

SWOSU Minds Game Team Seeks Competitors

01.18.2012

Southwestern Oklahoma State University will again participate in the Mind Games competition on KSBI-TV in Oklahoma City, and coach Dr. Kevin Collins is seeking SWOSU students who are interested in the competition.

SWOSU students won $10,750 in scholarship money during the inaugural season of Mind Games this past fall. One SWOSU team reached the semifinals and the other team made it to the quarterfinals.

SWOSU competes against other Oklahoma colleges and universities in Mind Games, which is a buzzer-quiz game comparable to Quiz Bowl or Jeopardy.

SWOSU is looking for interested students to compete on the team. Questions for the competition come from all academic fields. All SWOSU students who excel at this type of game are invited to try out. Interested students and those searching for more information should contact Dr. Collins at kevin.collins@swosu.edu.