell First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson have one daughter, Slisha.

JOHN "CASH" REGISTER, vocational industrial arts teacher at Sentinel High School, was recently named the American Vocational Association Region IV Vocational Industrial Arts "Teacher of the Year."

He was chosen because of his significant contributions to industrial arts education not only at the local level but also at the district, state, regional, and national levels.

According to Dr. Roger Stacy, state supervisor of industrial arts education, State Department of Vocational and Technical Education in Stillwater, Register is very deserving of the award. Roger is an SWOSU graduate. Stacy added that Register's success is attributed to his "ability to inspire his students to strive to their fullest potential to achieve success."

Register received his baccalaureate degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford and has taught vocational industrial arts at Sentinel High School for eight years.

Register and his wife and son live in Dill City.

In Memoriam

JOE'DE BOB HARRIS

Final rites for Joe'de Bob Harris, 71, were held in St. Mark's Episcopal Church of Weatherford.

Mrs. Harris was born August 13, 1912, at Weatherford. She died at Baptist Medical Center in Oklahoma City following an extended illness.

She grew up in Weatherford, graduating from high school there in 1930 and obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree in English, speech and drama from Southwestern State Teachers College.

On June 24, 1938, she was married to Al Harris at Weatherford. They made their home in Custer City, Watonga, and Clinton before moving to Weatherford in 1960 when Dr. Harris became president of Southwestern. In Clinton he had served as superintendent of schools.

She is survived by her husband of Weatherford; one daughter and son-in-law, Ruth and Michael Smith of Tulsa; and one grandson, George Albert Smith, Tulsa.

Mrs. Harris was a member of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Weatherford, Chapter BT of P.E.O., and numerous other bridge and social organizations.

STEVE & DIANNA LADD

A tragic two-car accident on Highway 84 just east of Loop 289 in Lubbock, Tex., sent shock waves through Post, Tex., with the death of Steve and Dianna Ladd.

Memorial services were held at Post in the new school auditorium.

Steve was the Post High School band director, and Dianna was PHS choir director.

Their two-year-old daughter, Stephanie, received a severe concussion.

The accident appears to have been caused when a vehicle veered off the right side of the west bound lane, then cut across the left, over the median and slammed into the east bound auto driven by Ladd.

Friends of the Ladd's reported that they had been to Petersburg, Tex., earlier in the day to hear a band concert directed by Ladd's brother, Clint.

After the concert, they went to Lubbock and were returning to Post at the time of the accident.

Investigating officers said Mrs.

Ladd was in the back seat of their sub-compact auto with the baby, and that Mrs. Ladd was killed on impact.

Ladd, who was rushed to Lubbock General Hospital, died at 8:48 p.m.

The accident, which happened around 7 p.m., was located just across from the Lubbock Power and Light generating plant on what is known as the Slaton Highway.

The Ladd's moved to Post, Tex., in the summer of 1981 from Oklahoma.

Hundreds of Post school students are affected by the deaths, as both Steve and Dianna worked with fifth grade through high school in band and choir.

Steve and Dianna were both SWOSU graduates.

EARL LEON (PAT) MURPHY

Earl Leon (Pat) Murphy, 73, had been an Arizona resident for 37 years. He is survived by his wife, Dorothy, of Tucson and sons -- Jimmy, Jerry, and Dr. Jack of N.M.; two sisters, Ruby Wood of California and Irene Caudle of Oklahoma; and sisters-in-law Mabel Alexander of Oklahoma and Maxine Wonn of Colorado.

Mr. Murphy coached in Oklahoma and McNary and Florence, Ariz. He was a school administrator in Florence. He was the first principal of Sunnyside School District and then Assistant Superintendent of the Sunnyside School District. He retired as Superintendent of Pinetop-Lakeside School District. He was listed in Who's Who in American School Administrators and Educators and was president and former secretary of Arizona School Administrators. Earl Leon (Pat) Murphy graduated from Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

HENRY G. REYNOLDS

Henry G. Reynolds, a member of the Southwestern social sciences faculty for the past 17 years, died at his home of natural causes on May 12. He was 63.

Reynolds served the United States government in several ways after his graduation from the University of Arkansas. His posts included working at the Oak Ridge Atomic Plant, also known as the Manhattan Project, and serving the U.S. War Department in Washington as an attache to the British Military Land Lease Agency.

Reynolds also joined the Canadian army and joined the "Blackwatch" regiment while in England. He also served with the occupied forces in Germany through the remainder of World War II.

Reynolds, who has also taught at Northern Oklahoma Junior College in Tonkawa and in the Norman Public School System, has attended graduate schools in political science and history at the University of London, University of Denver, University of Colorado, and the University of Oklahoma.

Reynolds is survived by his wife, Betty, five children, and five grandchildren, all of Weatherford.

RICHARD D. SCHULTE

Funeral services for Richard D. Schulte, 46, of Clinton were held in the Kern-Schneider-Kiesau Memorial Chapel.

Richard was born August 20, 1937, in Pratt, Kan., and died at his residence. He moved to Clinton in 1947 and was a graduate of Clinton schools and attended Southwestern. He served in the U.S. Army and was stationed in Germany from 1955 to 1958. He then was engaged in sales at Nash Clothiers, Len's Mens Wear, and managed The Vault Clothing Store.

He is survived by his parents, Ralph and Mildred Godfrey of Clinton; a son, Mickey M. Schulte; two daughters, Dana Lynn Schulte and Jeri Jali Schulte.

FRANCIS TUBB

Francis Tubb passed away in Fort Worth, Tex., on April 5, 1984, after a long illness with cancer. He was 69 years of age.

He is survived by two daughters--Mrs. Lynn Farmer and Mrs. Dana Bozarth of Fort Worth, and a son, F. H. Tubb, of Alvin, Tex. He is also survived by two brothers, Nathan of Levelland, Tex., and Harvey of Lenora, Tex., and one sister, Clarkie Turrentine of Levelland, Tex.

Francis, known to many of his college friends as "big thumb," was a back for the Bulldogs in 1933-37. He was unable to attend the meeting of the 1933 undefeated team held last fall at homecoming due to his illness. Prior to his death, he had coached in Texas public schools at Pettit, Anton, and Andrews. He was in the athletic supply business in Odessa for a long number of years. At the time of his death, he was engaged in the ranching business at Mullin, Tex.

Miss SWOSU In Miss Oklahoma Pageant

DARLA KAY GUINN
Miss SWOSU 1984-85

Darla Kay Guinn, Southwestern Oklahoma State University student from Sayre, was named "Miss Southwestern Oklahoma State University" in the school's annual pageant held on Saturday, February 25. Guinn, a junior vocal music major, represented Southwestern in the "Miss Oklahoma" pageant held in early June.

Art Students Participate

Southwestern Oklahoma State University Design II class of Marge Donley is painting a billboard in conjunction with National Youth Art Month. The design for the billboard was selected from a state-wide elementary school contest. The students of the Southwestern Art Department are reproducing the design of Macie Coats, a fourth grade student of Tulakes Elementary, Putnam City.

The Design II class was asked by the Oklahoma Art Education Association to paint the billboard and to add additional lettering. Donrey Advertising of Oklahoma City has donated the materials and will be placing it in a prominent location in Oklahoma City.

Youth Art Month is a national observation sponsored by the National Art Education and the Oklahoma Art Education Associations. Its goal is to promote the development of art in our public schools and to show the importance of art in the development of children.

Phi Beta Lambda Best In State

For the 17th straight year, Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Phi Beta Lambda professional business fraternity has been selected as the state's best chapter of its kind in Oklahoma.

According to Dr. Harry Nowka, chairman of economics and business finance at Southwestern who serves as faculty advisor of the campus organization and state advisor, the Southwestern PBL chapter competed with 18 other state colleges and universities for the prestigious chapter award.

Along with the best state chapter honor, SWOSU's chapter placed first in annual report competition; second in the free enterprise project event (AMOCO); second for outstanding project, and second in community service award.

The Southwestern group also had another proud moment when they saw their local Phi Beta Lambda Vice-President--Kim Eyster of Thomas--elected to serve as state secretary for 1984-85. Kim will also be running for Mountain-Plains regional vice-president at the national conference in Atlanta in July. Sandy Smith of Oklahoma City was honored at the conference as outgoing state president of 1983-84. Smith, along with Ken Province of Watonga, made the list of Who's Who in Oklahoma PBL for 1984.

Five SWOSU entrants won first place awards. These include Jeff Berg, Woodward, who took first place in the data processing II event; Sandy Smith, Oklahoma City, who placed first in Ms. Future Business Executive; Wray Franks, Duncan, who won first in Mr. Future Business Teacher; Billie Matlock, Fort Cobb, who took first place in the Ms. Future Business Teacher, and Deanna Hughes, Perry, who placed first in word processing/machine transcription.

These first-place winners are now eligible to enter the national competition in Atlanta during the week of July 5-8.

Other SWOSU business students placing in the state contests and their hometowns are: Jacque Gordon, Kremlin, third in economics; Krista Jones, Moore, second in accounting II; Carol Hughes, Carnegie, Tresia Holcomb, Yukon, and Sandy Johnson, Yukon, placed second in the business decision-making team. The parliamentary procedure team, made up of David Dominiak, Elk City; Robin Briggs, Altus; Elizabeth Noakes, Elk City; Susan Sweigart, Balko, and Scott Graham, Oklahoma City, also placed second.

Also, Ken Province, Watonga, won third in Mr. Future Business Executive; Nancy Buddy, Weatherford, third in management; Patti Harper, Buffalo, third in administrative assistant-secretary; Brenda Clark, Oklahoma City, fourth in business communications; Cynthia Ewing, Hollis, fifth in data processing I; Kim Eyster, Thomas, sixth in business law; Jeff Huber, Oklahoma City, sixth in impromptu speaking; David Baker, Oklahoma City, fourth in accounting I; Kathy Minehart, Corn, fifth in information management; Karen Bellamy, Fort Cobb, fifth in administrative assistant-typist; Cindy Polyak, Seagraves, Tex., ninth in job interview, and Laurie Shafer, Oklahoma City, sixth in marketing.

BRYAN MILLER (left), Purcell, will serve as the senior class vice-president, and Sedrick Love, Borger, Tex., will serve as the junior class vice-president.

Cordell Bank Adds SWOSU Alumni

Keith Gerlach and J. I. Johnson have joined the staff of Cordell National Bank, it was announced by Bank President Harlan Hinds.

Gerlach has been named vice-president. Johnson will be controller for the bank.

Gerlach comes to Cordell National from the Dill State Bank where he was vice-president there the past three years. He was born and reared in Cordell, graduating from high school there. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in history and English from Southwestern in 1972. His wife, Mary, works in the operations department of the bank.

The Gerlach's have one daughter, Megan, age 14 months. They reside at 321 S. Market in Cordell.

Gerlach is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Corky Gerlach of Cordell.

Johnson was born in Clinton and reared in Corn. He is a graduate of Washita Heights High School and a 1979 graduate of Southwestern with a B.S. degree in accounting. He was formerly a controller at Deep Gas Exploration in Oklahoma City.

Johnson and his wife, Diana, have one son, Darren, age one. They plan to move to Cordell as soon as housing arrangements can be made.

Johnson was the Gold Medal winner in May of 1980 for having the highest score on the CPA exam at that time. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Johnson of Corn.

Southwestern Graduate Controlling Air Traffic

Cindy Schilling, a 1979 speech/theatre education major from Southwestern, has found satisfaction, as well as success, in a very male-dominated career--that of an air traffic controller.

After a brief stint as a secretary, Schilling, originally from Oklahoma City, took an entrance examination for the Federal Aviation Association. On August 23, 1981, in the midst of a serious controller's strike, she began working as a center air traffic controller in Oklahoma City. In January, 1982, after several months of training, she moved to Longmont, Colo., and in February, 1983, she became a traffic controller at Idaho Falls, Ida., where she was the first woman ever to hold such a position.

Schilling's career move was prodded by her love of aviation. "On my days off," Schilling said, "I'm sitting up there in the tower watching airplanes because I'm just so fascinated with what's going on."

Although, as a woman, she constituted a mere 10 per cent of her training school's graduating class, Schilling insists that the field is wide-open for women. "Basically you need to have a logical brain. You need to be able to think on your feet, think quickly, and be able to communicate," she said.

Next on Schilling's agenda will be another move--this time to Wichita, Kan., where she will remain a traffic controller but with a larger airport with more traffic. She began the Wichita job on June 1.

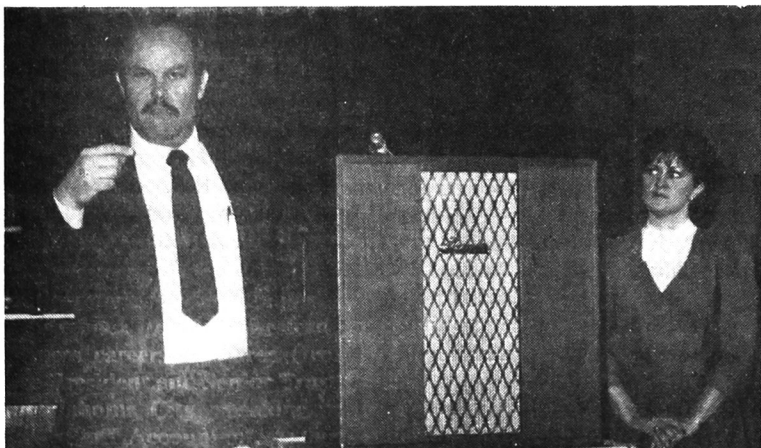

Schilling says that with the rugged schedule that she must live by, it has worked well that she remains single. "In my case," she says, "the career is really the first priority and air traffic is a very demanding profession."

Secretarial Short Course Graduates

Twelve students in the School of Business at Southwestern Oklahoma State University finished requirements the spring semester for proficiency certificates in the 40- and 60-hour accounting-clerical, secretarial, or legal secretarial programs.

Formal presentation of the certificates was made Friday, May 4, in the Student Center Ballroom following a reception for the students and their families and friends.

Cynthia J. Polyak, Seagraves, Tex., received certification in the 60-hour legal secretarial program.

Students completing secretarial certificates are Brenda Gail Billings, Mangum; Daphnee Dawn Brian, Lookeba; Teresa Annette Jared, Carnegie, and Gaylene Denise Martin, Seiling.

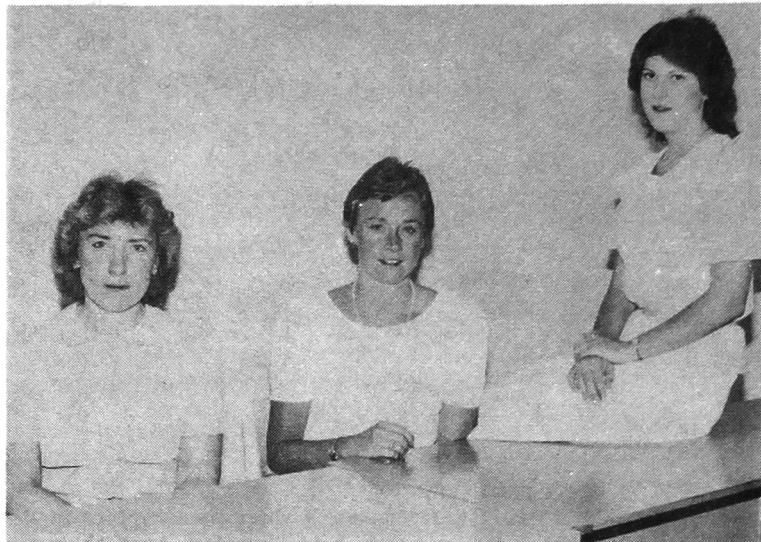

Seven others received certification in the accounting-clerical area. These include Janel Rita Boeckman and Angela Marie Haffey, Okeene; LaDena Ann Kauk, Taloga; Kimberly Gayle Oliver, Marlow; Stephanie Roper, El Reno; Diane Donna Soenen, Weatherford, and Cindy Gay Squires, Taloga.

Dr. Amanda Copeland, Chairman of the Department of Office Administration and Business Education in the School of Business, says that the short business certificate programs are specifically designed for students who want to seek early employment as secretaries, stenographers, bookkeepers, and other similar positions.

Even though many students who complete these programs choose to continue at the University and complete a four-year degree, the demand for qualified employees is usually heavy and a good choice of job opportunities is available for those finishing these studies.

Dr. Copeland points out that all of the hours earned for the short course requirements count toward a four-year degree if they later decide to pursue one. "This feature makes the certificate programs very appealing to students who at the time of enrollment as freshmen do not know for sure if they wish to complete four full years of study."

AMONG THOSE completing requirements for accounting-clerical business certificates at Southwestern Oklahoma State University during the spring semester were (l-r): Diane Donna Soenen, Weatherford; Stephanie Roper, El Reno, and Kimberly Gayle Oliver, Marlow.

Board of Directors Meeting

MINUTES
FEBRUARY 25, 1984
SOUTHWESTERN OKLAHOMA STATE UNIVERSITY
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Board of Directors held their regular meeting in the Student Center Cafeteria at 11:30 a.m. on February 25, 1984. After a steak luncheon, the group moved to the Southwestern Room of the Al Harris Library for the business meeting. Members present were: Haydon Battles, Dr. Joe Anna Hibler, Joe Battles, Helen Gossman, Ed Berrong, Carl Bogdahn, Millie Thomas, Frances Curb, Larry Claxton, Johnny Beech, Kenneth Leggett, Tom Libby, Dr. Bob Brown, Dr. Leonard Campbell, Otis Sanders, and Mark Mouse.

President Beech introduced Dr. Leonard Campbell, President of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, who talked about budget reduction and the general state of the University.

President Beech read a reply from Senator Wayne Winn in response to the letters sent by the Association to legislators supporting the increased sales tax.

Otis Sanders, Executive Secretary of the Association, reported to the group on the following: Satellite chapters in Lawton, OK, Anaheim, CA, and the most recent chapter, Central Oklahoma Alumni Association in Oklahoma City. Mr. Sanders reported that officers were elected and plans were being made for their regular meetings. Officers elected for the Central Oklahoma chapter were: Dr. Lucille Patton and Cotton Vickers, Co-Presidents; Larry Claxton, Treasurer; and Brenda Stacy, Secretary.

Mr. Sanders also reported that statements had been mailed to all members, using the updates of the Alumni files, that Echoes from The Hill would be mailed the third Friday of March, and Homecoming 1984 had been set on November 3, 1984. Among the many events planned for the upcoming event would be an athletic reunion for all athletes graduating between the years of 1950-58.

After the presentation by Otis Sanders, there was some discussion about the amount of work necessary to keep Alumni files up-to-date. A motion was made by Ed Berrong that the Association authorize Mr. Sanders to hire a Southwestern student for 90 hours a semester at minimum wage to help in this area. A second was made by Dr. Joe Anna Hibler. Motion carried.

Motion was made by Joe Battles that Mr. Sanders be authorized to spend $270.00 for the State Teachers' Meeting in Tulsa and $300.00 for the State Fair in Oklahoma City for the purpose of displaying a booth for Southwestern. Mr. Berrong seconded the motion which carried unanimously.

President Beech reported that Monty Bottom had resigned his position on the Board of Directors. A motion was made by Larry Claxton that Kenneth Leggett be appointed to fulfill the unexpired term. Haydon Battles seconded the motion which carried by a unanimous vote.

The Association President, Johnny Beech, introduced Dr. Bob Brown who gave a complete report on the work of the Foundation at Southwestern--its origin, purpose, and goals. Dr. Brown also mentioned the recent Gourman Report and clarified the misrepresentation that recently occurred in The Daily Oklahoman.

Dr. Hibler suggested that a letter be sent to all Foundation donors expressing our appreciation and that plans are being made for a future appreciation banquet. A motion by Haydon Battles was made that the Association pay for letters to be sent to all contributors from 1979-83. Also that the Foundation Committee draft a letter to be sent. Motion was seconded by Dr. Hibler. Motion carried.

President Johnny Beech reported that the Alumni Association received corporate status on January 22, 1984. He displayed the corporate record and seal for the membership. A motion was made by Dr. Hibler that the Association reimburse President Beech for $87.00 to cover the cost of the official seal and record. A second was made by Haydon Battles. Motion carried.

The Fall meeting was set for 11:30 a.m., September 29, 1984, to be held in the Cafeteria and the Southwestern Room. The main objective would be to finalize plans for Homecoming 1984.

Tom Libby was appointed by President Beech to serve as chairman of a study group to plan Homecoming special events for 1984.

Discussion about the Alumni Association Advisory Committee to the SWOSU Foundation was conducted by President Beech. He stated that Larry Evans was chairman and that Tom Libby had been asked to serve

Chemistry Department Receives Donation

The Southwestern Oklahoma State University Chemistry Department has been notified that it has been awarded, from the Dow Chemical Company Foundation, $6000 a year for four years.

The donation, which designates $5000 for scholarships and $1000 for discretionary use of the chemistry department, is a result of an effort by Dow Chemical to double the size of a program in which it has been providing four-year undergraduate scholarships to chemistry students. In 1982, Dow Chemical began with 20 schools, and Southwestern is now one of 40.

"We are vitally concerned with the quality and quantity of future graduate chemists," said Dr. David P. Sheetz, the vice-president and director of research and development of Dow. "It is our feeling that the smaller baccalaureate-granting schools of the country are the key to supplying the graduate schools with an adequate supply of well-qualified candidates."

Prior to 1982, the Dow Chemical Company Foundation's main emphasis was on providing grants for basic and fundamental research projects at universities. Most of the original research projects have been completed, and the foundation is not now soliciting new research proposals. While the primary purpose of the foundation is still to support basic research and education in the chemical sciences, this is being done mainly through an aid-to-education program of which these special undergraduate scholarships in chemistry are a part. The foundation is entirely funded by the company, which has provided about $5 million for the foundation's activities to this point.

The scholarship grants are administered by the chairman of the chemistry departments involved. They select the recipients, attempting to choose outstanding high school science students who are U.S. citizens with perceived goals of pursuing chemistry majors through four years of undergraduate work at the schools and continuing their education through the Ph.D. level.

The foundation stipulates that the scholarships be awarded solely on the basis of merit and commits to continue them for four years, provided that the student maintains a 'B' or 3.0 out of 4.0 point average in credited courses. The scholarships are granted to the schools and, should a student recipient elect to switch majors or transfer to another institution (which has already happened), the foundation stipulates that the scholarship be transferred to another student at the institution at the same curriculum level.

Alumni Awarded National Science Fellowship

Nancy S. Gettys of Hinton has been awarded a prestigious three-year National Science Foundation Graduate Fellowship valued at $39,000.

She is a first-year graduate student in the chemistry department at Oklahoma State University.

The fellowship is based on demonstrated ability and aptitude for advanced training in science and engineering in a competition open to all science majors pursuing advanced degrees in the United States.

Only 42 such fellowships are awarded annually. The fellowship will provide for tuition, books, travel costs to scientific meetings, and some living expenses for the final three years of Ms. Gettys' graduate study.

Ms. Gettys is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Gettys Jr., Hinton. She is a 1979 alumna of Hinton High School and received a B.S. degree in chemistry--summa cum laude--from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford, in 1983.

At Southwestern, Ms. Gettys maintained a perfect 4.0 grade point average. In 1980, she was named Outstanding Freshman Chemist, and in 1982 she received the Analytical Chemistry Award schools have used the $1000 in discretionary funds involves assistance to nearby high school science programs, which the foundation said it "applauds" but cited as only one example of appropriate use.

from the analytical division of the American Chemical Society.

She received a Conoco Scholarship for the 1982-83 academic year, and in her senior year was recognized as the Outstanding Senior Chemistry Major at Southwestern.

Outside of the classroom and laboratory, Ms. Gettys has served as treasurer of Gamma Delta Kappa, an honor society and service organization for women at her alma mater.

She also was president of the American Chemical Society Student Affiliates Chapter at Southwestern.

At Oklahoma State, Ms. Gettys is the recipient of a Skinner Fellowship.

She currently is doing research, under the direction of Dr. Lionel Raff and Dr. Donald Thompson in the area of theoretical chemical physics.

According to Raff, Ms. Gettys' research involves the theoretical study of the chemical effects of laser-induced excitation of complex gas-phase molecules.

Ms. Gettys expects to obtain her Ph.D. degree from OSU in 1987, after which she plans a career in basic scientific research.

THESE SOUTHWESTERN Oklahoma State University students were honored at the school's chemistry banquet, held April 26 on Southwestern's Weatherford campus. Among the honorees were (front row, l-r): Melinda Sisler, Kingfisher, selected for the $125 Cronin Scholarship for the 1984-85 school year; Tonya Harrison, Lindsay, selected for the $500 Conoco Scholarship for the 1984-85 school year, and Vicki Taylor, Colony, another $125 Cronin Scholarship winner for the 1984-85 school year. And (back row, l-r): Steve Donnelly, Yukon, selected for the $150 Sophomore Scholarship for the 1984-85 school year; Brian Bagby, Vici, another $500 Conoco Scholarship recipient for the 1984-85 school year, and David Bartley, Enid, selected for the 1983-84 Freshman Chemist Award in the amount of $250. Miss Taylor was also the recipient of the Undergraduate Analytical Chemistry Award, made in cooperation with the Division of Analytical Chemistry of the American Chemical Society. Its awardee receives a nine-month subscription to the journal "Analytical Chemistry" and membership in the Division of Analytical Chemistry for a like period.

Pharmacy Student Wins Award

Southwestern Oklahoma State University pharmacy student Kathy Carroll, El Paso, Tex., is the recipient of the 1984 3M/AAMI Annual Meeting Manuscript Award for her contribution to the communication of advancements in health care technology during AAMI's 19th Annual Meeting in Washington, D.C.

Ms. Carroll, and coauthor Neal Latman, Ph.D., were recognized for their paper, "Evaluation of electronic blood pressure monitors with digital display," reporting their evaluation of accuracy, failure rate, and reliability of accuracy of home electronic blood pressure monitors.

The Manuscript Awarer program was established by the Association for the Advancement of Medical Instrumentation to encourage and recognize outstanding communication, reporting a major contribution through medical instrumentation to patient care. The paper, selected for the award by peer review, is "an interesting study in an important medical area potentially affecting medical therapy for a large number of people."

Ms. Carroll received a plaque and a check for $500 in recognition of her contribution, presented during the AAMI Annual Awards Recognition Banquet, held April 15 in Washington, D.C. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Carroll of 3220 Hamilton Ave. in El Paso.

Contributors to send Kathy Carroll to Washington to present the research at the National AAMI annual meeting and receive the award were: Don Kelley, First National Bank of Weatherford; Larry Reed, Security State Bank; Phil Wherritt, City National Bank of Weatherford; Bill Davis, Great Plains Federal Savings & Loan; Mark Berrong, Ed Berrong Insurance Agency; Bruce Magill, Magill Insurance & Real Estate; Gary Rader, Rader's Insurance & Real Estate, and Mark Lumpkin, American Federal Savings & Loan.

Dr. Sanders Joins Clinic

Dr. Steven P. Sanders, 30, recently joined the Hennessey Family Clinic at 121 E. Oklahoma as a partner with Dr. Michael D. Scott.

Dr. Sanders, a native of Kingfisher, is a 1982 graduate of the Oklahoma College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery in Tulsa.

The new Hennessey doctor is a 1971 graduate of Kingfisher High School. He received his B.S. in pharmacy degree from Southwestern in 1976.

He worked at St. Mary's Hospital in Enid for three years before entering the osteopathic college in 1979. Dr. Sanders completed his internship at Enid Memorial Hospital.

He is the son of Mrs. Paul Sanders of Kingfisher and the late Paul Sanders. His mother teaches school in Okarche.

Alumni Receives Medical Award

Dr. James L. Males, Edmond, Oklahoma, is a recent recipient of the Blesh-Rucks award, established in 1965 in honor of two of the founding fathers of the Oklahoma City Clinic, Dr. Abraham Blesh and Dr. W. W. Rucks Sr.

The citation reads: "Our candidate is a native of Oklahoma and had his undergraduate training here, as well as his medical school time.

He has served with distinction as a member of the Board of Directors and has made many leadership contributions. He has served on many committees, both at the Oklahoma City Clinic and the Presbyterian Hospital and currently serves as chairman of his department at the hospital.

He has provided outstanding and innovative leadership resulting in many new and unique services.

He is the author of many professional papers and an active participant as a volunteer member of the faculty at the Health Sciences Center. He is highly respected by his peers in the city and the state.

He is an outdoorsman of note and has supported various conservation programs.

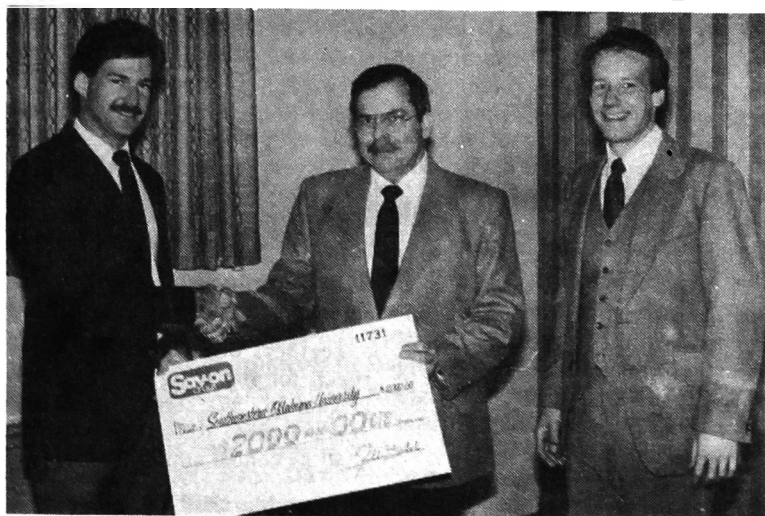

He is a person of multiple other interests and is a devoted husband and father.

The recipient of the 1983 Blesh-Rucks Award is Dr. Jim Males."

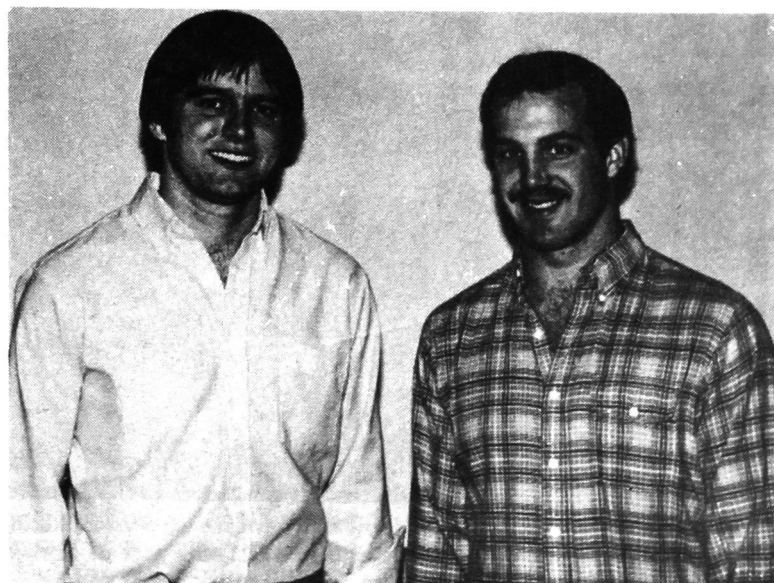

Dr. Males, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Males, Cheyenne, is a graduate of Cheyenne High School and Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford.

DR. NEAL LATMAN and KATHY CARROLL

DR. BERNARD KELLER (center), Dean of the Southwestern Oklahoma State University School of Pharmacy, accepts a $2,000 donation from the SAV-ON Drug Company for use towards the school's pharmacy computer system. Presenting the check is (left) Joe Lapine and Doug Josephson, both representatives of the SAV-ON Company. Southwestern was the second Pharmacy School in the country to receive the SAV-ON gift.

SOUTHWESTERN OKLAHOMA State University is pleased to announce that two of its students, Russell Rother (left) and Mark Hoffman, have both been accepted into the Oklahoma State University School of Veterinary Medicine. Rother is the son of Mary Kay Rother, Watonga, and Hoffman the son of Dr. and Mrs. Norbert Hoffman, Weatherford.

Alumni Top Band Director

Belinda Miller is an on-the-go type of person. She is the energy and drive behind the Laverne High School Tiger Band.

Belinda is a native Kansan, born in Elkhart. She moved with her parents and younger brother and sister to Liberal in time to begin her second grade school year. Miss Miller attended Liberal school until her junior year when she moved to Wellington, Kan. When listing her high school activities, Belinda simply replies, "Band! It was my only hobby because it was all I had time for."

Belinda entered college at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford to pursue a teaching degree in instrumental music. While at SWOSU, Miss Miller was active in "every ensemble and performing group I could be in." After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Instrumental Education degrees, Belinda began teaching at LHS in the fall of 1982.

Her enrollment in band the first year was 17. In one year that figure more than doubled, and presently the high school band numbers 36. "I enjoy contact with the kids. I find something to chuckle about every day!"

Belinda strives for excellence in her students. And on Feb. 29 of this year, the Laverne Tiger Band, under the direction of Miss Miller, received a superior rating at district competition, the first time in nearly 20 years. "It is rewarding to take a group from playing badly at first to playing successful."

In years to come, Belinda hopes her students will remember her as "a caring and enthusiastic educator."

Hooper Is Top Area Band Director

Cordell's Jim Hooper has been named Southwestern Oklahoma Band Director of the Year.

He was presented the award by the Southwest Oklahoma Band Directors Association at the All-Region Band Clinic held on the Cameron University campus, Lawton, Saturday, January 7.

The association represents 45 member schools in southwestern Oklahoma.

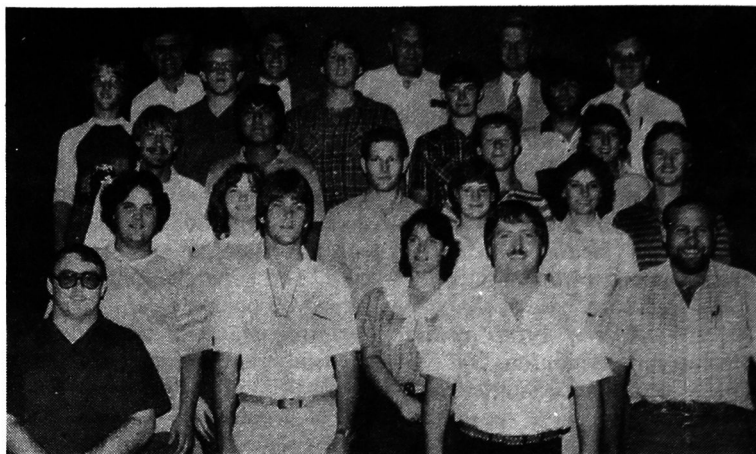

The award is awarded to a band director once each year to recognize one who has done an outstanding job at a particular school as well as being an educational leader in the music field.

Hooper is in his third year as Cordell band director. He is in his eighth year as a band director and formerly taught at Mangum.

A native of Weatherford, Hooper has both his bachelor and master degrees in music education from Southwestern.

His wife, Sue, teaches second grade at Cordell Elementary School. They have three children--Jimmy, a first grader; Christy, age 4, and Elizabeth, age 3. They reside at 1618 Crestview.

MEMBERS OF THE Southwestern Physics Club are (front row, l-r): Alan Philips, Weatherford; Frank Nickel, El Reno; Randy Cabeen, Canute, and Mike LaRue, Clinton. Second row (l-r): Bob Samuelson, Chester; Marcella Thiessen, Fairfax, Va.; Diane Samuelson, Chester; Rhonda Haigler, Oklahoma City; Carol Carroll, Oklahoma City, and Douglas Willowby, Oklahoma City. Third row (l-r): Russ Smith, Weatherford; David Hart, Weatherford; David Wright, Hollis; David Holsapple, Oakwood, and Karen McFeely, Tahlequah. Fourth row (l-r): Tyler Weaver, Hollis; Brian Box, Fairview; Tom DeLay, Yale; Darrell Davis, Tuttle, and David Lanier, Weatherford. Fifth row (l-r): Dr. Garabed Armoudian; Tim Stephens, Boise City; Dr. Benny Hill; Dr. Ray Jones, and Dr. Donald Krahn.

THESE SOUTHWESTERN Oklahoma State University physics students were honored at the annual Physics Awards Banquet held on Saturday, March 31, on Southwestern's Weatherford campus. They are (front row, l-r): Diane Samuelson, Chester, was named a member of the Sigma Pi Sigma National Physics Honor Society; Frank Nickel, El Reno, named a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities; Robert Samuelson, Chester, named to both Sigma Pi Sigma and Who's Who; Diane and Russell Smith, Winter Park, Colo.--Russell was given the J. R. Pratt Outstanding Physics Student Award aside from being named to Who's Who; Randy Cabeen, Canute, winner of the Physics Leadership Award, and Steve Troyer, Shattuck, named to Sigma Pi Sigma, And (back row, l-r): Douglas Willowby, Oklahoma City, named to Who's Who; Mark Craig, Tulsa, named to Sigma Pi Sigma; Chu Duc Le, Weatherford, named to Sigma Pi Sigma; Darrell Davis, Tuttle, winner of the Freshman Physics Award, and Alan Philips, Weatherford, named to both Who's Who and to Sigma Pi Sigma.

D. W. Leathers Named To Board

D. W. "Dub" Leathers, well-known Crescent resident, was appointed by the Pioneer Board of Trustees at their January meeting to complete the term of the late Jere West as board member from District Nine.

A native of Hollis, Leathers finished high school at Ron in Harmon County. After two years in the U.S. Navy, he entered Southwestern at Weatherford where he achieved All-Conference honors in football, baseball, and basketball. After graduation in '49, he joined the Marshall High School faculty where he coached the Dragons for eight years.

Leathers became head football coach for the Kingfisher Yellow-jackets in '57, serving for three years before returning to Marshall as school superintendent.

From Marshall, he moved to Crescent in '68 as their new school superintendent, a position he held until entering private business in '73. After seven years as a general insurance agent, he returned to teaching math in the Edmond schools in '80.

THESE FIVE young men are cousins who have pre-enrolled at Southwestern Oklahoma State University. Either one or both parents of each student is a graduate of Southwestern. They are (l-r): Brant and Davin Turner, Checotah, and parents are Charles and Linda Turner, both SWOSU graduates; Greg Mouse, Elk City, and parents are Leslie and Sandra Mouse and Sandra is an SWOSU pharmacy graduate; Monte Mouse, Weatherford, and parents are Mark and Sheila Mouse, both SWOSU graduates; Ross Frans, son of Sam and Judy Frans, Oklahoma City, and Sam is an SWOSU graduate.

From The Physics Alumni Newsletter

1982-83 Grads

The Department of Physics graduated seven people last year. These included Ronald Daniel, Cheyenne, BA in Physics; Kenneth Elkins, Drummond, BS in Physics; Craig Huffman, Attica, Kan., BS in Engineering Physics; Russell Kruckenberg, Enid, BS in Engineering Physics; Robert Lindamood, Weatherford, BS Ed in Natural Science with emphasis in physics; James McClune, Knoxville, Ia., BS in Physics, and Mark Outhier, Vici, BS in Engineering Physics.

Ron Daniel received a commission in the U.S. Army. Ken Elkins took an electronics engineering position with the U.S. Navy Weapons Lab in Port Hueneme, Calif. Craig Huffman took an engineering R & D position in Joe Abernathy's (1972) group with Texas Instruments in Dallas. Russell Kruckenberg entered graduate study in electrical engineering at the University of Oklahoma. Robert Lindamood took a high school science teaching position at Merritt, Okla. Jim McClune entered graduate study in physics at the University of Oklahoma. Mark Outhier entered graduate study in mechanical engineering at Purdue University (with no deficiencies!). They were another great group of graduates and now alumni.

More Emphasis on Research

The State Regents for Higher Education and the administration of the University are beginning to give somewhat more encouragement for the faculty to be involved in research. We hope that this has an orderly and reasonable development to help us be more vigorous as physicists and teachers. The faculty have made a small but significant commitment to begin more research effort during 83-84. We will appreciate any encouragement and assistance in this effort from any of you. Dr. Donald Krahn of our staff is beginning to develop a consulting association with 3M in Weatherford.

Thomas Back to School

Danny Thomas (1979) is about to finish his MS in Electrical Engineering at Oklahoma State University. Danny spent several years working as an engineer for Magnetic Peripherals in Oklahoma City.

Engineering Physics Grows at SW

The Department has had a degree program in engineering physics for only two years. The interest of students in this option continues to grow. This year we have 26 declaring majors in the BS in Engineering Physics, 17 in the BS in Physics, 22 in the BA in Physics, five in the BS in Biophysics, 50 in Pre-Engineering, and one in Science Education. The Department hopes to develop the credibility of the BS in Engineering Physics even more with the nation's industries and national laboratories. It is hoped to establish an advisory committee of people outside the University and also to pursue accreditation of the program.

Two Optometrists

Greg Clift (1976) and Joe McClearan (1977) have both completed Doctor of Optometry degrees in Houston. Greg is now practicing in Anadarko, and Joe is in Altus. Congratulations, guys!

Oil and Gas Slow

After several years of rapid expansion of the oil and gas related companies, things have slowed to almost a stop in Oklahoma. This has affected Southwestern and some of our physics alumni seriously. Gulf Oil has closed its Oklahoma City exploration office, resulting in Loyal Barber (1982) and Bret Walker (1981) being transferred to Houston; Warren McCarthy (1981) to Casper, Wyo., and Mark Crowder (1982) taking a test equipment designing job with TI, Dallas. Ed Andes (1982) is still with Amoco in Tulsa. There are other recent graduates who went to work in geophysics about whom we are not up-to-date.

The State of Oklahoma revenue has also been hurt. In turn our budgets have been hurt in the University and the department. We can certainly use to advantage any donations to the SWOSU Foundation at this time. Be sure to see if your company has a matching program.

Apples Arrive

The Department now has three Apple microcomputers for word-processing, interfacing to experiments, and hopefully other instructional uses. Part of these acquisitions were possible due to a nice contribution by Randy Bose (1976) to the SW Foundation that was designated for equipment in the Department of Physics.

Chapman Post-Docs at Purdue

Leroy Dean Chapman (1975) has finished his Ph.D. in physics at Purdue University. Dean is now working on a post-doctorate research appointment at Purdue. This is just another strong indication of the high regard with which Dean is held by the Department of Physics at Purdue.

Duerksen Leading Salesman

Kenneth Duerksen (1966) was the leading salesman in the nation for Varian Associates last year. Kenny works out of Dallas, Tex., and stays in close contact with our department. Duerksen thought his feat was pretty good for a farm boy from Corn and maybe even for a guy with a Ph.D. in physics from Oklahoma State University. Congratulations to Kenny!

THESE SOUTHWESTERN Oklahoma State University physics alumni convened at their former department's Awards Banquet, held on March 31. The alumni, along with their spouses, were (front row, l-r): Mrs. Glendall (Kathryn) Monigold; Mrs. Charles Hoskins; Mrs. David (Ann) Gillingham; Mrs. Gene (Gertrude) Barber; Mrs. Karl (Rita) Warkentin; Craig Huffman, a 1983 graduate currently working as an engineer for Texas Instruments in Dallas, and Mrs. Ray (Kelsey) Jones, an engineer at 3M in Weatherford and a 1980 graduate. And (middle row, l-r): Glendall Monigold, a 1974 graduate now a Special Assistant to the Vice-President for Marketing at the Bendix Guidance Systems of the Bendix Corporation in Rockaway, N.J., and also the banquet speaker; Mrs. Perry (Pauline) Jones; Charles Hoskins, a 1959 graduate employed by Tinker Air Force Base; David Gillingham, a 1958 graduate currently farming in Hydro; Gene Barber, a 1958 graduate serving as an engineer for the Oklahoma Department of Transportation; Karl Warkentin, a 1958 graduate now a nuclear engineer for Brown and Root Engineering in Fort Worth, Tex., and Jim McClune, a 1983 graduate in his first year as a physics graduate student at OU. And (top row, l-r): Perry Jones, a 1935 graduate and professor emeritus of the Southwestern physics faculty; Dr. Benny Hill, Chairman of the Southwestern Physics Department; David Schoonmaker, a 1980 graduate serving as a geophysicist for Seismograph Services in Tulsa; Ronald Barber, a fourth year medical student at OU and a 1979 graduate; Mark Outhier, a 1983 graduate in his first year as a mechanical engineering graduate student at Purdue University, and Russell Kruckenberg, a 1983 graduate working for Central Machine and Tool in Enid.

ROTC Award Winner

Lawrence Eugene Mosley of Lexington, Okla., is the 1984 George C. Marshall ROTC Award winner from Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

Cadet Mosley, 20, son of Mr. Merle Mosley, 308 E. Broadway, Lexington, is one of 315 Army ROTC cadets nationwide to win the prestigious award. The awards are presented annually to the outstanding senior cadet of Army ROTC detachments at colleges and universities throughout the United States. It is the highest honor any Army ROTC cadet can receive.

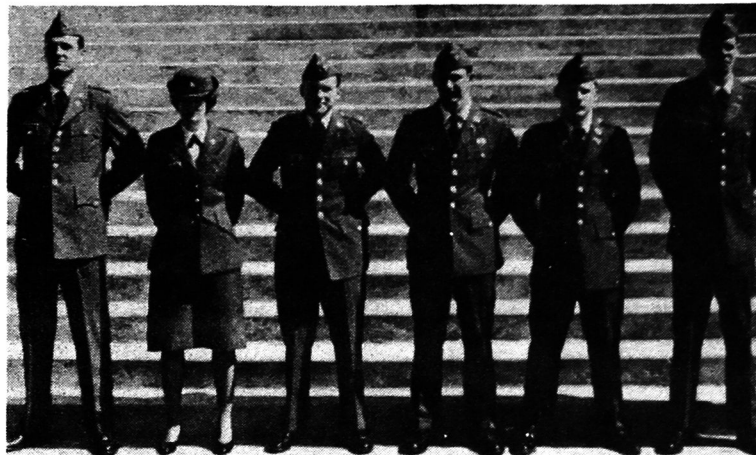

"I have a great sense of pride in winning the award; so many others before me have used the award as an initial success in their career" said Mosley upon receiving personal congratulations from Army Chief of Staff Gen. John A. Wickham Jr.

In addition to attending the award seminar in Lexington, Va.,

LAWRENCE E. MOSLEY

April 10-13, each cadet was presented with an award certificate and the authorized three-volume biography of General Marshall. Marshall is best remembered for his leadership as Army Chief of Staff in World War II and for his sponsorship of the European Recovery Act (Marshall Plan) while Secretary of State from 1947 to 1949.

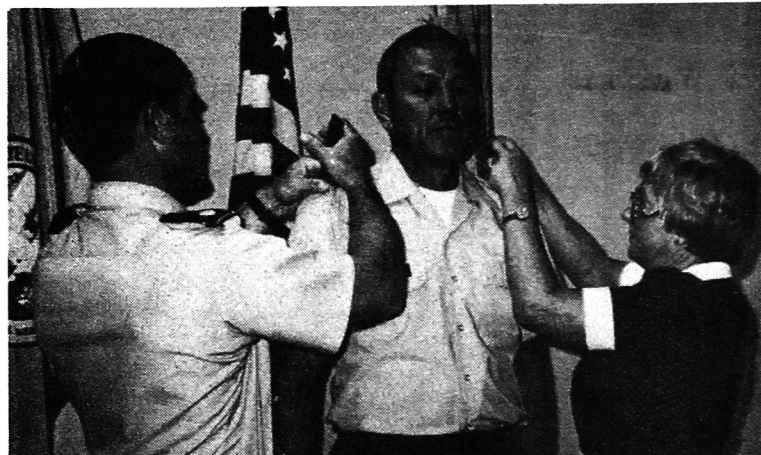

THESE SOUTHWESTERN Oklahoma State University ROTC students were recently commissioned as officers in the United States Army at a ceremony held Friday, May 11, on Southwestern's Weatherford campus. The cadets included (l-r): Barton Stuart Cox, a senior psychology major from Oklahoma City commissioned in the Aviation Branch; Marybeth Eason, a senior hospital administration major from Bad Axe, Mich., commissioned in the Quartermaster Corps; Mark Nelson Hays, a junior allied health student from Marlow commissioned with Branch unassigned; Mark Lynn Hohstadt, a senior business administration major from Shattuck commissioned as an Infantry officer; Lawrence Eugene Mosley, a sophomore pre-med major from Lexington commissioned in the Armor Branch, and Douglas Gene Wolfe, a senior physics major from Clinton commissioned as an Infantry officer.

THESE SOUTHWESTERN Oklahoma State University students were honored at the school's annual Biology Banquet, held on Southwestern's Weatherford campus on April 24.

THE NEWEST addition to the Southwestern Oklahoma State University Department of Military Science, Billie A. McKeith, is shown as he is promoted to the rank of Sergeant Major by his wife, Anna, and LTC Bruce Smith of the Southwestern Military Science Department. McKeith comes to Southwestern from Xavier University in New Orleans, La., and is a 27-year veteran. His overseas tours include Viet Nam, three years with Special Forces; Europe, six years; Panama, three years, and Okinawa, two-and-a-half years. SGM McKeith will serve as the Chief Instructor of the Southwestern Military Science Department.

THESE MEMBERS of the Southwestern Oklahoma State University chapter of the Beta Beta Beta biological society were designated as one of the 13 outstanding chapters in the nation for the academic year 1982-83. The award is given to recognize the chapter's excellent program in advancing the objectives of Beta Beta Beta, the support of sound scholarship, the dissemination of scientific knowledge, and the promotion of research in biology.

Members include (front row, l-r): Johnny Rodriguez, Canton, treasurer; Melinda Russell, Kingfisher, secretary; Tim Nicklas, Midwest City, historian No. 1; Craig Jones, Corum, and Kurt Gibson, Guymon. And (middle row, l-r): Brenda White, Weatherford; Wilma Reeg, Alva; David MacCanty, Midwest City; Melanie Mouse, Weatherford, and Angela Erusha, Sharon. Also (top row, l-r): Jim Steffen, Elgin, president; Jeff Rother, Watonga; Becky Harden, Weatherford; Russell Rother, Watonga, historian, and Mark Hoffman, Weatherford, vice-president.

KEN HOLSTROM (far right) of Weatherford 3M presents an $1800 check to G. B. Stotts, of the Southwestern Oklahoma State University Industrial Education Department. The money, donated by 3M, will be used to purchase equipment for industrial technology sections of classwork. Looking on is Dr. Don Mitchell, Chairman of the Southwestern Industrial Education Department.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

Bulldogs Have Shining Basketball Season

The Southwestern Oklahoma State University men's and women's basketball teams each had another banner season, as both teams finished with lopsided winning records. The men's final record of 23-6 combined with the women's 31-1 gave them a combined record of 54-7 for an 88% winning percentage--the first in the nation for both teams.

The Bulldogs, who led the NAIA District Nine ratings for the entire season, lost the District title in the second round of the play-offs, losing to Southeastern 81-64. The Lady Bulldogs did win District Nine with a perfect 29-0 record. The team went on to defeat Washburn, Kan., 64-57 in the bi-district play-offs. At the Ladies' next stop, the NAIA National Tournament in Cedar Rapids, Ia., however, their season was to come to an abrupt stop. Although the team won their first round against Georgian Court, N.J., 81-52, they dropped their next game, 57-54, against Asheville, S.C. The Lady Bulldogs had won the tournament the last two years, walking away with the National Championship. Their three-season record is 95-5.

Although both seasons ended in disappointment, post-season honors were piled on the Lady Bulldogs' individual team members:

Kelli Litsch, for the third time in her three-year college career, and Anita Foster, for her first, were both named to the first NAIA All-America team. They were also both named to the first NAIA District Nine team, and Litsch received the "Most Valuable Player" in District Nine trophy.

Litsch was also a Kodak All-American and received the Champion Sports products "Player of the Year" for small colleges.

Southwestern Lady Bulldogs head coach John Loftin, along with his team, were honored at the annual Oklahoma Sports Headliners Banquet, held in Oklahoma City on Feb. 16. Loftin was also named the NAIA District Nine Women's Coach of the Year.

Foster, Mindy Mayfield, and Kim Fennelly represented Southwestern in the annual Oklahoma East/West senior All-Star Tournament, held April 14.

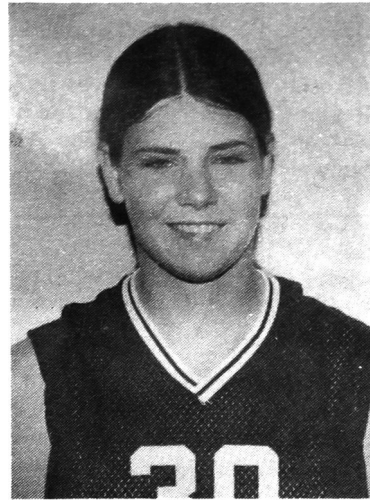

The men's team also placed some post-season honors:

The team won the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference with a 5-3 record.

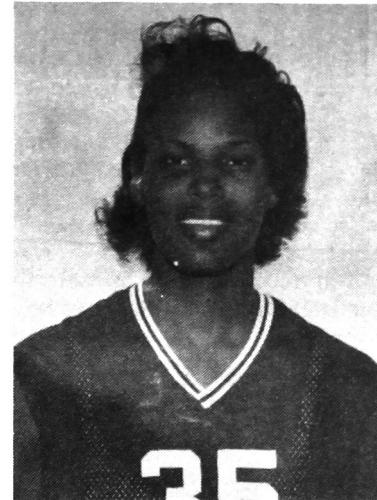

Both Charles Harris and Lee Stringfellow were named to the first All-District and All-Conference teams.

George Hauser was named the NAIA District Nine "Coach of the Year."

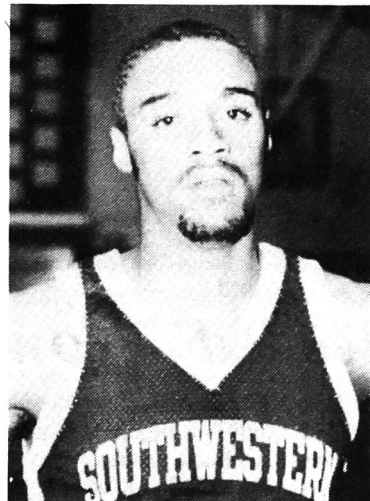

Harris and Stringfellow were also selected to play in the East/West senior All-Star game.

Litsch Honored in Los Angeles

Kelli Litsch of Southwestern Oklahoma State University was selected as the 1984 Champion Player of the Year Trophy winner for the NAIA.

The trophy honors the outstanding woman basketball player in each of five collegiate divisions. The awards presentation took place in conjunction with the Women's Basketball Coaches Association convention and the NCAA Women's Division I Tournament Finals held in Los Angeles.

Young Dill Signs With Southwestern

Southwestern Oklahoma State University football coach Bob Mazie is pleased to announce that John Dill, a 6-1, 180 lb. tailback for the Weatherford Eagles, has signed to play football next season as a Southwestern Bulldog.

Dill, who rushed for 1,062 yards on 167 attempts and scored 15 touchdowns for Weatherford High, was listed as the #1 scoring leader in Class 3A in the state for three weeks. Dill also averaged eight unassisted and six assisted tackles per game.

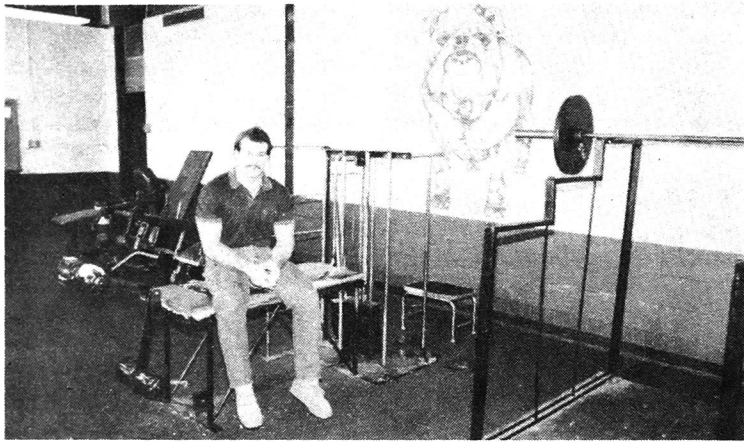

Dill received the "Most Valuable Player" and "Outstanding Offensive Back" awards from the Weatherford Eagles and was named the "Big W Player of the Week" three times. Other honors awarded to Dill include being named to the All-District 3A-3 team as well as being the District's "Offensive Player of the Year." The Oklahoma Coaches Association named Dill to their Region One All-Star team, and he was an Honorable Mention All-State selection.

Coach Mazie said of Dill's decision, "I am pleased that John signed with us. He is an excellent athlete who can help us either on offense or defense."

WEIGHT ROOM AT SWOSU

Donations Needed Now

The Weight Room in the Rankin Williams Field House needs donations in order to repair and purchase new equipment. All students, including athletic teams, use the weight room. Reprinted is a presentation made to the Student Senate:

"Scott Hoffman, student/athlete, was introduced to present the status of the Weight Room in Rankin Williams Field House. Hoffman proposed that the Senate take part in the renovation of this room. He stated that there is currently no budget for the Weight Room. According to Hoffman, the Weight Room is not in good condition. The facilities are not adequate, and what facilities are available are not safe. Since people other than just the athletes use the Weight Room, this affects the entire campus.

If the facilities were upgraded, Hoffman stated that recruitment would be improved. Some of the damage in the room is repairable, but other parts are beyond help. Hoffman has contacted several companies about the prices of new equipment and found the cost to be about $2,000. Various organizations and individual donors would help defray the cost.

Hoffman asked for the amount of $400-$500 to begin the mail process. His basic proposal was to set up a Weight Room budget. If the Senate agreed to allocate the funds, they would join the efforts of the O Club, which will be donating $700-$800, and the Booster Club. After the initial donation was made, the Senate would give approximately $50-$100 each semester."

Alumni that would like to make donations to help with the Weight Room may mail their checks to the Alumni Association. It will be tax deductible.

Rodeo Team Goes To Nationals

The Southwestern Oklahoma State University women's rodeo team will participate in the College National Finals Rodeo as the winner of the Central Plains Region, after an outstanding performance at the Barton County Kansas Rodeo, held May 4-6. The top two teams in each region are invited to participate in the National Finals, held June 17-23 in Bozeman, Mont., as well as the winner and runner-up in each individual event.

The women's team scored 360 points in the rodeo. Their nearest opponent was Dodge City, Kan., who finished with a 95.

Charlotta Noble, Yale, was named the All-Around Cowgirl at Barton County, winning the barrel race and finishing 2nd in the breakaway roping. Lisa Kneale, Maitland, Mo., was the runner-up to the All-Around title, as she finished 1st in the breakaway roping and split 3rd/4th in the goat tying. Stacy Williamson, Byars, was another first-place finalist for Southwestern, winning the goat tying event.

Other finalists for Southwestern were Penny Hughes, Syracuse, Kan., 4th in goat tying; Monica Bernard, Leedey, 2nd in barrel race, and Kerrie Beaman, Bennett, Colo., 3rd in barrel race.

The men's rodeo team did not fare as well as the women at Bar-

SWOSU Decal

Drive with pride with the blue and white decal. We hope you have placed your alumni decal on your vehicle. Two decals were mailed to each member of the alumni association. If you need more decals, contact the Alumni Office at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford, OK 73096. The decal gives your Alma Mater some good publicity.

ECHOES RECEIVES

World Trip

Dear Millie:

We certainly enjoy receiving "Echoes from The Hill;" it is always interesting to learn of the activities and whereabouts of friends.

I would like to correct a bit of information in the last issue relative to Bob and Grace (Van Gundy) Templeton. The songs, music, and words were written by Grace (not Bob) and should be listed as "Sing and be Glad," not "Sing and be God." Grace continues to write music and do hymn arrangements for choral groups. She has directed the Val Vista Choraliers, a 40-voiced mixed chorus in Val Vista Village. I am continuing to lead Divorce Recovery Workshops at the Mesa Chamber of Commerce Conference Room. I developed the workshops during my years as a pastor.

We are planning to leave July 15, 1984, for a trip around the world and will return January 14, 1985. The plane tickets were a retirement gift from our son and daughter-in-law, Robert and Karen Templeton. We will not be a part of a tour; but will be taking the 18-country trip on our own.

Sincerely,
Robert M. Templeton Jr.
