DEDICATION

As the halls of Southwestern again ring with the voices of those who would attain a higher education, and with the academic stillness and quiet created by the second great world war gone, Tech again resumes its duty in a world confronted with many complex problems.

To a greater and expanded Southwestern—"Standing firmly on a hilltop" as a lighthouse stands—enlightening its students to intelligently direct their lives in a truly democratic fashion, we dedicate this book . . .

FOREWORD

In an attempt to reflect a photographic history of Southwestern Tech during 1946-47, the staff of THE BULLDOG presents this book.

To those who aided in the publication, makeup, and composition; to the photographers, the salesmen, and the "boosters" our sincere thanks.

We earnestly hope that the production of this book will provide many fond memories in the years to come—as it takes its place on the shelves of Southwesterners to become a treasured memento of college life in '46 and '47.

NEFF HALL

To My Friends At The Southwestern Institute Of Technology:

Oklahoma has been built on the faith and resourcefulness of her pioneers. Our opportunities are far greater than any enjoyed by the pioneer men and women who carved a great commonwealth from our rolling prairies. Oklahoma has advanced in forty years to a point many other states have required one hundred years to achieve. Through application of the same faith and resourcefulness exemplified by Oklahoma's early settlers we can, and we will, continue Oklahoma's march of Progress.

Roy J. Turner

Roy J. Turner,
Governor of Oklahoma

Message From the President

To Those Interested in a Better and More Serviceable Southwestern:

Never forget that only the present belongs to us. Unless we seize it, we can seize nothing; unless we improve it, we can make no improvement at all; unless we learn to do well the task at hand, taking advantage of all opportunities that will make us more serviceable to all, then our future can not be as it should.

There will always be a need for good citizens, practical minded people, but the greatest need of all, as always found in human society, will be for men and women of strong character, unselfish people of vision and deep religious faith. These are the qualities that must be developed in our own present.

Students of Southwestern, the present is yours. Make the most of it, so that your future may be bright and useful. A great present will always make a great future. This is true with individuals. It is also true of institutions and nations.

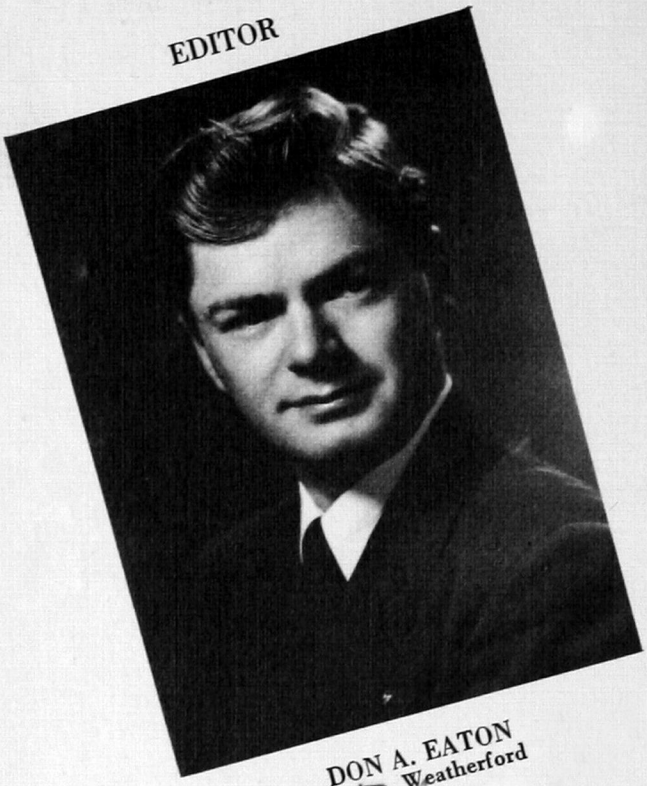
EDITOR



DON A. EATON
Senior, Weatherford

It would be impossible to include herein the names and pictures of all persons who have contributed directly or indirectly in the production of THE BULLDOG. The Editorial Staff is extremely grateful to all those students who have given of their time and effort—gratis—in order that there might be a yearbook.

Especially are we indebted to Betty Daily and Jack Daily for publicity, Maxine McCracken, stenographic work, Joe Ratzlaff, literary contributions, Thomas Sappington, photographs, and to Tri-J and Delta Sigma Epsilon sororities for sales.

1917 THE SOUTHWESTERN CAMPUS, 16 YEARS OLD, LOOKED LIKE THIS

THE EVOLUTION OF TECH

Established in 1901 by the territorial legislature as a normal school, Southwestern has grown and flourished in its forty-six years of existence. In 1920 the college became a teacher training school, remaining in that category until 1939. In 1939 the college purposes were enlarged with the addition of new departments, and the name was again changed, this time to Southwestern State College of Diversified Occupations. During the legislative session of 1941, the college was officially re-designated Southwestern Institute of Technology, its title of the present time.

The Tech campus consists of 58 acres of sloping ground that rises to the crest of college hill and overlooks the city of Weatherford and the broad valley of Little Deer Creek. The red and buff college buildings dominate the countryside and are visible for many miles in every direction. Newest and most modern of these is the Administration building at the head of Custer street, completed in 1943 to replace the original college building destroyed by fire in the summer of 1939. The oldest, largest, and designated by many as the most dignified of the buildings is the six pillared Science Hall, constructed in 1909, and appearing on the right of the photographs. The President's home appears on the left.

Mr. Don A. Eaton, Editor
The 1947 Bulldog
Southwestern Institute of Technology
Weatherford, Oklahoma

Dear Don:

That is a man-size job you wished on me. First of all, it is easy to say that the girls are all so pretty, I don't know where to start to select the top ten. One problem I really have is that the pictures, being of various sizes and some black and some white, may not do justice to the right girls, although I have tried to take all of that into consideration in making my decision. I am numbering the pictures from one to ten and initialing alongside on the back so that you will know the order in which I rank them.

Please tell all of these lovely young ladies that my only regret is that I am not still a Southwestern boy. How well I remember those days when our allowance would run out at the end of the week. A couple of us would have a dime apiece left, so we would arrange to meet the girls as they came out of the movies, escort them to the corner drugstore, sit them down in a booth and say, "What kind of a coke do you want?". Maybe that's why I am still a bachelor. I also helped run a beauty contest when I was in school. The girl who won it has always liked me but those who lost never have.

If it isn't too late, I would like to take a half-page ad in the Annual. Just put "Greetings from an old Southwesterner. Bob Hawk" and send me the bill.

Thanks again for inviting me to be a judge. I can't think of any pleasanter employment.

I also wish you would thank everyone concerned for doing me the honor of calling the old school bus the Bob Hawk Special.

It goes without saying that there is a place in my heart for Southwestern and that is a very big place.

Sincerely,

Bob Hawk

Hawk Judges Beauty

Bob Hawk, one of Southwestern's most prominent graduates, is the judge to select the ten most beautiful women at Southwestern whose pictures are to appear in the beauty section of The Bulldog, 1947 yearbook.

The Bulldog staff chose 24 girls for Hawk to decide among. The pictures were sent to him upon the staff's receipt of his telegram in which he said, "Would be delighted to act as judge. Would suggest that the pictures have no names on them. Give my regards to my old Alma Mater."

The girls selected were Vera Mae Cole, Clinton; Betty Cobb, Arapaho; Nadine Hogg, Granite; Mae Ann McMillan, Brinkman; Mary Bullock, Calumet; Esther Lee Cross, Clinton; Doris Cole, Hammon; Olive Jean Tippins, Hammon; Hazel McKinnis, Hobart; Pat Crisp, Fort Smith, Arkansas; Norma Sasseen, Hammon; Betty LaRue, Clinton; Jo Ann Pettus, Hitchcock; Olive June Wray, Hitchcock; Betty Clark, Clinton;

And Elsie Ayres, Weatherford; Norma Woodard, Clinton; Zoie Irion McClendon, Enid; Ella Marie Smith, Hydro; Doris Jean Chamles, Dill City; Alyne Anderson, Frederick; Coleen Lewis, Hollis and Norma Holly, Hollis.

According to Don Eaton, editor, the pictures will be returned sometime this week, but he said that no plans had been made for releasing the names of these selected.

Sweetheart Named

Following traditional custom, Southwestern's Sweetheart was elected by popular campus ballot Thursday, January 30.

Candidates had been nominated in an earlier primary ballot, with thirty girls receiving nominations according to a tabulation by the annual staff. From that number the ten girls receiving the most votes were put on a ballot to be voted on in the general student council election last Thursday.

The top ten as they appeared on the ballot were Betty Cooper, Greenfield; Mary Bullock, Calumet; Patsi Crisp, Fort Smith, Arkansas; Betty Clark, Clinton; Margo Savage, Hammon; Ray Coarley Lindsey, Martha; Grace Beatty, Reed; Ester Estz, Hinton; Wanda Lee Teskell, Sayre and Alyne Anderson, Frederick.

J. C. Hicks, who was in charge of the election, said that the voting was fairly heavy, with more than 500 votes being cast.

Miss Bullock, 1947 Sweetheart, received the greatest number of votes with 68 being cast in her favor; next were Miss Crisp with 51 and Miss Savage with 40. The rest of the votes were spread out fairly evenly among the other candidates.

Band Chooses Queen

Miss Betty Cooper, sophomore from Greenfield, has been chosen band queen by the members of the Tech band. She is majoring in music and has been active in band since enrolling in school. She is also a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and Forensia and was sophomore representative to the student council last semester.

Under an agreement with the annual staff, the band purchased a page in the beauty section in order to run a picture of Miss Cooper with the other queens.

Don Eaton, yearbook editor, said that several organizations had purchased pages in the annual in order that their activities might be more fully represented than they would otherwise be.

Alpha Phi Sigma and the Beta Tau Beta have both purchased full pages. Eaton announced that any other organization desiring to have a page reserved for them should see either him or Bob Romig.

The cost for these pages is set at $15.00 with the purchaser being accorded the right to specify what will be on them.

Tech Talk . . .

by Jerry Fancher

Bill Walden, from the southeastern corner of Oklahoma, is one of the Durant boys enrolled in refrigeration. Usually there are two things Bill has around—his genial friend, Carl Smith, who, like Bill, is a navy veteran; and Sinbad, his black, somewhat curly-haired dog. Walden expressed the dog to Weatherford from his home town some several months ago, and Smith claimed him at the depot.

Howard Johnston starts the semester off right by taking an apple to the teacher. The rest of Miss Fern Lowman's economics students are waiting to see what effect it has upon his grade—She may be able to start a fruit stand later.

All recent brides forget to answer the roll sooner or later. This time it was Beth Pitzer Edmonson. When she failed to answer in W. W. Ward's class, rather than let the rest of the class know that she had forgotten, she just let him mark her absent.

And before finishing enrolling, June Ladd Leathers evidently got tired of writing Leathers, so enscribed Ladd on part of her enrollment cards.

Rankin Williams has a problem. One of his basketball players, Tommy Palmer, has such big feet that it takes him at least five minutes to get his sweat suit off.

Ivar Heggan was exhibiting some of his pictures to Colleen Lewis, and when he showed her one of the library, she said, "Where's that? San Francisco?" And she's a librarian!

Bulldogs Tackle Kansas State In Mat Duel Here Saturday Night, Seek Upset Over Big Six Foe

KINLEY McCLURE
Editor

T. J. Snyder, Tech 121-pounder had his man near a fall as this picture was taken, but the Wichita University wrestler escaped as Snyder took an easy 10-0 decision in the first match of the duel here January 28.

And this was the finish as Heavyweight Carl White pinned huge Al Voigt of the Shockers in 2:35 to make the final score Tech 32, Wichita 0.

Coach Ross Flood's matmen will be out for revenge Saturday night, when they come to grips with the Kansas State Wildcats in the Tech gymnasium, first bout scheduled at 8:00 p. m.

Although the official score in last Saturday's battle at Manhattan showed the Bulldogs on the losing end, 7 to 20, on a basis of falls counting five points, decisions three and draws two, the actual point score for all eight matches was only 20 to 27 favoring the Bix Six school.

All this points to a dual that may go either way, depending on the breaks, and should be one of the best wrestling shows of the year.

Wildcats Win, 20-7, In Close Matches

by Kinley McClure

Tackling the veteran Kansas State Wildcats in their den at Manhattan, Kansas, Saturday night, Bulldog matmen lost the dual meet, 7 to 20, but chalked up 27 individual points to 20 for the Cats in individual scoring.

While this match was only the second of the season for Coach Ross Flood's squad, the Kansas Aggies had hit the mat seven times before, losing only to the Oklahoma Aggies and Iowa State.

Registering the only fall of the night, Bulldog T. J. Snyder at 121 routed his opponent, Herman Patterson, pinning him in 2:44 of the second round.

Claburn White, Tech, and Charles Lyons, K-State, were tied 2-2 at the end of the regular match but elected to go into an overtime period, when war-dancing Lyons escaped for one point for a 1-0 victory.

Orville Long, Tech wrestler, battled Veryle McClellan into a 2-2 draw in the 155-pound division. Long was on the offensive throughout the bout, but two escapes by McClellan brought him the tie.

Match results:

T. J. Snyder, Tech, threw Herman Patterson, 5:44.

Charles Nishwonger, Kansas State, dec. Charles Hetrick, 8-5.

Robert Johnson, Kansas State, dec. Johnny Moore, 5-3.

Stanley Fanscher, Kansas State, dec. Clifford McFarland, 6-4.

Orville Long, Tech, drew with Veryle McClellan.

Warren Boring, Kansas State, dec. Loren Deming, 2-0.

Charles Lyons, Kansas State, dec. Claburn White, 1-0, overtime.

Kenneth Topping, Kansas State, dec. Carl White, 7-5.

Professional Students To Be Weeded Out, Wild Warns

"Professional schools in Oklahoma as well as in the entire country are over-crowded with students, which means that there will be a weeding out process," Dr. G. P. Wild, chief of the veterans guidance center here, said Monday.

Dr. Wild went on to explain that this condition is particularly true in schools of engineering, medicine, law, dentistry and other highly specialized professions, and sounded a warning to all Tech students enrolled in preparatory work in those fields that they face a trail of rough competition.

"Take engineering, for instance," he said. "Last semester there were 6,637 world war veterans alone enrolled in pre-engineering in Oklahoma schools, more than the number of licensed engineers in the entire state.

Tough Competition

"This can mean only one thing. Admission requirements to standard engineering schools will be maintained at a high level and only the best will be able to pass their entrance tests.

"What is true of pre-engineering applies to pre-medicine, predentistry and pre-law, and it is up to Tech students taking such training to know that they are fitted for those professions and are enrolled in the nectssary required courses here that will admit them to the professional school later."

The local guidance center has information concerning entrance requirements to standard professional schools and has as part of its duties the job of advising students along that line, Wild said.

"It will be very much to the advantage of students such as those I have mentioned to come to the guidance center offices for advice so that they may know how they compare with those against whom they must compete during the next two or three years," Dr. Wild said.

Veterans Pass, GED Tests

Twenty-eight veterans of World War II successfully passed a series of general education development tests given on the campus early in January and will receive diplomas from their home high schools at commencements to be held in the spring, W. R. Fulton, head of the Tech education department, said Monday.

These tests have been set up and approved by the national bureau of education for ex-GI's who entered military service before high school graduation and have been given here for several months. Only requirement for high school diplomas other than passing the tests is a credit in American history.

Passing the January examinations were Robert M. Harrison, jr., Watonga; Wallace Williams, Carl Gauger and Billy Ray Upchurch, Clinton; Lesley Waggoner, Vici; Harold Birdell, Grover Staley and Wade Henson, Hollis; James Wilhelm and Don Hendricks, Gould; Donald Barker and Frances Gillespie, Altus; James Byrd, Walton Goodman and Jessie Unger, Weatherford.

Also Talma Jones, jr., Bessie; Howard Monroe, Mountain View; Robert Conner, jr., Strong City; Volnie Lingle and Willis Wells, Hydro; Bobby Joe Burns, Cheyenne; P. M. Shannon, Tecumseh; John L. Forensics Squad In Tournament

Speakers Go To Abilene

Southwestern's forensics squad will enter the Abilene Christian college speech tournament at Abilene, Texas, Friday and Saturday, February 14 and 15, announced Miss Damarise Kitch, head of the speech department.

Entries will be made in the following divisions: Original oratory, poetry reading, after-dinner speaking, Bible reading, extemporaneous speaking and radio speaking.

At present those scheduled to make the trip are Frank Gardiner, Vera Mae Cole, Norma Ruth Holly, Mrs. Vern McClendon, Max Kirkland, Leo LaRue, Cecil Brandley, Royce Patton, Irvin Hamburger and Miss Kitch.

Three or four more contestants will be chosen early this week from the advanced speech classes to make the trip, Miss Kitch said.

Students May Buy Reserved Seats For All Home Wrestling Matches

College students may buy reserved seats for any home wrestling match for an additional charge of 40 cents above their activity tickets, the college athletic committee announced Monday. Reserved seat tickets are now on sale at Eaton's Drug in Weatherford.

This year more than 200 seats that in past years have been in the reserved section have been thrown open for general admission for which the activity ticket is good. Only higher-priced seats now are those at ringside, and 60 on the first two rows of the west balcony and of the east balcony overlooking the ring.

Students who buy reserved seats for the Tech-Kansas State match here Saturday night will be required to present their activity tickets with the reservations, which are not transferrable. Cost of reserved seats for other than Tech students is $1.15.

Since a heavy pre-match sale of reserved seats is likely, students who want tickets should buy them at Eaton's Drug as soon as possible, committee members said.

More than 1500 seats are in the general admission section and approximately 300 in the reserved section of the gymnasium.

Only Few Books Left For Sale

Breathing a sigh of relief, Bob Romig, business manager of the 1947 Bulldog, is finally getting ready to close the subscription lists to this year's edition of the Tech yearbook.

He says there are only five books left to be sold before the contract limit is reached. After those five books are sold, no more subscriptions will be taken.

These remaining copies will be sold on a strictly "first come, first served" basis, with no reservations being accepted.

Anyone wishing to purchase one of these remaining books should see either Romig, Don Eaton or Betty Russman today.

790 Enroll

At the end of the second week of enrollment last Friday, students had completed their registration for the second semester, Everett Gartrell, financial secretary, said. At the end of the same period last September, the enrollment was 812; however, 40 new horology students are to be registered this week, which will make the total greater than that

A beautiful and impressive candle lighting initiation ceremony was held for nine pledges of the Hammacian club Thursday night, October 24, in the dining room of the home economics department. Chrysanthemums were in evidence throughout the department.

Those initiated were Louise Hatcher, Betty Cobb, Claudine Meek, Elehne Petty, Bobbie Harris, Glynn Harris, Donice Smithpeter, Opal Blurton, and Tommie Lou Hunter.

Juanita Knighton and Bula Mae Clay gave reports of the state meeting of college home economics clubs held in Oklahoma City October 11. Miss Knighton, who represented Hammacian at a province workshop held in Lincoln, Neb., October 18 and 19, told of plans formulated for the future of college home economics clubs.

Following the business session refreshments were served.

Those present in addition to pledges were Imogene Smith, Ruby Edsall, Mary Shadrick, Barbara Stuckey, Gladys Hamburger, Mrs. A. M. Keeth, Miss Mary Haas, and Mrs. Mellie Conrad.

Baptist Union Has Halloween Party

The Baptist Student Union entertained Tuesday, October 22, with a Halloween party held in the basement of the First Baptist Church. Traditional hallowe'en colors, orange and black, decorated the room.

Ouida Harris led the devotional and Rex Stewart directed games, which included fortune telling and a tour through the basement inspecting the remains of Joseph, the "ghost" of the evening.

Refreshments of ice cream was served to Miss Harris, Stewart, Bobbie Harris, Fred Stout, A. W. Fowler, Vancil Fowler, Billie Wilkinson, Hanna Zacharias, Bobby Compton, Cecil Winn, Imogene Smith, Mary Shadrick, Jerry Fancher.

And Loyce Avant, C. L. Potter, Geraldine Nikkel, Norma Greenfield, Gabe Caudron, Sam Haynes, Melvin Watt, James Young, Eddie Glazeman, and W. R. Fulton, co-sponsor.

Council Declares Ladies' Week

Sadie Hawkins Week, with its "confusin', but amusin'" twists, will be observed at Southwestern beginning Monday, November 4, and wind up at a dance on Friday, November 8 in the college cafeteria.

Marge Savage, student council social committee head, says, and we quote . . . "For a change, girls will adopt the wolfish tactics of boys . . . pursuing them in quest of dates, bearing the expenses of show tickets, dinners, cokes, etc."

Plans are also being made for and of course the boys will don their Dogpatch regalia at the dance. Girls will have the doubtful pleasure of requesting the boys to dance with them, says Miss Savage.

Tri-J And Beta Tau Entertain Pledges At Anniversary Dance

Tri-J and Beta Tau Beta entertained pledges and guests at an "Anniversary Waltz," commemorating the sorority's twenty-fifth year on the campus, and the first formal affair for the fraternity.

With the dance held in the west reading room of the library, decorations were constructed using the two clubs' colors—yellow and white for Tri-J and orange and violet for Beta. Yellow streamers hung from fans, and lights were shaded with violet crepe paper. The east wall was adorned with color and club signs.

A grand march opened the evening's dancing, with Bill Aldridge and his orchestra playing "The Anniversary Waltz".

Margie Savage provided some impromptu fun by singing "You Are My Sunshine," "Sioux City Sue," and climaxing with "Little Brown Jug."

Punch was served from a bar decorated with pleated white satin.

Dean and Mrs. A. C. Guffy, Miss Helen Davis, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Griffin, sponsor, were chaperones.

Bullock Is Pep Club President

Forty-seven enthusiastic teachers turned out for the special organization of a pep club at 10:00 Wednesday morning. Officers elected were Mary Bullock, president; Evelyn Self, vice president, and Bettye Jo Page, secretary-treasurer. Miss Audrey McGolden was unanimously elected sponsor.

Yell leaders chosen were Nadine Hogg, Mae Anne McMillan, Razz Curtis and Bill Corlee.

Besides electing officers and yell leaders, time was spent in rehearsing yells and pep songs. Miss Mary Griffin led the songs, with Walter Davis at the piano.

Band Elects Walter Davis

Walter Davis, junior from Mangum, was chosen president of the Tech band at the election of officers Wednesday, October 16. Others selected were Joe Wilson, Cordell, vice-president; Marge Savage, Hammon, secretary; Franklin Edmonson, Weatherford, social chairman and Betty Cooper, Greenfield, reporter.

The band has a full schedule planned this semester. They have already made one out-of-town appearance, making the trip to Alva last week to play in their Homecoming game with Southwestern. They are taking part in Tech's Homecoming this week and practicing for several numbers in the Armistice Day program at Clinton November 11.

Attends Meeting

Miss Millie Alexander, Tech registrar, attended a committee meeting at Chickasha last Wednesday to prepare the program for the state college registrars meeting at the state convention in Oklahoma City in February. While at Chickasha, Miss Alexander was a guest of Oklahoma College for Women.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Tucker of Hollis visited their son, Blaine Tucker and his family last week.

Maley Elected APA President

Weaver Speaks Here Nov. 5

Meeting October 14 in the pharmacy department, the Southwestern student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association elected officers for the present year.

A. R. Maley, senior from Clinton, was named president; Dewey Adams, Hobart, vice-president; Virginia Fetter, treasurer, and Marie Anderson, secretary.

Sponsors chosen by the club are Frank Cosgrove and Dan Rivkin, Tech pharmacy instructors.

The next scheduled meeting of the Association club will be November 5. Tentative plans have been made for Pete Weaver, Stillwater pharmacy leader to speak, reported Maley.

At the meeting this year's field trip to the Ely Lilly pharmaceutical and drug plant in Indianapolis, Indiana, were outlined. As usual only juniors and seniors who attend the A. P. A. club will be eligible, stated Rivkin.

Players Rehearse Comedy Farce

"Out of the Frying Pan," scheduled for presentation November 21 in the college auditorium, will feature a dozen students in a comedy farce, directed by Miss Damarise C. Kitch.

The three-act play unfolds the story of three young men and three young women who share an apartment in a large Eastern city and their attempt to induce a Broadway producer to see their show. Complications arise when one of the girl's friends threatens to expose her to her father.

As the story progresses, the producer, an amateur chef, visits the apartment to borrow some flour. The youthful actors seek to impress him by doing a murder scene. A mickey finn adds to the hilarity of the play when a "corpse" is found.

But the clue to the future of the fame-seeking youngsters can be found only in the final act. "Out of the Frying Pan" is one way to get everyone out of the doghouse. It will bring the couples in the audience to friendlier terms, according to cast members.

Minor changes have been made in the personnel of the play. A complete cast will be announced later, Miss Kitch said.

Homecoming Preparations Leave Tech Art Students Battered And Weary

If you see a group of students running around the campus this week with dark shadows under their eyes and a general "morning after" look on their faces, it would probably be safe to surmise that they are art students.

Because, for sheer volume, the art department has turned out more work for Homecoming than any other group on the campus. A partial account of the various enterprises that they took part in includes work on over 15 floats, painting signs for the parade committee, signs for the president, the deans, all four classes, and almost every campus club that entered the float contest.

Vern McClendon designed and constructed two floats almost single handed and helped on at least three others.

Ouida Harris runs McClendon a close second in that she was absolutely responsible for the International Relations and B. S. U. floats and helped work on two others.

Leslie Hawks and Dwight Dixon were the ones who made all of the bulldogs with the "Welcome Alumni" on them, while Jack Daily did most of the lettering.

Bill Watson was helpful by going around and giving the kids a boost in their morale and keeping out of the way of those that were really working, according to one more or less reliable worker.

Larry Hilburn contributed all of the cartoons advertising the Homecoming and the functions preceding it.

Nadine Lorance, Helen Heatherington and Ouida Sears were all heavy contributors to the signs, floats, etc.

Daily was also responsible for all of the signs appearing on the store windows down town.

Tech Student To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Stokes, Calumet, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Margrete Ruth, to Wayne Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Howell of Weatherford. The wedding will take place Tuesday, November 29 at 10 a. m. in the Methodist church at El Reno.

The bride-elect graduated from Calumet high school and is now attending Southwestern Institute of Technology.

Mr. Howell graduated from the Laverne high school and has served 18 months in the navy, 13 months being spent overseas.

Attendants will be Miss Geneva Watts, Calumet, and Pvt. Willie Howell, Fort Bliss, Texas, a brother of Mr. Howell.

Nine Seniors–

Alpha Phi Sigma and YM-YW.

Hicks, who graduated from high school at Holdenville before enrolling at Southwestern in 1942, is a world war veteran and is probably president of more campus clubs, including Q. P. and International Relations, than any other student.

Another Hollis senior, Norma Ruth Holly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Holly, belongs to Delta Sigma Epsilon, Alpha Phi Sigma, and Forensia, and has held major offices in her class groups and in the student council many times since her enrollment here.

Public Speaker

The father of three children, Kirkland is a graduate of Dill City high school and the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kirkland, now of Oklahoma City. Kirkland has held many major campus offices and has an outstanding record as a public speaker. He is the author of a number of campus productions, including "Cavalcade of Humor," a varsity revue produced here last spring. He is a Beta Tau Beta, and is a member of the debate club and Q. P.

Miss Self, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Self of Thomas, comes from a Southwestern family that have attended Southwestern for many years. A popular campus leader, she is a pledge to Delta Sigma Epsilon and is active in a number of other organizations.

McClure, a journalism major from Con S high school near Roosevelt, belongs to the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and is vice president of Neff Hall and the student council. The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. McClure of Roosevelt, he is editor of The Southwestern and is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Linville attended the Oklahoma Aggie-T. C. U. football game in Oklahoma City Friday night.

College Campus Goes Freshman

Men Outnumber Co-eds 3 to 1

Southwestern is predominantly a freshman school this year—to be exact, 73 per cent. First year students swarm the post-war campus here with a margin of about three to one over the rest of the student body.

Of 881 enrollees, figures released from the registrar's office show that 641 are freshmen, 106 are sophomores, 64 juniors, 49 seniors and seven post graduates. Ninety-one of the frosh are classified as "special freshmen," those enrolled in irregular courses.

To those who remember the dark war days, when a man was a museum specimen on the Tech hilltop, it is almost unbelievable that in the space of 12 months the picture has changed so completely, with Miss Millie Alexander's records showing 604 men (69 per cent) to only 268 women registered here.

Fifty-three per cent of the campus enrollment is made up of ex-GI's, 467 men and four women.

Vets May Take Flight Lessons

Veterans who wish to work toward private flying licenses at Weatherford airport should apply to President R. H. Butron for approval, according to Oscar and Jessie Duncan, managers of the local air field.

Students approved by the veterans administration will receive college credit for the 80 hours ground school and 40 flying hours necessary to obtain their licenses.

CAA approved flight instructors are Herbert Hickerson and Oscar Duncan. Cost of instruction for approved veterans will be paid under the GI educational bill.

Veteran Tests Set Nov. 7-8

Veterans who have not received highschool diplomas may meet in the library of the Tech campus November 7-8 to take general educational development tests, according to W. R. Fulton, who has been designated to supervise the program here.

These tests have been prepared by the American council on education and are similar to armed forces institute tests which were given in the military and naval service. The tests are for the purpose of determining whether a

Much of the dogged fighting spirit of this year's team was inspired by the efforts of Coach Spann and Head Line Coach Simms. In their realization that sports aim not only at the cultivation of physical prowess, but also at improving the standards of good sportsmanship, they have done much toward furthering football at Southwestern.

THE 1946 KENNEL

For the first time since 1941, Tech's "Blue and White" returned to the gridiron. Not only did the Bulldogs show their pre-war ability to push the ball down to pay dirt, but their sportsmanship and fair play was still as high as that which has always characterized Southwestern teams.

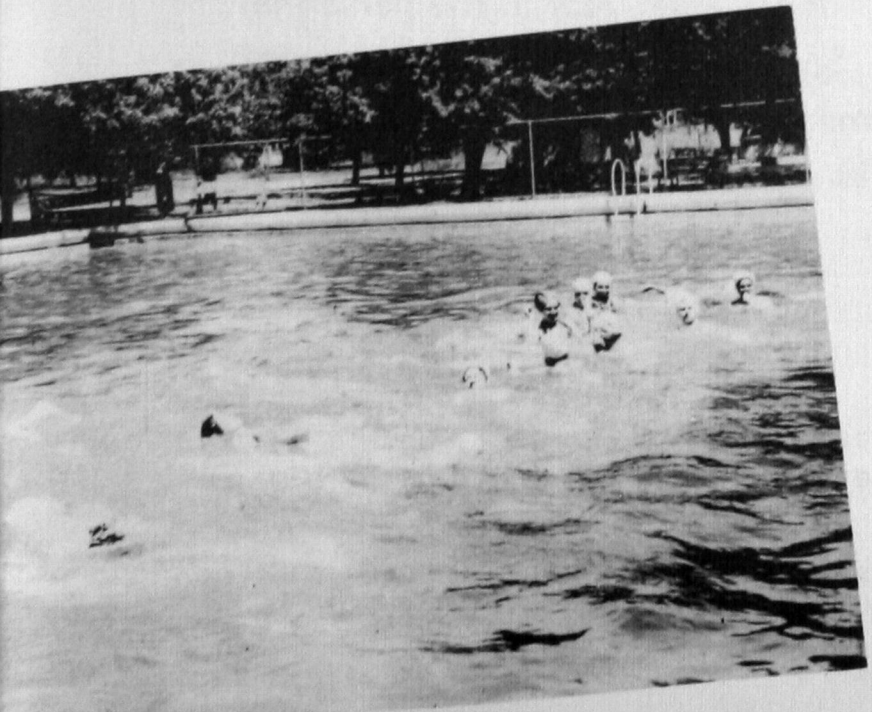
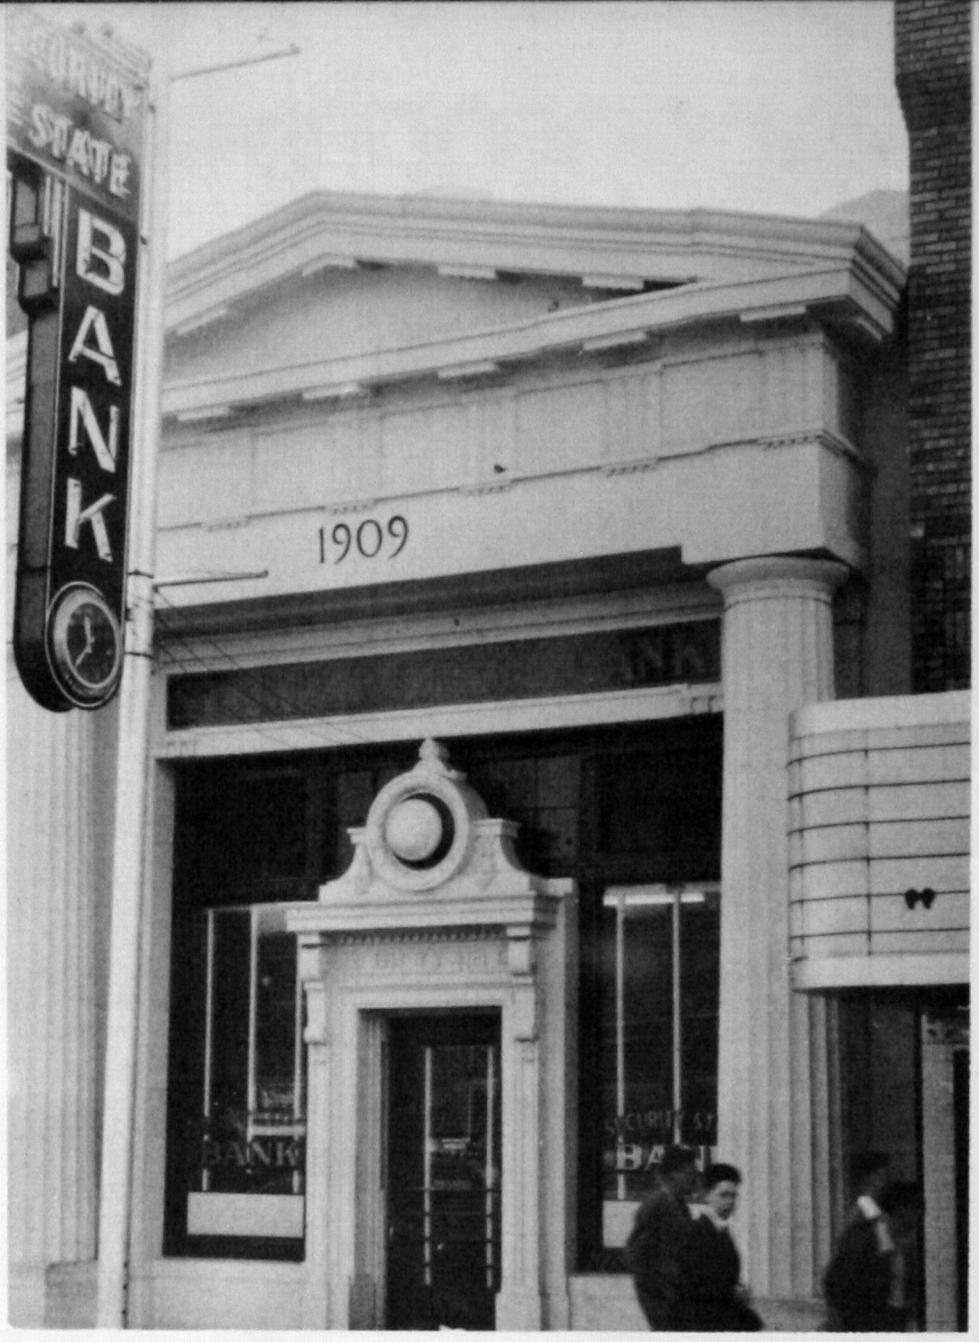
WOMEN'S ATHLETICS





THOUGH there are changes each year in the personnel and student body of Southwestern, the fundamental purpose and achievement of preparing the students for a better Citizenship never changes.

When this pair slug the old Juke Box
Pull down your hat and pull up your sox,
Ah! the grace of our modern day
And work they do and call it play!

JACK DAILY

Jack Daily can take a pot of paint
And make of a canvas "something quaint,"
But his car won't yield to his gentle stroke,
For believe it or not, it's always broke.

FRANK JOHNSON

Now here's the guy who can have a good time,
And make an 8 o'clock easily at nine,
And whose only love (besides his sack)
Is that of a beautiful 10 ton Jack.

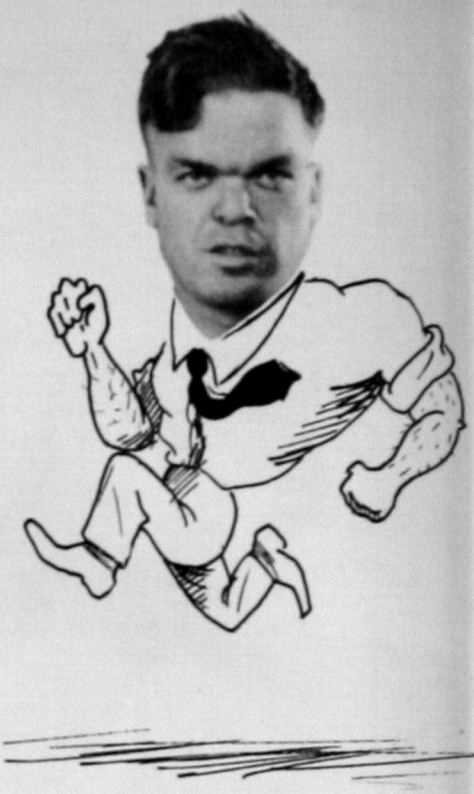
A director of old approached his cast,
And stood before them, then said at last,
"I began thinking last night as the rain dripped,
And I rewrote the show—here's another script!"

HAZEL McKINNIS

This is McKinnis with the big brown eyes,
A good looking gal. Ask any of the guys.
We all toast her as we recall
That she was the cause of many a downfall.



WAYNE AMES

"SHORTY" AMES! A mighty man was he,
Rose to towering heights, a full 3 foot 3.
Should a man startle him from behind,
A path up any wall his churning feet would grind.

Here's a combination of music and words,
As gay and refreshing as a couple of birds.
Marge sings "Hey! Hey!" while Walter plays.
