

Evolution Seminar Planned Wednesday at SWOSU

02.11.2013

Dr. Joseph (Jody) Maness will present "Evolution: 153 years after the Origin of Species" this Wednesday, February 13, on the Southwestern Oklahoma State University campus.

The public is invited to the SWOSU Department of Biological Sciences seminar at 4 p.m. in Room 212 of the Old Science Building in Weatherford.

The seminar is in celebration of Charles Darwin's birth on February 12 in 1809 and his seminal contribution to the science of biology... evolution by natural selection.

Dr. Maness is chair of the Department of Biological Sciences at SWOSU and serves on the board of governors for Oklahomans for Excellence in Science Education.
