13 January, 2020

“Know Your Rights in the Workplace” is the focus of a workshop planned Wednesday, January 22, at 5 p.m. in Stafford Center Room 104 on the Weatherford campus.

The workshop, sponsored by the student organization GSM Project, is open to everyone.

ACLU Interim Legal Director Mike Redman will lead a workshop on the current state of LGBT protections in corporate America.

Redman joined the ACLU of Oklahoma in October 2019 as its interim legal director. Prior to joining the staff, he served on the ACLU's Board of Directors from 2013-2019 and served as its president from 2016 to 2019. Redman is currently on leave from his private law practice where he focuses on employment law and civil rights within the LGBTQ community.

Redman has advocated on behalf of the LGBTQ community on various issues including gender markers on driver's licenses, same sex parentage on birth certificates, non-discrimination policies for housing and public accommodation, and employment non-discrimination.
