scheduled at halftime of the 2:00 p.m. Homecoming Football Game.

Dr. Leonard Campbell, SWOSU president, will present each a bronze plaque mounted on walnut. The plaques read in part: "Presented with pride for achievement of eminence in his chosen field of endeavor and for notable contributions to his community and to his nation."

Color portraits of the honorees will be hung in the Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame located in the Al Harris Library Southwestern Room.

Millie Thomas, originally from Arapaho, Oklahoma, came to Southwestern as a freshman in 1921, received her Life Teaching Certificate, and from there worked as a teacher and assistant county superintendent.

In 1928, Mrs. Thomas returned to Southwestern and in 1930 after graduation, took a job in the registrar's office. She became registrar in 1940, where she remained until her retirement in 1966.

Mrs. Thomas has remained active since her retirement, working for such organizations as the Western Plains Library Board, Senior Citizen's Club, Former Students Association, United Fund Drive, American Association of University Women, Kappa Kappa Iota, and the Federated Church. She has also served as Oklahoma State Director of the National Retired Teacher's Association and the off-campus sponsor of the Southwestern State International Student Association, which she helped create in 1963. A large number of SWOSU alumni have said, "I would never have finished my education if it hadn't been for the help and guidance of Millie Thomas."

During her tenure at Southwestern, Mrs. Thomas worked for seven presidents and between 1928, when she began as a student worker, and 1940 when she became registrar, she worked for

Help Us Sell Southwestern

"Taking Southwestern to the Public" is both the philosophy and practice of the Public Relations office at Southwestern State. This summer has seen a new staff enter the office which is now located in Oklahoma Hall on campus but will soon move into the Administration Building.

Otis Sanders has been named Director of Public Relations. Sanders was the first Director of Public Relations at Panhandle State University in Goodwell and is a graduate of Elk City High School, has a BS from Panhandle and a master's from Oklahoma University.

The Assistant Director, Charles "Bud" Elder, is originally from Purcell, Okla., and is a 1981 graduate of the University of Oklahoma with a degree in journalism. Shirley Cole, who is the office secretary, is a graduate of Texhoma High School and has her bachelor's degree in business administration from Panhandle State.

The Public Relations office has started the school year off with a bang. They have already taken informational booths to Amarillo, Tex., where they participated in a "Back to School" promotion, and the Washita, Jackson, Kiowa and Custer County Fairs. The office will also set up booths in both Quail Springs and Crossroads Malls in Oklahoma City. This year will also see Southwestern represented at the State Fair and State Teacher's Meeting.

The Public Relations office is interested in setting up alumni chapters in different areas. Amarillo, Tex., will have its first Alumni Meeting September 21 at the First National Bank of Amarillo.

Amarillo will also be the site of the Tri-State Fair parade, which will be held on September 21. "Brandy," the Southwestern State mascot, will appear in that spectacle.

Southwestern State's Office of Public Relations urges all alumni and interested friends who want to help promote, recruit or sell Southwestern to contact our office. The office also urges alumni to fill out the form located in Echoes and return it. Four editions of the newsletter are scheduled for this year.

three registrars.

Mrs. Thomas was quoted as saying in 1974, "I guess I'm happier when I'm busy, maybe one of these days I'll really retire." Apparently, Mrs. Thomas has not followed her own advice, in that she is still very active.

Harry C. Mabry is a 1916 graduate of then Southwestern State College before receiving both his L.L.B. and J.D. from Yale University.

Mabry, whose motto is "Faithful Work and Fervent Prayer," has been named to both the "Who's Who in America" and "Who's Who in the World."

Mr. Mabry's speeches have garnered national attention, appearing in Vital Speeches of the Day. He has spoken at the Southwestern State Awards Assembly in 1964 as well as its commencement in 1960.

As a poet, Mr. Mabry's work, Road to Yale was published in the Yale Law Report and was recited by Mabry as Chairman of the Class Reunion at its 50th Anniversary.

Mr. Mabry's song writing achievements include the official Southwestern State University song, "Hail, Southwestern, Hail" as well as "Back to Mexico" which was premiered in Mexico City and "Yosemite" which was premiered at Yosemite National Park in California. Mr. Mabry is a member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers as well as being a member of the Society of Authors and Composers of Music in Mexico.

In 1956, Mabry began the Mabry Forensic Award which goes to the outstanding Forensic Student at Southwestern State. The winner each year gets his/her name added to a Forensic Plaque that hangs in the President's Conference Room.

Joe Schwemin graduated from Southwestern State University in 1948 with a degree in Pharmacy and was president of Beta Tau Beta fraternity. He owned and operated his own drug stores and several non-drug businesses for 25 years.

He received the Outstanding Contributor to Pharmacy Award in 1971; Special Recognition Award in 1974 from the School of Pharmacy at SWOSU. He is also a member of the SWOSU Alumni Foundation. He received the Prestigious Pharmacy Award "Bowl of Hygeia" in 1962, presented by the National Association of Retail Druggists. He has been a member of the Oklahoma Pharmaceutical Association since 1948 and served as president in 1961-62. He has been a member of the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy since 1964 and served as president in 1973-74. He is also a member of the American Pharmaceutical Association and served as president of the Midwest Drug Conference in 1963.

Joe is chairman of the Controlled Dangerous Substances-Diversion Investigation Unit for the State of Oklahoma Policy Board. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs; a member of several drug committees for the State Board of Health, Department of Mental Health, and Department of Public Safety.

He is a member of the Governors Mini-Cabinet; representative to several National Associations of Board of Pharmacy, and chairman of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy for District 6.

Besides his professional contributions, Joe is a former president of the Tulsa Lions Club, former District Governor of Lions International, president of the West of Main Chamber of Commerce in Tulsa, and named to Who's Who in America. He served in World War II as a United States Marine.

Joe is a native of Ponca City. He and his wife, Louise, live in Oklahoma City. Joe is the father of five children.

SPEECH THEATER BEGINS OCTOBER 7

The 1981-82 Speech-Theatre season at Southwestern State University begins on October 7 with Murray Schisgal's "All Over Town." The production, which is to be directed by Jack Shaw, is described as a "romantic" farce. The play is said to make outrageous fun of today's society and its ills. The farce will run through October 10.

"A presentation for entertainment and study" is being used to describe the season's second show, "The Crucible" by Arthur Miller. The play, which is set in Salem, Mass., in 1662, centers on the famous witchcraft trials of that era. The play is famous in that it is often paralleled with the McCarthy hearings on communism in the 1950's. Director Claude Kezer has announced that study guides would be sent out to area schools and groups that wish to participate. All inquiries should be sent to him in care of the Language Arts Dept., SWSU, Weatherford, Okla. 73096. The play runs November 4-7.

Irving Berlin's most successful Broadway musical tells the story of two of the world's greatest sharp-shooters. Annie Oakley and Frank Butler will take the stage February 3-6 when "Annie Get Your Gun" comes to Southwestern. The musical-comedy has many of Berlin's most famous songs, including "There's No Business Like Show Business."

"Doin' What Comes Nat'rally" and "I Got The Sun in The Mornin'." The play will be directed by Charles Chapman and Claude Kezer.

Brian Clark's "Whose Life Is It Anyway" will close the Major Theatre production list on April 21-24. The contemporary drama deals with the debate over whether individuals should have the choice to live or die. The play was a large success in England, then Broadway, and is soon to be a major motion picture.

The Reader's Theatre at Southwestern will present a twin bill, "The Verger" by W. Somerset Maugham and "The Pedestrian" by science fiction great Ray Bradbury. Both of these productions will be directed by George Hejna, and will be presented on April 29.

On December 9-12 and April 1-3, students will take the director's chair. The first production will be several One-Acts directed by students in the Stage Direction class, and the second will be directed by Alpha Psi Omega, the dramatic fraternity.

Also on the agenda for the season is a High School Speech Tournament, an Interim Theatre Workshop, and a Children's Theatre during the summer.

All theatre performances are scheduled at 8 p.m., and tickets may be obtained at the door for them.

Rick Shelby Appointed Director of AMOA

Richard D. (Rick) Shelby, graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University and a 1980 member of the Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame, has been named as a director of the newly-formed Association Mineral Owners of America. Shelby was appointed Deputy Director of Personnel for the White House following President Reagan's inauguration. In that position, Shelby was responsible for screening and recommending applicants for presidential appointments to government boards and commissions. He recently resigned his White House position to return to Oklahoma.

Rick Shelby has been active in politics at various levels since being awarded his bachelor of science degree in psychology and political science in 1970.

He served as state chairman of the Oklahoma Republican Party from 1977 to 1979 after being executive director of the Oklahoma President Ford Committee in 1976.

During his career Shelby also has been a field representative for the late U.S. Senator Dewey Bartlett, administrative assistant to the Oklahoma Republican state chairman and field director for the State Republican Committee.

He had been with the Reagan campaign since early last year.

The native of Chickasha was an outstanding student at Southwestern, where as a senior he was elected Student Senate president and governor of the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Legislature.

He received the Outstanding Student Leader, Best Citizen and Outstanding Leadership Awards and was named for listing in the publication Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Shelby also is listed in Who's Who in American Politics, Outstanding Young Men of America, Personalities of the South, Community Leaders and Noteworthy Americans Who's Who in Community Service and Men of Achievement.

He was a founder and the first president of Phi Delta Theta's Gamma chapter, which was organized on the SWOSU campus in 1970 and was formally colonized and sanctioned nationally a year later.

A past president of the Southwestern Alumni Association, he has been state coordinator for the Young Oklahomans for State Constitutional Reform and a member of the Oklahoma Academy for Determination of State Goals, Academy of Political Science, American Council of Young Political Leaders, International Platform Association, Lions International and Jaycees.

He is a captain in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Shelby and his wife, Susan, live in Oklahoma City.

Pat Irwin Chief Justice

Oklahoma Supreme Court Justice Pat Irwin was elected by his colleagues to serve a two-year term as chief justice beginning last Jan. 1.

Irwin had been serving as vice chief justice. He was elected to the court in 1958.

Chief Justice Robert E. Lavender said the justices also elected Justice Don Barnes to serve as vice chief justice beginning last January.

Irwin was born in Leedey and attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University from 1939 to 1941 before enlisting in the U.S. Marine Corps. He served four years during World War II. He later attended the University of Oklahoma and received his law degree in 1949.

Irwin served as county attorney in Dewey County and was elected to the state Senate in 1950, serving a four-year term. He was named secretary of the School Land Commission, a position he held until 1958, when he was elected to the Supreme Court.

Rev. Manning Speaker

Rev. Doug Manning, minister of the First Baptist Church in Hereford, Tex., was the guest speaker for the "Second Tillman County Historical Society Fall Banquet" last November in Prather Brown Center. Rev. Manning was a 1950 graduate of Frederick High School.

He attended Hardin Simons University, Oklahoma Baptist University, and Southwestern Oklahoma State University. During his senior year he won the State Senior Oratorical Contest.

Rev. Manning's first ministry was the Loveland Baptist Church. For two years he served as minister at Custer

City and seven years at Weatherford. Later he served as minister of the Southern Hills Baptist Church at Tulsa for a period of 10 years.

The author of two books entitled "Don't Take My Grief Away from Me" and "A Preacher Talks About Funerals," Rev. Manning has also written a number of articles in the field of personal growth, marital problems, preparation for marriage and self worth.

Rev. Manning married the former Barbara Maddox, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Maddox of Tipton and the late J. M. Maddox. The couple has three married daughters, Mrs. Linda Sue Wells of Oklahoma City; Mrs. Cindy Jones, Amarillo, Tex., and Mrs. Kevin Burns of Edmond; also Sandra Manning, a student at Central State University.

Hostetter Celebrates 81st birthday

Claude L. Hostetter, Clinton High School football, track, and basketball coach from 1925 through 1939, has marked his 81st birthday.

From his home on South 8th Street, Hostetter still keeps a close eye on the team he guided for 13 years and is optimistic about the Red Tornadoes' chances this year.

Hostetter was born at Foss, some 12 miles west of Clinton. He played football, baseball and basketball at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, and through that, drifted into coaching.

"Before I graduated I had schools wanting me to coach because they had seen me play," Hostetter said. He started out coaching a year in Hydro, then two years in Mangum, before taking the Clinton post in 1925. Coaching was different then from now, Hostetter said. Back in the 20s and 30s it was pretty much a one-man show. "I think you've got better coaching now," he said. "Back when I was coaching it was a one-man coaching job. Now you've got four or five coaches, who give the boys better training. They know what they are doing."

The lack of a coaching staff doesn't seem to have slowed the team. The Red Tornadoes knew some good seasons under Coach Hostetter: a 6-1 conference record in 1927; seven shutouts in 1928, with Clinton not giving up a point until the season's fifth game; an 8-1 conference record in 1930, and an 8-0-1 record in 1932.

Hostetter helped a lot of boys become men during his tenure as coach. But in retrospect, he chose Gordon "Cake" Gore, who played fullback from 1930 to 1932, as the Red Tornadoes' all-time great. Gore made the All-Conference team in 1931, played for Southwestern after graduation, and went on to play professional football in California.

Dr. Jim L. Burke

Dr. Jim L. Burke, D.O., has joined the Thomas Medical-Surgical Clinic. He is associated with Dr. Geron Meeks and Dr. Robert Bush at the Thomas facility.

Dr. Burke has served as a general medical officer in the U.S. Navy at the Marine Corp Air Station at Yuma, Ariz., and in part-time family practice and industrial medicine at West Bluff Medical Clinic of Yuma.

Both Dr. Burke and his wife, Loyce, are Washita County natives. Dr. Burke is a 1961 graduate of Cordell High School. His wife is a 1963 graduate of Dill City High School. Both attended and received degrees from Southwestern Oklahoma State University. Dr. Burke received his master's degree in 1971 from Southwestern and his Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree in 1976 from Kansas City College of Medicine. He did his internship at Hillcrest Osteopathic Hospital in Oklahoma City. He is the son of Viola Burke of Cordell and the late E. M. Burke.

Maxine Sewell Retires

To have taught school 38 years is a distinction. But to have served the entire tenure in one school system is even a greater one. Mrs. Maxine Sewell has retired from the Cordell school system. Born and reared in Cordell, Mrs. Sewell is a Cordell High School graduate as well.

For 10 years Mrs. Sewell taught at the Cordell Junior High. She taught two sections of eighth grade home economics and three sections of arts and crafts. Before going to the junior high, she taught vocational home economics at Cordell High School 28 years.

Mrs. Sewell received her B.S. degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University. She was awarded Vocational and Master of Arts degrees from the University of Oklahoma.

She and her husband, Bill H., reside at 821 N. College. He is a foreman for Sewell Brothers Construction.

TEACHERS OF THE YEAR

Mrs. Ruth Eskew

Mrs. Ruth Eskew, senior English teacher and yearbook advisor at Clinton High School, was honored as "Teacher of the Year" at a dinner at the Ramada Inn in Clinton.

Selected by the teachers in the Clinton school system, Mrs. Eskew was presented an award by Principal Don Scales, flowers and an engraved silver dish. Her selection as teacher of the year entitles her to compete for the title of Oklahoma Teacher of the Year.

Dr. Fred Janzen of Southwestern Oklahoma State University was the keynote speaker at the dinner. Seventy-one people attended the dinner, including Mrs. Eskew's special guests, her daughters and son-in-law from Oklahoma City, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Black and Mrs. Rick Powell.

Mrs. Eskew has 19½ years teaching experience at Clinton High School, West High School in Wichita, Kan., and Ponca City High School.

She is a graduate of Erick High School and holds a B.A. in English and a M.T. in counseling from Southwestern.

Her husband, Bill Eskew, is principal at Clinton Junior High. Her daughter, Jan Powell, teaches computer science at Belle Isle Voc. Tech. in Oklahoma City. Another daughter, Julia Black, is a fifth grade teacher at Trinity Elementary in Oklahoma City.

Twyla Sanders

Most teachers would not do anything else but teach for a living. Those are the teachers who feel truly honored when they are named "Teacher of the Year."

Twyla Sanders is that kind of teacher. She was recently given that title by the Weatherford Association of Classroom Teachers (WACT). A tea was held in her honor at Thompson Junior High where she received a necklace that bore the inscription, "Teacher of the Year, 1980-81."

Twyla graduated from Ron High School in Harmon County. She attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University for two years, then began her long teaching career with a temporary teaching certificate. This energetic woman traveled back to SWOSU during summer vacations until she finally had a bachelor's degree. Although it was a hard and tedious climb just attending college part time, she didn't stop there. Twyla went on until she had a master's degree.

Her husband, Jack Sanders, who is now in real estate and insurance, was also a teacher. When Jack went on to become a principal and superintendent, Twyla moved along to the new school districts, teaching in Arnett, Ron High School, Lewis Hill, Gould, Vinson and Hollis.

Marilyn Clark

Marilyn Clark, 1981 Watonga Teacher of the Year, has taught almost all grades from elementary through junior high in her 12 years at Watonga. Mrs. Clark now becomes eligible for the county teacher of the year and state teacher of the year with those selections being made at the state level.

She is a graduate of Okeene High School and holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Southwestern Oklahoma State University. In addition Mrs. Clark has done post-graduate work at OSU.

Before coming to Watonga 12 years ago, she taught for one semester in Canute. Here she has taught second, third, fifth, sixth and seventh grades, as well as junior high and senior high vocal music.

She and her husband, Gene Clark, an oil and gas lease broker and owner of Merit Exploration, have two children, Christopher, a third grader, and Tiffany, a first grader.

Lillian Dahl Lookeba

Lillian Dahl, Lookeba, was selected as Caddo County Teacher of the Year. She has been an elementary teacher at Lookeba-Sickles Public Schools for 33 years. She attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University and Oklahoma University.

In her local school district she has assisted in sponsoring girls athletic trips, attended the admission gate at numerous athletic events, assisted the 4-H Club in preparation for contests and fund-raising projects.

She has been a member of the American Legion Auxiliary and Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary for many years.

Carolyn Sauer

"It's always fun for me at the end of the year to look back and see how far they've come," says Carolyn Sauer of her first-graders.

Mrs. Sauer was presented with an award as East Baton Rouge Parish's entry in the Louisiana Teacher of the Year competition.

Mrs. Sauer and her husband, Joe, came to Baton Rouge 10 years ago. He had come to get his Ph.D. in chemistry, and they decided to remain when he took a job as research chemist for Ethyl. They have a home in Cedarcrest.

Mrs. Sauer holds a B.S. in education from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, a M.Ed. in reading from LSU, and an Ed.S. certificate in administration and supervision, also from LSU. Joe is a SWOSU graduate in chemistry.

The Sauer's son, Danny, 6, attends Parkview but in another teacher's first grade. Anne Marie, 2, attends Kinder-Care.

M. A. Diel Appointed

Governor George Nigh appointed Marion A. Diel, well-known Clinton resident and former public school administrator, as District Seven Highway Commissioner.

Diel succeeds Johnny Perry of Hobart as the highway commissioner for the 11-county district in southwestern Oklahoma. Perry had been a member of the commission since January, 1979, serving out the last two years of the unexpired term of Glen Southall of Altus.

Diel is one of nine members of the Oklahoma Transportation Commission and has been appointed to an eight-year term of office.

"I'm very pleased Marion Diel has accepted this office," Governor Nigh said. "I know he has exceptional knowledge of the

WALDS NOW OWN SEARS

After viewing the world from atop a combine for several years, Doug Wald has changed his profession and way of life. He will no longer find it necessary to travel across the country following an endless trek of golden grain. He'll be at home in Weatherford taking care of business at the Sears Catalog Store.

therford taking care of business at the Sears Catalog Store.

Doug graduated from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1976 and said, "I always thought Weatherford needed a Sears store. When I heard the store was for sale, I did some checking and purchased the business."

ROOKER JOINS STAFF

LeRoy Rooker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Rooker, Canton, was appointed in January as legislative assistant to U.S. Sen. Don Nickles in his Washington office.

Rooker graduated from Canton High School in 1965 and then went to El Camino, Calif., College for two years, where he joined the Young Republicans. He graduated from SWOSU in 1969 with a degree in political science. While attending college at SWOSU he served as campus Young Republicans vice-chairman and traveled throughout southwestern Oklahoma coordinating Young Republican activities. After graduating he went to Republican state committee headquarters on a temporary assignment while Don Cagman, assistant state chairman completed a 12-week tour of duty with the Army National Guard. He was then research director for three months.

In 1972 when Bartlett was running for Senate, the Bartlett-for-U.S.-Senate-office was staffed full-time by Rooker. He was organization coordinator for Oklahoma County. In 1973 he was appointed by Sen. Bartlett as field representative for the southwestern part of the state with an office in Oklahoma City. He was transferred to Washington, D.C., in September 1975 on a one to two-year assignment as agriculture and special projects assistant.

In San Diego he coached football and wrestling, and spent his latter few years counseling the gifted. He writes, "Am now enjoying San Diego's fine weather. Say hello to Millie (Thomas) for me." Lee's address is 2255 Dryden Rd., El Cajon, Calif. 92020.

RETIREMENTS

Pete and Helene Jayroe from Laverne School System

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. (Pete and Helene) Jayroe were honored by a reception in Shackelford Hall. Members of the Laverne faculty hosted the event. On display was the hand crafted friendship quilt made by school personnel and the school board.

Coming to Laverne from Sentinel in 1960 with their two daughters, Jane and Judy, the Jayroes retired after 21 years in the Laverne school system. Pete has served as junior high principal, high school boys basketball coach, and superintendent; and Helene as fifth grade teacher as well as grade music instructor for several years.

Son of W. T. and Lottie Jayroe of Sentinel, Pete graduated from Sentinel High School and attended college at Oklahoma State University and Northwestern Oklahoma State University. He graduated from Southwestern Oklahoma State University and obtained a master's degree from Oklahoma University in administration. His teaching fields included social science, math, physical education, and driver education. Helene is a panhandle product who was born at Turpin, the daughter of Homer and Clara May Smith.

The Jayroes taught at several schools before coming to Laverne—Pete at Arapaho a short time before joining the Navy during WWII and then at Elk City, Hammon, and Sentinel, where he coached all sports and was high school principal. Helene began her career at Turpin and then taught at San Diego, Calif., as well as Elk City, Hammon, and Sentinel.

Pete played basketball at OSU, Northwestern, and his alma mater Southwestern. He also played with an All-Oklahoma squad on a goodwill tour to Mexico in 1941. He continued to play ball with San Diego Naval Training Center with such greats as Les Pugh, All-American from Kentucky, and Ike Boone, later to become a successful professional player for Detroit. Then he played with the South Pacific Regional team from Guam.

At Southwestern, one of Pete's teammates was Abe Lemmons, former head coach for the Oklahoma City University Chiefs and a friend of the Jayroes. He states in the "Oklahoma Teacher" article, "I was just a young sub-eight down the line—while Pete was a mainstringer. But even then, Pete was setting an example for a young fellow. In fact, this has been their way of life as long as I've known Pete and Helene."

Margaret Vincent 28 Years at Rush Springs

After 41 years of teaching, Mrs. Margaret Ann Vincent decided to retire. Of the 41 years, 28 were spent in Rush Springs. Before coming there, she taught at Lake Valley, Clinton, Lawton and Cooperton.

Mrs. Vincent graduated magna cum laude from Southwestern Oklahoma State University. Through the years she has kept up with developments in her teaching field by attending courses and workshops at Southwestern, USAO in Chickasha, and Oklahoma University. She was an active member of the Oklahoma Education Association, the National Education Association, and the Grady County Unit of the OED.

Max Laing, elementary principal, stressed that Mrs. Vincent was an outstanding teacher, that she was very professional, and always put the learning welfare of her students above all other considerations. He observed that it is easy to see the love and affection of both students and fellow teachers for Mrs. Vincent.

When asked of her feelings about teaching, Mrs. Vincent said, "I love children and thoroughly enjoy teaching. It is very rewarding to see young people grow and learn, to share their successes, and to help them overcome their failures. My association with teachers and other personnel is pleasant, as are my contacts with parents."

Emma Gene Laubhan 44 Years

After 44 years of teaching the second grade in Okeene, Mrs. Carl (Emma Gene) Laubhan has retired.

Mrs. Laubhan was born in Hydro and moved to Weatherford when she was 12. Her father was a dentist, and she has two sisters. She is a member of the Methodist church and the Weatherford Chapter of Eastern Star.

She graduated from Southwestern Oklahoma State University with a B.A. degree in elementary education. Her master's work was done at Oklahoma State and Southwestern. Emma Gene began her teaching career in Okeene in 1937.

She and Carl Laubhan were married in 1942, and she holds the distinction of being the first woman in the Okeene schools to retain her teaching position after marriage.

She has taught, worried about, scolded, laughed with, cried over and lovingly boosted approximately 1,500 little second graders on their way.

Sibyl Powers 31 Years

With the conclusion of the 1980-81 school term the 31 year teaching career of Mrs. Sibyl (Barrett) Powers came to an end with retirement.

Mrs. Powers began teaching in 1941 at Lone Mound (one room) School, west of Hinton, with 72 hours of college credit, getting her B.S. degree from Central State College in 1943.

In 1943 she began teaching at East Walnut School, east of Hinton, where she taught different grades, even math, English and history in high school during WWII and holding the position of principal in 1946 under Ernesteen Goodnow, superintendent.

In 1945 she married Eugene Powers, a war veteran and farmer-rancher. They moved to their farm east of Hinton, near Moss Grove School, where she taught during 1947-48. For nine years she was at home as mother of four children: Bill, who lives on the home place; Deanna Seitter, Weatherford; Debbie

Glenace Haigler 38 Years

Glenace Haigler has retired after 38 years of teaching, including 20 years as a second grade teacher in Watonga. She is a life-long resident of the Canton area and has driven 15 miles each way to teach in Watonga.

She attended school in Canton where she graduated. She later went to Southwestern.

Her first teaching jobs were in one-room rural schools in the Carlton area southeast of Canton, where she and her farmer-rancher husband, George, now live.

In fact, the first school she taught at, Broadview, still stands on their farm. "It's almost in the front yard," Mrs. Haigler said. When Broadview ceased to be used as a school some 35 years ago, she said, it was a community center for another 10 years and has stood vacant ever since. Her husband recently had it renovated to preserve it. For the first eight years of her career, she taught at Broadview and Carlton schools and was the only teacher for all eight grades of students. "I pumped my own water, built my own fires, and did all my janitorial work," she recalled. "And the pay was $80 a month."

After her eight years at Broadview and Carlton, she then taught three years in Canton, three years in Southard, and four years in Geary before coming to Watonga in fall 1960.

Summing up her feelings about teaching, Mrs. Haigler said, "It has been a labor of love. . . There is no way I could express my appreciation for being able to do it."

Bloomer, Burns Flat, and Sherri Krieger, Hobart.

She resumed her teaching in 1957 when she taught third and fourth grades at Sickles School for two years, then third grade three years at Lookeba after the schools consolidated.

She received her Master of Teaching degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1960 and has supervised the teacher training of 10 college students. She has spent a number of years as a Bible class teacher and counselor and cook for Bible camps for the Church of Christ where she is a member at Hinton.

While at Heavener, he completed requirements for a master's degree at Oklahoma State University of Stillwater, graduating in 1932.

He went then to Idabel in 1935 and served as superintendent of schools there until his appointment at Southwestern at Weatherford in 1945.

He was a member of the Methodist Church, a Mason, a director in the Boy Scout movement for 18 years, and a member of the American Legion.

While in Idabel, Burton was a member of the state board of education.

Mrs. Burton is the daughter of W. B. Anthony, who was secretary to Governor Haskell, and a member of the committee which supervised the building of the state capitol in Oklahoma City.

In Memoriam

Dr. Burton had the longest tenure of any Southwestern president prior to Dr. Al Harris who also spent 15 years as president.

Survivors include his wife, Miriam; a sister, Mrs. Moman Shepard of Lawton; a brother-in-law, C. W. Anthony of Oklahoma City; a niece, Mrs. Maurice Ellege of Lawton, and a great niece.

OTIS T. DELAPORTE

Otis T. Delaporte, Athletic Director and golf coach, died at his home on April 1, 1981, as the result of an apparent heart attack.

Delaporte had just returned from a golf tournament the night before at Cameron University in Lawton and was found Wednesday morning by Charles Hundley and Ken Rose of the athletic department.

The long-time coach-athletic director was a 1940 alumnus of Central State University in Edmond and is one of two Oklahomans inducted into the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Coaches Hall of Fame.

Delaporte was enshrined into the NAIA Hall only three weeks prior to his death, in a March 12 banquet at the Hotel Muehlebach in Kansas City, Mo.

He retired from active coaching following the 1977 football season but remained as Bulldog athletic director and took over as coach of the golf team, which he guided to the NAIA national tournament last spring.

After receiving his bachelor's degree from Central State in 1940, Delaporte took the head football coaching job at Watonga, where he coached for two seasons. World War II pulled him away from the coaching field until 1947 when he returned and moved to Pauls Valley where he remained for two years before becoming head coach at Clinton High School.

Delaporte began his coaching career at Clinton in 1948 and in his first season posted a 5-5 record. In his second year he had a 10-1 mark, but lost in the state semifinals to Capitol Hill. That was when every school was in the same class.

He remained in Clinton until 1955 when he took a job as assistant at Oklahoma State University where he stayed for four years before returning to the head post at Clinton for the 1959 season when he made his second debut for the Tornadoes with an 8-2 season.

Delaporte left Clinton after the 1963 season to go to Southwestern Oklahoma State University. In his 12-year coaching span at Clinton, he posted an 87-34-5 record and coached nine all-staters.

At Southwestern, Delaporte-coached Bulldog teams won 94 games, lost only 48 and tied on two different occasions which is a winning percentage of .662. Six times in his 14-season reign, the Bulldog teams captured conference championships, including a four-season run from 1968-1971 when they won 26 league games, lost but three and tied one.

As justice would have it, Delaporte's final season in coaching turned out to be the finest of all. In 1977, he guided the Bulldogs to a perfect 10-0 regular season and wound up with the No. 1 ranking in the nation. Although Southwestern lost in the NAIA title game in the first and only Apple Bowl game held at the Kingdome in Seattle, Wash., that squad still stands as the most successful in the school's history.

Two other teams, the 1969 and 1970 Bulldogs, also lost one game apiece.

Delaporte is one of the "winningest" coaches in the state when both his college and high school win-loss records are considered.

There has been an Otis T. Delaporte Athletic Scholarship Fund set up at Southwestern. Those wishing to make memorial contributions may mail them to the President's Office at Southwestern.

Delaporte is survived by his wife, Frances; a daughter, Mrs. LeRoy (Otie Ann) Patton, of Tahlequah; and a son, Chris, of Washington, D.C.

HOWARD MUSSELMAN

Howard Musselman passed away on June 8 of a heart attack. He graduated from Southwestern in the early 1930's. He was 72 years old.

JOHN C. GOSS

John C. Goss, 64, Oklahoma City, died Aug. 29. Services were held Sept. 1 at the Mayfair Church of Christ, Oklahoma City.

He graduated from Southwestern Oklahoma State University, served in WWII in the Army Air Corp, and was an active realtor with Harold Jones Co. He was president of Security Federal Savings & Loan, retiring in 1975. In 1979 he joined the Capitol Federal Savings & Loan as vice-president in charge of business development. He was a graduate of American Savings & Loan Institute, Financial Education of Indiana University, and was past president of the Oklahoma City Chapter 21 of the American Savings & Loan Institute. He was a member of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, the Downtown Kiwanis Club, and a member of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame.

He is survived by his wife, Lunell; a daughter, Mrs. Jack Carlson, Norman, and two grandchildren. Also a sister, Fay Carothers, of Honolulu, Hawaii.

MIRIAM L. BURTON

Graveside services for Miriam L. Burton, 77, Weatherford, wife of the late R. H. Burton, former Southwestern Oklahoma State University president, were held at the First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Burton died in the Southwestern Memorial Hospital in Weatherford after an extended illness. She was born in Oklahoma on June 29, 1904, and had been a resident of Weatherford since 1945 when her husband was installed as president of SWSU.

She retired from teaching in 1970. Her husband preceded her in death on Oct. 30, 1980.

Survivors include a brother, C. W. Anthony, of Oklahoma City and a number of nieces and nephews.

SELLERS G. ARCHER

Sellers G. Archer, 71, retired conservationist and author, died in a Fort Worth, Tex., hospital March 22, 1980.

Archer's conservation career started as a foreman in CCC camps at Binger and Geary in 1935. He served as a U. S. Soil Conservation Service conservationist in Hinton, Binger, and Cordell.

On July 8, 1948, Archer coordinated the dedication of the world's first "small watershed" flood detention dam on the Cloud Creek Watershed Project near Cordell. The Cloud Creek Project formation and installation was under Archer's management while he was SCS District Conservationist at Cordell.

Archer authored two widely-used books on conservation: "Rain, Rivers, and Reservoirs," published by Coward-McCann, New York, and "Soil Conservation," published by the University of Oklahoma Press. He also co-authored "The American Grass Book," published by the University of Oklahoma Press. Archer also authored or co-authored hundreds of government publications and magazine articles on soil and water conservation subjects.

In 1958, Archer became a public information specialist with the Soil Conservation Service in Spartanburg, S.C., a position he held until he transferred to the SCS field information unit in Fort Worth in 1964. He was made head of the unit in 1965. He retired in May 1973.

Before starting his career as a conservationist, Archer edited newspapers in Rush Springs and Lexington, and held various jobs with the government in Washington, D.C.

Archer, a native of Comanche, Tex., graduated from the Rush Springs High School, and earned his B.A. degree in journalism and foreign languages from Southwestern Oklahoma State University. He was a member of University Baptist Church in Fort Worth, Southwest Lion's Club of Fort Worth, and the Soil Conservation Society of America.

Archer is survived by his wife, Lorena Morris Archer of 5709 Wheaton, Fort Worth, a daughter, Mrs. Connie Douglas of Alexandria, La., and two grandchildren.

WILLIAM ROBERT DYSON

Funeral services for William Robert (Bill) Dyson were held at the First Baptist Church in Yukon.

Graveside rites were held in the afternoon in the Rush Springs Cemetery.

Dyson, 32, was born Sept. 11, 1948, in the Achenbach Memorial Hospital in Hardtner, Kan. He died in the Presbyterian Hospital in Oklahoma City. A year ago he was diagnosed as having lung cancer.

He was a graduate of Rush Springs High School and received his master's degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University. After graduation he was a classroom teacher and assistant football coach at Hinton two years and the following year was a counselor and assistant football coach at Lexington.

At the time of his death, Dyson was personnel manager for CMI located west of Oklahoma City on I-40. He had completed two years in that capacity. Prior to that he was personnel manager at Kellwoods in Frederick and Munsingwear plants in Hominy and Pawnee.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Yukon. On March 3, 1968, he was united in marriage with Charlotte Johnston in Weatherford.

Survivors include his wife, Charlotte, of the home; a son, David Allen, also of the home; a daughter, Lisa Michelle, also of the home; and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Dyson of Rush Springs.

SYLVANIA DENNIS

Miss Sylvania Dennis, retired school teacher and resident of Tillman County since 1906, died in Pioneer Manor Nursing Home.

Services were held in Gish Memorial Chapel, with Rev. Harry England, minister of the First Christian Church, officiating.

Burial was in Frederick Memorial Cemetery.

Born June 19, 1903, at Chestline, Ill., she was the daughter of David Allen Dennis and Ida May Walker Dennis.

Miss Dennis, age 77, was a charter member of the Tillman County Historical Society. She was also a member of the First Christian Church and the Frederick Business and Professional Women's Club.

A retired school teacher, Miss Dennis taught at Laing Consolidated No. 1 following graduation from Frederick High School in 1922. She graduated from Southwestern State Teachers College at Weatherford in 1925.

Miss Dennis attended Oklahoma University, graduating in 1931. She taught school in the Hollister Community, and Hastings, Okla.

She moved back to Frederick in 1939, where she taught for a number of years at Emerson School.

In 1944, Miss Dennis moved to Chickasha, where she taught for a period of 10 years. While there, she attended Oklahoma College for Women and received her qualification as Reading Specialist.

In 1954 she moved to Dumas, Tex., where she taught for 16 years.

Following her retirement from the teaching profession in 1970, Miss Dennis returned to Frederick in 1972.

FERN GHERING

Funeral services for Fern Ghering, 82, of Hydro, were held in the Hydro United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ghering was born Jan. 10, 1899, in Lineville, Iowa, and died in her home in Hydro Wednesday evening of an apparent heart attack.

She came to Oklahoma in 1903 with her parents and settled in the Hydro area. She attended school in Hydro and graduated from Southwestern State Teacher's College. Upon graduation, her teaching career expanded over a 32 year period. She taught in Cyril, Sand Springs and Orlando.

In 1939 she married James Grant Ghering at Hydro. He preceded her in death in 1958.

She continued to reside in the Hydro area where she retired in 1968. She was a member of the Hydro United Methodist Church.

Survivors include one stepson, Marvin Lyle Ghering of Tulsa; a sister, Mrs. Clyde Noel of Clinton; and three nieces.

ELMER JOSEPH KELLEY

Rev. Elmer Joseph Kelley, 86, of Cordell, a retired school teacher and minister, died in Community Hospital at Elk City.

He was born at Brentwood, Ark., Jan. 23, 1894.

Before the age of 16, Kelley was licensed to teach in the Stilwell area of eastern Oklahoma. He was married to Edith Hopper Jan. 16, 1913.

Among universities he attended were the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, Northeastern State University at Tahlequah, and Southwestern State University in Weatherford. He received his master's degree in several fields.

After retiring from teaching at the mandatory age in Oklahoma, he taught at Imperial, Calif., an additional four years. Besides teaching, he farmed and served as pastor of several churches.

Kelley came to Washita County about 1924.

Kelley had been a 32nd degree Mason more than 40 years and was a member of several organizations related to his "rock hounds" hobby.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Edith Kelley of the home in Cordell; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Jewell Mattingly of Clinton; two sons, Lowell Kelley of Rocky and Loyd Kelley of Imperial, Calif.; two brothers, Roy Kelley and Burl Keiley, both of Stilwell; two sisters, Mrs. Bernie Patterson and Mrs. Lena Watkins, both of Stilwell; five grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

CHARLES M. KING

Funeral services for Charles M. (Chuck) King, 22, of Clinton were held at the First United Methodist Church in Clinton.

King died Thursday as a result of a truck accident west of Clinton. He had lived in Clinton for three months, moving here from Weatherford where he had lived for three years. He grew up and attended school in Guymon where he graduated in 1977. At that time he moved to Weatherford to attend Southwestern Oklahoma State University. In 1979 he married the former Beth Ann Smalley of Clinton. King had been employed by the King Grain Co. of Guymon and at the time of his death was employed by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Clinton. He was a member of the Abundant Faith Fellowship Church in Weatherford and had been a member of the Panhandle Bible Center in Guymon.

He is survived by his wife, Beth Ann, of the home; one daughter, Kimberly Michelle, of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don King of Guymon; one sister, Connie Elizabeth King of Guymon.

Basketball Coach Has Great Recruiting Season

Coach George Hauser's 1981-82 Men's Bulldog Basketball team will be adding several new faces this year thanks to what Coach Hauser described as a "great" recruiting season. "I am very pleased with our recruiting," Coach Hauser said, "we did very well by getting the players that were available to us." Some of the transfers and freshmen include:

Curtis Adams, 6-0, "an outstanding shooter from Frank Phillips Junior College, a floor leader;"

Mike Burum, 6-8, "strong, quick, good hands and a scorer and rebounder, will be very important to the team;"

Arnold Madison, 6-0, "a floor general, a winner from the Texas State Junior College Champions, a leader;"

Phil McManus, 6-8, "a shot blocker, outlet passer and shooter, a key to the defense;"

Mike Pryor, 6-3, "strong, rebounds well and a good shooter;"

Wayne Smith, 6-3, "a good, solid basketball player in all phases of the game;"

Ron and Don Stidom, "these boys are jumpers, shooters, quick, and very important to our team;"

Roderick Walker, 6-2, "a shooter and a jumper, comes from the Mississippi State Junior College Championship team," and

Kirk Wilson, 6-4, "the state's leading scorer from Binger, experience will be a key factor."

Returning this year will be 6-1 guard Ron Sheperd, who was named last year to the All Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference second team, and Jerry Jones, who was Honorable Mention on that same team.

Coach Hauser will begin a 27-game schedule on Nov. 17 at Bethany against the defending National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics national champion Bethany Nazarene Redskins.

Homecoming's "Battle of the Dogs"

It will be a battle of canines on Homecoming Saturday, October 10, when the Bulldogs of Southwestern State host the Greyhounds of Eastern New Mexico State.

The Homecoming game will be the 32nd time the two schools have met on the football field. Southwestern leads the series 21-9-2. Last year Southwestern visited Eastern New Mexico and came away victorious, 30-10.

Greyhound head coach Dunny Goode, who will begin his fourth year in that position, will have to rely on key veterans and top recruits as he has only five starters returning on offense with six defensive returning starters. "We really have had the best recruiting season since I've been at Eastern," Goode said.

If the above sounds familiar to Southwestern fans it is because the Bulldogs are facing a similar situation this season. Offensively, the Bulldogs have five returning starters, with four returning defensively. Head Coach Bob Mazie's recruitment has already paid off. In the first game of the 1981 season against Bishop College, transfer Tony Shelton intercepted two passes that had much to do with Southwestern's 9-0 victory.

Key players to watch for the Bulldogs include quarterback Steve Price, who in the game against Bishop College passed for 72 yards and a touchdown, Ed Farmer, who in the same game had eight unassisted tackles, and fullback J. J. Johnson, who rushed for 53 yards in the Bishop game.

Eastern New Mexico will bring to Weatherford nose guard Tom Sager, who was a first team Academic All-American in 1980, quarterback Jack Turner, and fullback Jackie Clifton will also be worth watching.

Coach Bob Mazie says of the team, "They are pretty much in the same position we are as far as being inexperienced; I'm looking forward to a good football game with them this year."

Southwestern is a NAIA Division 1, District 9, school with an enrollment of 4,800. Eastern New Mexico State University is located in Portales, N.M., and is also a Division 1 NAIA school. Its current enrollment is 3,715.

Kick-off time will be 2 p.m. at Milam Field for the Homecoming "Battle of the Dogs."

Cardinals Signs SWOSU Birdsong

Former Amarillo High standout Carl Birdsong will be around for roll call when the National Football League makes its final cut.

Birdsong, a standout punter at West Texas State and Southwestern Oklahoma State University, apparently has earned a spot on the St. Louis Cardinals roster.

The 6-0, 194-pound kicker was signed as a free agent by the Buffalo Bills then was picked up by St. Louis on waivers. When St. Louis punter Larry Swider was released last week, it was clear Birdsong had made the team.

"When I found out I had made it, it was a bitter-sweet experience," said Birdsong. "Naturally I was happy I had made it. But my gain was another person's loss. I think Larry will be picked up by somebody else.

"You really can't be too concerned about what happens to anyone else. I am sure if I had been cut, Larry wouldn't have lost any sleep over it. We both knew in camp one would make it and the other wouldn't."

Birdsong said he liked the St. Louis coaching staff better than the one in Buffalo. "There's more encouragement here," said Birdsong. "I know that's one reason I did so well. I think everyone needs some encouragement."

Birdsong averaged 43.5 yards per kick at Southwestern last year, and he said one of his goals was to produce a 40-yard average in the pros and eventually lead the league in punting.

As a junior, he led the nation in punting and was named first-team All-American on the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) squad.

"I think what helped me make the team was consistency," said Birdsong. "I didn't have any shanks in the first game against San Diego, and I helped myself in the Seattle game. I had a good kick out of bounds in deep territory and averaged one kick about 48 yards with a hang time of 4.5 or 4.6."

"Then, against Kansas City, I had a 46-yard kick and kicked one out of bounds around the 2-yard line. You can't worry about the other guy you are competing against. You focus on your efforts. You can't control how he performs, and the only way to control the final decision is doing well yourself."

Birdsong said he made the right decision to transfer to Southwestern Oklahoma State. "I prayed about it for about a year," said the Cardinal rookie. "I finally had a real piece of mind about going to Weatherford. I got two years of pharmacy school in. It opened both doors for football and education. I knew after football I would have to have something to fall back on."
