ANNUAL EVALUATION OF ADMINISTRATIVE AND SUPPORT SERVICES

Spring 2009

Recently, Southwestern full time employees were asked to respond to an evaluation of the University's administrative and support services, and the first year for an online administration. Several e-mails with links to the evaluation were sent to all full time employees with SWOSU e-mail addresses. Memos with instructions were sent to full time employees without SWOSU e-mail addresses. Anonymity is kept intact because when the data is imported, only responses are seen, and user names and passwords are excluded. Ratings indicate consistently that a great deal of satisfaction with Southwestern is felt by an overwhelming majority of administrators, faculty, and staff.

WEATHERFORD CAMPUS

This is the fourteenth year that this survey has been conducted on the Weatherford campus. Almost thirty-nine percent (184) of the 477 who received an invitation to complete the evaluation responded to the questionnaire. This is less than last year's forty-seven percent response rate, but still fair considering the change in the mode of administration.

The percentages of the classification of respondents are:

Administrator	19%
Faculty	41%
Staff	38%
Unknown	2%

We have reason to feel good about what we are doing when an average of ninety-two percent of all responses fit into the levels of satisfactory, very good, and excellent. Satisfaction levels reported below combine responses of these same three categories:

- ❖ Eighty-nine percent expressed satisfaction with the executive management level (a six percent improvement over last year).
- ❖ Eighty-eight percent of the combined ratings showed approval with the management of the colleges (Deans' level).
- ❖ Ninety-one percent of the combined ratings demonstrated appreciation for the management of schools (Associate Deans' level).

- ❖ Almost ninety-three percent viewed academic and student support services with approval, especially the Registrar's Office, Wellness Center, and the Library. Half of all these scores exhibited improvement over last year; six of the scores were the most flattering in ten years.
- ❖ Almost ninety-three percent of the combined ratings for administration support services were also in the satisfactory range, particularly Payroll, University Press, and Public Safety. More than half of all these scores were better than last year's scores; seven were the most favorable in ten years.

SAYRE CAMPUS

This is the eleventh year that this survey has been conducted on the Sayre Campus. Almost thirty-one percent (11) of the 36 who received an invitation to complete the evaluation responded to the questionnaire. This is quite a bit less than last year's sixty-three percent response rate, but still fair considering the change in the mode of administration.

Ninety-one percent of all responses fit into the levels of satisfactory, very good, and excellent. Satisfaction levels reported below combine responses of these same three categories:

- ❖ Ninety-three percent expressed satisfaction with the executive and dean management levels, especially with the Office of the President.
- ❖ Ninety percent of the combined ratings for all other areas were in the satisfactory range, especially for Distance Learning & Continuing Education, Student Counseling & Assessment, Computer Services, and the Library. The scores of five of the items were the most favorable in nine years.
