New Fine Arts Building to be Constructed

Construction of the new multi-purpose Fine Arts Building and Auditorium at Southwestern Oklahoma State University will start around March 1. S & T Construction Company of Altus submitted the low bid of $1,045,000 for Phase I. The bid was approved by the Board of Regents for Oklahoma Colleges at their January meeting. The new building will be located west of Rogers-Jefferson dormitories on the north side of the campus.

Upon completion, this structure will be the center of assembly on campus, and it will contain an auditorium, classrooms, class-laboratories, offices, conference areas, practice rooms and space for other educational activities. The project is proposed as a three-year, three-phase operation.

Phase I will consist of the construction of 10,250 square feet of net assignable space to accommodate the 1500-seat auditorium portion of the total structure. Seating in the auditorium will consist of 698 downstairs and 822 in the balcony.

Phase II will consist of 10,250 net assignable square feet of space to accommodate the music, drama, and other fine arts classrooms and laboratories part of the total structure.

Phase III will be the final phase of the multi-purpose fine arts building and auditorium and will consist of 7,880 net assignable square feet of space to accommodate offices for faculty, conference rooms, practice rooms for music, and other educational activities.

Parking areas are proposed for the east and west sides of the building, and there will be a service road leading to the loading dock on the north side of the building.

Four clubs now in operation for your membership are: The Century Club--$100-$249, University Club--$250-$499, Southwestern Club--$500-$999, and the President's Club--$1,000 or more. Donations from $1.00 up to $100 have been a great help in building the cash value of the Foundation.

The Southwestern Oklahoma State University Foundation administers two principal fundraising programs. The first is the Annual Development Fund which seeks to build a broad base of support through annual gifts from thousands of alumni and friends. The second is the Deferred Giving Program which encourages individuals to remember Southwestern in their estate planning.

Gifts to the Foundation are used for scholarships, development of academic departments, faculty development, library acquisitions, campus beautification, and special projects that promote

Rags to Riches

Did you ever hear about the person who was poor but didn't know it? This is the story of Cliff Sanders, SWOSU alumni, whose life goes from "rags to riches" and proves that with hard work, desire, good attitude, intelligence, and a few breaks, the free enterprise still works.

Mr. Sanders was born in Western Oklahoma and after graduating from Coulter Elementary School and Elk City High School, he attended Southwestern College at Weatherford and Cumberland University in Tennessee, where he earned his L.L.B. degree. When he finished pre-law at Southwestern, he hitch-hiked to Lebanon, Tenn., due to a lack of money.

Immediately after being admitted to the Tennessee Bar, he moved to Kingsport, where he was in the active practice of law continuously until 1970, except for about four years when he was in the United States Navy during World War II.

ECHOES RECEIVES

LETTERS FROM YOUAbout Alumni*Kelting in Pittsburg

Dear Millie,

A lot has happened since I saw you at your dinner a few years ago. I lost my wife about 4½ years ago, my daughter got married, has two children ages 3 and 1½; my son and his wife presented me with my third grandchild who will be one on Sept. 16. After 17 years as chairman of the biology department, I stepped up to full-time teaching.

Both of my "kids" live in Wichita so you can bet that I make several trips a year out there.

So far I have given little thought to retiring at 65. If my health holds, I'll probably keep on teaching for several more years. I don't know what I would do if I retired since I am alone here in Pittsburg. I certainly wouldn't want to move to Wichita since I have many friends here.

Occasionally I go to southwestern Oklahoma to visit my brother and his wife in Hobart. The next time I come through Weatherford, I'll call you.

Drop me a line when you find time.

Yours,
Ralph Kelting

North of Dallas

Dear Millie and Weatherford,

Thank you so much for Echoes from The Hill. It's great! I forgot whether we are paid or not; here's a check just in case.

Harlan and I have been bountifully blessed with two daughters, two sons-in-law, five granddaughters and three grandsons. Charlotte and her family live in Fort Worth; Jane and hers live at Hugo, Okla. Each 80 miles away in opposite directions.

Next year we will have been married 50 years. We recall that $5 was the price we paid for enrollment for many years. We once lived on the "Davis Place" where lovely buildings now stand. We are so glad we could watch Weatherford grow. God bless you every one at Homecoming. We wish we could be there, but Harlan has his cattle and land that needs his care just now. We are so fortunate that we are able to have Oklahoma state retirement, Senate bill 940.

We are 45 miles northeast of Dallas so you can find us, and we love company. Lots of California friends come. Come, Weatherford friends! We have room for all. We do not live on the farm but in beautiful Greenville, 25,000 population.

Remember, Harlan was president of seniors graduating in summer of 1935. Dr. Dora Ann Stewart was class sponsor. She loved Harlan dearly, and he loved her too. Precious memories!

"Keep the home fires burning."

Love you all,
