01.21.2016

Southwestern Oklahoma State University will host its first-ever Health Science Careers Fair for SWOSU students/graduates this Tuesday, January 26, on the Weatherford campus.

There will be around 20 booths at the event with representatives from hospitals, professional schools, rehabilitation services companies and more.

Admission is free for the event that is being held from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center Ballroom.

Like a typical career fair, the Health Science Careers Fair is aimed at connecting employers and graduate/professional schools with students within the various health sciences fields. But, any SWOSU student or graduate is welcome to attend.

Students wanting to attend are urged to bring copies of their resume to distribute. If they would like to have their resume critiqued prior to the fair, they should visit the SWOSU Career Services Office in Stafford Center 209.
