DR. RON ANDERSON

ANITA BURGTORF PAUWELS

Honorees Recognized

Two alumni from Southwestern Oklahoma State University will be inducted into the Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame during homecoming activities on Saturday, October 31, on the Weatherford campus.

The two alumni are Dr. Ron Anderson of Duncanville, Texas, and Anita Burgtorf Pauwels of Fort Worth, Texas.

The two honorees will be recognized at the Southwestern Alumni Luncheon at 11:45 a.m. in the Student Union Ballroom with formal inductions scheduled at halftime of the 2:00 p.m. homecoming football game.

A color portrait of each honoree will be displayed in the Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame located in the Southwestern Room at the Al Harris Library.

In addition to honoring Anderson and Pauwels at the luncheon, Southwestern alumni blankets will again be presented to the alum who travels the longest distance, alum with the most children who graduated from SWOSU, and the oldest alum. Tickets for the luncheon are $5.00 and must be purchased in advance.

Also, other activities scheduled during the homecoming weekend include reunions of the classes of 1927 and 1937. There will also be a reunion of the 1977 SWOSU Apple Bowl Football Team.

DR. RON ANDERSON is the president and chief executive officer of the Parkland Hospital for Dallas County and the primary teaching hospital for the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School.

Working his way through college pumping gas and stocking grocery store shelves, he attended Central State University in Edmond, Oklahoma, and Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts in Chickasha for one year each. He then left for the school of pharmacy at Southwestern Oklahoma's Pharmacy School. In 1968, the year before he graduated, he applied to the University of Oklahoma's School of Medicine.

He completed his internship and residency programs at Parkland between 1973 and 1975. It was during Anderson's internship that he met his future wife, Sue Ann Blakely, who was working as a nurse in the emergency room. She remembers meeting Anderson the night a sick, distraught, angry, non-responsive woman came to the emergency room and no one seemed to want to treat her. The patient was placed in a room and a few minutes later Sue Ann heard a man talking to the patient as if he was talking to his mother or to royalty. It was Ron. She said, "That's how he treats all his patients."

On their first date they took a stroll around Turtle Creek at Dallas, Texas, and fed the ducks. They were married in her hometown of Madill, Oklahoma in 1975, the year Anderson was appointed chief resident of internal medicine at Parkland.

From there, his career skyrocketed. Simultaneously, he supervised medical care in the large out-patient clinic and the emergency room and headed the division of ambulatory care in the department of internal medicine at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School. He also served as an assistant dean for clinical affairs at the medical school.

He rose quickly, and few people at Parkland or the health science center were surprised. "He's not only extremely bright and dedicated and works hard, he also has the know-how to recognize a problem and organize an attack on it with a good end result," says Dr. Charles Baxter, director of the Skin Transplant Center for Burns at Parkland.

In 1982 Dr. Charles Mullins, who was then chief executive officer of Parkland, took the job of executive vice chancellor of health affairs at the University of Texas system in Austin. Dallas County Hospital District board members, Mullins and the president of the health science center talked to Anderson about the CEO job. At first, Anderson thought, "I was ambivalent about taking it. I enjoyed being a physician, being in the emergency room. I also wasn't sure I'd be cut out for it."

But, he decided to take the chance and has been at the helm since January 1982. "Now I think it's the best decision I ever made," he says. "We've been able to improve in ways we had no power to change before."

In talking about his professional accomplishments, he usually puts curbing patient-dumping at the top of the list. As a member of the statewide Task Force on Indigent Health Care, Anderson was instrumental in getting a package of four bills on indigent health care passed by the state Legislature this year. One of the bills is aimed at outlawing patient-dumping and requires the State Board of Health to adopt minimum standards governing patient transfers.

Since October 1983, the Dallas County Hospital District Board of Managers, which operates Parkland, has had its own policy on transfers that Anderson says has discouraged financially-motivated transfers and improved patient safety. The number of transferred emergency patients who died while in transit or arrived in unstable conditions has been reduced, he says.

Other accomplishments, in Anderson's eyes, include establishing the pediatric trauma center, one of the first-if not the first-in the country designed to care specifically for seriously-injured children, and the North Central Texas Poison Center, which is staffed by specialists who can tell people how to treat virtually any type of poisoning or drug overdose.

As for the future, Anderson is looking forward to the launching in late 1988 or early 1989 of the University Medical Center Hospital, a private 159-bed hospital that will be physically connected to and managed by Parkland.

In talking or writing about his goals for Parkland, Anderson always uses words like innovative, dynamic and challenging, which makes him sound like a cheerleader running a medical pep rally. "We must think not in terms of why something can't be done, but how it can be done bet-

Four Will Be Inducted Into Hall of Fame

STEVE GRAHAM

HAROLD STINSON

FOY STOUT

HOWARD WELBORN

Four former Southwestern athletes will be inducted in the Southwestern Oklahoma State University Athletic Hall of Fame on Friday, October 30, on the Southwestern campus in Weatherford. The banquet-ceremony will be held in conjunction with other homecoming activities on October 30, 31 and November 1.

The four honorees are: Steve Graham, former coach at Weatherford (OK) High School and Clovis (NM) High School; Harold "Moon" Stinson, former Oklahoma and Colorado high school coach and administrator; Foy Stout, former Southwestern Oklahoma State University NAAU and NCAA wrestling champion; and Howard Welborn, former Oklahoma high school football coach and administrator.

Tickets for the 6:30 p.m. banquet are $5 and deadline to purchase tickets is Wednesday, October 28. Tickets are available at the Southwestern Business Office, Public Relations Office and Athletics Office.

Inducting Graham to the Hall of Fame will be Ed Berrong Sr. of Weatherford; Stinson will be enshrined by Lloyd Graham of Oklahoma City; Stout will be inducted by his brother, Eldon Stout of Wetumka; and Welborn will be inducted by his son, John Welborn of Pampa, Texas.

Ron Polston, former SWOSU football player and former football coach in the Lawton Public Schools, will be Master of Ceremonies. He is currently Director of Sales for Globe Life Insurance Company in Oklahoma City.

The banquet will be held in the SWOSU Student Center Ballroom.

STEVE GRAHAM was born near Henrietta, Texas. The Graham family moved from Texas to Walters, Oklahoma. Steve entered Walters High School where he participated for four years in all available sports consisting of basketball, football, track and summer baseball. Steve was selected the outstanding all around athlete his senior year in high school. After graduating in 1940, Steve entered Southwestern Oklahoma State University at Weatherford, Oklahoma where he lettered in football and basketball during his freshman school year (1940-1941) and lettered again in football his sophomore year (1941-1942).

In the spring of 1942, World War II interrupted Steve's college career. When the armed services called, he entered the Navy Air Force and received his wings and commission in 1943. At this time he married his college sweetheart, Carmen Miller. Steve spent 40 months in the Navy and 17 months in the South Pacific flying combat missions. In October 1945, Steve was separated from the Navy with the rank of Navy Lieutenant and returned to Southwestern where he graduated in 1947. On returning to Southwestern in 1945, he lettered in basketball and baseball in the 1945-1946 school year (there was no football that year). In 1946-1947 he lettered in football and track and graduated in May 1947.

In the fall of 1947, Steve became Athletic Director and Head Coach for the Weatherford Schools, Weatherford, Oklahoma. Steve was hired to rebuild the athletic program. His first year at Weatherford was spent coaching all sports and building a program. He was the only coach at this time. The second year Weatherford hired a college student for half a day to help coach the Jr. High teams that were started in 1948-1949 school year. The high school program blossomed quickly. Championships in football consisted of eight District Championship years. The Eagles advanced to two Bi-district, four regional and two semifinal playoffs, and were to suffer only two losing seasons under Coach Graham. Many honors were brought to WHS in all sports during his tenure at Weatherford.

In 1959, Steve was offered the position of Athletic Director and Head Football Coach at Clovis High School, Clovis, New Mexico. He accepted and moved the family there to take on a rebuilding job at Clovis High School and three Junior High Schools, along with budgets for the entire program. The Clovis Wildcats had finished the 1958 football season with 29 football players. The 1959 season saw 80 prospects report for football. Clovis finished the first Graham season with a 5-5 record, then rebounded to take the State Championship the next year. Since that time the Clovis program has been very competitive. The football program grew to three high School teams - Varsity, Jr. Varsity and Sophomore teams and a staff of eight coaches. The football teams had had only one losing season in 26 years and had won several State Championships, including five in a row during one stretch. All sports at Clovis have become very competitive with both boys and girls basketball teams gaining births in the state tourney almost every year. CHS had been the winningest High School in the state when you consider the win-loss record of all sports sponsored. Coach Graham had coached the South All Stars three times; once in Oklahoma, winning 34-0 and twice in New Mexico, winning 33-0 and 15-14.

Coach Graham served the New Mexico Coaches Association as a member of the Board of Directors on several occasions, served on the All-Star Selection Committee three years and was selected twice to coach the South All Stars. Steve was selected Coach of the Year in 1960 and Coach of the Week on several occasions. In 1969, Steve was chosen New Mexico Athletic Director of the Year. He has lectured in coaching clinics across the State of New Mexico. Nationally, Steve was a charter member of the National High School Athletic Coaches Association where he served on the Board of Directors for two terms and was named First Vice-President in 1965. He was selected Regional Athletic Director in 1970 for the Southwest Region covering seven states; New Mexico, Texas, Colorado, Arizona, Utah, California and the Hawaiian Islands.

Steve holds a B.S. Degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, a Master Degree from the University of Oklahoma in Ci-

Sigma Kappa Holds Reunion

The alumni of the Sigma Kappa sorority had a reunion April 4, 1987 in Oklahoma City at the Hilton Inn Northwest. Thirty-three Sigma Kappa's attended and they had 48 at the banquet on Saturday evening.

The opening pledge and greeting was given by Gayle Burrow Simpson of Booker, Texas. Following the dinner, the program was presented by Maurine Clark Butts of Clarendon, Texas. Reports on Sigmas from 1968-1971 were presented by Alice Stephens Riggs, Tulsa; 1971-1974 were presented by Kelly Jo Oakley Bixby; and 1974-1978 reports were presented by Susan Reiger, Oklahoma City.

A trivia was presented by Jo Ann Bronniman Pierce of Duncan and bequests were presented by Gayla Weedon, Vici. The closing was given by Cherokee Clark Orndorff of Oklahoma City.

The reunion was a big success and other sororities and fraternities are encouraged to schedule reunions in the near future. The alumni office has offered to help with the reunions.

Listed are names and address of Sigma Kappas that attended Southwestern from 1968-1978. If your name is left off, contact Gayle Burrow Simpson.

Pauwels Serve as Peace Corps Volunteers

The initial appearance of Oklahoman Anita Burgdorf Pauwels in the Eastern African nation of Burundi caused a small sensation among some of the country's natives. They weren't accustomed to seeing a short haired woman on a motorcycle, wearing multilayers of clothes, including pants and boots.

Pauwels' look was necessary because of the work she was doing - overseeing the construction of a network of fish ponds. But, the people still were not sure about who or what she was until one day a delegation of women approached her, patted her about the body and decided she was, indeed, a woman.

The cultural differences between Pauwels, a Shattuck native, and the Africans subsided when she and her husband, James, learned enough French and Kirundi, the country's national language, to communicate effectively.

The people of Burundi, in turn, learned why the Americans had come to live among them. As Peace Corps volunteers, the Pauwels were part of a team that began an inland fisheries project designed to generate income and improve nutritional status through the breeding and cultivation of fish.

The Pauwels were in Oklahoma recently after a trip to Washington D.C., where Anita Pauwels was honored as one of three 1987 John F. Kennedy Volunteers of the Year.

The awards were presented by Vice President George Bush in a White House ceremony to commemorate National Volunteer Week. Other honorees were Rex Rund, 26, of Pesotum, Ill., and Dorothy Brooks, 69, of Costa Mesa, Calif.

Along with overseeing the construction of the manually cultivated fish ponds, Anita Pauwels has adapted a Peace Corps booklet on fish and farming into French and Kirundi for use by local farmers.

She also has been instrumental in creating materials and forms for use by farmers to ensure accurate record-keeping of production and progress; has helped obtain tools and funding for fishpond construction; and has collated and distributed information on fish preparation and preservation for use by local villages.

The Pauwels currently have completed 76 fish ponds and another 78 are under construction with the nine communities that are involved in the inland fisheries project.

Before their marriage in 1983, the Pauwels actively volunteered with various organizations. After the wedding, "we both were looking for a deeper experience," Anita Pauwels said. "The Peace Corps seemed to meet our needs best because we could both do a work together."

The work in Burundi has been a decided change from the Pauwels' lifestyles before the Peace Corps. A 1973 graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Anita Pauwels, 35, originally worked as an environmental chemist in Rockport, Texas, before choosing to become a self-employed artist.

Jim Pauwels, 45, is an engineer on leave of absence from General Dynamics in Fort Worth. He also is a 1964 graduate of Purdue University and served as a Peace Corps volunteer to India from 1964 to 1967.

The Pauwels said they chose to "take a break" in their careers "to do something intense."

You get hooked into helping people, "Anita Pauwels explained. "The chance to see results - you get addicted to that."

CARLA CAROTHERS of The Raven Company in Weatherford "stuffed" over 5,000 Southwestern alumni mailings for the membership drive which was held this past summer. A total of around 16,000 were mailed out in hopes that more Southwestern alumni will join the alumni association. Carla, who individually "stuffed" the 5,000 is from Hollis.

Haggard Receives Juris Doctor

Tim Duncan Haggard was conferred the degree of Juris Doctor on Saturday, May 9, at the Oklahoma City University School of Law.

During his tenure at OCU, Haggard's biography appeared in Who's Who Among American Law Students and he was placed on the Faculty Honor Roll, as well as receiving the Prentice-Hall Student Award for Income Tax. He was also a member of Merit Scholars, the Student Recruitment Committee and was vice-magister of Phi Delta Phi, honorary legal fraternity.

Haggard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Levall of Custer City. He is a graduate of Custer City High School and Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford. He will remain in Oklahoma City where he is an associate with the firm of Edwards, Roberts and Propester.

ty School Administration and has done graduate work at Eastern New Mexico University, Colorado State University, University of New Mexico and New Mexico State University.

Steve retired from the Clovis High School at the end of the school year in 1985 after participating in athletics from fourth grade through college (13 years), and serving as Athletic Director and Coach for 38 years in two high schools.

Steve's family consists of his wife Carmen, who attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University, and received her degree from Eastern New Mexico University and taught elementary school in Clovis for 12 years. Two sons who graduated from Southwestern, Don who lives near Piedmont, and Jack who lives in Yukon. Son Bob graduated from the University of New Mexico and lives in Cincinnati, Ohio. Daughter Jill attended New Mexico State University and lives in Clovis. There are nine grandchildren, ranging in age from 3 to 17 years.

HAROLD "MOON" STINSON, who has been an educator for the past 36 years, with the last 11 as Eads High School Principal, Eads, Colorado, is now retired.

Stinson, sometimes better known as "Moon," submitted his resignation at the end of the 1986-87 school year.

Harold, a native of Oklahoma, graduated from high school in Mountain View, OK. He entered Oklahoma University with his eye on a teaching career but he only attended one semester and decided to join the navy in 1943. He served the next three years on a Fleet Tanker and after WWII ended was discharged in March of 1946. During his time in the navy he advanced to Storekeeper Second Class.

After his stint in the navy, he again entered college and enrolled in Southwestern Oklahoma State University. In 1950 he received his BS degree in physical education and social studies.

While in college Harold became an outstanding football player and won many awards for his fete as a quarterback. Stinson was also an outstanding basketball player. He was named the "Most Valuable Player" for two years running and in 1970 he was elected to the Kansas AAU Basketball Hall of Fame. In 1975 Harold was given the Jim Thorpe Award in recognition of membership of "The All-Time Greats of Oklahoma." He was considered one of the greatest all around athletes in Southwestern history! Harold was also named the "All-Decade Halfback" by the Oklahoma Athletic Hall of Fame Commission based on his performances in the 1940s with the football squad of Mountain View High School and Southwestern State College.

In 1950 Stinson was offered a contract to play professional football with the Los Angeles Rams. "Pro football was a lifelong dream," Stinson said, but even so, he decided to forego the contract and continue his education at Oklahoma University where he obtained a Master Degree in school administration in 1951.

After he received his Master's Degree, Stinson began his career in education. He taught and coached for five years in Oklahoma before moving to Holly Colorado. He taught and coached in Colorado for a few years and then moved back to Kansas. During his years teaching in Kansas he further advanced and was principal in several of the schools.

In 1973 he accepted the Acting Superintendent's job in Arriba, Colorado and served there as a teacher, coach and administrator for two years. In 1975 he accepted the job as High School Principal at Eads High School and held that position until his retirement.

Harold is the father of five children: Connie, Jim, Bill, Jan and Jill.

FOY STOUT started wrestling at Eastview, in Greer county, under the coaching of G.S. "Dock" Sanders, who later became president of Southwestern. He started in school at Southwestern in 1930, and wrestled in every dual match in 1930 and 31. Two weeks before the state tournament he received an injury that required surgery and forbid him to enter the state tournament. He won the collegiate conference the next three years and he never tasted defeat in the collegiate conference. In 1933 he placed second at the NCAA finals, and also finished second in the NAAU championship tournaments. In 1934 he won third in the NCAA, and first in the NAAU.

He met Estelle Hicks in 1932 at Southwestern. They were married three years later. They had two sons. Jim, who is now a civil engineer for the state of California, is now the top supervisor over all the bridge engineers in that state. Jim married his high school sweetheart, Jackie Mann. They have three children and one grandchild. Larry, the youngest son, married his college sweetheart, Jane Nelson. They have three children. Larry is a pharmacist at Sublette, Kansas.

Foy started his teaching career in Hughes county. He moved to Sulphur in 1937, and taught there for 38 years. He taught science and industrial arts, and also coached football, wrestling, and baseball during those years. He also was the leader of an air scout squadron for 20 years. He was awarded the Silver Beaver, an award for outstanding service in scout work. He was president of the Kiwanis club for three years, and is currently involved and still very active.

Since retiring, he and his wife, and his two brothers and their wives, have traveled in forty eight of the fifty states. The "Six Pack," as they are commonly called, are enjoying life to the fullest, and plan on many more trips together, and who knows, possible conquering all 50 of the states. His brother Ernie was inducted in the SWOSU Athletic Hall of Fame in 1985.

HOWARD WELBORN was born in Cookville, Texas, and grew up in Floydada, Texas, where he graduated from school.

He then went to Cameron Junior College where he played on two undefeated football teams under coach Pen Dixon. He then was an all-conference halfback and quarterback on Rankin Williams' teams at Southwestern in 1931-33. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Southwestern in 1933 and then married Reola M. Rowan of Hydro in 1934.

His first coaching assignment was from 1934-37 at Gotebo where he coached football, basketball, track and baseball. Gotebo won the Kiowa Conference in 1934-35. His next move was to Hennessey where he coached all sports from 1937-40. From there he went to Mountain View where he coached an undefeated football team in 1941-42.

He then moved to Medford where he coached all sports and was superintendent of schools from 1942-53. He began a series of wins and honors and set many records. He led teams to state football championships in 1945, 1946 and 1949.

After leaving Medford, he moved to Waynoka where he was principal and athletic director at Waynoka High School from 1953-57. In 1957 he took the superintendent's position at Grandfield where he stayed until 1965 when he moved to Oklahoma City where he served as an elementary principal until 1975 when he retired.

Welborn served over 40 years in public education.

His honors include Coach of the Year and also coached the North all-stars in 1947. He was named Who's Who of Coaches in 1953 and Who's Who in Educators of the Southwest in 1962. He was inducted into the Oklahoma Coaches Hall of Fame in 1973.

ECHOES RECEIVES

Education

Dear Mr. Sanders:

I received a letter from my sister-in-law there asking me to contact you.

I am enclosing a brief resume of my educational career and some day I would like to produce a full version. I have traveled extensively abroad (around the world, etc.).

What I have done in Weatherford in recent years was only a hobby (restaurant-motel, etc.).

After the seven years in Greer County and graduation from SWTC, I went to Washington to work for the Library of Congress, having passed a civil service exam for such. However, I opened a school for the pages of Senate-House of Representative and Supreme Court-in the West terrace of the Capitol Building.

After 16 years there under the administration of Hoover, Roosevelt and Truman, I returned to public life and developed a series of Child Care Centers in the Silver Spring, Md. area and this has continued for 40 years now in this type of education. This totals 63 years now in the educational field after or in addition to college graduation.

Respectfully,
Ernest Kendall

Wants Address

Dear Sir:

I am an SWOSU Alumni, graduated summer '68. I have a life membership of Echoes from the Hill. I am very thankful that I receive this Alumni newsletter which keeps me in touch with my university.

When I graduated I went back to my hometown to run the family pharmacy with my brother who is a licensed pharmacist.

I got married in 1969, had two sons, Naji 16, and Sami 13. They study here at the national evangelical school.

Besides my job in the pharmacy, I worked in commerce and agriculture.

I went back in '68 when I received my BA degree. It is natural for every student to go back home after graduation.

Lebanon, then, was the country of beauty and tourism and besides that business was very prosperous. My country then was called the Switzerland of the middle east. It was the center of western culture until 1975 when things going from bad to worse and now things are the worst.

Many educated and intellectual people left this country, and very few could resist. Now we have reached the point where life is unbelievable, where there is no future for people who are western minded and educated. So, now I am thinking seriously of securing my children's education in the U.S. because this country is unbelievable now and it is hard for us to get an American education and ways of living to persist.

Please, I ask you for a little favor. I would like to know the address and job of my college mate then, Mr. Richard D. Shelby, who was honored in the homecoming of 1980. I have read about Mr. Shelby in the volume 65, #1. I am very eager to receive his address and telephone number. Thank you in advance for your help.

Best wishes of luck for you and all Southwestern Alumni officers. Looking forward to hearing from you.

Very Truly Yours,
Najib

Reunion

Dear Millie:

Enclosed you will find my check for $10.00 to cover my dues for another year. You will also find a name correction for my wife.

Last December we had a small reunion here in Sun City, Az. Diz Clark was here from Kentucky visiting Locey Witherspoon in Scottsdale. Karl Kitt drove over from Mesa and brought Coach Marion Surbeck (both of these men are in the Hall of Fame). We met at Steve Sweeney's home here in Sun City and spent several hours visiting and then went out to a local restaurant for lunch. We all enjoyed it. Of course Gaynell had to sit and listen to us.

Best Regards,
T. Robert Martin

Enjoyed Dinner

Dear Millie and Otis:

We enjoyed the Alumni dinner and meeting with you in October. Thank you for the complimentary copy of "Echoes from the Hills". I didn't realize I hadn't signed up. Of course we want to thank all our friends and loved ones at SWOSU and Weatherford for the many expressions of consolation on Dad's passing. We know he was loved and respected by many. We can only thank everyone for his many years of success at Southwestern.

In Appreciation

Dear Mr. Sanders:

I am so looking forward to the ceremonies in October and greatly appreciate the honor being given me as an alumnus. Working as a volunteer in a developing country where education, jobs, and freedom are luxuries not often attained has given an even deeper appreciation for all the opportunities available in this country. And SWOSU was a part of that foundation along with the values and traditions of Rural Oklahoma and the people who live and work there.

If there is any further information needed, I will be in contact with you next week from Canada. The only photograph readily accessible was the one from the Daily Oklahoma. All of our household effects are still in storage. I do hope it is adequate. Again, thank you.

Anita B. Pauwels

Paid Up

Dear Editor:

I noticed that $10.00 a year are the dues to the alumni association. I sent another twenty dollars a few months ago, so of course you will know how far I am paid up.

My husband passed away July 15 so I am late getting started toward finding the names and addresses. But I'll do the best I can.

If I come to the banquet I'll pay at the door. Best Wishes!!

Sincerely,
Elsie King

Received Plaque

Dear Mr. Sanders:

I received my Life Alumni Membership Plaque. It is beautiful. I am very proud to have it hanging on my den wall. Thank you so very much.

I'm returning the list of 1937 class members. I have added all of the information that I could locate. I'm sorry that I could not find more. If I find more later, I will send them.

Sincerely,
Eva Gibbs Duncan

Attends Reunion

Mr. Sanders:

Thank you so much for coming by the Sigma Kappa Reunion. We were pleased with the attendance, but wished for more!

I think a Greek homecoming is a wonderful idea, and if there is anything I can do to help you and your staff, please fill free to contact me.

I have enclosed a check for yearly dues to the Alumni Association, and thank you for mailing out the application.

My university means a lot to me, so I feel good about helping out!!

Again, if I can help, please keep me in mind for the Greek week-end.

Sincerely,
Cherokee Clark Orndorff

Sign's Great

Dear Editor:

I hope I'm not too late with my small contribution. If I am, please use the $10.00 for another alumni project.

The sign looks great! I saw it last time I was in Weatherford!

ter and often in a less costly fashion," he writes in a recent CEO report.

The Peace Corps recently announced that ANITA BURGTORF PAUWELS received the 1987 John F. Kennedy Volunteers of the Year award.

Mrs. Pauwels' work has so impressed Peace Corps officials that they chose her from among 6,000 people as one of the three 1987 John F. Kennedy Volunteers of the Year, the organization's highest honor.

The awards were presented to the three volunteers by Vice President George Bush in a White House ceremony.

Anita, of Shattuck, Oklahoma and Fort Worth, Texas, serves as a Fisheries Peace Corps Volunteer in the landlocked African nation of Burundi. Pauwels, and her husband James, were selected as two of the first six Peace Corps Volunteers to begin the Burundi Inland Fisheries Project, the breeding and cultivation of fish in man-made ponds.

With the second highest population density in Africa and 95% of its population in rural areas, the introduction of fish culture will improve the nutritional status of the rural population and increase the income of small farmers via the sales of their fish harvest.

Pauwels provides extension support to five of the nine communes in the Ngozi province with 51 active ponds. Her responsibilities include pond construction, stocking, management and harvesting of fish, as well as introducing modern fish culture techniques to both rural farmers and local leaders.

Pauwels' additional activities related to her project include the adaptation and illustration of a fish booklet, in both French and Kirundi; the creation of materials and forms for use by farmers to ensure accurate record-keeping of production and progress; and a fish farmer exchange program to encourage information and idea exchange.

In addition to her fisheries projects, Pauwels has also designed, funded and implemented two secondary projects. A rabbit-raising project has generated income for local farmers and encouraged integrated agriculture, and a spring capment project has brought portable water to a community of 500 people. Currently, Pauwels and her husband are conducting a feasibility study for the installation of a hydraulic ram which could bring water, for the first time, to 3,000 families.

A five-month training course followed their signing up. The two learned French and Kirundi, a native dialect. They also learned how to build and run fish farms.

Statistics on Burundi, a country the size of Maryland that is located on Lake Tanganyika, are grim. It is one of the most densely populated countries in Africa, where malnutrition and disease kill about 14 of every 100 children before their first birthday and where incomes average $275 a year.

By teaching farmers in rural areas to raise their own fish in small ponds, the Pauwels hope to help them provide a steady source of protein.

The couple have helped stock 78 ponds, and 76 more are under construction--about 10 times the number of ponds other volunteers have been able to build in a two-year period. Mrs. Pauwels, also an artist, designed a picture book showing the need for fish ponds and simple methods for their construction.

Anita Burgtorf Pauwels is a graduate of Shattuck High School and received her biology and chemistry degrees in 1973 from Southwestern. Her husband, James received his degree in engineering from Purdue University. He is on sabbatical leave from General Dynamics in Fort Worth.

Dr. Leonard Campbell, Southwestern Oklahoma State University president, will present Anderson and Pauwels each with a plaque during homecoming activities Saturday, October 31.

Southwestern Alum Publishes 2 Books

Glen Crane has published two books and was inducted in the Western Oklahoma Historical Society Hall of Fame. Glen published his first book in 1983, 101 Schools of Roger Mills County and his second book in 1986 entitled Nobility I Have Known in Roger Mills County. He was inducted in the Hall of Fame on the evening of November 10, 1986 at the Holiday Inn in Elk City.

Through his books, Cheyenne resident Glen F. Crane has had a hand (sometimes humorous) in preserving the history of Roger Mills County and Western Oklahoma.

It's with a twinkle of wit and an obvious love of the countryside where he was born 78 years ago that Crane has written Nobility I Have Known and 101 Schoolhouses Remembered.

More than a memento, Crane's 101 Schoolhouses will provide future generations better understanding of the methods of education and its development in the history of Western Oklahoma, contends Dee Ann Ray, one of those who nominated Crane for the honor.

Ray says she believes the author of Nobility I Have Known in Roger Mills County should be among those he lists. He's contributed to numerous library projects.

But even before he began recording the history of the county in which he's lived, Crane was active in the growth and development of the communities in which he's lived.

Crane graduated from Hammon and received his teaching degree from Southwestern State Teachers College in Weatherford. He taught in schools throughout the county and introduced the first rudimentary marching band to his students. Along with his other attributes, he's an accomplished musician.

Along with two other Cheyenne citizens, he was instrumental in establishing the Cheyenne Convalescent Hospital.

It's a rare time when someone mentions Glen Crane without mentioning his beloved wife, Glenna Belle (Savage). She, too, was a teacher, and they've been married 55 years. The Cranes had two children. Daughter Rogna Kirby resides with her husband in Cheyenne. Their son, Joe Glen, died as a teenager from muscular dystrophy. They have one granddaughter.

Teacher, rural mail carrier, farmer, author, businessman, musician, father, grandfather, historian, poet, Glen Crane is an honoree of the Western Oklahoma

Hall of Fame.

In conclusion, Glen and Glenna wrote the following note to Millie Thomas.

Dear Millie:

Can you get Glen's new book "Nobility I have Known in Roger Mills Co." mentioned in the Echoes from the Hill this year? I think he has done a fine job on both books. We were lucky to have Frank and Shirley Polk as our publisher. Frank is president of Southwestern Stationary and Bank Supply in Oklahoma City, with two branches, one in Lawton and one in Tulsa. We were impressed with his accomplishments! Frank and Shirley are SWOSU Alumnists. Love to see you!

Your Friends,
Glen and Glenna Belle Crane

Glen was nominated by three different people for this award. Over 100 people from Roger Mills County and other locations attended for Glen. Some are shown in the mirror behind the Crane family. An overflow crowd attended the event. Glen read as his acceptance speech a special poem composed for the event. He was among five named for 1986.

College - The Hard Way

by Oliver E. Rooker

Grandma and I had discussed a number of times during the past year my chances of going to college after high school. "I won't be able to help you financially," she said, "but I will help you any other way I can."

The year was 1935. We were at the bottom of the Great Depression and money was unbelievably scarce.

"We had a good garden this year. There are over four hundred jars of canned fruits, vegetables and jelly in the cellar. The potatoe crop was extra good, so you will have to eat lots of potatoes. I canned thirty-six quarts of currants this summer. You could take a currant pie back with you each week if you could carry it in your grip. The only canned meat we have is the rabbit I canned two years ago."

Oh, yes, the rabbit. The winter of '33 it snowed so much the wild rabbits couldn't run. My brother and I would go out with sticks (no money for shells) and get ten to twenty rabbits a day. The temperature stayed near freezing for six weeks, and by then we had over one hundred frozen rabbits in our screened-in back porch.

That same year there had also been an overabundance of wild plums which Grandma canned. Consequently, for what seemed like a year, it was fried rabbit and stewed plums for breakfast, rabbit "patties" with plum jelly for dinner, and baked rabbit with plum butter for supper. For me, canned rabbit had no appeal.

"Also," she continued, "when you come home each weekend, bring your dirty clothes and I'll have them washed and ironed by the time you get ready to go back."

Southwestern State Teachers' College in Weatherford, Oklahoma, was forty miles from our home in Canton. I had no car but had hitchhiked there several times. I usually got there in an hour. I had gone the week before school started to make arrangements to enroll and rent a place to live.

I rented a light housekeeping apartment - parlor, living room, kitchen and bedroom, all condensed into a 14' x 16' room that had been enclosed in the unused attic of a two-story house. The rent was $1.00 a week, was to be paid in advance, with all utilities furnished.

Bill Meeler was the proprietor of this boys' rooming house, and he went out of his way to help "his boys" in every way he could and still be a strict disciplinarian. "The college makes the rules for all student rooming houses, and I strictly enforce them. No alcoholic beverages of any kind on the premises, no girls past the front sitting room on the first floor, and I have added a couple more. No smoking in bed and no radio playing or loud noises after 10 p.m." Then he added with special emphasis, "The first infraction I forget; the second one, you have to get out." The semester I was there there were several violations of these rules, but no boys were forced to leave.

The day I left to enroll, I was walking, a large suitcase in each hand, their contents - a peck of small potatoes, ten pints of home canned vegetables, two onions, 2 cantaloupes, two pans, a skillet, one-half pint of lard, a shaker of salt, a dozen eggs, my clothes, and a cotton picking sack. With a load like that I didn't do much walking but I was lucky that day. A car stopped and the driver took me within six blocks of the rooming house.

I arrived at college with $34.00, my summer wages. Monday I enrolled and bought my "used" books. That afternoon I had $19.35 to last until I could find a job.

I went downtown (college is "on the hill") and bought eight cases canned foods. They were small 6 oz. cans at 5¢ each or a case of 24 for one dollar. I bought one case each of black-eyed peas, butter beans, spaghetti, ravioli, and four cases of soup for eight dollars. Now I had eleven dollars left, so I paid another five weeks' rent, leaving me six dollars until I found a job.

When I first came to see about enrolling, I had applied for work with the N.Y.A. (National Youth Administration). The fourth week I was there I received notice my application had been approved. I was to report to work the next Monday afternoon. I had scheduled all my classes in the mornings and planned to pick cotton every afternoon and some weekends. Now I had a job.

I didn't wait until Monday. I went right to the office and was told I could work thirty hours a month at 35¢ per hour-$10.50 a month. They let me work four hours a day two days a week. The N.Y.A. was a government youth program to help students stay in school.

The first week we hauled fertilizer from the city sewer treatment plant, which was about a mile southeast of town, and spread it on the football field. Later we did campus yardwork and planted shrubs.

Each weekend I would hitchhike home with my dirty clothes and empty fruit jars, take back clean clothes, a loaf of home baked bread, a dozen eggs, and a peck of potatoes. Twice I hiked to Bridgeport, seven miles east, and caught the 2 o'clock freight train to Eagle City which was seven miles from home, but the fare was thirty-five cents to ride in the caboose, and at $10.50 a month I couldn't afford the luxury.

Grandma said later that I had eaten over two bushels of potatoes that semester. It was my main dish everyday, with some variation always boiled, mashed, and mixed with a five cents can of potted meat or an egg or both, then fried. Even today I like this "main dish."

The last day of the semester was extremely cold. I left the college and walked to the edge of town. Just as I thought I was freezing to death, I caught a ride to Eagle City. The first vehicle to come along there was a farm tractor pulling a four-wheel trailer with a load of cotton tied down and covered with a tarp.

"Crawl up on top. I'm going to the gin in Canton."

I never thought I could get any colder than I was then, so I climbed aboard. The man driving the tractor was dressed for this sort of freezing weather. I wasn't. This was the longest seven miles I ever traveled. He went right past my house but I was too nearly frozen to tell him to stop.

At the gin it took two men to get me down from the trailer. One of the men took me home, and Grandma called our family doctor. After he examined me, he told Grandma, "I don't know what it is now, but Oliver has something besides being half frozen. I don't think he will get any better tonight, but if he gets any worse, call me. Keep him in bed, and by morning we should know his ailment. Right now he is one sick boy."

The next morning we got his verdict - Scarlet fever." The house, with Grandma and I inside, was quarantined for six weeks.

My brother, who was a senior in high school, went across the street and lived with a neighbor during that time. He could bring the mail and groceries, leave them on the back porch, but he couldn't come in.

I never had a cold from that freezing ride but I was in bed seven days with the fever. During the next five weeks I felt good and helped Grandma with her quilts. I helped her cut out blocks and tie four quilts. My wife and I still have one of those quilts I helped my grandma put together so long ago.

Distinguished Alumni Nominations

Persons wishing to nominate alumni for the Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame may submit names and a resume to Dr. Joe Anna Hibler, Vice-President, Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford, Oklahoma 73096. Dr. Hibler is chairman of the committee that will make the selection.

Doyle Jackson Receives National Award

Doyle Jackson, 1965 Southwestern Oklahoma State University graduate and current Weatherford resident, was one of three people who received a national recognition award at the Phi Beta Lambda (PBL) National Leadership Conference, held July 6-8 in Anaheim, California.

The award, Business Person of the Year, was presented to Jackson on July 8. Earlier in the year, Jackson was one of two Oklahoma state winners. He was nominated for the awards by the Southwestern Chapter of PBL.

The Southwestern chapter nominated Jackson because of his help with the local chapter. He serves on the chapter's Business Advisory Board and is also a former member of the chapter. In addition, Jackson sponsors between five and ten scholarships each year at Southwestern. He is co-owner of the Raven Company in Weatherford and employs around 60 college students. He is also a supporter of athletics at the Weatherford university.

Jackson, a Sayre High School graduate, received a Bachelor of Science degree in accounting. After graduation, he worked with Phillips Petroleum in Denver and Kerr McGee in Oklahoma City before moving to Weatherford.

where he went to work at 3M Company. In 1976, he then started the Raven Company--a company involved in the manufacture of packaging supplies, plastics, and metal printing and contract packaging. He and his wife, the former Fay Cartwright, started the business in a 20-by-30-foot rented room and now the company is located in a new plant at 1300 Lera Drive in Weatherford.

Marshall Drug Sold To McGuire's

Senator Cliff and LaDonna Marshall have announced the sale of Marshall Drug to Joe and JoAnna McGuire. The sale was effective July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. McGuire own a drug store in Ulysses, Kansas where they have lived for 14 years.

The McGuires are originally from Cyril and both are graduates of Cyril High School. He received his degree in pharmacy at Southwestern University. She has a BS degree in elementary education, also a BA degree in biology. She is currently teaching the third grade in Ulysses.

Mr. McGuire has been an active member of the Grant County Recreation Board and is serving as a board member. He raises registered Brangus cattle.

They have three children: Dayna, age 16; Erin, 12; and Adria, 8.

In announcing the sale, Senator

Marshall said, "Being a pharmacist in Cyril is a full time obligation. To continue to provide the high quality service and also to serve as a state senator has become increasingly difficult. Although the senate is not a full time service, the demands of the office do preclude full attention to the pharmacy. When I decided to run for office of state senator, I made a commitment to be the very best public servant possible and to serve my district to the best of my ability. I was elected to serve four years and I will not lower the standards of excellence of service in either the pharmacy or state senate, therefore I have reached a decision to sell the pharmacy. I am pleased that I was able to find someone with Joe McGuire's qualifications and who grew up in Cyril. This will ensure the same personal care and attention that the folks in this area expect and deserve"

Spencer Named Wal-Mart Pharmacist

She replaces Mike Unruh who has been promoted to a district manager's position in the company.

Mrs. Spencer was pharmacist in the Wal-Mart Store in Poteau, OK for two years prior to coming to Blue Springs. She holds a BS in pharmacy from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford.

Children's Nursing Care Center Built

The Truman W. Smith Children's Care Center, the first facility of its kind in Texas, will be built in Gladewater, according to Senior Administrator Alan Loyd.

The Center will provide continuous skilled nursing care for patients aged 21 and younger who require special treatment for physical defects, including the handicapped and victims of accidents and birth defects.

At present, youngsters and young adults with these types of handicaps must depend upon other nursing centers, which primarily are designed for elderly clients, Loyd said. "There is just not a facility of this kind in Texas that is geared for children," he said.

John D. Francisco of Mount Pleasant will be vice president of operations for the Children's Care Center, according to Loyd, who will continue as administrator for Gladewater's Oak Manor Nursing Home.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the pediatric center were scheduled for Aug. 18 at 2:30 p.m. with completion expected in March, 1988.

Consulting engineer for the $2.5 million project is Kenneth R. Loyd of Texarkana. The center will contain 45,000 square feet, and offer 120 beds.

Two nursing stations will be maintained around the clock, and the center will employ a total of 85 staff members, the administrator said.

The center is named for Truman W. Smith, president of Truco Properties of Wichita Falls, owner of the complex. Truco also owns Oak Manor Nursing Home in Gladewater.

The facility will be built on a 9.5-acre tract on U.S. 80 west in Gladewater, directly south of the new Gladewater High School.

Truman is a graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University. Truman is president of Truco Properties Inc. in Wichita Falls, Texas.

Alum on National TV Commercial

Marsha Ingram Craddick, a 1984 Southwestern pharmacy graduate, is one of five pharmacists from across the United States who was selected to appear in a series of national television commercials for Health Mart Drug Stores.

Craddick appears as the talent in one of five 30-second commercials written around the theme of "Health Mart. . . Someone in Town Who Really Cares About You." According to Health Mart officials, the campaign strategy is designed to distinguish the locally-owned and operated Health Mart drug stores from national chains. Craddick is owner of Marsha's Health Mart in Hinton, OK.

Craddick was selected for her role in the commercial from hundreds of Health pharmacists. She indicated that the experience of appearing in a television commercial was challenging and interesting.

"I never realized so much time and effort was involved in producing a short commercial," she said. "It took an entire day just to film the scenes for the one 30-second commercial I appeared in."

The new series of commercials is being aired in over 35 television markets throughout the United States.

Artist, Architect Launches Private Business

Brent Gibson, Weatherford artist, architectural designer and planner, formerly with Sawatzky Construction Co., has opened private practice from his home, 725 Oak Drive in Weatherford.

Featured in Home and Garden magazine recently, Gibson is widely known in this area for his unique and unusual design and space utilization of his homes and commercial buildings.

His art has been featured in art festivals and showings in this area for the past 12 years.

Gibson said he hopes to be able to remain in Weatherford and build his private practice rather than move away to larger cities.

"I feel, and fervently hope, this area will offer me and my family opportunity to live and enjoy the wholesome life western Oklahoma and its people provide," he said. "Big cities and highly populated areas may offer growth opportunities, but I've never found a place that provides better quality of life for growing families."

Gibson was accepted last year as a member of the American Institute of Building Designers. His works in this area include the Meacham home at Clinton, now an architectural landmark in western Oklahoma; the Emily Fisher home and Rex Gates home in Timbercreek addition of Weatherford, The Center, and Putt-Putt miniature golf course east of town and the remodeling of City National Bank in Weatherford.

Gibson said he hoped to specialize in home and commercial building design, remodeling, plans, space planning and utilization, landscape design and outdoor living plans. He also does professional wildlife art, commissioned paintings for specialized motifs and western art.

His plans range from preliminary through the colored illustrations and work drawings ready for the building contractor.

Gibson's customers contend his plans are unique "because they are different." He has completed a house plan book of designs available for potential customers.

"But I prefer working directly with my client on specially designed projects to fit their specific needs as a family, business or other commercial utilization," he said.

Brent is a graduate of Guymon High School and Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

Alumnus Artist Featured at Museum

July's 'Artist for the Month' at Elk City's Old Town Museum was John Herron of Los Angeles, Calif. He is the son of Alta Herron of Elk City.

John's art is versatile, ranging from western landscapes to abstract oils, to detailed conceptual art to whimsical sketches. His surroundings serve as a stimulus for his art, as seen in his recent colorful sketches of California.

John is currently on tour with Rita Coolidge in Nova Scotia and New England, so new inspiration in his art is to be expected.

His recent tour to Malaysia and Singapore will probably also be reflected in his drawings. His collection, if viewed chronologically, reveals his own personal journey from his youth in Western Oklahoma to his graduate study in Boulder, Colo. to his current life in Los Angeles.

John received his Bachelor's of Art degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford, and his Master's of Fine Arts degree from the University of Colorado, Boulder.

John has received many honors for his art, including the selection of his 'Retrospective,' an etching, for the Philbrook Art Museum in Tulsa. He has exhibited in many mall shows in Oklahoma, Denver, Colorado, and most recently, California.

North GPC Drive Ambassador

Lucille North has been selected the Weatherford Chamber of Commerce ambassador for the Great Plains Country (GPC) membership drive.

North, a retired schoolteacher, has been chosen for the same position the past several years. "Lucille is a hard worker, and we can always count on her," said Laura Salkow, chamber executive vice president. "She does a wonderful job each year contacting local businesses and individuals for the GPC drive. Lucille's efforts are tremendously appreciated."

The GPC membership drive, which ran through the end of July, provides the money necessary to promote Weatherford. All monies raised locally are matched 60 percent by the state of Oklahoma through the Tourism and Recreation Department.

In the past GPC funds have been used for billboards, Weatherford guides, city maps, postcards, and radio and newspaper advertising. This year the funds will be used for similar projects.

Last year U.S. travelers spent nearly $3 billion in Oklahoma. These expenditures directly generated nearly 60,000 jobs in the state, 5.1 percent of Oklahoma's total non-agricultural employment. Weatherford is a part of GPC, and is represented in the association by the Weatherford Chamber of Commerce. Salkow was recently elected vice-president of the GPC Association.

For further information concerning GPC or membership in the association persons should call or come by the chamber office at city hall.

Stowers Completes D.O. Degree

Scott Stowers of Carter is among the 83 new physicians who received their Doctor of Osteopathy (D.O.) degrees recently at Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine's 14th annual commencement.

Dr. Stowers, a 1976 graduate of Carter High School, is the son of Lendell and Jean Stowers of Route 1 in Carter. He is the grandson of Tama Stowers in Sentinel.

He earned his B.S. degree in pharmacy at Southwestern Oklahoma State University and worked as a registered pharmacist before enrolling at TCOM.

Dr. Stowers, the father of Jesse, 4, and Adam, 6, will intern at Dallas-Ft. Worth Medical Center at Grand Prairie before doing a residency in family practice.

The 83-member class of 1987 brings to 919 the number of physicians who have graduated from TCOM in its 14 commencements. The school—one of 15 osteopathic medical schools in the nation and the only one in Texas—was founded in 1970 and became state supported under the North Texas State University Board of Regents.

KRISTA (BLANDING) JONES is an SWOSU alum and works as a Revenue Agent for the Internal Revenue Service. She is pictured interviewing a prospective employee on the SWOSU campus.

Her husband, Greg, is also an SWOSU alum with a degree in industrial education. Alumni faces are familiar on the campus interviewing SWOSU students. Krista was interviewing Monica Barnard from Leedey.

Wood Heads Falconhead

Don Wood, a 1970 SWOSU graduate is president of Falconhead Development Corp. at Burneyville, Oklahoma.

Waco Turner is remembered as a multi-millionaire oilman whose passion for golf inspired him during the 1950's to bankroll professional tournaments at Ardmore, not far from the Burneyville ranch where he created his own golf heaven.

Today, the 808-acre ranch with his private club, golf course, lodge, pro shop and guest cottages form the nucleus of Falconhead, a resort and retirement community that is identified as Love County's greatest hope for economic growth.

Now covering 4,000 acres, Falconhead includes 200 vacation and weekend homes - 144 single-family houses, 54 condominiums and 12 town homes. Besides its own country club expanded from the Turner original, it has a restaurant open seven days a week, an inn, an airport capable of landing most corporate jets, men's and women's health clubs, a private club and, of course, the golf course.

"A retired person moving here brings a yearly income of $25,000 to $30,000 a year. That income is to a large extent completely disposable because that person pays for his home in cash a lot of times. He doesn't have the expense of a young family. You compare that to a job in a normal factory where the entry level pay is $12,000 to $14,000 a year. That one retired person is equivalent to three or four entry level working positions in the factory."

Many would buy or build homes in the $75,000 dollar range, purchases he said would mean $7.5 million spent in the construction and home furnishings trade.

Wood said the company spent the first year "getting ourselves in position" to expand. The staff is about 20, but Wood expects this to grow substantially during the next few years.

Don is a graduate of Liberal (KS) High School and received his SWOSU degree in psychology with a minor in biology. He was a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

He was an executive for the Last Frontier Council of the Boy Scouts; chief operation officer for Chamber of Commerce and industrial development in Cushing and Clinton; and economics and industrial development director for Wichita KS.

Don and his wife, Sheila, have two daughters, Natalie and Noelle.

Evans Manager of Price Waterhouse

Oklahoma City - Ginger G. Evans has been promoted from senior tax consultant to tax manager in the Oklahoma City office of Price Waterhouse. Sam Hunsaker, partner-in-charge, made the announcement.

Evans has been a professional with the Oklahoma City office for five years and has practiced public accounting for eight years. She serves oil and gas, manufacturing, non-profit and individual tax clients.

Evans received a BS in accounting from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford. She is a native of Dill City, Oklahoma.

Price Waterhouse is one of the largest international firms of public accountants and management consultants. The firm has over 380 offices in 99 countries and territories. The Oklahoma City office provides clients with accounting, auditing, tax and related services.

Alum Named To Banking Board

Doug Tippens, Weatherford native and 1972 WHS graduate has been nominated to the Oklahoma State Banking Board by Gov. Henry Bellmon.

Upon Senate confirmation, Tippens will serve a six-year term ending June 1, 1993. He will succeed George Lowry.

Executive vice president and director of American Heritage Bank in El Reno, Tippens received ed his bachelor's degree in agriculture economics from Oklahoma State University in 1976; his master's in business administration from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1982; and will graduate from the Graduate School of Banking in Madison, Wis., in August.

He has worked in banking, consulting and business management since 1975 and is currently an El Reno city councilman.

Abbot Named Vice-President

Michael Abbott has been promoted to vice-president and director of sales, western region, for Del Monte USA.

In his new position, Abbott, 38, is responsible for managing sales and broker personnel in 12 western states. He will be located in Pleasanton, Calif.

Abbott was formerly director of sales planning and merchandising, and has been with the company since 1971.

A resident of San Francisco, Abbott is a native of Centerville, Ill., and graduated from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1970 with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Del Monte USA is a unit of Del Monte Corp., a subsidiary of RJR Nabisco, Inc. Del Monte USA manufactures and markets canned fruits and vegetables, tomato products, fruit snacks and beverages under the Del Monte and Hawaiian Punch brands.

Alum Running For Geology Office

Michael L. Merritt, a 1974 Physics major is running for secretary of the Oklahoma City 1987-88 Geological Society. Michael is a graduate of Blackwell High School, and is presently a consulting petroleum geologist.

He holds a master's degree in geology. He formerly was an employee of Conoco.

Michael has been very active in the Oklahoma City Geological Society and has several publications.

Fitzgerald Appointed As 3M Production Manager

Bradford (Brad) W. Fitzgerald has been promoted to the position of international production manager of 3M Printing and Publishing Systems Division. He also will have some liaison responsibilities with 3M's Imaging Systems Division.

Fitzgerald's new responsibilities include coordinating manufacturing feasibility studies and source of supply requests from the division's international manufacturing sites. He also will ensure compatibility between marketing activities and production plans; monitor and improve manufacturing procedures and results among subsidiaries; and initiate local manufacturing where overseas sales needs cannot adequately be met by U.S. production.

A 3M employee for 17 years, Fitzgerald began as a quality control technician in the photographic emulsions and coating area at the company's Weatherford, Okla., facility. Since then, he has held process engineering and manufacturing technology managerial positions--most recently serving as the Graphic Preparation Systems Division quality manager.

Fitzgerald is a graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, earning degrees in math (B.S., 1970), chemistry (B.S., 1973) and business administration (M.B.A., 1980). He is a native of Oklahoma City but has been a resident of Woodbury, Minn. for the past five years.

STONY LOCKSTONE of Weatherford recently received the 2nd annual Community Appreciation Award at the Southwestern School of Education end-of-year banquet. Lockstone was presented the award for his exceptional service to the School of Education and the entire University. Making the presentation was Dr. Les Levy, chairman of the Psychology Department.

Memorial Scholarship Established

A special memorial scholarship fund has been established at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford as a tribute to Mrs. Harold (Nadine) Kaiser. A resident of Weatherford for forty years, Mrs. Kaiser passed away on March 15, 1987. Presenting Dr. Joe Ann Hibler, (left) Vice President of Southwestern, with a $2,000 check is Kaiser's daughter, LuAnn Beckloff of Kansas City, Missouri. Beckloff and Charley H. Freeman, brother-in-law of Kaiser's, started the memorial scholarship fund with the $2,000 check. Former students and friends of Mrs. Kaiser are invited to contribute to this special fund which will recognize deserving students in the field of Home Economics from Oklahoma who are attending Southwestern. Information concerning this memorial can be obtained by calling Mr. C.T. Felz at Southwestern, (405) 772-6611, ext. 3028.

JEANNETTE DIFFENDAFFER of Rocky was recently presented the Kathy Dick Simpson Scholarship. Making the presentation was Rosemary Dick and Jams Dick who are from Bessie. The award was given at the Southwestern Oklahoma State University School of Education end-of-year banquet which is held to honor outstanding students.

Alum Joins Naval System

Michael D. Alsobrook, a native of Clinton, Oklahoma, and a 1986 graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford, joined the staff at Naval Ship Weapon Systems Engineering Station, Port Hueneme, California.

A field activity of Naval Sea Systems Command, Washington, D.C., the station provides support to nearly 280 combatant, amphibious and auxiliary ships of the U.S. surface fleet and ships of many friendly nations.

Alsobrook, who earned a bachelor of science degree in electronics engineering, has joined the Tomahawk/Vertical Launching System Engineering Branch of the station's Cruise Weapons Systems Department.

Alum Completes Military

Army Captain, Tracy J. Pim of Enid, Oklahoma, has graduated from the Army's combined Arms and Services Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

The cornerstone of the Army's officer education system, the nine week course is designed to train officers in the skills needed to be an effective staff member with the force in the field.

The curriculum included preparing a command budget, setting up training programs, mobilizing and deploying mock units and giving staff presentations.

He is a 1979 graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford.

Air Force Transfers Alum

Air Force First Lt. Jana M. Gaughran, daughter of Clarence B. and Edna E. Masters of 1124 North Sixth, Hollis, Oklahoma, has arrived for duty with the 8th Tactical Fighter Wing, South Korea.

Gaughran, an operations officer, is a 1976 graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma University in Weatherford, Oklahoma.

Her husband, Gary, is the son of Larry C. and Jean M. Gaughran of 2423 North 100th, Omaha, Nebraska.

LoBaugh Finalist for State Teacher Honors

Glenda LoBaugh, Yukon's 1987 "Teacher of the Year," has been named one of 12 semifinalists for 1987 Oklahoma Teacher of the Year.

The 12 were chosen by four regional selection committees, noted State Superintendent John M. Folks. A statewide selection committee will review the portfolios of the 12 semifinalists and select finalists. The 1987 Oklahoma Teacher of the Year will be named from the five finalists during a special ceremony on Sept. 21 at the State Fair of Oklahoma in Oklahoma City.

This is the first year the program has been coordinated through the office of the state superintendent. The program is in conjunction with the national Teacher of the Year Program sponsored by the Council of Chief State School Officers, Good Housekeeping magazine and the Encyclopedia Britannica Cos.

LoBaugh has taught 5th/6th grade social studies, reading and spelling for four years at Ranchwood. She has been in the field of education 21 years.

LoBaugh taught kindergarten in Burns Flat, Okla., and was a primary grade teacher for several years in Hobart before starting her teaching career in Yukon in 1975.

From 1975-1983 she taught fourth grade, and served as adult basic education (GED) instructor from 1981-84.

LoBaugh has been Ranchwood Elementary's Teacher of the Year three times, in 1980-81, 1985-86 and this time.

She is a charter member of Yukon's community theater, "The Stage Door;" a member of the Cornwell Drive Church of Christ; Oklahoma Museum of Art; and the Mabel C. Fry Public Library's "Friends of the Library" organization.

The teacher and her husband, Larry, Yukon High School Principal, have two sons, Dave, 22 and Mike, 21.

Larry is also an SWOSU graduate.

McCloud Principal Honored

"I love children and I love working with them. It's a joy watching children grow and mature."

As principal of the bustling McCloud Elementary School in Pottawatomie County, Don Briix certainly has plenty of children around.

The 900-student grade school, its enrollment spurred by phenomenal community growth in the past 10 years, is certainly one of the state's largest. And many educators seem to feel it's one of the best.

And if a school gets a good reputation, the principal tends to be cited as a primary contributor.

Briix has been so honored, and now his reputation is extending beyond Oklahoma.

Briix, 38, has been selected as Oklahoma's "National Distinguished Principal" for 1987.

He was honored Oct. 9 in Washington D.C. by U.S. Secretary of Education William J. Bennett.

"We're not that big of a town, but we've got a large school," said Briix. Many of McCloud's patrons work in Oklahoma City at Tinker Air Force Base and the General Motors plant.

Briix is beginning his 15th year as a school principal in Oklahoma.

After graduating from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, he was a principal and teacher in the small Helena-Goltry district in northwestern Oklahoma.

He then spent nine years as principal at Hennessey Elementary School. He is now in his third year at McCloud.

The McCloud elementary school has seen its achievement test scores rise in recent years. Briix has instituted a "mathematics master" program in which students are given weekly timed quizzes on math skills.

The school also has an annual fine arts festival in the spring.

During the 1984-85 school year, Briix was president of the Oklahoma Association of Elementary School Principals.

Pence Has 26 Years Experience

Mrs. Kent (Daliese) Pence, Hollis first grade teacher for the past 25 years, was selected as Harmon county's Teacher of the Year at the 1987 Harmon County OEA banquet on April 27.

Mrs. Pence began her teaching career in 1961, teaching at Reed. The next year, Hollis had an opening in the first grade. She has held this first grade teaching position for the past 25 years.

A native of Vinson, Daliese graduated from Vinson High School. She attended Southwestern Oklahoma State College in Weatherford where she received a bachelor's degree and a master's degree.

She married Kent Pence, who is also a native of Vinson. They have been farming and ranching in the Vinson area since graduation from college in 1961.

MR. W. RUDIE JANZEN (center) of Bartlesville recently presented the Janzen/Jarvis Special Education Scholarship to two Southwestern Oklahoma State University students. The Weatherford university students who received the scholarships were Shawn S. Sander of Seiling (left) and Jennifer Wheeler of Oklahoma City. The awards were presented at the Southwestern School of Education end-of-year banquet which is held to honor outstanding students.

Canton Teacher of the Year

Canton High School teacher Susan Bode has been named Teacher of the Year. She is currently teaching accounting, typewriting I, general business, shorthand and business law. She has also taught typewriting II, psychology, and sociology.

Ms. Bode has taught in the Canton school system for nine years - two years teaching special education-learning disabilities; one year teaching cooperative vocational and educational training; and six years teaching business education.

She also has taught two years at Fairview High School and one year at South Plains College in Plainview, TX.

Her degrees are B.S. in office administration with a minor in sociology; B.S. in business education; and M.Ed. in school counseling. She has additional hours in school administration, special education, computer education, real estate and income tax preparation. She attended college at SWOSU.

She has served as Student Council Advisor in 1981-82, 1985-86, and 1986-87. She received 1986 Outstanding Young Woman of America Award in recognition of outstanding personal and professional achievements and is a member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Okeene.

Altus Teacher of the Year

Janelle Austin Leverett was named recently by the Altus Public Schools as Altus Teacher of the Year. Altus mayor, Boozie McMahan, has proclaimed her as such and is urging the State Department of Education to seriously consider Mrs. Leverett as State Teacher of the Year.

Janelle received her elementary education degree from Southwestern in 1955 and teaches second grade in the Altus Public Schools. Her husband, Darill, is also an SWOSU Graduate and is senior vice-president of the First National Bank of Altus.

Brester is Semifinalist

Mrs. Suzie Brewster of Marietta, a former Cordell resident, has been named as one of 12 semifinalists for the 1987 "Oklahoma Teacher of the Year." The semifinalists were chosen by four regional committees, State Supt. John M. Folks announced.

A statewide selection committee will choose the five finalists, and the "Oklahoma Teacher of the Year" will be named during a special ceremony, Sept. 21, at the State Fair of Oklahoma City.

The "Oklahoma Teacher of the Year" will be nominated by Folks for "National Teacher of the Year".

Mrs. Brewster has 18 years teaching experience and has taught math in the Marietta Middle School and Elementary School since 1977.

The past two years Mrs. Brewster has taught accelerated mathematics in elementary school, kindergarten-sixth grade, the gifted program she designed and developed.

A 1962 graduate of Cordell High School, she received a BS degree in education from Southwestern State University in Weatherford. She holds a master's degree in education from East Central University in Ada.

Mrs. Brewster is the daughter of Mrs. Minnie Nelson of Cordell and the late Herbert Nelson.

She is married to State Rep. Bill Brewster. They have three children, Karel, 20, Kecia, 14, and Kent, 10.

Bill is an SWOSU graduate.

Amie Janzen Chosen Teacher of the Year

Amie Janzen, a third grade teacher in the Okeene elementary school, has been chosen as Okeene's Teacher of the Year.

Mrs. Janzen has eighteen years of teaching experience. She taught in the Okeene elementary grades for thirteen years, teaching first grade from 1968-74 and the third grade from 1981-87. She began her teaching career in the Orienta School system, where she taught fourth, fifth and sixth grades from 1948-50. She has also taught at Butler and Custer.

Mrs. Janzen attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University, where she received a bachelor of science degree.

The former Amie Reimer, she was born and reared in the Corn community where she graduated from Corn Bible Academy.

She married Gus Janzen on June 8, 1952 at Custer and the couple moved to Okeene in 1959.

The couple's family includes three sons. Steve and Rita, and their son, Andy, 2, live in Burnsville, Minnesota, where Steve is a pilot for Northwest Airlines. Danny and Lora live at Okeene where Danny is in a farming partnership with his father and brother, Wayne, who also lives at Okeene. Lora teaches sixth grade in Okeene.

Mrs. Janzen is a member of the Okeene Mennonite Brethren Church where she has served as pianist, assistant organist, Sunday School teacher and past board member of the state MCC Relief Sale. She has also worked with Vacation Bible School.

She is a member of the Oklahoma Education Association, National Education Association, and Kappa Kappa Iota.

Blanton Named Teacher of the Year

Jeannean Blanton was named Teacher of the Year by the faculty of Sooner Rose Elementary where she now teaches. She is the wife of Don Blanton who was also honored by Rorer Pharmaceutical, Inc. In a meeting in Florida, Don was named for twenty-five years of outstanding service to the company.

The Teacher of the Year award in her own school will make her eligible to compete for the same award in the entire school system and possibly could make her eligible for even higher honors.

Don, on the other hand, has been with the same company, Rorer Pharmaceutical, Inc., for twenty-five years and has been rated outstanding in each. The recent award was made in Orlando, Florida, at a national meeting of the company. Jeannean was there for the presentation. It included the usual certificates and ceremonies but was climaxed by the presentation of a gold watch to help him remember the occasion.

The Blantons were both originally from Cheyenne, Okla., where they first met and later graduated from high school.

They attended Southwestern State at Weatherford. Jeannean transferred to Kansas City University and later to the University of Houston, where she graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Education. She has been at Sooner Rose for twelve years and has taught in the Mid-Del School District for 21 years. She and Don moved to the Midwest City-Del City area in 1962.

Don's parents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blanton and Jeannean's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burns of Cheyenne.

Hubbard Is Hammon Teacher Of Year

Bill Hubbard has been presented a large engraved Brass Apple by Hammon Superintendent, Frank Kirchoffner, in honor of being voted Hammon's Teacher of the Year.

Superintendent Kirchoffner states that during the four years Hubbard has taught in Hammon, he has developed one of the finest math programs to be found in the state of Oklahoma. "His students have progressed far beyond our expectations and consistently are among the top award winners in area and state math competitions. Hubbard has that rare ability to bring out the best traits in his students and give them a feeling of self-pride in their accomplishments."

Hubbard has taught in the Oklahoma school system for 26 years. After graduating from Southwestern, Bill and his wife taught at Gotebo for three years, where he was both math and business instructor. He was a graduate of Merritt High School and farmed in the area, so in 1958 he moved back to Elk City to expand his farming and cattle interests.

Hubbard received his Master of Teaching in Education Degree in 1964 from Southwestern. With a growing family, he realized the need for two incomes and was the Elk City Junior High Algebra and Geometry teacher from 1963 until 1979, named teacher of the year twice. He then moved over to the high school, where he taught Algebra II, Geometry, Trigonometry, and Advanced math for three years.

His wife, Lois, a former business and music teacher, is a private music instructor, who also has a Master of Teaching in Music Education Degree from SWOSU.

Hubbard built the family home from plans drawn by his wife in Elk City at 1306 West Ave. D., working nights, weekends and two summers

The Hubbards have five children including Dr. Mark Hubbard, DVM, age 31, who owns the Stockman's Veterinary Clinic in Springdale, Ark.; Dale, age 30, a pharmacist who is manager of the Presbyterian Hospital in Wimborsboro, TX. Their daughter, Jan, age 29, is an accountant and supervisor of her division Cities Service in Tulsa. Kent, age 27, is a geophysicist and senior field engineer and supervisor for Welex at Woodward. Their youngest son, Scott, age 21, has completed hours at Southwestern for a Business Administration degree and is transferring to OU to pursue a Mechanical Engineering degree.

Beutler Named Teacher of Year

Randy Beutler has been named Weatherford High School's Teacher of the Year by the school faculty. This is his second year as a social science teacher in the Weatherford school system. Beutler teaches Honors World and Honors America history at the high school.

Beutler's Honors programs have been involved in historical research and the History Day competition. In the recent History Day contest at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, several of his students won placing in many areas and continued on to state competition at Oklahoma City. At the state contest, one project, a slide-tape program entitled 'Dark Shadows in the White Light: Desegregation at the University of Oklahoma,' won second place in its category. The four students that produced this program and Beutler traveled to the University of Maryland in College Park for national competition in early June. They finished second in the nation.

Beutler has also received several grants to support the costs of his history program. In November he was awarded a $1,000 dissemination of information grant from the Oklahoma State Department of Education. Also, in April, Beutler was given a $150 grant from Custer County Historical Society to refine and upgrade local history projects for use in competition. This last grant also goes to preserve oral histories of several local personalities.

Beutler also farms north of Canute, is president of the Custer County Historical Society, and co-chairman of the Custer County Democratic Party.

Islas 'LD Teacher of Year'

Russ Islas was honored as Yukon's 'L.D. Teacher of the Year' at a luncheon at the Faculty House in Oklahoma City.

Each year, the Central Oklahoma Council for Children With Learning Disabilities, a chapter of ACLD, honors one L.D. teacher in each of the metro districts. Islas was selected by other special-ed educators from the Yukon school district.

Brown, Matlock Open Insurance

Terry Matlock and Mike Brown have solidified their eight-year business relationship while at other businesses into a partnership in their own business--- American Insurance Group.

The company, which specializes in both individual and group life and health insurance policies, opened June 1 at 409 East Main in Weatherford.

The pair are independent insurance agents for such varied companies as Aetna, Banker's Life, Blue Cross and Blue Shield, Travelers, St. Paul, USF&G, Time and Security General.

Both agents are also highly rated and have nearly 20 years combined experience in life and health insurance. Both attended Life Underwriters Training Council, a continuing education program, and both are members of the USF&G Life Achievement Club, the top award for the USF&G agents in the nation.

Matlock, an Anadarko native, lives in Clinton with wife, Dana, who is office manager of the Federal Land Bank there. The couple have one son, Bret, who will be a freshman at Clinton High School this fall.

He is a graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University with a bachelor's degree in business administration.

Brown worked at American Fidelity approximately five years, before moving back to his home town of Weatherford. "When I moved back here it was a chance to get back home and raise my family here," he said of the move.

Brown is a 1978 SWSU graduate in business education and is a 1974 Weatherford High School alumnus. He was a football-basketball-baseball letterman for the Eagles, playing quarterback, guard and short-stop, and while in college played wingback for the Bulldogs. The highlight of his gridiron career was playing on the 1977 Apple Bowl team that went 11-1 and finished national runnerup.

He and his wife, the former Debbie Morgan of Lawton, have two children, a daughter, Morgan, 5, and a son, Matt, 1½. He is active in the Weatherford Chamber of Commerce and is incoming president of the Kiwanis.

As wildlife specialist, Rollins will act as a resource person for county extension agents of all districts, and also will be involved in designing and evaluating wildlife management result demonstrations in the districts.

Before accepting his new Texas position, Rollins, 32, had served as extension range specialist for the Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service since 1983.

He holds a Ph.D. in agriculture (range science) from Texas Tech University, an MS in wildlife ecology from Oklahoma State University and a BS from Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

Not One...Not Two...But All Three

MARK BERGEN

Not one. . . not two. . . but all three sons of Dr. and Mrs. Zane Bergen of Weatherford OK are registered pharmacists and graduates of Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford.

One might say that it is nice that Zane and Vernell Bergen have three sons who are now pharmacists, but this story has an interesting twist to it in that there were many similarities between the three sons while they grew up in Weatherford.

Youngest son Myron, who actually finished his schooling in December of this past year, went through commencement exercises on Friday, May 8, on the campus of Southwestern. Oldest son Mark graduated in December 1976 and middle son Brent graduated from the Weatherford university in May 1985.

The Bergen boys were all very bright students in the Weatherford Public Schools. All three were valedictorians of their freshman classes (Mark in 1969, Brent in 1976 and Myron in 1978), and all three were valedictorians of their graduating senior classes (Mark in 1972, Brent in 1979 and Myron in 1981).

All three got their start in school by attending Mrs. Ann

MYRON BERGEN

Foreman's kindergarten classes. From there they attended Weatherford Public Schools where all three were in band from grade school through high school. All three were in stage band from junior high on and all three played the saxophone.

All three took private piano lessons from grade school through high school and the trio are still good pianists.

Mark, Brent and Myron were all in the State Honor Society and National Honor Society in high school, and all three represented Weatherford at the Southwestern Interscholastic Meet on the campus of Southwestern.

All three boys started out at Southwestern majoring in another field and then changing to pharmacy. All three worked their way through college by mowing lawns and doing janitorial work at their church, the Evangelical Free Church of Weatherford. All three also worked for Ralph Magill at Magill's Drug in Weatherford while attending pharmacy school.

Now, after finishing their schooling, all three are residents of Arlington TX where they are employees of Eckerd Drug.

From this point, the similarities between the three start to fade. Mark is now married to the former Jan Armstrong and they have a five-year-old daughter, Martha Frances. Brent and Myron are eligible bachelors.

They say that the good things come by twos but for Dr. and Mrs. Zane Bergen, they come by threes.

DR. B.G. KELLER, Jr. (left), Dean of the School of Pharmacy at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, presents the Outstanding Alumni Pharmacy Award to Doyle and Roberta High from Haskell TX. Both received their pharmacy degrees from Southwestern Oklahoma State University and the award was presented at the Annual Pharmacy Banquet.

In Memoriam

HURSHAL H. RISINGER

Funeral services for Hurshal H. Risinger, former head of the history and social studies department at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, were held in the Weatherford Church of Christ.

Mr. Risinger, 86, died unexpectedly Wednesday, April 29, 1987, at Southwestern Memorial Hospital in Weatherford. He was a prominent western Oklahoma educator, serving at numerous secondary schools before going to college in 1947, and was also active in Weatherford civic affairs, in the Custer County Democratic Party, and in the Weatherford Church of Christ.

Born Dec. 28, 1900, to Robert E. and Lula G. Risinger on a farm outside Paris, Texas, he came to Oklahoma with his parents in 1909. The family settled on a farm near Rocky in southern Washita County, where he grew up. He attended the Mount Zion rural school, Southwestern Normal in Weatherford (living with his grandmother), and Cordell High School.

After receiving his teaching certificate in 1920, he taught and served as principal of the Mount Pleasant School Southwest of Cordell. Eventually he returned to school himself, attending Cordell Christian College and obtaining a bachelor's degree in 1930 from Southwestern State Teachers College.

On Aug. 12, 1930 Mr. Risinger married Estelle E. Wyatt of Sentinel.

He then taught four years in the public school at Hominy and two years at Oklahoma A&M College in Goodwell, meanwhile earning a master's degree in history from the University of Oklahoma through summer work. He served next as principal at Hollis for five years and at Brinkman for one year, as superintendent at Dodson, Texas, for four years, and as superintendent at Victory Consolidated five miles west of Altus for one year.

In 1947 he began teaching history and related subjects at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, remaining there until his retirement in 1970. His last three years he was head of the department.

Following retirement, he operated a Weatherford real estate agency in partnership with his son Don until 1985.

Mr. Risinger was an elder in the Weatherford Church of Christ for 20 years and a member of the Oklahoma Education Association, Oklahoma Retired Teachers Association, National Retired Teachers Association, and the Custer-Dewey County Retired Teachers Association. He held a 35-year service certificate from the Weatherford Kiwanis Club and also was active in the city's Chamber of Commerce and Senior Citizens Club. He remained active in local Democratic politics right up until his death, making numerous suggestions at the recent county convention.

His wife Estelle, was a longtime teacher at Colony. She died in 1979.

Survivors include three sons, Joe of Edmond, Don of Santa Maria, Calif., and Phil of Oklahoma City; one daughter, Lu Rose Racliffe, Weatherford; one brother, Homer D. (Buck) Risinger, Oklahoma City; two sisters, Dala Reeves and Mildred Smith, Oklahoma City.

JAKE WILLIAM WRIGHT II

Funeral services for Jake William Wright II, 32-year-old store manager of Tauffest's in Clinton were held in the First United Methodist Church in Weatherford.

Wright was born at Anadarko on August 2, 1954, and was found dead at Crowder Lake, south of Weatherford, on Sunday, September 14.

He moved with his family to Weatherford when he was two years old and attended school in the Weatherford Public Schools. The family moved to Houston, Texas, then back to Weatherford where Wright graduated in 1972.

Wright attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University and graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in education in 1979.

Wright married Renee Byerly in October, 1975, and Paula Pennington on May 29, 1978. After his college graduation, he attended an insurance training school in Dallas, Texas, where he was first in his class. He joined his father's insurance business and stayed in it for two years, making the million dollar sales club his first year. He then worked for Security Oil, a subsidiary of Dresser Oil in Pampa, Texas, for one year, and in Oklahoma City for one year.

Wright moved back to Weatherford and worked in the construction business for one year. He moved to Anadarko and worked as an accountant executive for KRPT radio station. He was last employed at Tauffest Appliance where he was the store manager.

Wright was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Weatherford, and Rotary International in Clinton. He was also a member of Western Star Lodge AFAM and the Guthrie Consistory as a 32nd degree Mason.

Memorials may be made to a memorial college trust fund for Wright's daughter, Autumn Wright.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

Bulldog Baseball Team Has Great 1987

TOM ZALLER

JASON BROWN

JEFF DECKARD

Southwestern Oklahoma State University's baseball team had an outstanding 1987 season. The Bulldogs finished the year with an impressive 45-17 record.

Southwestern also won the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference (OIC) championship and finished as District Nine champion runnerup.

The Bulldog team also picked up several individual honors. Head coach Larry Geurkink was named District Nine Coach of the Year, while first baseman Jeff Deckard of Yukon was named District Nine Player of the Year.

In addition to Deckard, also named to the District Nine first team were Jason Brown, senior catcher from Valliant, and Tom Zahller, junior pitcher from Omaha, Nebraska.

Named to the second team were John Marsh, senior shortstop from Tulsa, and Bob DeCelle, junior outfielder from Oklahoma City.

Deckard led the Bulldogs this season with his .450 batting average. He led the team with 87 hits, 79 runs, 29 doubles, 12 home runs and 63 RBI's.

Brown was the Bulldog's starting catcher. The Valliant senior hit .371. Zahller ended up with a 12-5 record. He was the Bulldog's leading thrower this season.

Coach Geurkink, who just completed his 11th season as head coach, now has a 330-256 record at Southwestern. His Coach of the Year honor makes it the third time that Geurkink has received that award. He was named District Nine Coach of the Year also in 1977 and 1984.

Olympic Coach

National recognition is nothing new to T.J. 'Sonny' Vermillion. But being chosen to coach in the U.S. Olympic Festival July 17-24 in Chapel Hill, N.C. is something special to Blanchard High School's head baseball coach.

"The best young baseball talent in the country will be playing in the Festival and it's a great honor to get selected to help coach them," said Vermillion, an assistant for the South squad.

Coaches for the USOF are recommended by various amateur baseball organizations to the United State Baseball Federation's Youth Committee. From there, USFB board members select a head coach and two assistants.

Vermillion, an Elk City native, was voted the Region 5 National High School Baseball Coach of the Year in 1985 and was runner-up for the national honor. Vermillion is also Blanchard's softball coach and junior high principal.

His baseball teams have gone 406-136 in his 16 years, winning three state titles and 13 district crowns.

Sonny is a former SWOSU baseball player and a member of the SWOSU Alumni Board of Directors.

Burris Inducted Into County Hall Of Fame

Ray Burris, an SWOSU Alumni and a member of the SWOSU Athletic Hall of Fame, was recently inducted in the Jackson County Hall of Fame in Altus. At Southwestern, he lettered in baseball and basketball and was an NAIA All-American baseball player. He received his recreational leadership degree in 1972.

Ray was a 17th round draft pick by the Chicago Cubs in 1972. He pitched for the Chicago Cubs, New York Yankees, Montreal Expos, New York Met, Oakland A's, Milwaukee Brewers, and St.

Louis Cardinals.

For the record, in 14 seasons in the major leagues, Burris posted a 106-132 pitching record. He had a career earned run average of 4.16 and pitched 2,165 and two-thirds innings. He surpassed the magic mark of 1,000 career strikeouts with 1,067 and walked 752.

Although those statistics might have a final ring to them, Burris hasn't yet officially announced his retirement from pitching.

"When the Brewers came along and offered me this front office position, I took it for the simple reason that I had nothing else to do at the time," Burris said. "The Brewers knew of my intentions of pursuing another pitcher change if it comes along, and there's a provision in my contract that will allow me to do that.

"The Brewers have also provided that when I get the pitching out of my system, I can always return to my front office position with them. You can't be much more fair than that, and I think it speaks well of the Milwaukee Brewers organization."

Burris is currently working with pitchers in the Brewers minor league system and doing some scouting.

Burris has a lot going for him beside baseball. He has a successful sports promotion business, with corporate offices in Arlington, Texas, where he resides with his wife Debra and their five children, and in Montreal, Canada.

"My wife is running the business while I'm working with the Brewers," Burris said. "It's a good business. We cater professional athletes to corporations and businesses, for speaking engagements, endorsements, conventions, grand openings, private clinics, public clinics, and you name it."

"Debra and I are extremely proud of our children," Burris said. "Deneen, my oldest daughter, is 16 and she was the top sophomore in basketball in the Arlington School District. She made first team All-City and is competing this summer in the Junior Nationals in Dallas. She has a bright future in athletics and I'm just as proud of her for her academic achievements."

The Burris' oldest son, Djemal, is 12 and they also have twin boys, nine-year-old Ramon and Damon, and a six-year-old son, B.J.

Engel's Record 17-Hit Streak Fit To Be Tied

By MIKE SHERMAN

Todd Schaefer recently tied Oklahoman Ed Engel's 1934 national high school baseball record with 17 straight hits, but the Colorado teenager couldn't match the drama of Engel's accomplishment.

Schaefer, a catcher at University High School in Greeley, collected his hits in the first seven games of the 1987 season. Engel's record-breaking tear sparked unheralded Weatherford to the 1934 state title.

Engel, a former teacher and coach who died in 1985 at age 71, was a switch hitter. After popping out on his first at-bat of the '34 state tournament, he switched to the left side and proceeded to bang out 17 consecutive hits, including four home runs. The only thing that stopped his streak was the end of the tournament.

Yet, Engel wasn't Weatherford's only star that season. Eagle's pitcher Carl Nikkel struck out 21 batters, which established a record for a nine-inning game, in a 7-0 state final victory over Harrah. That record has been eclipsed several times.

Engel later played at Southwestern. After coaching stints at Arapaho, Hinton and Elk City, he returned to Weatherford, where he retired in 1974.

"Ed was proud of that record and he was proud of the state championship," said Myrtle Engle, his widow. "They got a little trophy about the size of a coffee cup, but Ed kept it all of these years. I think it's still around here somewhere."

1987 SOUTHWESTERN Oklahoma State University Football Team

Basketball Teams Ready for 1987-88

Southwestern Oklahoma State University men's and women's basketball teams will be gunning for another successful year in 1987-88.

For the women, it will be difficult to repeat what they did in 1986-87 as the Lady Bulldogs won a national championship--Southwestern's fourth national title in the decade of the 1980's. The Lady Bulldogs also won the first-ever Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference (OIC) women's basketball championship. The Lady Bulldogs finished the year with a glittering 30-2 record.

For the men, 1986-87 was also a banner year as the Bulldogs won the OIC title and advanced to the semifinals of the NAIA District Nine playoffs. The Bulldogs were 5-6 at one time but finished the year with an 18-10 record.

What about his year's teams? Women's basketball coach John Loftin says, "From top to bottom (of the 13-member squad), we maybe have more talent than we've ever had. Usually we have six or seven outstanding players but his year we have a dozen."

As for the men, head coach

George Hauser says his team might be kinda slow coming around as he has only four returning lettermen. He welcomes 10 new faces to the Bulldog camp.

"With all the new guys, it'll just take some time," Hauser said.

Leading the women's teams will be senior Joyce Boudreaux. She was named to the First Team All-Tourney Team at last season's national tournament. Leading the Bulldogs will be Daron Harrison, Terry Long and Vince Turner who all saw plenty of playing time last season.

The Lady Bulldogs open their season on November 13 when Tarleton State comes to Weatherford. The Bulldogs open the 1987-88 season on November 9 when they travel to Langston.

PICTURED ARE several members of the Southwestern Oklahoma State University men's rodeo team as they received their national champion runnerup plaque on June 20 at the National College Finals Rodeo in Bozeman, Montana. The Weatherford university qualified both its men's and women's rodeo teams and while the men took second, the women finished fifth in the nation. Men's team members pictured are (from left): Richard Taylor, Poplarville, Mississippi; Mark Ladner, Poplarville, Mississippi; Justin Lankford, Oklahoma City; Gregg Ash, Miami; Dr. Darwin Nielsen National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association Faculty President from Utah State College; Don Mitchell, Southwestern Rodeo Coach; and Wayne Smith, Bly, Oregon.

Hogg To Manage Gotebo Branch

Jack Hogg has been promoted to manager of the Gotebo branch of the Home State Bank, president Bob Alexander announced.

Hogg replaces Leon Farris, who retired June 1. Farris has been in banking and business in Hobart for several years.

"Leon has done an excellent job for the bank and we certainly wish him the very best," Alexander said.

Hogg has been employed by the Home State since August 1982 and has worked in various departments of the institution.

He is a graduate of Granite High School and has lived in the area his entire life. His father, Dwight, is superintendent of schools in Granite.

Jack and his wife, Leesa, have a daughter, Megan.

"We're confident that Jack will continue to do a good job for the bank in his new position," Alexander said.
