National Title Won

How 'bout those Lady Bulldogs!!! Southwestern's women's basketball team defeated North Georgia, 60-58, on March 17 in the championship game of the NAIA women's national tourney in Kansas City to win their fourth national championship title in the past six years.

Southwestern finished the 1986-87 season with a 30-2 record. The Lady Bulldogs won the first-ever Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference (OIC) women's championship with a perfect 8-0 record, won the NAIA District Nine championship, won the Bi-District championship, and last but certainly not least, the 1986-87 national championship. The Lady Bulldogs won 21 straight games to finish the season with their glittering 30-2 record.

Head coach John Loftin, who has led Southwestern to the National titles in 1982, 1983, 1985, and 1987, was named National Coach of the Year. He also was selected District Nine Coach of the Year. Loftin's record at Southwestern during the past six years is an impressive 179-16. Amazingly, Loftin's teams are 83-1 when they play in Rankin Williams Fieldhouse on the campus of Southwestern.

Southwestern also brought home several individual honors from the national tournament. Joyce Boudreaux, a junior from Houston TX, and Rhonda Smith, a senior from Wooster OH, were named to the all-tourney first team. Donna Douglas, a Tuttle OK senior, was named to the second team.

Southwestern opened play in the week-long tourney by edging Kearney State NE, 74-69, in overtime. The Lady Bulldogs then battered St. Ambrose IA, 78-63. In the semifinals, Southwestern won a nailbiter, 70-68, over Arkansas Tech to advance to the finals where they defeated North Georgia.

Importance of SWOSU to Dietrich Family

John D. and Ethel (Devin) Dietrich (now deceased) of Rocky, Oklahoma, where Ethel taught several years receiving a teacher's permit from Normal School in Cordell, met and were married. To this union five daughters were born, and all but one attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University, which makes it a most important educational institution to them as well as their children.

Recently the five sisters, and their husbands, met in Crested Butte, Colorado, for a reunion in the summer homes of Dr. Coot H. Nelson and Bette (Dietrich) Nelson and Colonel William G. Renfro (retired) and Joni (Dietrich) Renfro. The occasion was to celebrate the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Orville and Harriet (Dietrich) England, second daughter. The same group had celebrated Jack and Anna Mae (Dietrich) McKee's Golden Anniversary in February, 1981 in the home of Colonel and Joni Renfro in Titusville, Florida.

The Dietrich sisters and their husbands have a total of 242 years of marriage between them.

Jack and Anna Mae Mc Kee, Rocky, Oklahoma, attended Southwestern in 1931 and 1932, receiving a teacher's two-year certificate. Their son, John Mc Kee, graduated from SWOSU in 1960, teaching in Yukon and Rocky. He was also superintendent of schools in Snyder, Oklahoma for 18 years.

Orville and Harriet England graduated in 1935 and 1937, respectively. Orville was three times national champion wrestler and was on the 1936 Olympic Team in Germany. Orville was a Lieutenant in the Navy as an instructor of physical education, stationed at Pensacola, Florida. Mustering out after the war, he coached football in Pensacola. Harriet taught up until she retired. Both taught at Tate Elementary and High School in Cantonment, Florida. They have two daughters who are also teachers, Sharron Kay and Sara Jane and one son Stevie who is a carpenter.

Colonel Bill and Joni D. Renfro also graduated from Southwestern. He was also a national wrestling champion. He went into the Air Force in 1940 to fly the B-29 over Japan with the squadron that dropped the (life saving for America) atomic bomb. Joni graduated from Southwestern in 1938, teaching in Weatherford Elementary School, then on to Wilson's Junior High in Tulsa. While Bill was at the Pentagon, Joni taught at several schools in Alexandria, Virginia. They have three sons: Michael Renfro, a graduate of Oklahoma University and the University of Texas Law Schools. He has been a county judge since 29 years of age and has served for twelve years. Robert Renfro attended Western State College in Gunnison, Colorado. Jim Renfro graduated in 1973 from Florida State Tech in Orlando, Florida.

Dr. Coot H. and Bette Nelson attended Southwestern. Coot graduated in 1941, going into the Marine Air Corps Flying the Douglas Dive Bomber off Guadacanal. He received three presidential citations, one for being with the Squadron that was crippling to the Japanese Fleet, turning the war for our benefit. After the war Coot went into op-

REUNION OF THE SEVENS!

Alumni that graduated from Southwestern State Teachers College, Southwestern State Normal, Southwestern State College, or Southwestern State University in 1927-37-47-57-67 and 77 are invited to celebrate your anniversary. It has been 60 or 50 or 40 or 30 or 20 or 10 years, send us your name, address, and the year you graduated. Plan to come back on October 30th and 31st for the homecoming activities. If you are a graduate of one of these years, send us your name, address, and the year you graduated.

City National Bank President Named

Mark Lumpkin, a Weatherford native, has been named president of City National Bank of Weatherford. The nomination of Lumpkin, who had served as vice president of the bank for a year, was made at the January CNB board meeting.

He had been employed at Universal Savings in Chickasha as vice president and loan manager for a year before accepting the position at CNB, and has been in the savings and loan and banking field for six or seven years, he said.

He is optimistic for the future of Weatherford and Western Oklahoma, even with the present economic situation. "I really think there are still enterprising people who can make things work...people around Western Oklahoma have shown me this a lot."

Lumpkin was a standout athlete at and graduated from Weatherford High School in 1968, and received a bachelor's degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1972. He and his wife Brenda, also an SWOSU alum, have two children, a boy, Luke, 8, and a girl, Shelby, 5. His wife is in her second year of "working at the home," after being a teacher for 10 years, he said.

Steve Caldwell, also an SWOSU alum, past president of CNB and now chief executive officer, will remain acting president of operations at Cordell National Bank, which was acquired by CNB in December, as well as several other financial institutions in western Oklahoma.

Lumpkin said he will be in charge mainly of Weatherford operations, "To free (Caldwell) up, so to speak." He said the board of directors "had talked about making this move even before acquiring (the Cordell bank)."

"I'd be able to have a little more personal contact with the people of Weatherford," Lumpkin said. Caldwell, when having to oversee so many institutions, had less time to sit down and talk with each customer individually, Lumpkin said.

Ronnie Walker Received Service Award

Ronnie D. Walker, president and chief executive officer of Southwestern Memorial, received the W. Cleveland Rogers Distinguished Service Award for 1986 at the Oklahoma Hospital Association convention. The award was presented to Walker at the convention banquet in Oklahoma City in November.

Recipients of the honor are chosen by the OHA board of trustees. The decision is based on the recipient's service to his or her hospital and community and to OHA.

Walker has served as president and CEO of Southwestern Memorial Hospital since 1968 and was its assistant administrator from 1966-68. During this time he has overseen projects to expand the hospital's capabilities and facilities.

His service to Oklahoma hospitals includes participation on many OHA councils and committees. Walker is a member of the OHA board of trustees, of which he was chairman in 1982, and he has served as an Oklahoma delegate to the American Hospital Association House of Delegates, 1985 to present.

Walker also is being recognized for his service to the community of Weatherford through his involvement in Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce, First United Methodist Church, Southwestern Oklahoma State University, and many other civic, community and business organizations.

Along with his contributions of service, Walker was chosen by the OHA board based on his relationships with fellow administrators, his support of others and his commitment to his profession.

Grads Pass CPA Exam

The following Southwestern Oklahoma State University graduates have passed the November Certified Accountant (CPA) Exam: Jima Briscoe Beach, Elmer; David G. Clark, Weatherford; Krista Yvonne Jones, Moore; Phillip Raymond Kenny, Jr., Enid; James D. Krause, Okeene; Allen Dow Mabry, Weatherford; Ramona A. Poff, Elk City; Angela Gail Privett, Yukon; and Linda G. Smith, Clinton.

There were nine other graduates who passed the May CPA Exam to make a total of 18 for the year. This is the highest number from Southwestern to have passed the exam in one year.

Dr. Thomas L. Palmer, Panhandle State University President, has announced his retirement to the board of regents for the Oklahoma State University and A & M colleges.

The ninth man to serve Panhandle State as president, Palmer will step down after 16 years. Only Marvin McKee who was president for 22 years from 1946-1968 has guided the institution for more years. McKee was also an SWOSU alumni.

Palmer is a graduate of Eldorado High School in Jackson county, about 30 miles southwest of Altus. He was valedictorian of his senior class, president of the class and named all-around student.

He received his bachelor's degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1949 where he graduated Summa Cum Laude and was listed in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges." He received his master's and doctor's degrees from Oklahoma State University.

The retiring president's teaching career began in the fall of 1949 at Balko High School as the basketball coach. In 1952, he became high school principal and later became superintendent. Palmer then accepted the superintendency at Cherokee from 1961-1966. He was named Sapulpa superintendent of schools in 1966 where he remained until accepting the presidency at Panhandle State in 1971.

Palmer and his wife, Dorothy, have a son, Mark, who is a medical doctor in Ponca City, a daughter, Patti, who is an attorney in Oklahoma City and twin daughters, Stacy and Tracy, both students at PSU.

The decade and a half of Palmer's leadership has brought many changes to the PSU campus. The university has strengthened academically, financially, physically and athletically during his tenure.

The structure of the university has been streamlined, reducing the number of divisions from seven to five and the number of departments from 27 to 14. During that same time span, degree programs have been added in agribusiness, vocational agriculture education, computer information systems, vocational home economics, industrial business management, technology, mass communications, recreation and music.

Faculty salaries have been, on the average, increased by nearly 300 percent since 1971. That has helped to reward the 19 current faculty members who were on the staff in 1971 and to attract qualified new faculty.

"The money is available, the procedure is in place and as soon as payments are made, the university will be debt free, 20 years before the dormitory and student union bonds are due to be paid in the year 2007," Palmer said while explaining the financial position of the university. He went on to say, "In addition to no debt, there is a cash reserve which should help carry us through these financially troubled times."

"Another entity of which I am very proud is the Panhandle State Foundation," commented Palmer. He met with a group of community leaders and university officials in Guymon in 1972 and set wheels in motion for raising money from the private sector. Palmer continued, "We now have invested or on deposit about $1,500,000. During the past 11 years, while building the fund, we have paid out about $500,000 for scholarship assistance to students attending PSU."

Athletically the fortunes of Panhandle State have steadily improved during Palmer's presidency. The overall winning percentage has gone up several points when compared with the previous 16 year period. The winning percentage has increased to 63 percent in football and men's basketball during the past seven years.

The Palmers are currently building a home in Guymon. "I will look around and decide if I want to do something else. There are no big plans at this time. Dorothy and I will do a little more traveling and spend a little more time with our grandchildren," commented Palmer.

Mullins Retires from CSU

Dr. Dale Mullins, a 1951 Southwestern State University graduate, will retire as Dean of the College of Education at Central State University. He has been with Central State University for twenty-five years.

In 1971, he became the first dean of the College of Education. Since that time, the College of Education has grown and become increasingly complex. In his first year as dean, the school had about forty-five faculty members, as compared to the nearly sixty faculty it now has.

Before coming to CSU he taught in the Oklahoma City Public School systems for 14 years. Prior to that, he taught at the consolidated school of Burns Flat in Washita county for four years.

His plans for the future "remain to be seen," he says. However, he had previously worked in Tanzania in the area of teacher education. CSU currently has a teacher education relationship with Korea he says, "If the opportunity presents itself, I would continue to work."

Assistant Professor Named

Tommy Clark, formerly of Shattuck, Oklahoma, has been promoted to assistant professor of art at Campbellsville College, according to an announcement from Dr. W.R. Davenport, president of the College.

Clark has been with the college since 1971. He teaches watercolor, drawing, three dimensional design, understanding art and art history at the college.

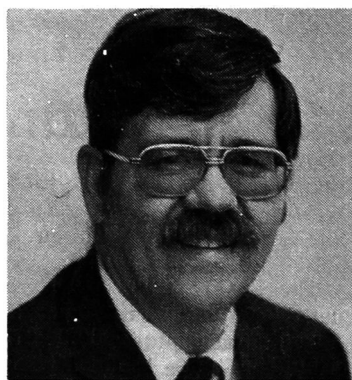

He holds a bachelor of arts degree in commercial art from Southwestern Oklahoma State University and a master of arts degree at Northwestern State University in Louisiana.

Clark has won numerous awards for his art work.

He is the son of Clarence Clark of Shattuck.

Clark and his wife, Judy, have three children, Ruth, Andrew and Franklin. They reside at Route 4, Campbellsville, Kentucky.

Campbellsville College, affiliated with the Kentucky Baptist Convention, offers 23 academic majors and 26 minor programs. The college is a private, four-year liberal arts college in central Kentucky.

TOMMY CLARK

Alumni to Assist in Seminars

Mark Mc Clendon, a graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, was recently selected to assist the Infraspection Institute of Shelburne, Vermont, in the organization and presentation of selected seminars throughout the United States.

Mc Clendon is president of Energy Management and Protective Services Inc., based in Yukon.

The seminars consist of classroom instruction in theory of infrared thermography (instruments that "see heat") and practical application instruction in the actual use of sophisticated equipment in conducting non-destructive and non-contact preventative maintenance inspections for electrical mechanical steam and built-up-roof moisture analysis.

A graduate of the institute, Mc Clendon was raised in Hollis and graduated from SWOSU, majoring in business. He has been active as a certified infrared thermographer for over five years.

Barton Appointed Deputy Director DHS

Winston Barton, a native of Gotebo, has been appointed deputy director for programs of the Oklahoma Department of Human Services, Robert Fulton, DHS Director, announced.

Barton was one of several appointed to key leadership positions in the department. The appointments are part of the actions being taken to implement a revised DHS organizational plan announced by Fulton in October, 1986.

As deputy director for programs, Barton will supervise the heads of the DHS Divisions of Medical Services, Income Support, Developmental Disabilities Services, Rehabilitation Services, Aging Services and Child Support Enforcement Program.

Barton received his bachelor's degree in economics in 1964 from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, and his master's degree in business administration from Oklahoma City University.

For the past 2½ years, he served as assistant DHS director for finance/administration. Prior to being named to that position, Barton was a legislative specialist with the Oklahoma legislature from 1981 to 1984.

He was a finance officer for DHS for two years before joining the legislative staff. Prior to that, Barton supervised the Information Systems Branch of the Federal Health Care Financing Administration's Regional Office in San Francisco.

Barton has prior federal experience with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Earlier state experience began in 1965 as a research analyst for the Oklahoma Department of Public Welfare.

Whetstone Joins Clinic

Dr. Harry J. Whetstone, an Osteopathic Physician and surgeon, recently joined Dr. Raymond Cook's Hinton Clinic.

Whetstone attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University and graduated with a bachelor of science degree in 1968, and received his doctorate at the University of Health Sciences in Kansas City, Missouri, in 1976.

Whetstone completed a rotating internship at Hillcrest Hospital in Oklahoma City in 1977.

He and his wife, Claudia, recently moved from Missouri. Mrs. Whetstone, is a registered nurse and received her training at St. Anthony's Hospital in Oklahoma City.

They have one two-year-old child and are expecting another child in May. Whetstone also has two daughters that live in Texas.

Whetstone was reared in Canton. "I'm an Okie and grew up out here," Whetstone said.

He received his bachelor of science degree in chemistry and worked as a chemist for Sun Oil in Tulsa for four and a half years from 1968-1972. After his stint at Sun Oil, Whetstone decided to pursue his dream of being in medicine. "I've always wanted to be a doctor since I was a youngster," he said.

He is a member of the American Osteopathic Association and of the Missouri Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Goddard on Thomas Staff

Dr. Roy Goddard will be on the staff at the Thomas Hospital one weekend out of three to relieve Drs. Bush and King from being tied down every other weekend. He will also be available on Wednesday mornings.

In addition to being on the staff at the local hospital, Dr. Goddard is establishing the Goddard Family Clinic at Watonga. Dr. Robert Bush of the Thomas Medical-surgical clinic is supporting him in getting his practice started there.

Both Dr. Goddard and his wife, Cindy, grew up in Enid. She received her certification as a respiratory therapist at Oklahoma University and later earned her RN in Michigan. For now, however, she is working full-time at home to care for their daughter, Erin, and their new son, Chip.

Dr. Goddard holds two degrees from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, a BA in chemistry and a BS in pharmacy. While he was in pharmacy school, his wife worked as a respiratory therapist at Thomas Memorial Hospital. The Goddards lived in Thomas from January, 1976, to February of 1980.

He operated a pharmacy in Guymon in 1980 and 1981, and then went to Michigan State University where he earned his doctor of osteopathy (DO) degree in 1985. He did his internship at the Enid Memorial Hospital in Enid.

Their pleasant experiences in Western Oklahoma while he was in pharmacy school made the Goddards want to return to this part of the state. "I always wanted to be a general practitioner in a small town," said Dr. Goddard.

Wilkin Earns D.O. Degree

Joan Wilkin of Centralia, Texas, is one of 93 new physicians who received their doctor of osteopathy (D.O.) degrees recently at Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine's 13th Annual Commencement. She graduated with honors.

Dr. Wilkin, a 1971 graduate of Centralia High School, is the daughter of William and Margaret Wilkin of Route 3 in Centralia. She earned her B.S. degree in Pharmacy at Southwestern Oklahoma State University's School of Pharmacy. She has worked as a registered pharmacist in Arlington, Texas, since 1976.

During her four years of Study at TCOM, Dr. Wilkin was active in the Student Osteopathic Medical Association, Undergraduate American Academy of Osteopathy, Sigma Sigma Phi Honor Society and Student Government Association. She has been a guest lecturer in the TCOM Department of Pharmacology and has helped in fund drives for the American Cancer Society, March of Dimes and American Heart Association.

Dr. Wilkin was honored by the American Medical Women's Association at the traditional senior awards banquet on the eve of commencement. She received one of two awards given by the AMWA for graduating among the top 10 students. She ranked sixth in the class academically.

She plans to do a one-year internship at Phoenix (Arizona) General Hospital.

MARK MOUSE (right) is pictured with Paul Suttles and Barbara Renner, counselors at Putnam City North High School. They are showing off one of ten magazine covers furnished to the high school library by the Southwestern Oklahoma State University Alumni Association. The covers have the name and location of the university on the outside cover and information about the university on the inside. Other high school libraries using the covers are Putnam City High School, Putnam City West, Moore, Yukon and Mustang. Mark is director of high school relations at SWOSU and secretary of the SWOSU Alumni Association.

President of State Broadcasters Elected

HAROLD WRIGHT

Harold Wright, SWOSU alumni, has recently been elected president of the Oklahoma Association of Broadcasters.

Son of Glenn H. and Ernestine Wright of Weatherford, the 38-year-old Wright assumed his new responsibilities as head of the statewide organization February 14.

Wright was elected mayor of Anadarko in 1985, is a past president of the Anadarko Chamber of Commerce, past president of the Anadarko Rotary Club and recipient of Rotary's Paul Harris Fellow for outstanding service. He served his Rotary district 577 as youth exchange officer two years ago.

Before going to Anadarko in 1975, Wright worked in sports and sales at Weatherford radio station KWEY and was sales manager for a Jacksonville, Florida radio station.

Since 1975 his station has grown from five to 13 employees. He supervises broadcast operations and helps promote community affairs. He added an FM frequency to his station in 1981. He became co-owner of the station in 1976.

Wright has been an "illusionist" since he was a youngster in Weatherford when he appeared in a local talent show at the age of 11. He studied magic while in high school under the apprenticeship of "The Mysterious Howard" in Houston.

He continues to perform his magic and is an instructor of the Dale Carnegie course, a basic course in public relations and speaking.

Wright graduated from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1971. He and his wife, Carol, have two children, Angela, 15, and Heston, 10. They are members of the First United Methodist Church of Anadarko.

Felz Named Director

university foundation development office.

Felz is a full-time paid employee of the school's Foundation. He will be working to develop and strengthen relationships with alumni, communities, businesses, industries, etc. His prime objective is the development of Southwestern through activities which are developmental and supportive of short and long range goals of the University and foundation.

Felz will be starting his operation from scratch and is currently gathering ideas and information by visiting with various people. He is working closely with Dr. Bob Brown, who has headed the Foundation for the past several years while running the graduate school at Southwestern.

The 52-year-old Felz comes to Southwestern from El Reno Junior College where he was director of development. He graduated in 1960 with a business management degree from San Diego State University in San Diego, California.

Schneider Sings in NYC

Vinita Schneider, a graduate of the American Musical and Dramatic Academy, performed in "Two in a Million" at Jason's Nightclub in New York City. She and another AMDA Alumnus performed a selection of songs and the cabaret act was invited to return for more performances.

AMDA, founded by Philip Burton, in 1964, offers a two-year conservatory program with an emphasis on the integration of acting, singing, and dance. An alumnus currently in the national spotlight is Tyne Daly, who recently received her third consecutive "Emmy" award for best actress in recognition of her performance in "Cagney and Lacey."

Prior to being accepted into AMDA, Vinita Schneider graduated from Thomas High School and Southwestern Oklahoma State University. She is the daughter of Dwaine and Wanda Schneider of Thomas.

Isaak Wins Logo Contest

Joni (Phillips) Isaak of Weatherford, Oklahoma, is the winner of the $100 prize for designing the best logo in the contest conducted by the Booker Industrial Committee Contest, Sherree Stephens, Contest Chairman, said.

Mrs. Isaak, a Darrouzett High School graduate, is a graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford. She is a former employee of the Lipscomb Limelight and has worked for Blunck's studio in Weatherford. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Phillips.

A total of 34 entries were received in the contest and Mrs. Stephens said many of them were very good. "I want to give special thanks to the kids at school who entered. They really did a good job and it was tough to pick a winner," she said.

Entries came from Amarillo, Dallas, Darrouzett, Follet, Higgins and Lipscomb besides Booker and the winning entry.

The logo has a large Booker and smaller Texas line beneath, surrounding a tractor, music notes, an oil well, medical emblem, a bull, Indian and family.

It will be used on the cover of a brochure to be prepared by the industrial committee, Ralph Maxfield, chairman, said, in the Promotion of Booker as the group seeks to bring industry to the area to help boost the sagging economy.

Charles T. Felz was recently named director of Development and Planned Giving at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford.

The development position is a new one at Southwestern and Felz is the first-ever director. His office is located on the second floor of the Administration Building and can be reached by calling the

Phillips Is Law Associate

Richard Phillips, a graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University and the University of Oklahoma Law School, is now employed as an associate with the Clinton legal firm of Graft and Cabaniss.

Phillips had been doing research and filing work for the company since receiving his juris doctorate degree from OU last spring. He became a full-fledged associate after passing his bar exam two weeks ago.

C.B. Graft, one of the owners of the firm, said Phillips will be involved in general law practice and will handle the company's court-appointed criminal cases.

The new attorney graduated from Goodwell High School before attending Southwestern, where he received a bachelor of science degree in accounting in 1983. He is married to the former Dacia Stratton, a 1980 graduate of Clinton High School, and they are parents of a three-week-old son, Chase Addison Phillips, born October 6.

His father, Dr. J.C. Phillips, is a dentist in Weatherford. His mother and step-father, Mima and Rex Hall, live in Goodwell.

James Butts First Angel Fire Mayor

James Butts will be a figure in history some day, but that idea comes as a surprise to him. He's the first mayor of a "brand new" northern New Mexico town - Angel Fire.

Describing himself as relatively serious, but not to the point of not being able to enjoy life, Butts doesn't see himself as a political figure. He thinks of the mayor's job more as a community service.

"Someone had to do it...I supported the effort to incorporate and didn't see anyone else stepping forth for the job."

His philosophy of life is changing since he became the father of 13-month-old James Blaine Wy-cough Butts III, he says, and he believes in having a good mix of work and play in life.

He is the first pharmacist to come to the Moreno Valley since the mining days of Elizabethtown at the turn of the century, and he feels most comfortable among the pill bottles and drugs of his pharmacy at the Mini-Mart, dispensing medicine and friendliness to residents and visitors.

Recalling that his father was also a pharmacist and his mother was a nurse, Butts can't think of anyone in his family who ever entered the political arena. He's the first.

In his spare time - of which he's not had much in the last two years - he likes to fish and ski. He and his wife, Sharon, like to drive to Red River occasionally for a quiet dinner, or visit with friends.

For now his one goal is to get the infant Angel Fire government on its feet and operating smoothly.

July 1, 1986, was the town's first day as an official New Mexico municipality. The council consists of four business people like himself, just learning the ropes of city government. "They don't know any more than I do, but we're smart enough to know there are some potential problems out there. So we're not acting too quickly until we get some extra advice."

Ten years ago, when Butts first came to Angel Fire, there were only 100 people in the valley and everyone knew everyone else, whether they wanted to or not.

Butts moved there to run the pharmacy for a friend, with little intention of staying in the isolated village. What he found was a close-knit family where everyone was forced to depend on everyone else for survival.

Surrounded by mountains, the small community found itself completely different from other northern New Mexico towns, with a large population of retired people, and too far away from the Colfax county seat to get help.

"We were totally dependent on the Angel Fire corporation as a community," says Butts. "If it failed we would have failed...now, the the corporation is still the dominant force in the area, but over the years our demands on it have diminished some. We are able to do more things as a community."

Ten years ago the resort tallied only 48,000 skier days through the winter. Last year - described as "Lousy", - there were 80,000. The resort hopes for 100,000 next year.

Locals who used to just walk out on the golf course now have to make reservations.

Butts credits the retired people of Angel Fire for the biggest push for incorporation.

"Our business community has now grown past being a retirement community and tourism is more stable...more and more working folks are required to take care of the needs of the tourists, and services are needed for the working folks."

But Angel Fire retains its small town atmosphere and friendliness of the community, compared to other resorts.

James is a graduate of Tascosa High School in Amarillo, Texas. He received his pharmacy degree in 1973 from Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

Lamont Veatch New Executive Director

LAMONT VEATCH

Lamont Veatch, Superintendent of Schools at Plainview, Texas, has accepted a position with the Texas Association of Secondary Principals as their executive director. He will office at Austin. The association has a membership of 3,333 secondary principals.

Following a teaching stint in his native Oklahoma, Veatch began his career in Plainview in 1958 where he taught one year as an industrial arts teacher and coach at Coronado Junior High. He was assistant principal at Plainview High School four years, spent three years as principal at Estacado Junior High and was named principal at PHS where he spent the next ten years. Prior to being named superintendent in 1979, he was assistant superintendent in charge of programs and staff development for three years.

His wife, Jean, retired from elementary teaching last May after 28 years in the classroom. Their daughter, Mrs. David Booher (Cheryl) and her husband are the parents of a daughter, Amanda Nicole, and live in Lubbock.

The executive director's new responsibilities will be varied. He is to be responsible for carrying out the association's policies. He will serve as a lobbyist in the legislature in areas that affect the secondary principals and the students of Texas. He will work with the Texas Education Agency and the State Board of Education in areas that affect the association. He will act as a liaison between administrators and teacher organizations in the state. Additionally, TASP also sponsors the Texas student council director of these organizations.

Lamont is a graduate of Custer City High School. He received his industrial arts degree in 1954 from Southwestern Oklahoma State University. Jean received her elementary education degree from SWOSU in 1953.

Achievements Recognized

The New Mexico State Board of Education recently named former Hydro resident, Pat Thomas, Teacher of the Year.

Thomas, daughter of the late Orvil and Willa True, was reared in Weatherford. She graduated from Southwestern Oklahoma State University with a bachelor's degree. She also received her master's degree from SWOSU.

After marrying Bill Thomas, she resided in Hydro for several years before moving to Colorado.

"I'm so honored to represent the teachers of New Mexico. New Mexico teachers are the finest example of dedication to the teaching profession and to children," Thomas said.

Each superintendent from the 88 school districts in New Mexico submitted one teacher to be considered for the award. Clovis school district superintendent, Rick Purvis, selected Thomas to represent the school district. She was asked to prepare a scrapbook, biographical sketch, her philosophy of teaching, participation in civic and educational service and submit letters of recommendation to the awards committee.

Thomas will now be considered among 49 other candidates for "National Teacher of the Year."

She has been teaching at the Elementary Grade Level for 25 years, 17 of those in Clovis. Her first teaching experience was in Hinton where she taught kindergarten and music. She taught seven years in Montrose, Colorado, before her family moved to Clovis.

Thomas piloted the early prevention of school failure program in Clovis. The program identified developmental levels and learning styles of students entering kindergarten and has a strong emphasis on parental involvement. She is a national turnkey trainer for the program and gives training to other school districts throughout the United States.

Thomas is a guest speaker for many civic organizations and educational groups. In June, she taught a workshop at Eastern New Mexico University entitled "prescriptive teaching for the young child."

National Honor Recieved

Mrs. Joan Hulin of Sentinel has been chosen to receive one of the 39 Master Teacher Awards given to the teachers of migrant children throughout the United States.

She was presented the award in Little Rock, Arkansas, the week of January 19, 1987. Twenty-nine educators and 10 health providers were selected from a total of 44 initial nominees, based on their commitment and service to migrant children.

Those receiving the awards will also be honored at the Annual National Migrant Education Conference April 26-30, 1987 at Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Mrs. Hulin, the daughter of Mrs. Osie of Cordell and the late Mason Igo, graduated from Cordell High School in 1947 and received both her bachelor's and master's degrees from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford. She has taught in the migrant children's program of the Sentinel school system for the last 14 years.

She and her husband, Mack Hulin, have three children, Mrs. Jay Thomas of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Max Sullivan of Sentinel and Monte Hulin of Sayre.

Mrs. Hulin has two sisters in Cordell, Geraldine Baird and Regina Jones.

"The Missionaires," a Christian singing group at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford, is trying to contact alumni of the college and group for the organization's 20-year anniversary celebration.

In September 1967, the Missionaires were founded by a group of Christian young people attending college at Southwestern. This year, a special celebration of the group's anniversary will be held in conjunction with Southwestern's homecoming on Oct. 31 and Nov. 1, 1987.

Alumni members of the group will be invited to participate in the Baptist Student Union following the homecoming game on Saturday, or in Missionaires activities on Sunday.

Leedey Teacher of the Year

Jarene McDowell has been selected as the 1986-87 Leedey Teacher of the Year. She graduated from Vici High School and Southwestern Oklahoma State University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Education and a minor in Physical Education. She has taken several courses in computer, photography, and English/Journalism. Jarene has taught three years at Vici High School and is currently in her ninth year at Leedey High School.

Tommy, Jarene and Danny live and farm northwest of Leedey. Tommy, Jarene's husband, is a Rural Route Carrier, and Danny, their son, is a fifth grader at Leedey.

Jarene enjoys many aspects of the teaching profession. She likes the challenge of improving her techniques so the students will benefit to the fullest and of working with her colleagues to improve the educational process.

Joe Ross Named to Football Hall of Fame

JOE ROSS, left, long-time Thomas coach, holds the plaque he received for being named to the National Football Foundation's Oklahoma Chapter Hall of Fame. Allie Reynolds, right, made the presentation.

Laverne Faculty Joined

New to the faculty of Laverne Schools for 1986-87 term are a husband and wife team of educators. The couple is not new to the teaching profession, however.

Kerri is the sixth grade teacher and this is her sixth year of teaching. She taught at Weatherford and then at Woodward, first in the fifth grade class and then kindergarten.

The Humbles have two children, Matt a fourth grader, and Mandy who is in Kindergarten. Kerri quit teaching for a few years to be at home with the children until they were both in school, and says, "I'm anxious to get back into the classroom, and am looking forward to working with the Laverne faculty."

A native of Lawton, Andy Humble has a bachelor of science degree in industrial education from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, and this next summer will finish his master's degree in counseling.

He has stated that coming back to the education field was just where he and his wife wanted to be at this time. He had been a track and football coach at Woodward High School from 1973 to 1978 when he went into an oil industry related business. In 1981 they moved to Weatherford, Oklahoma, with the business and were there until March of 1986.

Humble said it had worked out well for them because his wife, Kerri, had quit teaching for few years to be at home with their two children. Now that Mandy is in Kindergarten they'll all have more "togetherness" in all areas of their lives.

Drege New Band Director

Lance Drege, Minot, North Dakota, has accepted the position of band director at Hobart High School this fall.

Drege earned his bachelor's degree in music education at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford. The last two years he has been attending Oklahoma University, Norman, where he received a master's in music.

While at OU, he was a graduate teaching assistant, working with undergraduates and directing the second percussion ensemble. He taught a percussion techniques class.

Drege said he came to SWOSU because of the director of music there, Dr. James Jurrens. Jurrens taught at a small college in Minot several years before going to Southwestern. When Drege was looking for a college to attend, after graduating from high school, teachers recommended studying under Jurrens.

Joe Ross, a long-time Thomas football coach, was recently named to the National Football Foundation's Oklahoma Chapter Hall of Fame.

The presentation was made by Allie Reynolds at the organization's annual banquet, held at the Marriott hotel in Oklahoma City.

Ross received the award for his contributions to amateur football.

While at Thomas, Ross compiled a record which includes 250 wins, 59 losses and eight ties. He also coached eight undefeated teams and helped Thomas capture seven state championship titles.

Ross coached basketball and track at Custer City before beginning his 28 years as Thomas football coach in 1938.

Born in El Reno, Ross was a letterman in football, basketball, baseball and track at Southwestern Oklahoma State University. He graduated from the Weatherford college in 1933.

Upon accepting his award, Ross said the honor was one of the best things that had ever happened to him.

Stanbury Award Nominee

David Christy, Director of Elk City's public school band program, has been nominated for the American School Band Directors Association "Stanbury Award" for 1986.

This award is given annually to the outstanding young band directors in the United States as selected by a committee of judges who has been teaching from 5-10 years.

Christy was nominated by the state membership of the national organization.

To be a member of the organization, one must have taught for at least seven years and be invited to make application for membership.

Christy as Oklahoma's nominee will be considered in regional competition to other young band directors. From the four regional winners will be named the national honoree.

Christy has been the director of Elk City bands for six years, having taught previously at Leoti, Kansas. During this period the ECHS Band has scored superiors in the state concert contest for all six years and been judged a sweepstakes winner three times in the past four years. The band program has grown from about 150 students to around 400 anticipated for the 1986-87 year.

Christy is also the president-elect of the Oklahoma Bandmasters association and is also the state executive secretary of the Oklahoma Music Adjudicators Association.

Band Director Honored

Jim Hooper, Cordell band director the past six years, has been chosen Cordell Public School "Teacher of the Year."

Hooper will represent the local school system in both regional and state competition later this year.

Born in Thomas and reared at Weatherford where he graduated from high school, Hooper received his bachelor of music education degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1975. He completed his master's of music education degree in 1980.

Hooper was valedictorian of his senior class at Weatherford and graduated from college Magna Cum Laude.

He has been a band director 11 years, the past six in Cordell. He previously taught at Mangum, Weatherford Junior High and Arnett.

Hooper's wife Sue teaches second grade at Cordell Elementary School. They have three children--Jimmy age 10 and a fourth grader; Christy, age 7 and a second grader; and Elizabeth, age 6 and in kindergarten.

Since in Cordell, Hooper's concert band has qualified at district for state contest the past five years in a row. His stage band has been in the top three at state for the last four years.

In 1985, Hooper's band won the sweepstakes award--the highest honor a band can achieve--and his stage was state champion. The concert band was named the outstanding band in its class at Astro-World Music Contest, Houston, Texas, the same year.

1985-86 Success "Spoiled" Coach Mouse

COACH MELANIE MOUSE

Unlike most college graduates, assistant Mustang High School girls basketball coach Melanie Mouse got the job of her choice.

During her first year at Mustang (1985-86), Mouse assisted veteran Coach Bob Pigg as the Mustang Lady Broncos won the Class 5A state championship.

The young assistant got used to winning quickly and liked it. Mouse coached the junior varsity team to a 131 record and as she puts it, "I got spoiled."

With Mustang's reputation for quality basketball teams and a high standard in academics, Mouse is confident she made the right decision to work for the Mustang school system.

Of course, a state championship, a 27-1 record and two tournament titles has helped her confidence.

But prior to Mouse accepting the Mustang position, she had to decide between her hometown of Weatherford and Mustang.

Both school systems had offered her a job but according to Mouse, the move away from Weatherford was a good one.

The 24-year-old assistant coach and biology teacher graduated from Weatherford High School in 1981 and attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University where she graduated in 1985.

"It was a big decision as to where to go and I chose Mustang which is the best decision of my life," she said.

"I knew their tradition in basketball and also for their reputation with academics," said Mouse.

One of the keys to Mouse's decision was the knowledge that she would work with Bob Pigg, one of the most successful girls coaches in Oklahoma.

"I was a little bit intimidated. I had heard about Bob Pigg all my life. When I was in high school, Weatherford would scrimmage Mustang and I saw how intense he was with his players," said Mouse.

"Sometimes, I'm in awe how much he knows about the game," she said. "I'm happy where I'm at and plan on being here for a while."

Mouse played on the Weatherford girl's team and competed for two years on Southwestern's varsity tennis squad.

Now in her second year at Mustang, Mouse is developing some successful sophomore and junior varsity teams.

"It's a hectic schedule but it will eventually help varsity. The better we are as sophomores and JV, the better the varsity will be. The more games we can get, the better it is," she said.

When Mouse speaks of "more games," it means a minimum of four nights a week at the gymnasium in addition to her regular duties as biology teacher. But as she put it, "it's all part of the job."

Mouse, who will complete requirements for her master's degree in secondary school administration this summer, has high ambitions for the future.

Her goals include a head coaching job, a position as assistant principal or principal and perhaps a teaching post at the college level.

Despite her long-range ambitions, Mouse is very content to remain in Mustang as the girls basketball team defends its 5A crown.

Her strong desire to work in the Education field was heightened by her parents Mark and Sheila. Her father is director of placement at Southwestern while mother Sheila is a first-grade teacher at Corn.

"I never had any doubt this is what I wanted to do. I've always wanted to teach and coach. My seventh grade biology teacher Dan Dobb (also former MHS boys basketball coach) probably influenced me the most in my desire to teach," said Mouse.

"And for coaching, Brenda Wooten, who was my seventh grade basketball coach, motivated and influenced me in the direction I finally took," she said. Ironically, Wooten also coached current Mustang player Lori Hopkins, formerly of Carter.

Mouse's success at Mustang is nothing new. She graduated Summa Cum Laude from Southwestern with a 3.85 grade point average and was crowned homecoming queen her junior year.

Success, it seems, follows Mouse wherever she goes and if that's the case, Mustang's girls could be in for another enjoyable season.

Roof New Mangum Coach

Robin Roof has been named to fill the head position for the Tigers.

Roof, who played his high school football at Thomas, comes from a family of coaching tradition. His uncle, Kenneth Roof, has been head coach at Thomas for many years and his cousin, Woody, is head mentor at Weatherford.

"Coaching is just something that runs in the blood of our family," Roof said.

Roof graduated from Thomas in 1974 where he played for his uncle, and then attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

This will be Roof's first head coaching position, but he has worked as an assistant at Mangum for the past three seasons. One of those games as an assistant was a game against his cousin, Woody, at Weatherford last season.

"It's a great honor to be selected to this position," Roof said. "It's something I've always wanted to do and it will be a big challenge."

"We were predominately a senior club that went 0-10 last season. There's a lot of rebuilding to be done to improve on last year."

Roof's assistants for the upcoming season will be Roger Ford, Mark Dicus, Jim Callen and Rodney Wells.

Mangum Superintendent Named

The Mangum School Board of Education announced the hiring of a school superintendent at their last meeting.

Hershel Busby, superintendent of Calumet schools for the past four years, has been hired. He and his family will move to Mangum, and he will assume his duties as superintendent the first of July.

Busby was raised in Chickasha, moving to Oklahoma City his high school senior year, where he graduated from Western Heights. He received his bachelor's degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford and his master's from Oklahoma University.

He and his wife, Carolyn have two children, Kyle, six years of age and Ann, four. His wife is an elementary teacher with seven years experience. They are members of the Catholic Church.

A native Oklahoman, Klaassen was graduated from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, and received his master's degree in school administration from Wichita State University.

During 1982-83, Klaassen served as president of the Oklahoma

City Chapter of Chartered Life Underwriters. He is currently a director on the Board of Estate Planning Council of Oklahoma City. Klaassen currently offices in Suite 1900, United Founders Tower.

Chamber Manager Hired

KURT WINDEN

The Vinita, Oklahoma, Chamber of Commerce has hired Kurt Winden, 23, to serve as manager. In this position, Winden will serve the Vinita Chamber of Commerce as its chief executive officer and will be responsible for the administration and direction of the Vinita Chamber of Commerce Program work.

Winden brings to Vinita a strong record of professional leadership, organizational administration and public relations. A December 1985 graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University (SWOSU), Weatherford, Oklahoma, Winden served for two years as student assistant to Otis Sanders, Jr., SWOSU

Director of Public Relations, while he earned a BS degree in business administration.

While attending Southwestern, Winden served on the Miss Southwestern Pageant Board of Directors, OSGA (Oklahoma Student Government Association) Board of Directors, named to the Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, and as SWOSU Phi Beta Lambda (business fraternity) Student of the Year, both in 1985-86.

Today, Winden stays active as a member of the SWOSU SIFE (Students in Free Enterprise) Advisory Board, the SWOSU Alumni Association Board of Directors, the AIASA (American Industrial Arts Student Association) National Alumni Association and the Oklahoma AIASA Advisory Council. Recently, Winden was honored as an Outstanding Young Man of America for 1986.

As Manager of the Vinita Chamber of Commerce, Winden is expected to revitalize the total promotional program of Vinita, "Oklahoma's Bright Spot". Vinita, population 7,000 and a member of Green Country is Oklahoma's "Gateway to Grand Lake O' the Cherokees.

Marketing Post Filled

Kelly Young of Weatherford has been employed to fill Clinton Regional Hospital's newly-created position of Director of Marketing and Project Development.

She is a graduate of Weatherford High School and a 1985 graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University. She holds a bachelor's degree in marketing with a minor in business administration.

In explaining her role, Hospital President Ron Dorris said, "Kelly Young has been hired by CRH to bridge gaps between the provider, the consumer and sources in between."

Hospital officials feel that there is a need for a professionally-educated marketing employee because of changing programs, utilization and status in the health care industry.

Young has been working for the past year as division director with the March of Dimes office in Weatherford. She was covering Custer County and 11 other counties in this area.

Regional Sales Representative

Scott H. Downs, Weatherford, has been named regional sales representative for US JVC Corporation, representing JVC consumer electronics in Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Downs was reared in Alva and graduated from Alva High School. He received his bachelor's degree in music/merchandising from Southwestern State University in 1982.

He began his career with Neumans music and books in Alva and later with Kissler TV and appliance in Weatherford. He joined Miller-Jackson company in Oklahoma City in October 1984. He joined JVC Corporation this month.

Moore Given Highest Possible Award

DICK MOORE presented with the exceptional service award.

More than 600 people attended the Altus Chamber of Commerce Banquet. Keynote speaker for the evening was Secretary of the Air Force, Edward C. Aldridge, Jr.

Prior to his address, Aldridge honored one Chamber board-member with the highest award the Air Force can bestow on a civilian. Honorary Chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, Dick Moore, was presented with the exceptional service award.

"We probably wouldn't be here tonight if it weren't for Dick Moore. In 1953 during the Korean War he personally led an effort to reactivate Altus Air Force Base to meet the Air Force's need for a base in the Mid United States for aircrew training," said Aldridge. "Since then he's probably been the single-most influential figure in shaping the steady growth and modernization of the base and its facilities."

Dick Moore is a Southwestern Oklahoma State University graduate and a member of the Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame.

Military Medal Awarded

First Lieutenant Timothy L. Harnois, son of Frank and Judith A. Harnois of 2819 Abramson Lane, Clinton, Oklahoma, has been decorated with the Army Commendation Medal in West Germany.

The Army Commendation Medal is awarded to those individuals who demonstrate outstanding achievement or meritorious service in the performance of their duties on behalf of the army.

Harnois is the operations officer with the 37th Armor.

He is a 1983 graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford.

Alum Completes Army School

Army Captain William S. Titterington II, son of William S. and Beverly E. Titterington of Rural Route 1, Savonburg, Kansas, has graduated from the Army's Combined Arms and Services Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

The cornerstone of the Army's officer education system, the nine week course is designed to train officers in the skills needed to be an effective staff member with the force in the field.

The curriculum included preparing a command budget, setting up training programs, mobilizing and deploying mock units and giving staff presentations.

His wife, Michelle, is the daughter of Gerald F. and Patricia A. Bowerman of 14658 Petersburg Road, Milen, Michigan.

The captain is a 1979 graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford.

Oswald Receives NAWG Award

Four young family farmers who come from backgrounds in Oklahoma farming each received a $500 grant from the National Association of Wheat Growers Foundation and the Mansanto Agricultural Company to attend either the 1987 NAWG convention (Jan. 27-31 in San Diego CA) or the NAWG summer conference (July 6-9 in Durango CO).

One of the winners was Donald Oswald, a 1975 Southwestern graduate.

The farmers were Oklahoma winners of the 1986 Mansanto/Wheat Growers Leadership Development awards which go to farmers who hail from farming backgrounds, go to college and receive a degree, and then return to the farm.

Oswald has been farming in southwestern Caddo and eastern Kiowa counties since he graduated Magna Cum Laude from Southwestern with a business administration degree in 1975. With his father, Vic, Oswald farms and runs a cow-calf herd. The two-generation family farming operation is incorporated and all production and financial records are computerized. Oswald claims that his education comes in handy.

Oswald's wife Connie is a special education teacher and the Oswalds have added three prospects to the next generation of Oklahoma wheat producers.

Credit Union CEO Named

John M. May has been promoted to president and chief executive officer of Tinker Credit Union, located on Tinker Air Force Base.

May is married to Joyce Bartel May, daughter of Irene Bartel and the late H.J. Bartel, of Weatherford. While living in Weatherford, May worked for Harvey Richert, the first CPA to practice in Weatherford. May graduated in 1970 from Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

Prior to his promotion, May served the credit union as executive vice president of operations, a position he held for more than four years.

He has eight years' experience in the banking industry and another three year's experience with an international accounting firm.

He also is a Certified Public Accountant.

With $500 million in assets, Tinker Credit Union is the largest credit union in Oklahoma and ranks as the 14th largest credit union in the nation.

Reunion Honoring 1949-53 Successful

THE 1949 through 1953 Class Reunion was one of the most successful reunions in the history of Southwestern Oklahoma State University. Approximately 130 class members returned for the Friday night buffet and homecoming luncheon. Words can never express the fellowship and fun those alumni shared during homecoming. They traveled from Washington D.C. to California and many other states to see their ol' college friends.

FROM YOU

Dear Otis,

I feel so honored to be one of Southwestern's distinguished alumni this year. My plaque has a special place of honor in my Chambers and my corsage is on exhibition with the other memorabilia in my office. It looks wonderful on my screen.

I want to thank you for the courtesies which were extended to me and to my family. It was so nice that they were able to share the president's box with me at the game -- the team did an outstanding job.

Please give my regards to Adelia Beth and to Jean for their help in making my day so special.

Sincerely,

Yvonne Kauger

Dearest Otis,

Comment: Congratulations on a well organized alumni association get together of 1986.

It reflects the quality and character of the Otis Sanders I was associated with in our early years in the Panhandle.

Southwestern Oklahoma State University is fortunate to have you as the executive secretary of the alumni association and to promote the value of the University.

Enclosed: check for membership as alumni of SWOSU. Application attached.

Sincerely,

Wayne McGee

March 6, 1987

Dear Mr. Sanders:

Thank you for returning my check. I was not aware that I did not need to pay dues.

No, I did not receive my lifetime membership plaque. I would be happy to have one.

You mentioned that Mr. Ralph Crawl wanted to have a reunion of class members from 1927, on October 3, 1987. Is this reunion for those who graduated in 1927? I began college in September 1927.

I am now retired after 33 years teaching, which I thoroughly enjoyed. The last 13 years teaching was in the Oklahoma City School System at Hillcrest Elementary School.

My husband, V.O., passed away in 1982. Our only child, a daughter, Linell, moved to Branford, Connecticut with her husband Rick, who works for FAA. She has a son, Chad 17, and a daughter, Shannon 14. I'm the only member of the family here in Oklahoma.

I enjoy ECHOES FROM THE HILL very much, and I have gotten in touch with several college friends through the paper.

I'm still cheering for the Bulldogs, and dear old Southwestern.

Sincerely,

Eva (Gibbs) Duncan

Dearest Millie,

Once again I must send my Alumni dues. Enclosed is a check for $10.00 (dues for '87).

I enjoy Echoes from the Hill-- bits of information about old and new, and what's going on at SWOSU.

At Christmas-time I enjoyed a card and note from Mary Jane Ashton Smith, a friend from the early days. What a nice surprise!

I'm still having problems with arthritis, but I can get around with the use of my cane.

May 1987 be a happy, healthful year for you, Millie.

Best wishes always.

Love,

Eva Gibbs Duncan

Reminiscence

'Twill be 60 years

come September,

Since I, with many peers

I remember,

Stood in line at
dear old Southwestern

Waiting for a sign

to move on,

That it was time to register.

What a crowd, what a jam,

Can't you see some trying to pass around--

Upper classmen first, they said,

Then Jrs., Sophs, and Freshmen--

Finally, this poor student rested arms on table,

As Instructors wrote in courses to be taken,

Some classes were filled,

-- that was bad,

But, there were still classes

to be had,

Thank goodness, --
that first day in college was over!

But, Southwestern days

good, bad, and

some even sad,

Are memorable ones.

School bells may ring,

And thoughts flash by

As I re-live those years of the past

Which are engraved

in my thoughts

To last as long as

I am here

to remember.

In Memoriam

LLOYD RADER

Former State Department of Human Services Director, Lloyd Rader - at one time one of the most powerful men in Oklahoma Government - died at Presbyterian Hospital. He was 80.

Rader has been hospitalized for two weeks with an undisclosed illness.

Starting with Johnston Murray and ending with George Nigh, he worked for eight Governors as Welfare Director.

Rader used to work for the late Governor "Alfalfa Bill" Murray in 1932 as Custer County relief director and worked six years at the State Tax Commission before establishing a supply and construction business in Binger.

He was appointed director of the department in 1951 under the late Governor Johnston Murray and headed it until his retirement in 1982.

The department which was spending $1 billion a year at the time of his retirement, was a small operation when Rader first took it over.

It occupied one floor of the Jim Thorpe Building and its functions covered payments to the elderly, blind and disabled and operation of a child welfare program.

Post-war inflation, which made state sales taxes soar, caused legislatures year after year to transfer more functions to the department until it became an agency of government employing more than 14,000 people.

Rader was born in Bridgeport, Oklahoma, and graduated from Hinton High School. He went to the Southwestern State College in Weatherford. He later worked for that city's building and loan association and had interests in several other businesses.

Rader later became a campaign worker for "Alfalfa Bill" Murray in his race for Governor.

In his 31 years in the welfare department, its budget blossomed from $75 million to more than $1.2 billion.

Rader retired from the Department of Human Services in 1982 amid controversy over alleged abuse of children in state juvenile institutions under his administration.

JOHN ALDEN GRUBBS

John Alden Grubbs, 71, of Cordell, former Dill City schoolsuperintendent, past away in the Cordell Memorial Hospital.

He was born August 15, 1914 at Jester, OK. to Alcy and Fannie Paxton Grubbs. On July 29, 1943 he married Annie Mae Nowell at Mangum.

Grubbs taught school and served as school administrator for 30 years, retiring from Dill City. The family moved to Cordell in 1974.

He was an active member of the United Methodist Church and had served as Sunday school teacher and on various church boards.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

Hauser's Bulldogs Won OIC Championship

It was an exciting season for the 1986-87 Southwestern men's basketball team. After starting out with a 5-6 record, the Bulldogs rallied to win 13 of their final 17 games to finish the season with an 18-10 record.

Outstanding Players 1986 Season Named

James Hicks

James Hicks of Burkburnett TX had an outstanding 1986 season for the Southwestern Oklahoma State University football team. The sophomore tailback was named Offensive Player of the Year for both the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference and NAIA District Nine. He was also named to the first team on offense for both the OIC and District Nine. Hicks led District Nine, which is comprised of all NAIA schools in Oklahoma, in rushing with 1,352 yards on 288 carries. He averaged 135.2 yards per game this season and scored 13 touchdowns, which also was tops in District Nine.

Hicks, a 6-0 190 pounder, set several Southwestern school records this season. Hicks' 1,352 yards placed him second for Most Yards Gained In A Season. First place in the Southwestern record book is held by Hicks' brother, Charles Hicks, who rushed for 1,511 yards in 1971. Also having outstanding seasons for the Bulldogs were David Plumlee of Del City, Chris Norman of Minco and Mark Baetz of Perry. Plumlee, a senior offensive tackle, was named to the first team on offense for both the OIC and District Nine. Norman, a junior linebacker, was named to the first team on defense of the OIC and second team District Nine. He was the Bulldogs' leading tackler with 129 tackles. Baetz was named to the first team on defense for the OIC. The junior defensive tackle had 79 tackles in 1986. Randy Simmons of Seminole and John McCoy of Haskell TX were named to the OIC second team on defense. Simmons was a senior back and McCoy was a sophomore end. Derrick Bailey of Altus was named to the second team OIC offensive team. The freshman wide receiver was the Bulldogs' leading receiver this season with 31 catches for 594 yards.

George Hauser's Bulldogs won the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference (OIC) championship. The 'Dogs needed to defeat Northeastern on the road to claim the title, and they did it, 60-56. The Bulldogs qualified for the District Nine playoffs and started out by upsetting second-seeded Southern Nazarene University on the Redskin's home court. Southwestern then advanced to the District Nine semifinals but were ousted from the playoffs by Panhandle. Still, it was a successful season for the Bulldogs. Hauser was named OIC Coach of the Year and two of his players--Tommy Johnson and Russell Arms, both senior guards--were named first team OIC. Johnson was also named to the District Nine second team, while Arms was named honorable mention. Bryan Baca of Clinton, Mike Young of Norman and Daron Harrison of Saluda S.C. were named honorable mention on the OIC teams.

THE ZETA ZETA Chapter of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at SWOSU had their firetruck at the Southwestern vs Northwestern football game. The truck is an antique obtained by the Pike fraternity. Efforts have been made recently to update the truck by the addition of new tires and motor improvements. Dean Steve Hilterbran has developed the new interest program in attendance at both the football games and the basketball games on the part of both fraternities and sororities. All groups have projects for their involvements at the contests.
