

2019

The Halloween Phantom

Jordyn Roberts

Follow this and additional works at: https://dc.swosu.edu/sayre_student_anthology

Recommended Citation

Roberts, Jordyn (2019) "The Halloween Phantom," SWOSU Sayre Student Anthology: Vol. 1 : No. 1 , Article 46.
Available at: https://dc.swosu.edu/sayre_student_anthology/vol1/iss1/46

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Monographs at SWOSU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in SWOSU Sayre Student Anthology by an authorized editor of SWOSU Digital Commons. An ADA compliant document is available upon request. For more information, please contact phillip.fitzsimmons@swosu.edu.

The Halloween Phantom

The Halloween Phantom

Jordyn Roberts

I never believed in ghosts until I had a gruesome encounter with one. Ghosts were always something I laughed at when my friends would mention how scary they were. People who actually believed in ghosts were ignorant in my mind. That feeling changed the day that I met one.

The day started out like usual. It was Friday last October on Halloween weekend. I went to school, attended my classes, and finished basketball practice. Everything was going normally, when I decided to go shoot hoops in the old gym. Little did I know my life would change forever.

I had texted all my friends asking them to come up to the gym, and shoot some hoops. Sadly, everyone was busy or couldn't show up. So I grabbed my basketball shoes and headed to the gym by myself. When I got there, I turned on the lights and grabbed a ball. I was shooting on the farthest end of the court when I heard a large thump in the locker rooms past the gated door.

I began walking to the metal gate and found that it was padlocked. I squinted my eyes and tried to peer into the darkness. Suddenly, a flash of light appeared. I stepped back, a little frightened but still curious. I began to get scared when a tall faint figure appeared from the girls old locker room. I timidly spoke, "Is anyone there?" The figure moved closer and stood in front of me. I could see it clearly; it was a phantom. I couldn't believe my eyes. I stood there staring into the face of a mythical character who was actually very real.

Mesmerized, I stayed there until his distinct silhouette disappeared. I felt as if my whole body were fake and weightless. The goose bumps still come back every time I reminisce on this ghostly encounter. I was not only scared but also entranced by the sighting of a real ghost. Since that Halloween weekend, I am not ashamed to say I am a true believer in ghosts.