

2004

DaVinci Institute Timeline

The DaVinci Institute

Abstract

Timeline of the DaVinci Institute from 1998 through 2004.

The DaVinci Institute is a private partnership of leaders in higher education across the state of Oklahoma. Founded in 1998 as a 501(c) (3) non-profit organization, DaVinci's goal is to maintain the mission to promote a statewide cultural renaissance by building academic and community partnerships, programming and awareness of the importance of the transformation of education in the 21st century...

Read More

Follow this and additional works at: <https://dc.swosu.edu/davdocs>

Part of the Education Commons

Recommended Citation

The DaVinci Institute, "DaVinci Institute Timeline" (2004). Documents. 7.
<https://dc.swosu.edu/davdocs/7>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the The DaVinci Institute at SWOSU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Documents by an authorized administrator of SWOSU Digital Commons. An ADA compliant document is available upon request. For more information, please contact phillip.fitzsimmons@swosu.edu.

DaVinci Institute

Timeline

- 1998- First meetings to discuss the future of arts and education in Oklahoma during these discussion two committees are formed:
 - Central Oklahoma College and University Arts Resource Committee
 - Central Oklahoma College and University Arts and Education Research Committee
- 1999- Research team of OSU and OU participants sent to find whole school reform movement based in the arts they recommend North Carolina A+ Schools
- February-May 2000 – arts and education faculty and deans from ten central Oklahoma colleges and universities write strategic plan.
 - a shared website is developed
- October 2000 – Bylaws for the DaVinci Institute are adopted
 - Certificate of Incorporation is granted
- 2001- DaVinci Lecture Series begins with two guest speakers
 - Dr. Sam Hope- National Schools of Music
 - Dr. Elliot Eisner- Stanford University
- July 2001 – Revisions are made to initial strategic plan
- November 2001- receive 501(c) (3) status
- June 2002 – Trademark for the name and logo for the DaVinci Institute are purchased
- Fall 2002 – Oklahoma A+ Schools is implemented in 15 schools statewide
- August 2002 – assisted in residency of Jack Eddleman at various college campuses in Oklahoma
- September 2002- Bulent Atalay of Mary Washington Colleges presents “The Two Leonardos”
- November 2002- Barbara Shepherd, Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts presents “Hot Topics in the Arts and Education”
- January 2003 – DaVinci Institute initiates listserv
- February 2003 – Ben Cameron, Theatre Communication Group presents “Theatre Arts Education and Developing Standards”
- March 2003 – DaVinci Institute and Oklahoma Collegiate Music Educators partner with Sonic, Brook Mays and KFOR to “Keep the Music Alive”
- April 2003 – Dr. Ken Robinson, Advisor to the President J. Paul Getty Center serves as keynote speaker for the inaugural DaVinci Scholars Awards Banquet
 - Steven Hughes, Oklahoma City University and Heather Wright, Oral Roberts University become the first recipients of the DaVinci Scholars Award
 - Five additional schools are named Oklahoma A+ Schools
- September 2003- Dr. Camille Hardy, New York Dance Critic presents “New Tricks (Arts) for Polishing Old Skills”

- September - November 2003 – DaVinci Institute works with a consortium of other interested arts organizations to draft standards for dance certification and present to the State Department of Education
- December 2003 – Oklahoma A+ Schools and University of Central Oklahoma begin partnership
- February 2004 – Dance certification is passed by State Department of Education
 - Dr. Jane Bonbright- National Dance Educators Association speaks at the State Department for the certification of dance in Oklahoma and speaks to the public on “Dance Certification: Its context, Its promise”
- April 2004 – Dr. David Elliott- New York University presents “Making Music Human: Reflections on the Education of Musicians, Listeners and Music Teachers”
 - Dr. Richard Florida author of “Rise of the Creative Class” is keynote speaker for the 2004 DaVinci Scholars Banquet.
 - Arlyn Brantley of East Central University and Kevynn Sanford of Oklahoma City University are named 2004 DaVinci Scholars
 - 4 additional schools are named Oklahoma A+ Schools