

Battle of the Genders is Tuesday and Wednesday

02.15.2008

The "Battle of The Genders" is coming this Tuesday and Wednesday, February 19-20, at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford.

The Collegiate Activities Board is sponsoring the 3rd annual event that allows single-gendered groups of four to compete against each other in hopes of winning an iPod nano for each member of their team. The public is invited to watch the battles that begin each evening at 6 p.m. in the SWOSU Wellness Center.

Event Chair Sarah Webb said teams of four will compete in such events as obstacle courses, dizzy free throws and gender-related trivia. Teams must also be willing to get dirty. Points will be calculated at the end of each day and the team with the most points at the end of the two days will take home four iPod nanos.
