

4-16-2019

Tips for Avoiding Plagiarism

Veronica McGowan
Southwestern Oklahoma State University

Abstract

Paraphrase

What is it? Including ideas or information from an original source in your paper

How do I comply? Must be rephrased in your own words. Use as few original words as possible- good rule of thumb: no more than two words from the source in a row

... Read More

Follow this and additional works at: https://dc.swosu.edu/ssc_resources

 Part of the English Language and Literature Commons, and the Higher Education Commons

Recommended Citation

McGowan, Veronica, "Tips for Avoiding Plagiarism" (2019). Resources. 2.
https://dc.swosu.edu/ssc_resources/2

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Success Center at SWOSU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Resources by an authorized administrator of SWOSU Digital Commons. An ADA compliant document is available upon request. For more information, please contact phillip.fitzsimmons@swosu.edu.

Tips for Avoiding Plagiarism

Paraphrase

What is it? Including ideas or information from an original source in your paper

How do I comply? Must be rephrased in your own words. Use as few original words as possible- good rule of thumb: no more than two words from the source in a row

Best paraphrases:

- include only the author's ideas but with your words.
- are accurate and fair.
- are properly cited.

How do I do that?

- Break down complex phrases into smaller ones
- Identify relationships such as cause and effect or contrasts
- Put in a new order
- Change parts of speech (ex. Decision to decide); change voice from passive to active
- Use synonyms

Quoting

What is it? Including identical wording from the original source

How do I comply? Must use " " or by indenting, depending upon style guide. Use the quote exactly the way it appears, although focusing on a specific part is allowed by using beginning and ending ellipses: "... no one wants to be misquoted...". Don't use a "block quotes" of 40 words or more as it implies you are lazy or don't understand the material in order to paraphrase.

Citing

What is it? Giving credit to a source idea

How do I comply? Every field adopts its own standard known as a style guide. Ask your instructor which style guide is used in your field. Ex. Most medical journals use NLM (Nat'l Lib of Med), but our HIIM program prefers APA style. Visit our SWOSU Libraries resources for more information: <https://library.swosu.edu/>

Check yourself

- Check that every citation has a reference and that every reference has a citation
- Use free plagiarism checkers
- If your professor allows multiple paper submissions, then use TurnItIn-it provides feedback on document submissions after 24 hours.