BULLDOG

'A Hill Is to Climb'

SOUTHWESTERN STATE COLLEGE
Weatherford, Oklahoma

'Going to the Hill'

That expression is typical of the people of Weatherford, Okla., when referring to Southwestern State College, located on the highest geographical point in this largely agricultural community. A traveler approaching Weatherford immediately can judge his distance from the town when he sights The Hill, for a view of campus buildings is visible for miles.

Like a mountain, "A Hill is to climb." And in the process, students here encounter a number of obstacles, interesting experiences and refreshing rest stops along the way—all of it part of the educational process.

Climbing means progressing, and here progress is as commonplace as the Oklahoma wind that sweeps The Hill. During 1967-68, a number of records were broken: enrollment of over 4,500 students, 24 new teachers (214 staff total), 51 subjects added to the curriculum and, especially impressive, a building program costing $4,505,000. This year saw the opening of a new library that eventually may house 200,000 volumes and initial steps in construction of a high rise dormitory, swimming pool (now completed), and new classroom building.

But statistics and figures fail to tell the whole story. The heart of any school is its students and faculty. Southwestern has the reputation of being a friendly place—large enough to offer a varied program, yet small enough to afford students personal contact with and consideration by teachers and administrators.

Across the miles of grain fields can be seen evidence of the struggle for growth—an effort that blends the serenity of the old with the energetic spirit of the new.

The new library effectively contrasts with the old one in background (above).

College Offers Varied Curricula

A progressive institution never ceases to strive for educational excellence. Recent additions to the academic program and plant here and those planned for the future are, in part, responsible for students having opportunities to receive the best at The Hill.

The new library (right) offers thousands of volumes, including bound periodicals, for study and research, and the collection increases monthly by 575.

Additions will be made to the Pharmacy Building, and the Old Library is being remodeled for classrooms.

The Division of Mathematics and Physical Sciences has received over $1,000,000 in grants. Several other departments, particularly biology, have acquired grants and awards.

The Music and Speech Departments have produced outstanding plays and operas this year.

Indeed, Southwestern has something for everyone, and The Hill is symbolic of the college's academic and extra-curricular standing—"on top!"

The Music Department produced the opera "Lowland Sea" in November. Students (left) experiment in a well-equipped laboratory.

Something for All

Studies (below) are the chief student occupations, of course.

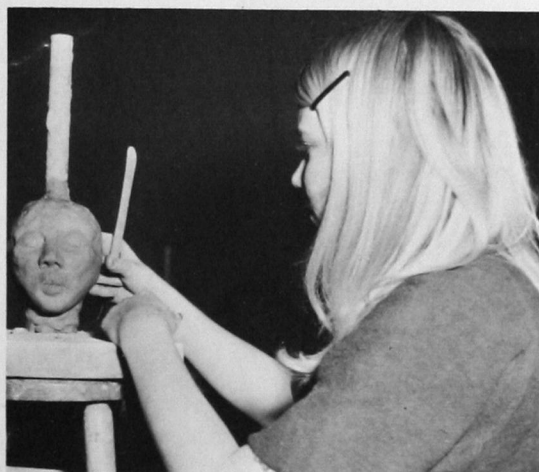

Music students rehearse under the direction of Dr. Merle Taff.

Publications staff members work to meet deadlines for an outstanding newspaper and yearbook.

Art students (left) gain knowledge of ceramics, sculpture and graphic design, besides painting and drawing.

Deborah Jean Drennan, Mountain View freshman, (far right) is the 1968 Miss Southwestern, a coveted title here.

Activities Provide Fun, Relaxation

But it isn't all work. A Senate-sponsored dance, queen and beauty pageants, a dip in the new $241,000 swimming pool, a coffee break in the Student Union or simply a stroll across campus with your favorite person—all afford refreshing interludes in the daily routine.

The Lettermen (above and right) provided professional entertainment on campus this year. (Far right) Backstage at a beauty contest.

And More Diversity

'Dogs Excel in Sports

Head Coach Otis Delaporte (below) looks worried during a crucial game.

Southwestern enhanced its position as one of the outstanding sports competitors in the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference, placing no worse than third in four major sports. The Bulldogs lost only two games in football by a total of eight points and finished third behind Southeastern and East Central. Five 'Dogs made the all-league team; fullback Gene Dillman received all-American mention. The basketball team had a rather awkward start as they lost seven of the first 12 games, but the Bulldogs battled back to gain a spot in the NAIA playoffs and finished with an 18-11 record. As of late April, the baseballers were within striking distance of first place with an 8-2 record. In track the big name was Ron Coleman, who had the second best long jump mark in the NAIA last spring.

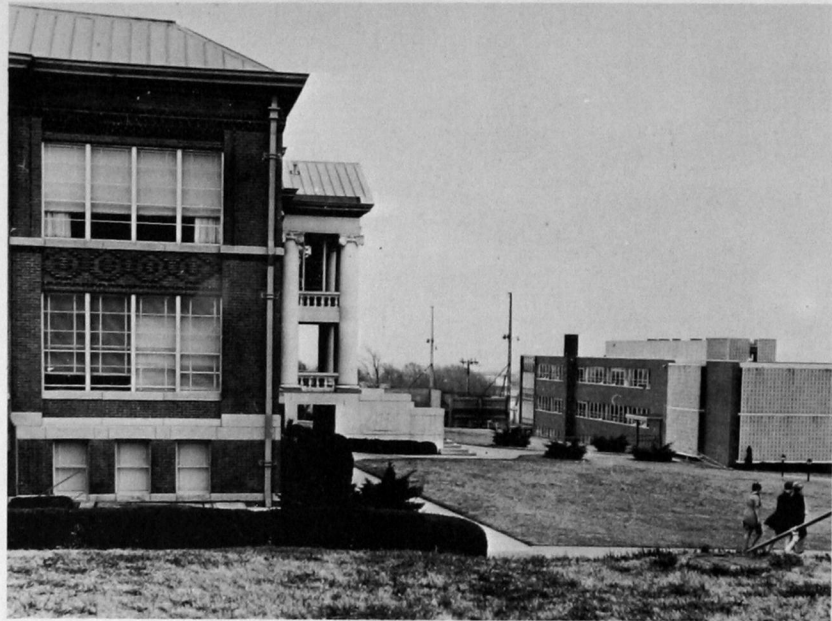

A new high rise dormitory (right) will be completed by fall of 1968.

A growth in U.S. population coupled with an increasing desire among young people for an education inevitably requires more and better facilities of all types. Southwestern excels in this area: five buildings constructed in the past 10 years. The Science Building in the foreground (right), oldest on campus, seems to overshadow the new Chemistry, Pharmacy and Physics Building in the background. The Memorial Student Center (below) was built in 1956, and three additions have been made to the original structure.

Construction Indicates Progress

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Governor Dewey F. Bartlett

Dear Students:

Receiving a college degree is one of the most significant achievements of a young adult's life. I congratulate the seniors of Southwestern State College as they approach the realization of this accomplishment, and I send my best wishes to the undergraduates as they pursue this goal.

Oklahoma awaits your energy and ideas. In return Oklahoma offers you unlimited opportunities.

Our state has made spectacular advances in just 60 years of statehood, and we have just begun! The possibilities for growth and development have never been better, and the need for young minds and spirits has never been more pronounced.

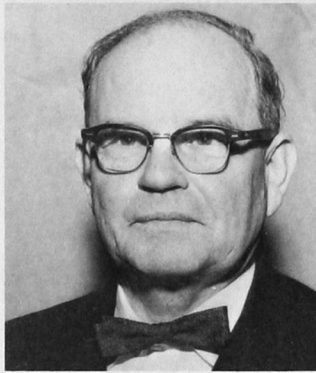

Oklahoma is eager to share this future with you.

Sincerely,
Dewey F. Bartlett
GOVERNOR

President and Mrs. Al Harris

In the years ahead this yearbook will provide moments of nostalgia as you leaf through it and recall cherished activities and friendships of college days. May it also serve as a reminder that education is a continuing process—that self-education may be pursued a lifetime. As you perfect your ability to analyze, to interpret, to deal with implications, to make sound judgments, you will learn to make the fullest use of your talents to become a more effective member of society.

CAMPUS LIFE

Freshman Follies Queen

Miss Connie Tarrant, Hinton freshman majoring in Elementary Education, was awarded Freshman Follies Queen at the annual Freshman Follies.

Campus Carnival

A new Student Senate sponsored activity, a campus carnival, was added to the campus activities list this year.

Building and preparing booths on the tennis court was the beginning. All organizations represented at Southwestern had an opportunity to participate.

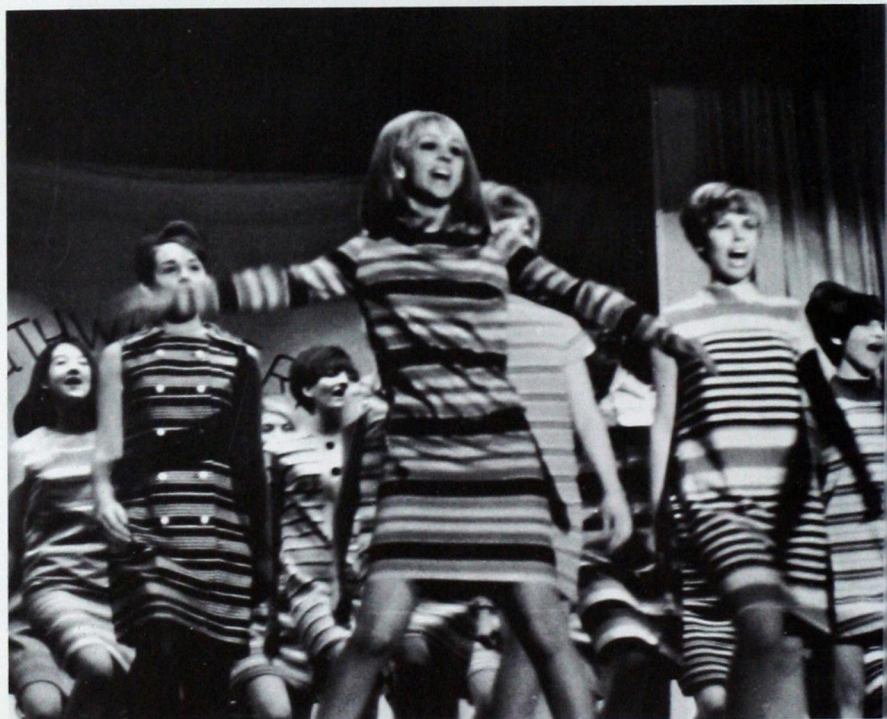

A large crowd and a pie throwing contest make up the carnival theme.

Gene Fuchs (below) plays drums for the "Shanks," a popular group on campus, at the carnival dance held on the tennis court.

"Potpourri" Theme of All-School Follies

Individual winners of the Follies were Darrel Goss, Gerry Stolz, and Larry Ralph

Winners of the non-social division was the Main Street Four.

Sigma Kappa sorority repeated as winner of the traveling trophy for the second year.

All-School Follies, with a theme of "Potpourri" was presented in the auditorium April 4-5.

Consisting of 18 acts, the Follies lasted about two-and-one-half hours body days.

Co-directing the Follies were Gloria Haynes and Olan Bourland.

"A Far Country"

"A Far Country," under the direction of Irwin Bingham, was presented May 2-3 as the third all-school play. Written by Henry Denker, the production is centered around Sigmund Freud. The setting is the office and anteroom of Sigmund Freud's modest flat in Vienna, where he has lived and worked for more than forty years. Cast members included Larry Greer, Pat Coleman, Mark Gimlin, David Rosenbaum, Sherry Reser, Ken Williams, Carolyn Barnes, Diane Fink, Kathy Royal and W. T. Bryan.

February Workshop Production was 'Camelot'

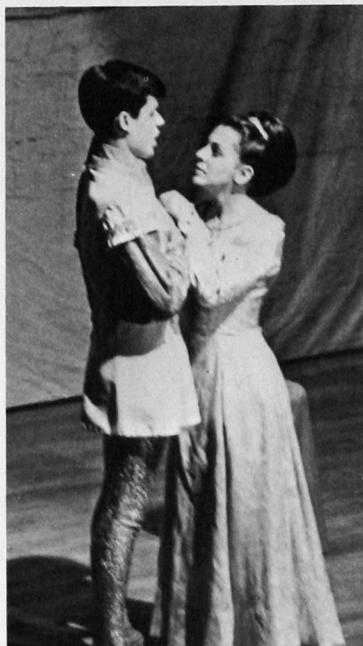

King Arthur's court came to Southwestern, February 22-23, with the presentation of the musical "Camelot."

"Camelot," taken from the Arthurian legends, was a story of love and chivalry. The musical contained such well-known songs as "Camelot" and "If Ever I Would Leave You."

The plot revolved around the love triangle of Arthur-Guenevere-Lancelot, and action included creation of the Round Table, the jousts, attempts to dishonor the king, and declaration of a war that is never fought.

Sponsored by the Southwestern Opera Workshop, the all-school production involved players and workers from all departments on the Southwestern campus.

Director of the production was Charles Chapman, music instructor.

"All Because of Agatha"

"All Because of Agatha" was a highly imaginative play presented November 8-9 by students under the direction of Damarise Kitch, associate professor of drama. The story concerns an old house which is invaded each year by a witch named Agatha Forbes. The cast included Andy Ryan, Gary Hamburger, Sherry Wilson, Susan Smith and Judee Rowland. Other cast members were Doyle Greteman, Sherry Reser, Cynthia Massey, Larry Greer, Betty Hatcher, Myra Mason and Gary Stalcup.

"A Clearing in the Woods"

"A Clearing in the Woods," under the direction of Delenna Rogers, was presented December 6-7 as the second all-school play. Written by Arthur Laurents, the production is based around the psychological disturbance of the 30-year-old Virginia, who returns to her home to find a "clearing in the woods"—a peace in the midst of anguish. Cast members included Mary Kay Malloy, Diane Fink, Vonnie Alger, Betty Wright, Mike Lewis, Larry Greer, David Webb, Kathleen Moses, Pat Talley and Gaylon Hayes.

The Lettermen

The Lettermen, popular singing trio, was the Senate sponsored entertainment for first semester. The trio consists of Bob Engeman, Jim Pike, and Tony Butala.

The group was welcomed singing favorite hits such as "The Impossible Dream," "Born Free," "Portrait of My Love," "Cherish," and "Going Out of My Head," which is a new release for the Lettermen.

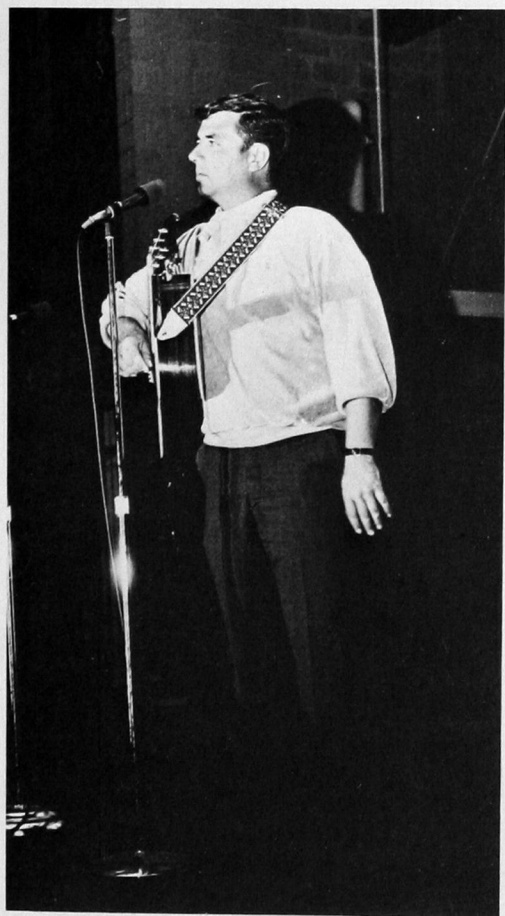

The trio was formed in 1961, and since that time have entertained at many colleges and universities. The Lettermen are honorary members of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

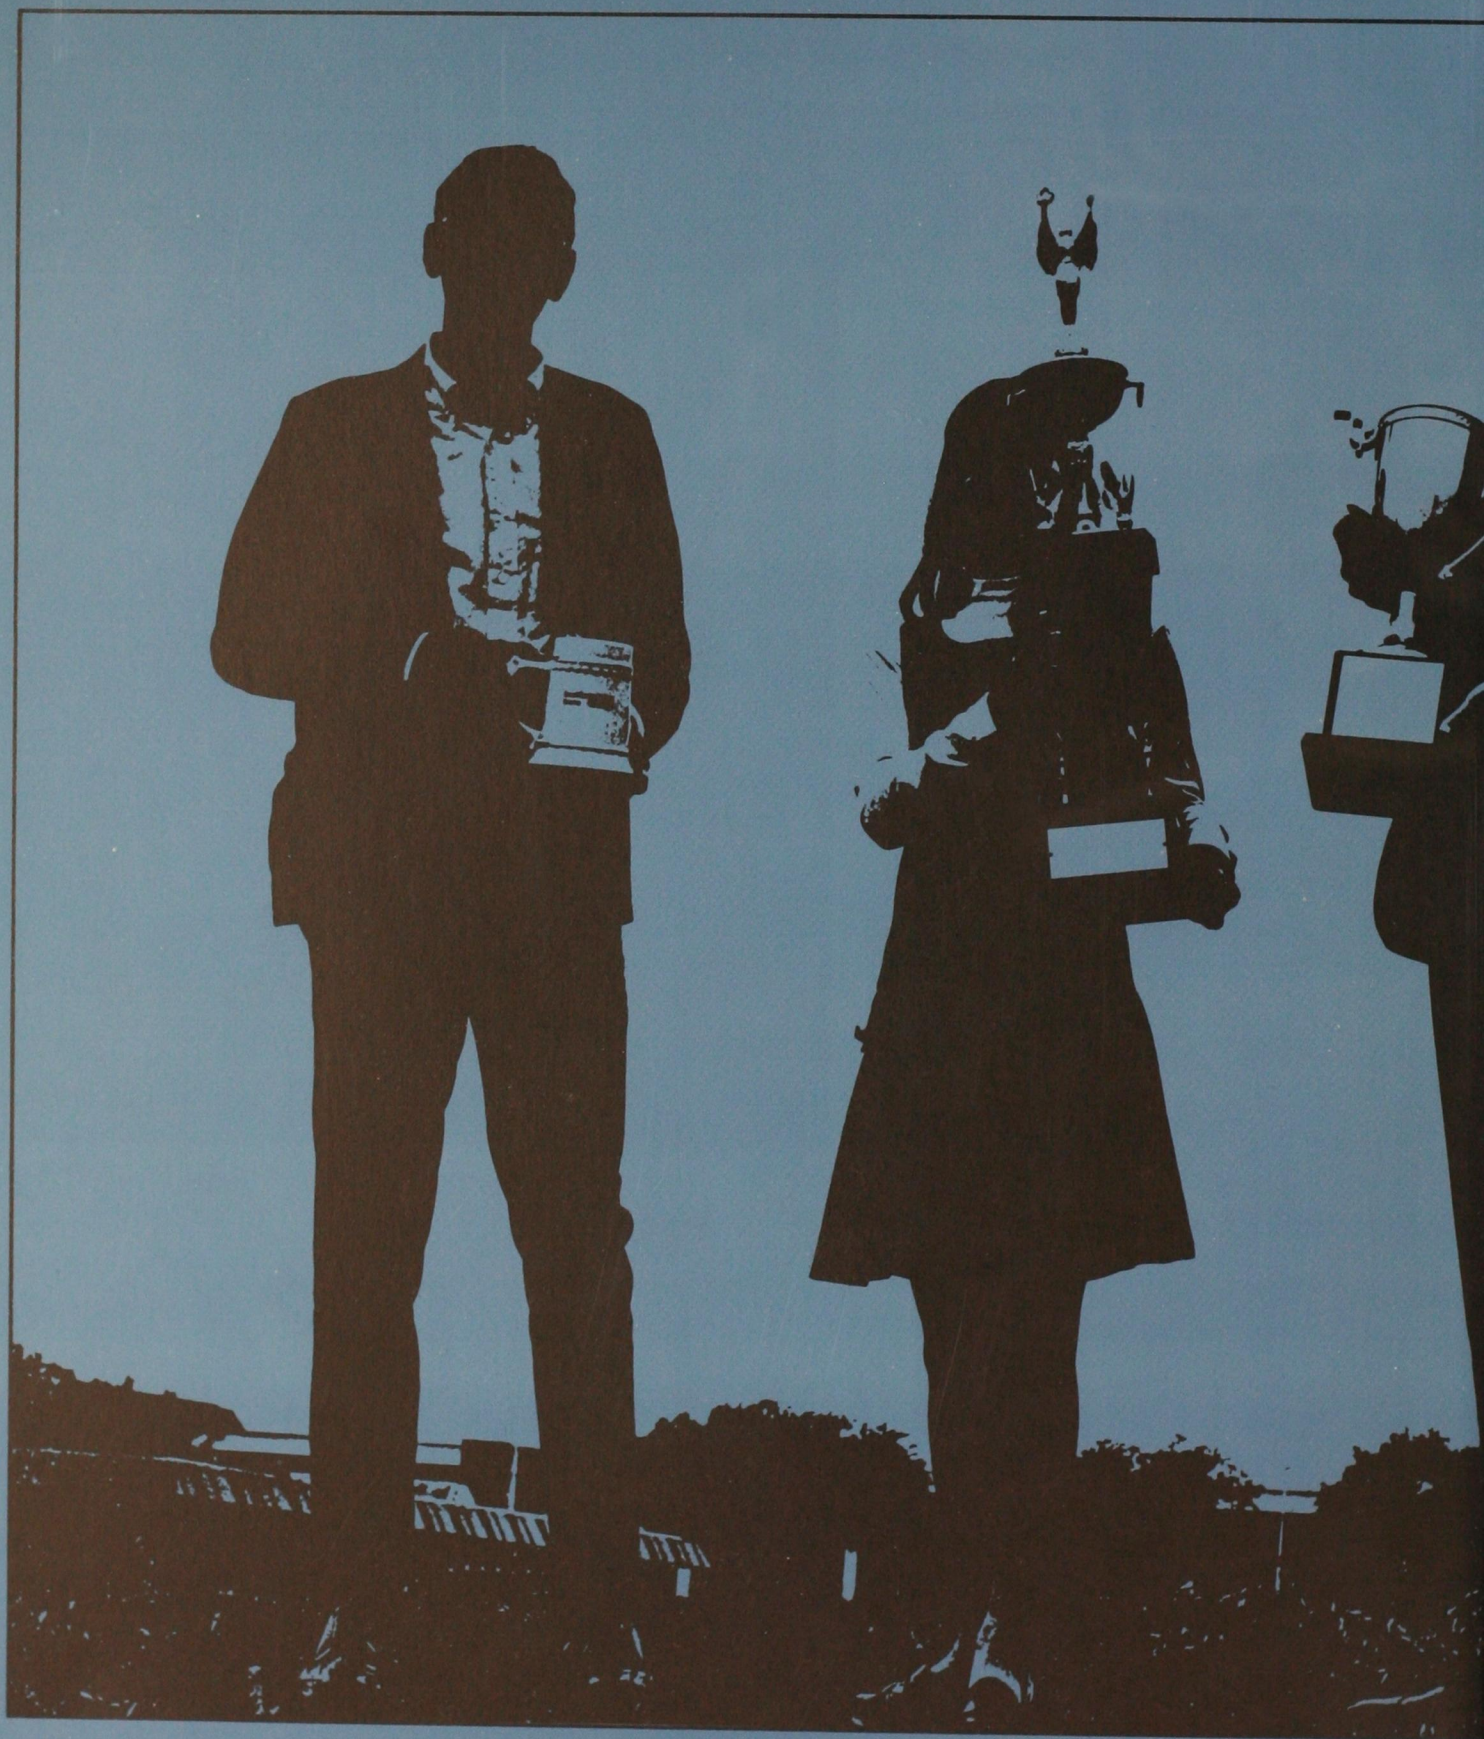

The Pozo Seco Singers, a folk rock group, were selected as the second semester "big name" entertainment on campus. The trio consists of Susan Taylor, Donnie Williams, and Lofton Kline. The two young men write most of their music. "I Can Make It with You Baby" their biggest hit and other modern classics were presented. Roger Clark, traveling emcee and comedian with the group, entertained during part of the performance.

HONORS

The eight hopefuls for the 1968 yearbook queen title were Patricia Everett, Sheila Stevens, Kathy Loftis, Sandie Parker, Kaye Kelsay, Judy Watson, Paula Laufer and Carolyn Rhoades.

Yearbook Queen

Nominated by the O Club, Judy was selected over seven other candidates by students holding receipts for 1968 annuals.

A friend of Judy's congratulates her moments after being chosen Yearbook Queen.

Homecoming Queen

Shelia Willis was chosen 1967 Homecoming Queen, October 14, by a vote of the student body.

Organizations and clubs nominated 25 girls for the title.

The semi-finalists included Mariene Claussen, Sherry Haught, Jo Jo Ross and Judy Watson.

Shelia, a 20-year-old junior from Mountain Park, majoring in psychology, was announced the new queen during an assembly on Friday before the homecoming parade on Saturday.

Deborah Drennan, 18-year-old Mountain View freshman, reigns as the 1968 Miss Southwestern.

Deborah was nominated by the Baptist Student Union. Her campus activities include director of the freshman council of BSU and membership in the Student Education Association.

Sherry Elliott, Canute sophomore, was first runner-up and won the swim suit and evening gown competition. Donna Patterson, Woodward freshman, won the talent competition. Fourth runner-up was Melva Kimble, Hydro junior, and Gerry Stolz, Kingfisher senior, was fifth runner-up. Melva Kimble and Lana Allen, Walters junior, tied for the title of Miss Congeniality, selected by a vote of fellow contestants.

A crown, a trophy and a bouquet of flowers—all for Miss Southwestern—Deborah Drennan.

Who's Who at Southwestern

Thirty-five seniors were selected to appear in the 1967 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities". Nomination for the honor was based on scholarship, character, leadership, and contribution to the college.

Nominees from each department were screened by a faculty committee. Those judged best qualified appeared in the annual publication with top students from colleges and universities throughout the nation.

Fifteen Southwestern students were presented Duke awards May 8 at an assembly in the college gym.

Each year the white and gold mug is presented to outstanding men and women in each class and six departments of the college. The award is named for a Brindle bulldog, the Southwestern mascot of the 1920's. Other awards and trophies are also presented at the assembly.

Charles Holleyman, superintendent of schools, Mustang, was guest speaker at the assembly. Music was provided by the Southwestern Stage Band under the direction of Harlon Lamkin.

Awards Assembly

Honors 23

The 1968 BULLDOG has meant many things to the staff, late nights, early morning, embarrassing situations, hard work, a pay check every month, and a decent cup of coffee. It has also meant a decrease from eight original staff members to a staff of three plus one recruit.

Many people have played an important part in the production of this book. To them the 1968 staff expresses gratitude, and in some places, pleas for forgiveness. A special thanks goes to Leon Moore for the pictures he supplied that the staff missed.

Chapbook

"The Chapbook," which is sponsored by the Division of Language Arts, is an annual collection of creative work—both literary and artistic—of members of the Southwestern College community. Its name derives from the chapbooks of England, penny pamphlets peddled around the countryside, concerning any of a thousand subjects of sure popular appeal: lurid crimes, recent songs, cures for the gout, hints from Heloisian ancestors, etc.

Alpha Psi Omega

The Gamma Chi chapter of Alpha Psi Omega was organized on the Southwestern Campus in April of 1932 with six charter members. The chapter has grown to a present membership of 12 and 20 pledges. Alpha Psi Omega is a National honorary dramatic fraternity. Membership in the organization is gained by participation in aspects of dramatics.

Spearheading the activities of this organization this year was Judee Rowland, president; Patrick Maguire, vice-president; Susan Smith, secretary-treasurer and Carolyn Moore, historian. Faculty advisors of the group were Damarise Kitch and Delenna Rogers.

After several weeks of work and discussions, Southwestern women students re-activated the Association of Women Students.

AWS is a policy recommending board to the Dean of Women's office. Its main purpose is to give the women students at Southwestern a voice on policies concerning them and their activities.

Three branches make up the Association of Women Students—the legislative, executive and judicial branches.

Two activities sponsored by this organization were "penny-night" and "girl talk" sessions.

Three Southwestern AWS members attended the National Convention of AWS in April.

Spanish Club

In the fall of 1964, the Spanish Club was part of the Language Club. Then in 1965 it became a separate unit and acquired the name "Sombreros Y Mantillas". The two principal activities the club sponsored this year were a get-acquainted party in October and a Spring Banquet in April.

Grace Martinez, instructor of language arts was sponsor of the club this year. Officers were Leon Estes, president; Dianna K. Dresser, vice-president; Elizabeth Wilson, secretary-treasurer; Donna Brown, reporter and Elizabeth Louise Wilson, sweetheart.

Wesley Foundation

Southwestern's Wesley Foundation was established in 1932 under the direction of the Rev. H. F. Patton, who was then the pastor of the local Methodist church. In 1962 they moved into the Wesley Foundation building on North Seventh Street.

This year's activities included a hayride, barn dance, spring banquet, picnic, revival and retreat.

Officers for the year were David Battles, president; Jasper Golden and Dean Smith, co-vice-president; Karen Lewallen, secretary; Moody Allen, treasurer; Bill Gouldy, song leader; Carolyn Hicks and Betty Wilson, co-historians; Carolyn Caples and Susan Cabines, co-publicity chairmen; Robert Barnett, Methodist Student Movement delegate; Sherry Long and Ray Umber, Inter-Church Council representatives and Joe Law, pianist.

The Wesley Foundation Building located on North Seventh Street in Weatherford.

WRA

Women's Recreational Association first originated in 1907 with the ladies basketball team known as the "Mighty Six." In 1914 it became the Girls Physical Culture Club. It received its present name in 1955. The purpose of WRA is to promote friendship among college women while participating in various sports including volleyball, basketball, softball, and badminton. This year the WRA sponsored an "Ugly Man" contest and played the faculty in a basketball game. Some of the members were chosen to represent SWSC in playday contests at other colleges in the state.

Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity was organized in 1962, and since that time has been a very active organization on campus.

In sports the fraternity was active in both football and basketball. Winning the honors of Intramural Football Championship and Organizational League Championship established them as having much athletic ability.

The fraternity also sponsored their annual Toys for Tots campaign at Christmas for needy children. The group elected Miss Lawanna Penner as their queen. Sponsors are Jerry Church and Richard Craven. Officers are John Wood, Pres.; Murry Camp, V.P. of Membership; Carrol Wheat, V.P. of Scholarship; and Roy Henson, V.P. of Finance.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Charter members of Tau Kappa Epsilon since 1956, this group is the oldest fraternal organization on campus. They are also credited as being the only international fraternity on campus and the largest men's social organization in the world. The TKE's homecoming float won first in their division last year. Sherry Elliott, Canute sophomore, reigns as sweetheart.

Officers of Tau Kappa Epsilon this year were Ron Liles, president; Mike McCutchin, vice-president; Bob Parr, Treasurer; Bill Dyson, secretary; Randy Willis, chaplain; Gordon Robertson, Sergeant-at-Arms; Arnold Kliewer, Historian and Bill Poteet, pledge trainer. # Football

As a result of their explosive offense and destructive defense, the Bulldogs completed the 1967 season with an 8-2 overall performance and a 5-2 conference record to finish third in the hard-nosed Collegiate Conference.

The Bulldogs opened with a 27-20 victory over Fort Hays State College. Quarterback Mike Freeman passed to Jack Rose for the initial touchdown. On second and goal to go, Gene Dillman barreled through the line for six more points. Later, Dillman charged for another six points. Rick Broman intercepted a pass and ran it back for a touchdown. Kicking specialist Lynn Alexander added three points to the scoreboard by way of extra point attempts.

The Bulldogs suffered their first loss of the season against East Central in a game which ended 19-14. Southwestern's two touchdowns came from attacks spearheaded by Ron Coleman and Gary King. Sparking the defense, Paul Sternberger blocked a punt, and Chuck Stevens recovered a fumble. Again Alexander made good his extra point attempts.

Against the Northwestern State College Rangers, the Bulldogs handily won another victory, 17-0. The first offensive drive of the game yielded a touchdown with quarterback Freeman running around left end. Late in the third quarter, Alexander kicked an amazing 52-yard field goal, making the score 10-0. A key play was made when Benjie Arnold intercepted a pass that enabled Charles Randle to dash around right end for the score. Both of Alexander's extra point attempts were good.

Southwestern turned two pass interceptions into a 13-6 victory over arch-rival Central State. A pass interception by Broman on the Broncho 22-yard line set up a series of plays in which Dillman moved to pay-dirt territory. Alexander's kick was good. The second Bulldog touchdown came on a deflected pass which Rudy Thompkins recovered and returned to the Broncho end zone.

The Bulldogs capitalized on four intercepted passes, two blocked punts, and the playing of reserves to bury Northeastern's Redmen 42-7. The first half saw Eugene McGlory intercept a pass, Stevens and Arnold block punts, Coleman and Dillman running for touchdowns, and quarterback John Lombard complete his first college pass to Bob Boone for a touchdown. The second half's heroes were quarterback Alexander, who ran for a touchdown, King the game's leading rusher, and Teddy Bentz, who made the last touchdown. Alexander completed all but one of his extra point attempts.

Southwestern's second defeat of the season came at the hands of Southeastern State College, 7-3. The Bulldogs' tally came on a field goal by Alexander. Although the offense was down, the defense was at its mightiest. Defensive stars were Bill Henly, Jesse Eakers, Lee Brower and Stevens.

Playing Panhandle State College, the Bulldogs won 27-13. Randle and Freeman scored once while McGlory chalked up two. Defensive standout was Broman, who intercepted an Aggie pass and thus enabled McGlory to score. Alexander completed three of his extra point attempts.

The Bulldogs bopped Eastern New Mexico, 20-0. Touchdowns came from Dillman, Bentz and Freeman. Henly showed what a linebacker is made of as he led the defense. Alexander missed one extra point attempt.

In a game called because of a fight on the football field with 6:40 left in the fourth quarter, Southwestern defeated Langston, 45-7. Bulldog stars were George Slaczka, Freeman, McGlory, Bailey and Dillman. Alexander had the best night of his year, kicking six extra points and one field goal.

Ending their season on a victorious note, the Bulldogs defeated Tarleton State College, 24-16. Touchdowns were made by Coleman, Bailey and Freeman. Alexander completed three extra point attempts and one field goal.

All-conference fullback Gene Dillman was the statistical leader for the 1967 Bulldogs. The all-American honorable mention senior was the leading rusher and scorer, and was second in total offense. Dillman rushed 156 times for 748 yards and a 4.8 average and scored nine touchdowns for 54 points.

The leading receiver for the Bulldogs was junior end Jack

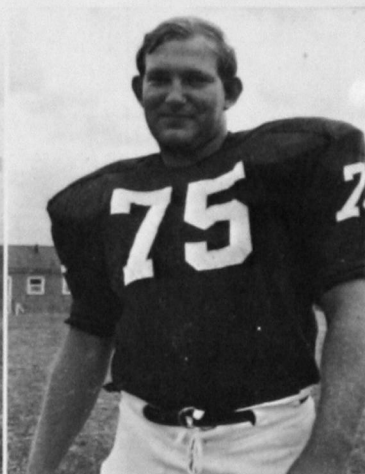

Rose who caught 39 passes for 477 yards. Rose made the first all-league team.

Kicker Lynn Alexander, who had a 52-yard field goal against Northwestern for a school record, made the all-league team.

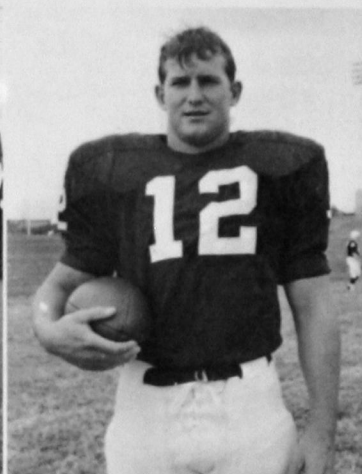

Defensive tackle George Slaczka and offensive tackle Mike Blaser also made the all-conference team.

Southwestern Baseball — 1967-'68

Cecil Devine's first year as Bulldog baseball coach had both its good and bad moments. Heading the good moments was the selection of Richard O'Hara, Gary Griffith, Ed Williams, Bennie Looper and Lonnie Allen to the All-Conference team.

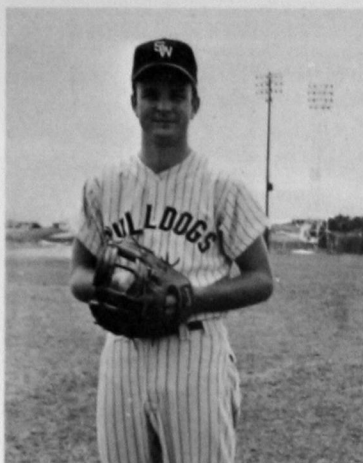

Heading the bad moments was the second place finish to Phillips in the Western Division race. Southwestern finished the season with a 13-3 league record. All three losses were at the hands of Phillips.

Richard O'Hara was the leading hitter for the Bulldogs with a .425 average, and Lonnie Allen was the top pitcher with a 7-0 record.

Southwestern Tracksters

1967-'68 track team, (standing back row): Tom Kelley, Bill Blankenship, Jimmy Keith, Jesse Eakers, Harry Monroe, Fermur Keith, Jack Rose, Rudy Thompkins, Foster Johnson, Herbert Jackson, Andy Humble, James Huet, Freddie Thomas, Gerald Garman and Lee Brower. Second Row: Ron Coleman, Mike Fight, Don Sanders, Tom Meyers, Johnny Marshall. Front Row: Richard Hudson, Clyde Rawdon, Ron Cole, Henry McBrayer, Hector Herrera, not pictured is Kent Sampson.

Ron Coleman was the big news in Bulldog track in 1968. The senior super-star led the team in scoring with 93 points, including 23 in one track meet. Coleman had the best marks in four events. His 25-2 long jump was second in the nation. He also led the team in the 100, triple jump, and javelin and ran on the 440 relay.

The Bulldogs finished third in the conference meet and won their own Western Division Championships for the first time.

Coleman and Rudy Thompkins took gold medals at the conference meet. Coleman won the broad jump and Thompkins the discus.

Coach Clint Ponder will lose only four men from the squad and will return 12 lettermen, including five point-winners in the league meet. Departing seniors include Coleman, Henry McBrayer, Jesse Eakers and Foster Johnson.

Tennis

Tennis was the "forgotten" sport on the Southwestern campus this spring. The courts were completely ignored until late in the season, when a team was hastily organized by some interested students.

The netters had some success in dual action, including a victory over Phillips.

In the conference meet at Shawnee, Leland Miller and Hossein Hozhabri made it to the second round before being eliminated. Both doubles teams were eliminated in the first round.

With renewed interest, the team will climb back into contention next spring.

JAKE BEVELHYMER

Golf

The Bulldog golf team came through with a commendable effort in the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference tournament held in Shawnee, finishing fifth.

Jake Bevelhymer fired a 79-74 (153) for fifth place in individual scoring. Jay Bill Norton (158), Steve Cain (159), Freddie Forbes (165), and Page Jacobson (165) rounded out the scoring in the championship meet.

Golf team members this year consisted of Jay Norton, Steve Cain, Freddie Forbes, Page Jacobson and Jake Bevelhymer.
