

SWOSU Announces Administrative Updates

01.14.2013

Tom Fagan

Cindy Foust

Brian Adler

Southwestern Oklahoma State University President Randy Beutler has announced several changes within the executive leadership of the university.

Tom Fagan has been appointed executive vice president.

Cindy Foust is vice president for student affairs and is serving as interim vice president for academic affairs (VPAA) until the position is filled. SWOSU is currently in the search process for a VPAA.

Brian Adler has been appointed vice president of public relations & marketing. Additional duties Adler will have are administrative authority over the new Events Center, which should be completed later this year.