COVID Vaccination Clinics Set for Two Fridays in January at SWOSU

The SWOSU College of Pharmacy Rural Health Center (RHC) will be hosting COVID vaccination clinics this Friday, January 14, and again on Friday, January 21.

The clinics are for anyone and will be held from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Pioneer Cellular Event Center. Walk-ins are welcome so no appointment is needed.

“With COVID numbers skyrocketing, we want to give returning students, faculty, staff and people of the community the opportunity to receive COVID vaccinations,” said Dr. Randy Curry, director of the SWOSU RHC. “We encourage all students and community members to get their boosters. It is proven to broaden and strengthen immunity.”

The SWOSU Rural Health Center will have available Pfizer, Pediatric Pfizer, Moderna, J&J, and the regular flu vaccine for children and adults.
