

February Employee Spotlight

02.24.2005

Jacob Johnson

Randell Roach

Jacob Johnson and Randell Roach are the employees in the spotlight for the month of February at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford.

Johnson is the director for Neff Hall and an assistant baseball coach for SWOSU. He has been working at SWOSU for four years. Johnson graduated from USAO in 2000 and came to SWOSU in 2001 to be the director for Stewart Hall and to work on a master's degree in physical education. Johnson enjoys playing baseball and spending time with his wife, Amanda.

Roach is a member of the building maintenance staff at the Student Union. He has been working at SWOSU for five years. He lives in Hydro. Roach is married and has three children and two grandchildren. Roach attends the First Baptist Church in Weatherford and enjoys archery, fishing, cycling, horses and photography.

The spotlight program is sponsored by the SWOSU Support Personnel Organization.
