

Reed Timmer Bringing Dominator 2 Vehicle to SWOSU this Tuesday

01.18.2013

The Dominator 2 will be on display at Southwestern Oklahoma State University this Tuesday, January 22, as part of storm chaser Reed Timmer's presentation that is part of the Panorama series on the Weatherford campus. The vehicle weighs 8,440 pounds and is used to collect data in tornadoes. The tank-like Dominator 2 and other research equipment will be on display starting at 12 noon east of the Memorial Student Center and that evening will be outside the Fine Arts Center before the 7:30 p.m. Panorama event. Admission is free, and the public is invited. Timmer, who is internationally known for his unique brand of storm chasing and meteorology, will show videos and his presentation will be full of science and technology content. His TornadoVideos.net (TVN) has become the premier source of weather footage for news and production companies worldwide. For more information about the event, call the SWOSU Public Relations & Marketing Office at 580.774.3063.
