1950-1959 ALUMNI REUNION SET FOR HOMECOMING

All alumni who attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University from 1950 through 1959 will have a reunion on the Southwestern campus November 1 & 2. A Fifties banquet will be held Friday, November 1 in the Student Union Ballroom at 7 p.m.

Now is the time to start calling and writing all of our "ole" friends to meet for the "Fifties" reunion. Take the lead and get as many back as possible. Homecoming is fun when you see your friends, so help get them back.

Former class officers encourage the members of your senior class to turn out for the reunion. Dig out your old yearbook and relive your college days.

Two SWOSU Alumni Elected US Congressmen

Congressman Glenn English, Cordell (OK) and Congressman Bill Brewster, Marietta (OK) won landslide victories to the U.S. Congress in the November election. Both received 80 percent or more of the votes.

The State of Oklahoma has six U.S. Congressmen and two are Alumni of Southwestern Oklahoma State University. This is something for which the University and Alumni Association are extremely proud. Both Congressmen are members of the Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame at Southwestern.

Glenn is a graduate of Cordell High School and received his degree from Southwestern in 1964. Bill is a Marietta resident and received his pharmacy degree in 1965.

Glenn English was first elected to Congress in 1974, and his constituents have returned him there by convincing margins in each subsequent election. Now serving in his second decade in the U.S. House of Representatives, Congressman English rose in seniority to become dean of the eight-member Oklahoma congressional delegation in January, 1987.

A member of the House Agriculture Committee since his first term, English has emerged as an influential national advocate of the American family farmer. His imprint is felt on much of the agriculture policy of the nation, and the farmers and ranchers who populate the 6th district know that their needs are well represented in the U.S. Congress. English has been honored several times by agriculture groups both in and outside Oklahoma in recognition of his dedication to rural America.

In 1989, English was named chairman of the prominent Agriculture Subcommittee on Conservation, Credit and Rural Development. This panel, which has authority over such crucial issues as farm lending, the REA, crop insurance and rural development programs, sets policy in areas of vital importance to thousands of farmers nationwide. He serves on the following subcommittees as well: Wheat, Soybeans and Feed Grains; and Tobacco and Peanuts.

English is also known as a national leader in the fight against drug abuse. A major contributor to the 1986 and 1988 Omnibus Drug Bills, English is particularly active in federal efforts to prevent the flow of illegal drugs from crossing the U.S. border. His anti-crime work has been lauded by law enforcement groups throughout the country.

Throughout his tenure in Congress, Glenn English has consistently pushed for support of the industries that dominate central and western Oklahoma--agriculture and energy. The vitality of the 6th District depends on the strength of these sectors of the economy, a fact which is the key to Glenn English's representation of his constituency.

Glenn and his wife, Jan, are the parents of two children, John Lee and Tyler Janene.

Bill Brewster has had a rapid climb in the legislative ranks. He has served as chairman of the House's Economic Development and Business and Commerce Committees. He also served recently as head of the House's Tourism and Recreation Committee.

Brewster has also served on the state legislature's special joint committee on international development. The committee focuses on boosting Oklahoma's economy by focusing on increasing cultural and educational exchanges among Oklahoma and other nations.

On the national level, Brewster has played a significant role in energy industry issues as chairman of the South/West Energy Council. The council is an organization of state legislators from the energy-producing states whose activities include working with Congress to encourage domestic energy production and to ensure the nation's long-term energy security. Brewster is also the first Oklahoman to chair the Energy Committee of the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL). The NCSL is an organization of state legislators and legislative staff devoted to improving the state legislatures' effectiveness.

Representative Brewster's extensive business experience includes being president and chief executive of two small businesses. He also served 10 years on a bank's board of directors. He currently co-owns a real estate firm.

His agricultural background includes co-ownership of the Brewster Angus Farm since 1968. He is a past president of the Oklahoma Angus Association and is an Oklahoma FFA Honorary State Farmer.

The lawmaker's long list of civic activities includes service as a school board member and a hospital board member. He is also a member of the Lions Club and has served the American Cancer Society. The Brewsters attend the Baptist Church.

He and his wife, Suzie, are the parents of three children, Karel, their oldest daughter and her husband, Brent Howerton, live in Marietta. Their other daughter, Kecia, and son, Kent, lost their lives in a tragic airplane accident in the spring of 1990.

Bill ran for U.S. Congressman in the Third District which was held by Wes Watkins who ran for Governor of Oklahoma.

Six SWOSU students attend Tulsa conference

Six Southwestern Oklahoma State University students at Weatherford received scholarships to attend a conference on Perestroika: The Restructuring of the Soviet Union.

Jeffrey Ballard of Charles, Mo.; Earl Dalke of Weatherford; Troy Honeman of Hooker; Terry Larson of Yukon; Kellie Shepherd of Blackwell; and Casey Sutterfield of Woodward represented the social science department of SWOSU at the Feb. 21-22 conference in Tulsa.

Sponsoring the two-day event was the International Council of Tulsa.

The purpose of the conference was to provide those attending with extensive and stimulating insights into the historical, political and cultural contexts for changes now occurring in the Soviet Union. Leading international scholars and others selected for special expertise were featured in conference presentations and were available for informal discussion with conference participants.

Five of the six SWOSU students who attended the conference are also interested in the recently-established Soviet exchange program at Southwestern.

According to Dr. Francis Feeley of the SWOSU social science department, Southwestern has just established a 5-year program with Minsk State Pedagogical Institute for Foreign Languages, a teachers college, in Minsk, Bello Russia.

Also, Southwestern will be sending two students next fall to the Music Pedagogical Institute in the city of Rostov on the Don River.

Alumni Board of Directors' meeting

MARCH 2, 1991

The Board of Directors, with Kurt Winden presiding, met in the Student Center Cafeteria on March 2, 1991. The following members were present:

Dr. Joe Anna Hibler, George Dickey, Harold Wright, Otis Sanders, Larry Claxton, Lucille North, Robin Johnson, Basil Weatherly, Mike North, Edd Painter, Jim Litsch, Bill Ware, Jim Waites, Johnny Beech, Mike Freeman, Helen Gossmann, Linda Redinger, Ron Oldfield, Brian Box, David Morley, Arch Alexander, Mike Muncy, Ed Berrong, Sr., Lucille Patton, Don Roberts, Doyle Jackson, and Mark Mouse.

Dr. Joe Anna Hibler, President of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, gave a report on the progress being made on campus. President Hibler made these statements:

★ Southwestern has received accreditation from North Central for another 10 years.

★ A complete renovation has been made in the Old Rock Building. Technology Education will occupy these new quarters. The Brick Building will be the next project for renovation.

★ Oklahoma Hall will be closed for the summer 1991 to complete the removal of asbestos.

★ Southwestern has been approved for a summer Math/-Science grant for a total of $136,000. Additional grants for Math for $25,000.

★ Most all Parking Lots will be resurfaced during the coming summer.

★ Southwestern has purchased the Lutheran Church at the corner of Davis and 7th Street. This facility will become a Conference Center that will accommodate approximately 150 people. It also will have parking for approximately 150 vehicles. The Media Center will also occupy this facility.

★ Panorama 91 will provide three (3) Enrichment Programs each semester. The programs are: "King Lear", Linda Ellerbee and George Plimpton.

★ Exchange Program is expanding. In addition to Sarbone Paris, France, we will be participating in two institutes in Russia.

★ The Proposed Capital Bond

Program would provide Southwestern with $6.2 million. If approved, the money would go for Library expansion, updating equipment, a new classroom building, video between the Weatherford and Sayre campus and provide handicapped services in the Old Science and Education Buildings.

★ Inauguration for President Hibler will be Friday, April 26 at 2:00 p.m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

OLD BUSINESS: Otis Sanders, Executive Secretary, gave the following reports:

★ State Fair Booth-6,257 people visited Southwestern's booth during the State Fair. 441 alumni signed its registration sheet. The booth will be in the same location next fall for the 11th straight year.

★ Metro Counselors' Luncheon-Holiday Inn West on September 20, 1991.

★ Downtown Alumni Luncheon-Good response from our alumni. The next scheduled meeting will be April 11, 1991.

Kurt Winden introduced the following new board members:

Harold Wright-Anadarko, OK; Brian Box-Tonkawa, OK; Robin Johnson-Tulsa, OK; Lucille Patton-Edmond, OK; David Morley-Enid, OK; and Larry Weilman-Tulsa, OK (absent).

A motion was made by Mike North and seconded by Don Roberts that the minutes of the previous meeting be approved. Motion carried.

The Financial Report was presented by Linda Redinger. A motion was made by Johnny Beech and seconded by Helen Gossmann that the report be accepted. Motion carried.

Dr. Hibler recommended that we include all Sayre graduates on our alumni mailings.

Jim Waites, Director of Development, gave a detailed report about the work from his office and called for the full support of all our alumni.

A motion was made by Johnny Beech and seconded by Ed Berrong that we continue to provide the magazine service to Western Heights and Westmoore schools.

NEW BUSINESS: Otis Sanders outlined plans for Homecoming 91. Plans are being made for a 50's reunion and for all alumni who graduated between 1950-59. A banquet will be held on Friday night. He also is making plans for a 50's dance to be held at the T-Bone on Saturday after the game. Many of the downtown merchants have expressed a desire to become involved with Homecoming activities. Otis is working with them to bring about a bigger and better Homecoming 91.

Class reunions for Classes 1921-31 and 1940-46 are also being planned.

★ 1957 Chevrolet — Doyle Jackson donated a 1957 Chevy to the Alumni Association. This classic car will be raffled at Homecoming 91. All board members expressed their appreciation for Doyle's generosity. Otis Sanders will provide the publicity for selling all raffle tickets.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE: 'Echoes from The Hill' will be mailed around April 1, 1991. A membership drive is planned after the "Echoes" are mailed. A motion was made by Johnny Beech and seconded by Mike Freeman that Otis Sanders carry out the membership campaign. Motion carried.

LEGISLATIVE DINNER: A motion was made by Mike Freeman that the Alumni Association sponsor a Legislative Dinner and that Otis Sanders set the time and place. Motion was seconded by Doyle Jackson. Motion carried.

A motion was made by Johnny Beech that the Alumni Association give $500 toward the cost of the President's Inauguration. The motion was seconded by Mike North. Motion carried.

A motion was made by Johnny Beech and seconded by George Dickey that Mike Freeman be nominated as President-Elect for the 1992 school year. Motion carried unanimously.

Kurt Winden appointed the following Membership Committee:

Mike Freeman (Ch); Johnny Beech (V.Ch); Bill Ware; Dr. Arch Alexander; Edd Painter; and Doyle Jackson.

Meeting adjourned for lunch in the Skyview Room at 11:45 a.m.

Alumna named Vocational Educator of the Year

Dr. Anita McCune, assistant superintendent for Career Training and Development at Indian Meridian Vo-Tech, has been named by Region IV of the American Vocational Association (AVA) as the Vocational Educator of the Year--Administration Division and the overall Outstanding Vocational Educator of the Year 1989-90.

Each of the 13 divisions of the American Vocational Association selects an outstanding member to be recognized at each state's conference. These award recipients then represent their state and division at the regional level to compete for recognition with other states' award winners. From those selected as outstanding members of the region from divisions representing classroom teachers, a Teacher of the Year is chosen. (Region IV's selection for this award was Nancy Griggs, Moore-Norman Vo-Tech, also an Oklahoma recipient.) Divisional representatives who are not classroom teachers then vie for the Educator of the Year award, which Dr. McCune received.

These awards were presented during the regional AVA meeting in New Orleans, Louisiana. Oklahoma is one of six states composing Region IV of the association.

Having received regional-level recognition, Dr. McCune will now vie for the national award in December during AVA's National Conference slated for Cincinnati, Ohio.

Originally, Dr. McCune was nominated for and received the awards at the State level in recognition of her outstanding service to Indian Meridian Vo-Tech, where she supervises and administers the school's 26 full-time training programs and their support services.

Dr. McCune began her career in education as an adjunct instructor in the School of Business at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford in January, 1978. In August of the same year, she joined the instructional staff at Indian Meridian Vo-Tech and has remained with the school since that time.

During her tenure with Indian Meridian, Dr. McCune has served as Secretarial Training Instructor; Coordinator of Secretarial Training and Information Processing; Director of Student Services and Director of Instruction for the day, evening, extension, and industry divisions. In 1989 she was named to her current post as Assistant Superintendent.

In 1988, McCune received her doctor of education degree in educational administration from Oklahoma State University. Her master of science degree in vocational business education was earned from OSU in 1977, and she obtained a bachelor of science degree in business education at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1976.

A native of Boise City, she has made her home in Stillwater for the past 13 years.

Greb purchases Mangum Bank

Charles Greb, a longtime Greer County landowner, recently purchased controlling interest in the Guarantee Bank from the Janeway family of Mangum (OK). "The Duffys and Janeways have completely dissolved their interest in the bank," said Ed Deaver, the other major interest holder in the bank, "and with it, the passing of a kind of an era in the banking industry."

The Duffy family organized the Guarantee State Bank in Vinson and later moved it to Mangum. At that time there were three banks in town, Guarantee State, First National and Mangum National.

On May 30, 1948, the Guarantee State and Mangum National headed by the Janeway family, merged into the Guarantee State Bank.

Greb, who plans to live and work in Mangum, will take over as chairman of the board, but Merlin Nippert will continue to be president. "All management and other personnel will remain the same," said Greb. Directors will be Charles Greb; his wife, Gretta; Ed Deaver; Merlin Nippert and Steven Greb.

Greb and his wife currently live on a 4,000 acre ranch south of Mangum. "We started buying land in Greer County back in 1970 with the intent of retiring here," said Greb, "because we have close ties in this area." Greb was born and reared in Gotebo and received his BS in Science and a master degree in science in education from Southwestern Oklahoma State University. He later taught at Blair and Hobart and was superintendent of schools at Reed. He later built, owned and operated nursing homes until 1988. His involvement in organizing the Paris, Texas Savings and Loan and being a director of the Paris Bank of Texas sparked his interest in the Mangum bank. "We're happy to be in Mangum," said Greb, "and I feel I can help the community." Greb also stated that he was very interested in the community and its people and will continue the Guarantee State Bank's agriculture interest.

SWOSU graduate completes officer training school

Navy Ensign Andrew J. Dunbar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Dunbar of 714 S. Laird St., Mooreland, OK, has completed the Officer Indoctrination School at the Naval Education and Training Center, Newport, R.I.

While attending the six-week course, Dunbar was prepared as a newly-commissioned officer for duty in the Naval Staff field corresponding to his civilian profession (eg. medicine, law, nursing, etc.).

In his first five weeks, studies included Naval history and traditions, personnel administration, military law, close order drill and other general military subjects structured to acquaint him with an officer's duties and responsibilities.

During Dunbar's final week, his studies were concentrated on the application of his civilian profession with the Navy.

A 1981 graduate of Mooreland High School, and a 1987 graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford, OK, with a B.S. degree, he joined the Navy in June 1989.

SWOSU grad promoted in rank

Navy Commander Jerry B. Adkison, son of Ruth H. Rogers of Walters, OK, has been promoted to his present rank while serving at Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Department of the Navy, Washington, D.C.

A 1973 graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, with a bachelor of science degree, and a 1982 graduate of the University of Dallas, Irving, Texas, with a Master of Business Administration degree, he joined the Navy in June 1973.

Marine graduates from basic school

Marine 2nd Lt. Gerald R. Hightower, son of Gerald R. Hightower of Route 2, Prague, OK, was graduated from the Basic School.

While attending the Basic School, located at the Marine Corps Combat Development Command, Quantico, Virginia, Hightower was prepared, as a newly-commissioned officer, for assignment to the Fleet Marine Force.

The 26-week course included instruction on land navigation, marksmanship, tactics, military law, personnel administration, Marine Corps history and traditions, communications and the techniques of military instruction.

Hightower was also taught leadership by example and the importance of teamwork. He was required to participate in a demanding physical conditioning program.

A 1981 graduate of Prague High School, and a 1990 graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, with a Bachelor of Science degree, he joined the Marine Corps in April 1988.

Children of alumni establish scholarship

3M in Salt Lake City makes donation

3M Health Information Systems located in Salt Lake City, Utah, recently donated three applications of Coding software to the Medical Record Administration program at Southwestern Oklahoma State University at Weatherford. This software has been installed in over 2,000 hospitals and is one of the leading applications in the health care industry. Nita Kinlaw (right), Ad-

Lucille North captures state award

Lucille North's many and varied volunteer activities were recognized as she was named state volunteer of the year by the Oklahoma Chamber of Commerce executives.

New chamber president Lori Miller surprised North with the plaque at the quarterly Chamber of Commerce luncheon at Tanglewoods.

She also announced that for the second year in a row, the Weatherford Chamber has been named first in its size category (population less than 25,000) in membership retention.

North's award, however, is a statewide award. She's the top

Chamber volunteer for any Oklahoma city regardless of size. Her nomination letter says that about the only activities she does not participate in are those generally considered normal for senior citizens.

The letter estimated her annual volunteer hours at more than 2,500 spread over seven days a week.

A long-retired schoolteacher, North is chairman of the Chamber Ambassadors Committee, organizing ribbon-cuttings and receptions and visiting new and old businesses.

She serves on the Accreditation, Public Education, Community Affairs, Senior Citizens Involvement, Arts and Humanities, Health Education and Development, Convention and Tourism, Homecoming, Special Events and President's Cabinet committees at the Chamber and in her spare time--could there be any?--volunteers as office help.

She also is active in the American Association of University Women, Kappa Kappa Iota, Pioneer Club, Retired Teachers Association, Custer County Republican Committee and First Baptist Church.

Other activities include the Western Plains Library board, Southwestern Oklahoma State University Alumni Association and YMCA.

North did quit one thing in recent years. She said she did not have time to continue bowling.

SWOSU grad named Teacher of the Year

Miss Cindy Adair, fourth grade teacher, was named Seiling's Teacher of the Year. The presentation was made by the association president Karon McCubbin.

Cindy attended her first three years of elementary school at Gypsy. She and her family then moved to Milfay where she completed elementary school. She graduated from Milfay in 1974 and was co-valedictorian of her eighth grade class. Her high school days were spent at Stroud. While attending her four years at Stroud High School, she was a member of the Oklahoma Honor Society and a delegate to Youth Conference. In a class of 87 seniors, she earned the honor of being salutatorian.

After graduating from high school, she attended Seminole Junior College on a basketball scholarship. While at Seminole she was on the Dean's Honor Roll and was selected to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges.

From there she finished her college education at Southwestern Oklahoma State University. While at SWOSU, she was listed on the Dean's Honor Roll, was a member of the Women's "O" club, and played on the first NAIA National championship basketball team. She graduated from SWOSU with a bachelor of science degree in education with minors in physical education, science and math.

Cindy continued her education while teaching at Seiling. She has received her master's degree in elementary education and reading and holds a reading specialist certificate.

Cindy began her teaching career at Seiling nine years ago. She has taught fourth grade for eight years and third grade one year. She has also been assisting the fifth and sixth grade girls' basketball teams for eight years. She has served on the Staff Development Committee, and has been a member of Roman Nose Reading Council, S.E.A., D.C.O.E.A., and Wheatland Reading Council. She has been S.E.A. secretary/treasurer and is currently serving as S.E.A. secretary/treasurer, D.C.O.E.A. secretary/treasurer, and Wheatland Reading Council treasurer.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Adair of Milfay. She considers herself to be in a family of teachers because her dad is now retired from teaching and her sister and younger brother are both teachers.

Biology grads attend campus seminar

Alumnus named man of the year

A man dedicated to healing the sick, who has also dedicated himself to healing Sayre through civic activity, is the 1991 Sayre Journal Man of the Year--Dr. John M. Hubanks.

The Hollis native moved to Sayre in September, 1983. Since then he has become one of the builders of Sayre.

He initiated and coordinates the DARE project with Beckham County Sheriff Terry Poff. "This is an anti-drug campaign I think is needed in the city and it can go a long way to help the youth of Sayre," he said in an interview several months ago. Dr. Hubanks has been a major supporter of the annual Red Ribbon Week, a week dedicated to anti-drug activities in the community.

He has also been involved in projects designed to teach students about teen pregnancy, drug awareness in school assemblies and classes and has spoken to various church and civic groups about the dangers of drugs.

Since arriving in Sayre, Dr. Hubanks has been an advisor to the school board on drug programs, drug testing and athletics.

He can be seen on the sidelines at every Sayre Eagle football game where he provides free medical treatment for the players, something he was not asked to do but volunteered because of his love of athletics.

Dr. Hubanks has been selected as "Fan of the Year" by the Sayre Eagle Booster Club for his support of the Eagles.

A past president of the Sayre Rotary Club, Dr. Hubanks received the Paul Harris Fellow award in 1987. While Rotary president in 1987-88, the Sayre civic club received the Rotary Presidential Citation. That was the first and only time the Sayre club has been so honored by Rotary International.

Dr. Hubanks was born in Hollis on Nov. 9, 1952, and graduated from Hollis High School in 1971. He graduated Magna Cum Laude from Southwestern Oklahoma State University at Weatherford with a bachelor of science degree in biological sciences. After attending Oklahoma State's Graduate School he attended Oklahoma University's Medical School and earned his Doctor of Medicine degree in 1980.

From there, Dr. Hubanks took his postgraduate training in Family Medicine in Amarillo where he completed his education in 1983 and became a diplomat of the American Board of Family Practitioners.

In addition to his civic work, Dr. Hubanks has also served on the Beckham County Board of Health and the Sayre Memorial Hospital board of directors. His professional memberships include the Beckham County Medical Society, Oklahoma Medical Society and the American Medical Association.

He and his wife, Debby, have two children, John Mikel and Elizabeth Christine. They reside at 12 Fairway Drive, south of the Sayre City Park and golf course.

Active in physical sports, Dr. Hubanks enjoys bicycling, tennis, volleyball, snow skiing and fishing.

John and Debby Hubanks are active members of Sayre's First Baptist Church where he has served as a member of the Personnel Committee. Debby is a consultant for Sayre, Mangum, Erick, Carter, Reydon, Hobart, Clinton and Weatherford schools concerning students and visual or hearing impairments.

One friend of Dr. Hubanks said, "John never seems to run out of energy. He is always ready to tackle a new project that will benefit the people of Sayre. I wish we had a dozen more just like him. We would all be better off."

Instructor recognized at annual meeting

Dr. James F. Griffin, who is in his 21st year as a faculty member at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, was recognized as the Teacher/Educator of the Year by the Oklahoma Technology Education Association. Griffin was presented the award at the association's annual meeting held in August in Tulsa. Griffin, who served as chairman of the industrial arts department at SWOSU for some 10 years, was recognized for his support, leadership, dedication, professionalism, exemplary service and untiring commitment to improve the quality of technology education.

DR. JAMES F. GRIFFIN

Kauger named Panhellenic Woman of the Year

Yvonne Kauger, native of Colony and Justice of the Oklahoma Supreme Court, was named Panhellenic Woman of the Year for 1990 by the Oklahoma City Alumnae Panhellenic Association, a branch of 26-sorority National Panhellenic Conference.

Each year the member sororities submit candidates for this honor. The person chosen is the one who, in the opinion of the judging committee, has best served not only her own sorority but the Panhellenic conference as well, along with contributing to her community and state by way of professional and/or volunteer service.

Justice Kauger was recognized for her participating in her sorority, Delta Zeta, where she was named Woman of the Year in 1988, for her professional standing, and for her contribution to the arts in Oklahoma. She is co-founder of Red Earth, the outstanding Indian Festival held annually, and founder of the Gallery of the Plains Indian in her home town of Colony.

Oklahoma City Panhellenic honored Ms. Kauger at a brunch where she was presented with an engraved silver bowl as a memento of the occasion. Also in attendance was her mother, Alice (Mrs. John) Kauger of Colony.

Justice Kauger is a graduate of SWOSU and a member of the Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame.

Cossey named Citizen of the Year

Jack Cossey was chosen Citizen of the Year for the year of 1990 in the annual Mangum Progressive EH Citizen Contest.

Cossey and his wife Betty have been residents of Mangum since 1961. They are parents of three sons, David, Don and Doug, one daughter Donna Bull and two grandchildren.

In the past 30 years since moving to Mangum, Jack has been owner and pharmacist of Moad Drug Store, Medical Center Pharmacy and is presently employed as a pharmacist at Bratton Drug Store.

He has served as mayor of Mangum and has been president of the Chamber of Commerce during that time.

Jack is an ordained elder in the Presbyterian Church, has served as lay minister in the absence of a pastor and taught Sunday School for years. He is the Clerk of Session.

He is also a member of the Sportsman Club and Kiwanis Club. He is a charter member of the Rattlesnake Association which celebrated its 25 year anniversary in 1990. Jack has served as announcer for this three day event each year.

In addition, he serves as announcer for the annual Christmas parade in Mangum each year and announces Little League baseball games and junior high football games.

Jack received his pharmacy degree from SWOSU.

SWOSU professor honored

A Southwestern Oklahoma State University professor was honored at an annual awards banquet held in Chicago by the National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Sciences (NAACLS).

Dr. Gary Wolgamott, chairman of the Division of Allied Health Sciences at SWOSU, was presented an outstanding service plaque by Dr. Jacqueline Parochka, executive director of NAACLS, for serving as a member of the Medical Technology Review Committee for 10 years. Wolgamott's service period consisted of 2½ elected terms, the maximum allowable for review committee members.

He was also surprised at the banquet with a presentation of a bound volume of cartoons which he had developed during committee meetings. Wolgamott was cited for his leadership in the accreditation process and many contributions to the committee's activities.

The review committee is responsible for evaluating medical technology programs and preparing motions for their accreditation status. The committee consists of four medical technology program directors, four pathologists and an educator generalist. Wolgamott was the educator generalist.

Wolgamott has coordinated and served on many accreditation site visits to universities and hospitals throughout the nation. He has helped develop and teach workshops on the "accreditation process" at such places as Atlanta, Seattle, Chicago and Harrisburgh, Pa. He has also developed a workshop on "Curriculum Design: Using Behavioral Objectives" for clinical laboratory science instruction. He has presented this workshop twice in Chicago and will be presenting it at upcoming meetings in several states.

Currently, Wolgamott is listed as an accreditation consultant for NAACLS and will continue to teach workshops and conduct site visits.

SWOSU grad helps run family practice

Running a family dental practice is something the Cohlmiass of Oklahoma City can do in a unique way.

Five family members work at the business, two of whom are relatives of Weatherford's Lynda Roof. Woody Cohlmiass, Roof's son-in-law and a graduate of Baylor University College of Dentistry, attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University to receive his pre-dentistry certification. His brother, Ray Cohlmiass, also obtained a pre-dentistry degree at SWOSU before going on to receive his doctor's degree at Baylor.

Roof's grandson, Jeff, recently graduated from the Oklahoma College of Dentistry and went to work in his father's and uncle's practice. Along with family practice, Jeff does cosmetic dentistry and minor orthodontics.

Two sons of Ray make up the "family" practice, which Roof said was featured in a recent article in an Oklahoma City newspaper.

Wolgamott named Tri Beta officer

Beta Beta Beta is an undergraduate national honorary society for the biological sciences. The organization, founded in 1922, currently has 366 chapters in the United States and Puerto Rico with total active membership in excess of 5,000.

Wolgamott will serve as vice president of the south central region of Tri-Beta which includes Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas. As vice president, he will also serve on the national executive council.

Wolgamott has served as a district director for Tri-Beta since 1975.

Don Morris named to top research post

Dr. Don Morris, a Weatherford product and son of Louis and VaNita Morris, has been named manager of the Chemical Semiconductors-New Products division of Eastman Kodak, Longview, Texas.

A 1962 Weatherford High School graduate, Morris received a bachelor's degree in general chemistry from Southwestern Oklahoma State University and a doctorate in organic chemistry from Kansas State University in Manhattan.

Morris joined Eastman Kodak in 1973 as a chemist assigned to research and development. In 1974 he was assigned to pilot plant operations. In 1979 he was named a senior chemist, and was transferred to new chemical research later that year.

Dr. Heckrodt retains AAFP membership

Dr. Stanley B. Heckrodt of Port Lavaca, Tex., has completed continuing medical education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), the national association of family doctors.

Requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. The Academy, the country's largest medical specialty association, with more than 69,000 members, was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

Dr. Heckrodt has been an AAFP active member since 1980. As a family physician, Dr. Heckrodt is qualified to work in all major medical areas and trained to treat up to 90 percent of all patients. Family physicians care for all family members--all ages and both sexes.

Stan is a graduate of Elk City High School and Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

Calhoun named Eastern sales director for Cabot Safety

Cabot Safety has announced the appointment of Robert Calhoun as director of industrial sales for the eastern region, according to Stanley J. Osweiler, vice president of sales and marketing.

Calhoun has over 18 years of experience in the Safety industry, and was previously regional sales manager for prescription safety eyewear products at AOSafety Corporation (Southbridge, Mass.), which was acquired by Cabot last April. Before working with Cabot, Calhoun held various positions with Boren Safety.

The recipient of AOSafety's manager-of-the-year award in 1989, Calhoun received a bachelor's degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, and is a member of the American Society of Safety Engineers.

Sandi Liles named Mutual of Omaha branch manager

Sandi Liles has been named manager of the Woodward Group Claims Processing Center of Mutual of Omaha.

The corporation's headquarters in Omaha made the announcement. She began her duties on Feb. 11. She was previously the district manager for Southwestern Bell, a position she had held for the past 10 years.

A graduate of Woodward, Liles received a bachelor's degree in business management from Southwestern Oklahoma State University. She had worked for Southwestern Bell for 12 years.

"I'm still in shock. Southwestern Bell is a good company and I've enjoyed working for them", said Liles. "This is an excellent opportunity that I couldn't bypass."

Liles, a past president and former board member of the Woodward Chamber of Commerce, is an ex office member of the Woodward Industrial Foundation. She belongs to the Woodward Rotary Club, is president of the Woodward Public Schools Educational Foundation and the founding chairwoman of Leadership Woodward. She is also a graduate of the inaugural class of Leadership Oklahoma.

Liles has been married to Woodward attorney Don Liles for eight years and they have a four-year-old daughter named Mackenzie.

"The potential for the Woodward office is the workforce and productivity of the workforce and that is the least scary thing. I have the utmost confidence in the people of Woodward," Liles said about her new job.

She said Woodward is the first small community the firm has located in and the company wanted to become part of the community.

SWOSU grad promoted

Weatherford product Steve Short has been appointed fiscal director of Texaco Latin America/West Africa.

Making the announcement was Robert Black, president of the Coral Gables (Fla.)-based Texaco division.

Short, the son of Fern and the late Amel Short, graduated in 1959 from Weatherford High School and in 1964 from Southwestern Oklahoma State University (then Southwestern State College) with a degree in accounting.

In his new assignment, Short will be responsible for coordinating all of the financial, accounting, tax and risk management functions involved in Texaco's Latin America/West Africa group of companies.

A family move will not be required, said Short's mother who lives in Weatherford. Short and his family live in the Miami-Coral Gables area.

After graduating from SWOSU, Short joined Texaco's producing operations at Salem, Ill., as an accountant that same year.

Following several assignments of increasing responsibility with the comptroller's department in Houston, New York and Coral Gables, Short was appointed assistant manager for Texaco's Latin America/West Africa division in Coral Gables in 1980.

He was named assistant general accounting manager in 1982, and general accountant manager in 1984, a position he has held until his present promotion.

Short and his wife, Nancy, who is originally from New Orleans, have seven children: Steve Jr., David, Billy, Stephanie, Jackie, and the most recent additions of Melanie and Natalie.

Claxton named manager

Larry J. Claxton has been named manager of statistics for the Oklahoma Corporation Commission's Oil and Gas Conservation Division.

The statistics department compiles and maintains records on Oklahoma oil and gas drilling and production, drilling permits, well completions and pluggings, oil and gas applications requiring Corporation Commission action and other statistical data needed by the commission, of interest to the petroleum industry and for historical purposes.

Claxton joins the commission from the State Office of Personnel Management where he worked two years as a personnel specialist.

Claxton was a public health statistician for the State Health Department from 1979 until 1986. He then worked about three years as a marketing specialist for Chance to Change, a drug and alcohol counseling service in Oklahoma City, and Meadowlake Hospital in Enid, before joining the Office of Personnel Management.

Claxton holds a bachelor's degree in business management and hospital administration (1977) and an MBA in marketing and statistics (1979) from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford. He was graduated from Oklahoma City (U.S. Grant High School) in 1972. Claxton and his wife and two children live in Moore.

Chairman to serve on national organization

Dr. Nancy McClain, chairman of the home economics department at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford, is serving a one-year term as president of the National Council of Administrators of Home Economics. As president of the national organization which promotes further education and science in home economics in higher education, McClain will represent all higher education home economic administrators across the United States. McClain has served as SWOSU home economics department chairman since 1982.

Western Oklahoma Hall honors SWOSU president

Southwestern Oklahoma State University President Dr. Joe Anna Hibler was one of three western Oklahomans inducted into the Western Oklahoma Hall of Fame.

The other 1990 honorees were Blaine Puckett of Sayre and the Rev. Roy Rowland of Elk City.

Making the announcement was Nelda Burch, chairman of the nominating committee and immediate past president of the sponsoring Western Oklahoma Historical Society.

Hibler began her term as SWOSU president on July 1, 1990. She is the second woman ever to head a four-year university in Oklahoma. She is a native of the Leedey area and a graduate of Leedey High School. Her bachelor's degree came from SWOSU, master's from Oklahoma State University and doctorate from the University of Oklahoma.

Throughout her adult life she has been a professional educator. She served on the business faculty at Southwestern for a number of years, moving from instructor to department head and then to the post of executive vice president for academic affairs at SWOSU before succeeding Dr. Leonard Campbell as president.

She served for two years as state president of the International Society for Women Teachers. She is a life member of the Oklahoma Education Association, a member of the Higher Education Alumni Council of Oklahoma, board member of the Weatherford Industrial Development Trust and on numerous civic organizations and projects in Weatherford.

Cobb named to bank position

Horace Eaton, President and CEO of First State Bank and Trust Co., Hollis, Okla., announced Gene Cobb was named Executive Vice President and Senior Loan Officer of First State Bank and Trust Company.

Cobb will also serve as manager of First State Bank and Trust's Sayre facility. "We are pleased to have Gene join our organization. He is familiar with our operation, our employees and our customers and will be a valuable asset to both the bank and the community," said Eaton.

Cobb has served as vice president of First Interstate Bank of Oklahoma's Correspondent Banking Department for the last four years. Prior to working with First Interstate, he was a community banker in western Oklahoma for 15 years.

SWOSU voice director heads state group

Charles Klingman, voice coordinator of the Southwestern Oklahoma State University music department, has been elected to the presidency of the Oklahoma Music Educators' Association.

OMEA is the Oklahoma affiliate of the Music Educators' National Conference, the largest single-discipline education association in the United States, with over 60,000 members.

Klingman is the fourth president to hail from Weatherford, with Dr. Charles Chapman, chairman of the music department; Dr. James Jurrens, former chair; and Paula Isch of the Weatherford Public Schools preceding him.

The office carries with it a six-year membership on the executive board of the organization.

Klingman's education experience includes 15 years of public school music teaching. He is in his ninth year on the Southwestern faculty and currently is pursuing the doctor of musical arts degree in voice performance at the University of Oklahoma.

He received his bachelor of science degree in business administration from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford in 1971. He has extensive training and education in all areas of banking and graduated from the Southwestern Graduate School of Banking at Southern Methodist University in Dallas in 1990 where he was selected to receive the Leadership Award.

Cobb is very active in the Oklahoma Bankers Association and has served on numerous committees. He was chairman of the Agriculture Lending Committee in 1989 and presently serves on the OBA Marketing Committee. He has served as president of the Southwestern Oklahoma Development Corporation from 1986 to present and has been an officer and director of the Western Oklahoma Bankers Association since 1979.

He was raised in Roger Mills County and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cobb of Strong City. Cobb, his wife Doe, and their two children Kari and Rhett, reside in Elk City.

Estate group picks leaders

The Oklahoma City Estate Planning Council recently elected officers and directors for the year.

They are Denver J. Klaassen, president and director; Jon H. Trudgeon, vice president and director; Charles G. Evans, secretary and director; Roy W.

Chandler, treasurer and director; and Jess Vanhooser, Cynda C. Ottaway, Barbara Brown, and Richard D. Winzeler, directors.

Denver Klaassen and Charles G. Evans are Southwestern Oklahoma State University graduates.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

SWOSU finishes National Champion Runner-up

Southwestern Oklahoma State University women's basketball team at Weatherford came within 5 points of winning another NAIA national championship title on March 12, 1991, as the defending national champion SWOSU Lady Bulldogs lost a heartbreaker, 57-53, to Fort Hays, Kan., in the championship title game in Jackson, Tenn.

The Lady Bulldogs were seeking their 6th national title in the past 10 years, but the Lady Tigers from Hays, Kan., had other ideas and captured their first-ever NAIA women's championship title. Southwestern has won NAIA titles in 1982, 1983, 1985, 1987 and 1990.

The loss to Fort Hays was indeed an upset. Southwestern had a 23-1 record in national tournament games heading into the championship game, and SWOSU had never lost to a Kansas school in post-season playoff competition. But, Fort Hays' 6-3, 230 pound center Annette Wiles scored 28 points and proved to be too much for the Lady Bulldogs, and the Lady Tigers pulled the shocker.

Still, it was a good season for the Lady Bulldogs who finished the season with a 31-3 overall record. SWOSU was 30-4 on the court this season, but Midwestern TX notified SWOSU that it was forfeiting their Dec. 8 victory over Southwestern because of use of an ineligible player.

Southwestern placed three players on the NAIA national tourney honor teams. Linda Broomfield of Los Angeles and Valerie Fariss of Leedey were named to the 1st team, while Jackie Snodgrass, who was named a 1st team All-American this season, was named to the 2nd team.

Southwestern opened the tourney with wins over Northwood Institute MI (77-58) and Western Oregon (67-55). In the quarterfinals before some 4,000 fans, SWOSU and Belmont, Tenn., staged a dramatic thriller as the Lady Bulldogs pulled out a 70-65 overtime victory. Then in the semifinals, SWOSU routed the cinderella team of the tourney, Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis, 69-49. In the finals, SWOSU rallied from a 11-point halftime deficit but fell short in their try for a second straight national championship ti-

Litsch inducted into NAIA Hall of Fame

Kelli Litsch, a four time NAIA All-American women's basketball player at Southwestern Oklahoma State University at Weatherford from 1982-85, was inducted into the NAIA Basketball Hall of Fame on March 5 in Jackson, Tenn.

Litsch was the first NAIA women's basketball athlete to be inducted into the hall of fame, according to Pat Madden of the NAIA Sports Information Office located in Kansas City.

Litsch, who as a player led Southwestern to three national championship titles in 1982, 1983 and 1985, was inducted at the Tournament Tip-Off Banquet which was held in conjunction with the beginning of the 1991 NAIA women's basketball national tourney in Jackson.

Litsch is currently assistant head women's basketball coach at Southwestern where she has been since 1985. She has helped SWOSU head coach John Loftin lead the Lady Bulldogs to two more national titles in 1987 and 1990.

She is the daughter of Jim and Peggy Litsch of Fay. Litsch still holds many Southwestern school records and is one of only two females to be named to the NAIA All-American team four straight years.

Men's team finishes 10-16

Southwestern's men's basketball team finished the 1990-91 season with a 10-16 overall record.

SWOSU head coach George Hauser will have all his players back next season except senior Stephen Joseph, a four-year starter from Oklahoma City Millwood.

Southwestern was led this season by Millwood junior guard Michael Parks and East St. Louis forward Sharif Ford, both who were named to the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference 1st team. Parks averaged 15.7 points while Ford was next in scoring with his 12.7 average.

SWOSU football players honored

Several honors were bestowed on Southwestern Oklahoma State University football players for the 1990 football season.

Linebacker Mark Bay of Shattuck had a banner season as the senior was named First Team NAIA All-American and Defensive Player of the Year in both NAIA District 9 and the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference.

Three other SWOSU players were named to the district nine team, three were named to the second team and five Bulldogs were named honorable mention. On the OIC teams, five were named to the first team, three were on the second team and five were honorable mention selections.

Joining Bay on the district first team were offensive lineman Dee Wilhelm of Elk City, defensive lineman Don Matthews of Marshall, Texas, and punter Larry Talbott of Kingfisher. The SWOSU first-teamers were also OIC first team selections as was wide receiver Nathan Robinson of Oklahoma City Millwood. Talbott and Matthews were also named NAIA honorable mention All-Americans.

Named to the district second team were running back Marc Williams of Pampa, Texas, and offensive lineman Damon Sartor of Willis, Texas. Williams and Sartor, along with defensive lineman John Wichert of Weatherford, were also named to the OIC second team.

Bay led the Bulldogs in tackles this season with 141 which included 78 solo tackles. The Shattuck senior also had 8 tackles behind the line of scrimmage for loss of 20 yards. He also had 3 quarterback sacks, 3 pass breakups and 4 fumble recoveries.

Wilhelm, also a senior, was named to both the OIC and District 9 first teams in 1990. The offensive center for SWOSU had been named district honorable mention and OIC second team as a junior.

Matthews, who anchored the SWOSU defensive line as a senior, had 53 tackles. Plus, he had 11 tackles for loss of 20 yards, 5 quarterback sacks, 2 pass breakups and 1 blocked kick.

Talbott, a junior, averaged 38.4 yards per punt in 1990 which led both the OIC and NAIA District

Nine. His longest punt of the year was 59 yards which he booted three times. He had 59 yarders against Arkansas Tech, Southeastern and Northeastern.

Robinson was the Bulldogs' leading receiver this season. Despite playing in only 8 games, Robinson caught 20 passes for 499 yards. The Millwood junior also grabbed 7 touchdown passes. His longest TD reception was an 88-yarder against New Mexico Highlands. In that game, Robinson had 200 yards in pass receptions which was a school record.

Williams, a senior, had 512 yards in rushing this season on 140 carries. The Pampa tailback also had 9 pass receptions for 82 yards, and he also threw 2 touchdown passes. Williams played in 9 games this season. He was a district first teamer in 1989.

Sartor, offensive left tackle, was in his first year this season at Southwestern. He came to SWOSU from Sam Houston State.

The sophomore helped Wilhelm anchor the Bulldogs' offensive line in 1990.

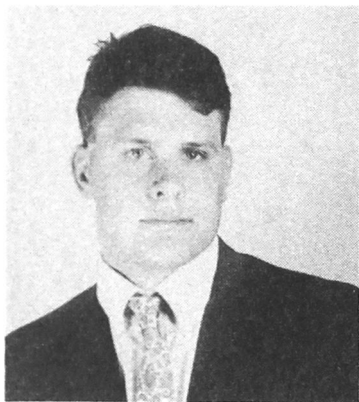

Wichert, a redshirt freshman, was a pleasant surprise for SWOSU head coach Paul Sharp. The Weatherford tackle was Southwestern's third leading tackler with 96. He also had 8 tackles for loss of 31 yards, 5 quarterback sacks, 4 fumble recoveries and 4 pass breakups.

Southwestern finished the 1990 season with a 5-5 record under head coach Paul Sharp. Named as District 9 and OIC honorable mention selections were running back Eric Royal of Hughes Springs, Texas; offensive lineman Jim George of Guymon; linebacker Brent Thornton of Groom, Texas; and defensive back Earnest Baker of Dallas, Texas. Defensive lineman Lance Rumsey of Moore was also named OIC honorable mention, and Wichert was named District 9 honorable mention.

ECHOES RECEIVES

FROM YOU

October 15, 1990

Dear Alumni.

Thanks a lot for a super weekend. At least it was for me. I appreciate it very much.

I know that a lot of work went into putting it on. You, your wife, Cecil and I'm sure a lot of others are to be commended.

I will try to be at SWOSU more and be involved in the activities more, now that I am planning on retiring soon. That college has done a lot for me.

Regards to everyone. Come out and see me if you come this way. Thanks again.

Dear Friends:

I enjoy ECHOES FROM THE HILL so much. I had my 85th birthday this year. 38 friends and family gave me a lovely luncheon. Our Oklahoma club here in leisure world is very active. I play piano for them. I am so happy the college is doing so well.

Dear Editor:

A county, a city, a college and countless individuals are better for having been under the leadership of Everett Gartrell! As an alumni of the "school of experience" of working for Mr. Gartrell, my life has been better for it.

Hard work, frugality, honesty, giving your best in all areas was expected. The experience I gained in the business office in the 50's has been used in full as we have developed our business. He has a part in our success!

One of the "pillars" of our society--what a legacy Mr. Gartrell leaves! I shall always have a deep appreciation for him.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Page, Dr. Crall, Mr. Crall, Mr. Brooks

I finally took the CPA exam for the first time in November 1990. The results came this week and I passed all sections!!

Needless to say, I am pleasantly surprised and thrilled that I'll never have to take it again!

So, I wanted to thank you all. I could not have done it without the quality education you provided. Thanks!

Gentlemen:

Here are some obituaries regarding one of your oldest graduates.

My mother looked forward to your paper. It brought back so many fond memories. Prior to my father's passing, they had attended homecoming at Southwestern every fall for many years, and that was a joyous occasion for them. Each year they would talk about it for days and weeks afterwards and eagerly plan for the next one.

I have some unusual artifacts and momentos left by my father and mother--my father was also a SWOSU graduate--commemorative spoons, medals, pictures, yearbooks, etc. If there is ever a museum established to preserve such things, I would consider donating them to it, in their names, for perpetuity.

Yours very truly,
Judge Dean Mabry
Trinidad, Colo.

Dear Sirs:

I received your reply, but I am temporarily living at the Cordell Care Center in room 412. That is located on 1420 Crider Rd.

I am very anxious to go home to stay. I am in excellent health. I like to write, read, keep house, cook, play the piano, study my bible, and walk at home. I have an indoor bicycle. I have a battery radio and a stereo, a 1964 Chevrolet Caprice Classic car and a 1966 blue Chevrolet farm truck, both with the Southwestern stickers on the back glass.

Sincerley,
Elzie J. King

Dear Alumni Association,

I would like to express my gratitude to you for the honor shown to myself and my fellow classmates at this years Honor's Banquet.

As a senior at WHS, this was my last year to enjoy the banquet and I would like to say thank you for the support and encouragement you have shown us. Knowing that our work and accomplishments at school are appreciated means a lot to us.

Thank you and may God bless you.

Sincerely,
Tony Louthan, Sr.

Clinton woman helps to develop SWOSU nursing program

There are not too many people that know it, but a Clinton woman has been very instrumental in the development of the baccalaureate nursing program at Southwestern Oklahoma State University at Weatherford.

Winona Madison, a life-long resident of Clinton, is credited by current SWOSU nursing department chair Dr. Helen Fenstermacher for working diligently to get the program started.

Back in the early 1970's, Madison was serving as director of nursing services at Clinton Regional Hospital, a position she held for 14 years before retiring in 1982. Madison was attending a nursing association meeting where she ran into Dan Hobbs, Vice-Chancellor of the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education. The two struck up a conversation, and she indicated that western Oklahoma was in dire need of a School of Nursing since many students from the area had to get their training in Oklahoma City and Tulsa. She also politely told Hobbs that SWOSU would be an ideal spot for a nursing program.

Well, her conversation did get things rolling. Soon, Madison was working with Dr. Al Harris, SWOSU's president at the time. Southwestern finally got the nod of approval from the regents and many people--including Madison, Dr. Harris and Dr. Leonard Campbell (SWOSU president after Harris)--put in many hours of hard labor to see that Southwestern had a nursing program. It was finally in 1979 that Southwestern graduated its first nursing class.

Now, some 12 years later, Madison's influence is still felt in the nursing program at Southwestern. Students are benefiting from a Winona Madison Scholarship fund which was established by her daughter and son-in-law, Robert O. and Judy Raulston of Oklahoma City. The fund was established in honor of Madison for the purpose of helping students from western Oklahoma.

The nursing school currently uses the interest from the $25,000 fund for scholarships.

Madison is still active in the Oklahoma Nurses Association which she served as president in 1974-75 and also the American Nurses Association. She is an ex-officio member of the Citizens Advisory Board to the Division of Nursing at Southwestern and is on the Foundation Advisory Board of Clinton Regional Hospital. She is a volunteer with the Clinton Public Schools and is very active at First Methodist Church in Clinton. She and her husband, L.T., have two children: John Stevens of Tulsa and Judy. They also have five grandchildren.

Fenstermacher said Madison has been a tremendous asset of the SWOSU nursing program and is helping nursing students from western Oklahoma achieve their career goals of becoming nurses.

VICKIE CATLETT (center), a senior from Clinton in the nursing program at Southwestern Oklahoma State University at Weatherford, is this year's recipient of the Winona Madison Scholarship.
