Dr. David Holsey of Houston (TX) was recently presented with a Southwestern Oklahoma State University (SWOSU) undergraduate diploma during a recent gathering of SWOSU alumni and friends in Houston.

Dr. Randy L. Beutler, president of SWOSU with locations in Weatherford and Sayre, presented Holsey with the diploma.

Holsey's excellent academic performance at SWOSU in 1968 earned him early acceptance to dental school. As a result of this achievement, Holsey was unable to participate in SWOSU convocation ceremonies to receive his undergraduate diploma.

In addition to Holsey being a long-time dentist, he is a participant in triathlon championships around the world.
