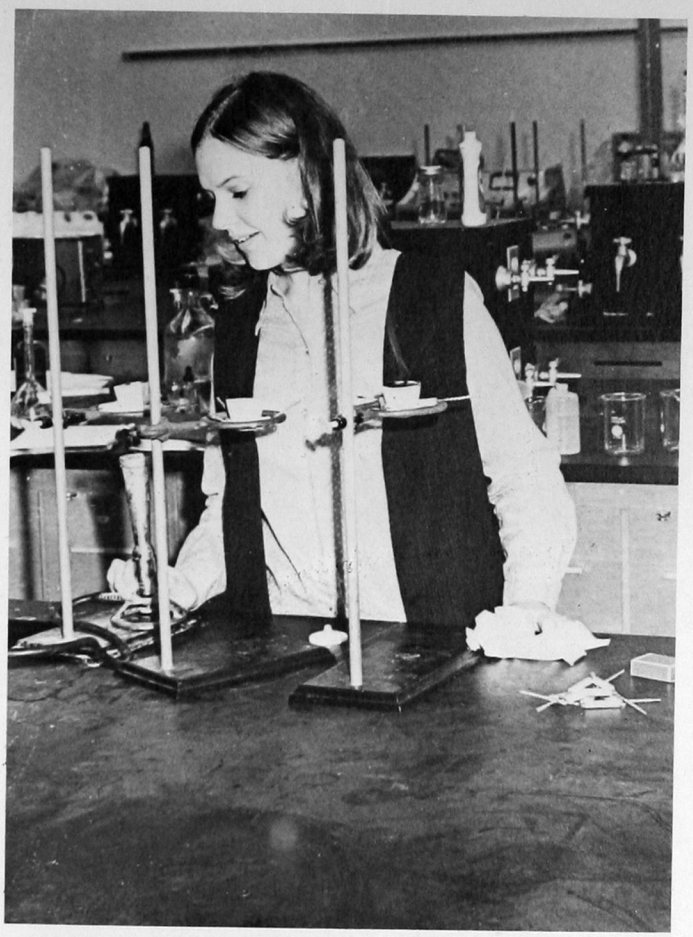
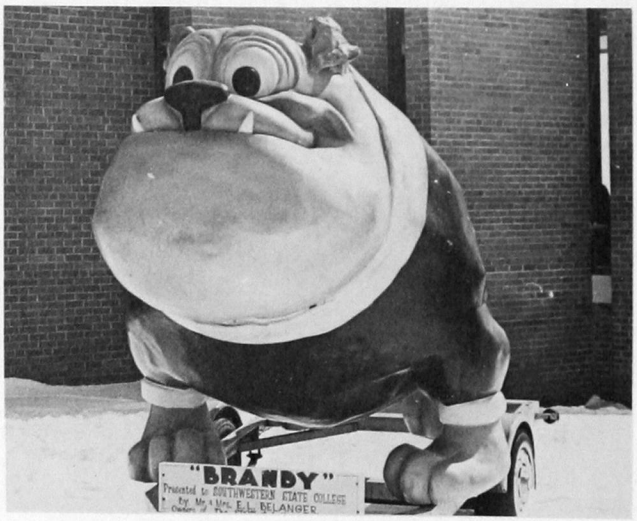
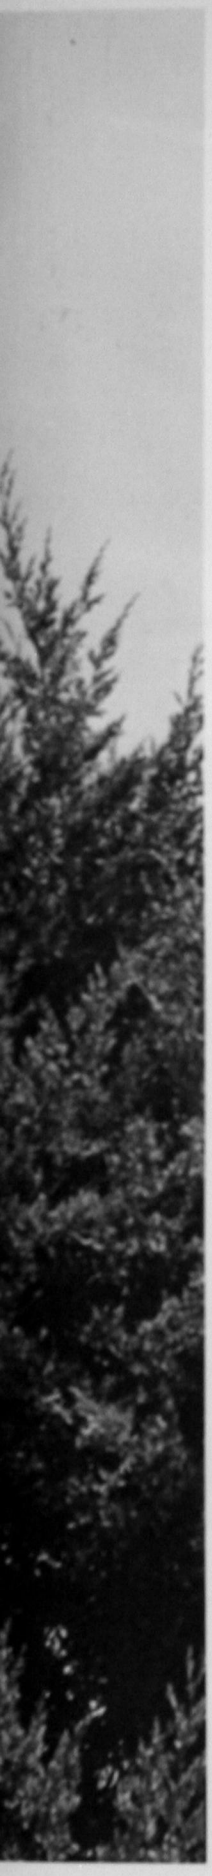
Mountains of faces —
Mirages of beings
I think
I might have been
If I had but
Changed a small
Subthought
And traveled down
A different path.
Then I look
More closely
At an individual face
And where now lies a smile
Is a place
Which may have encased
Many silent tears.

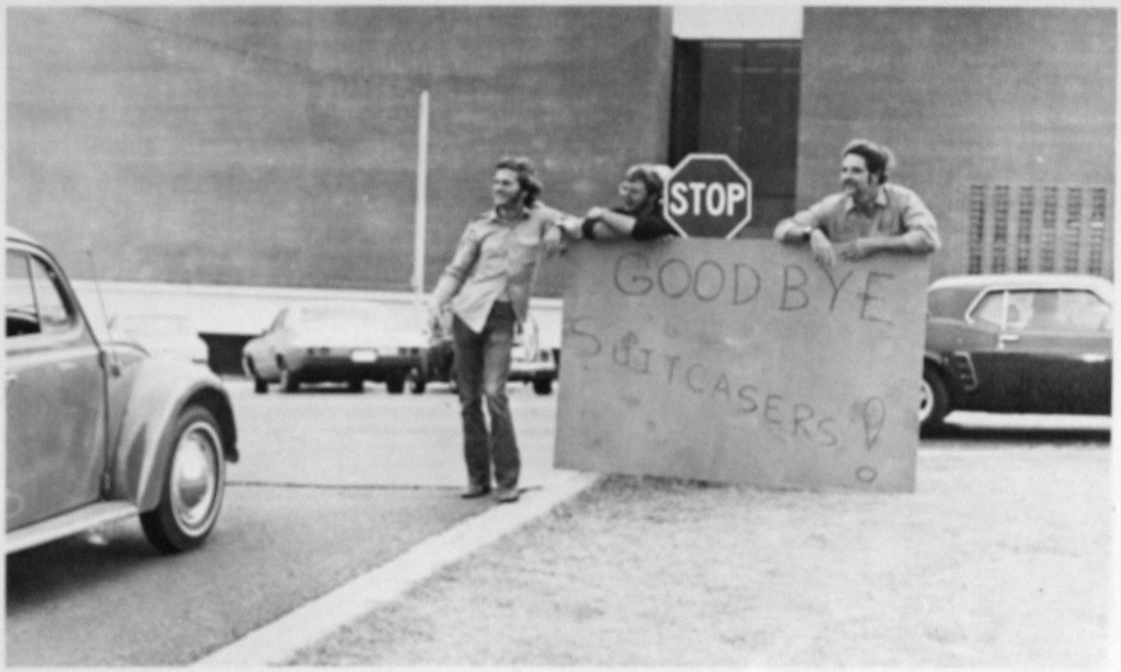


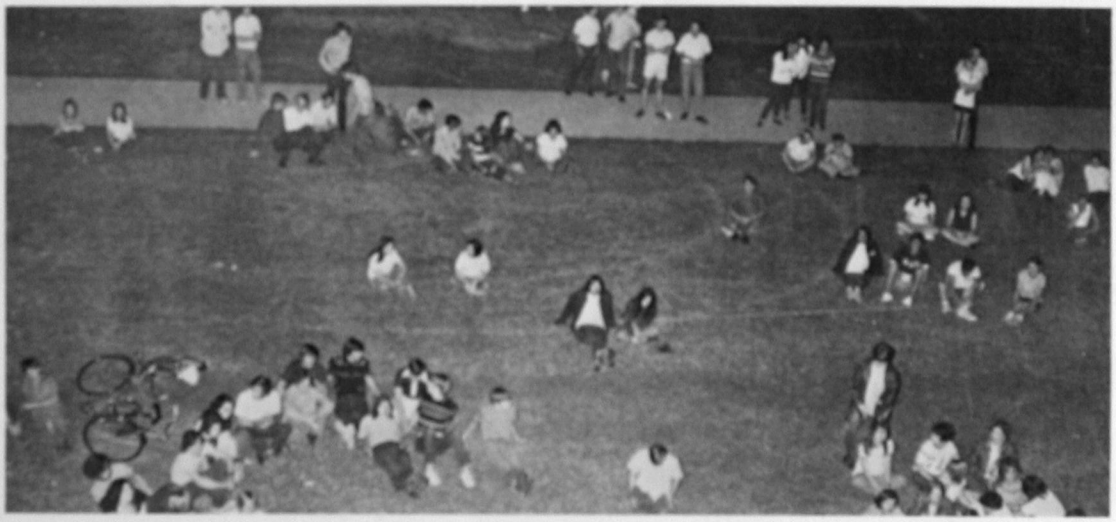
The eyes have deep perception
As if they too
Have known imperfection.
Then I know
That I am one of those
Among the mountain.
The unseen rumbling
Behind my face
Is not unique
But theirs also.

Symbols,
Synonymous
For what we stand
In what we Believe.
We work not for symbols
But toward values
They represent
After time and thought
The concept evolves
Within our minds.
We then reach out
To design in action
Our Beliefs.









Faces
Future traces
Of our History.
Expressions polarized
Or somewhere
In between
Mean there are those
Who Choose
To go toward goals,
Toward places
Yet unseen —
Gestures of
Projected destiny.

GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF OKLAHOMA

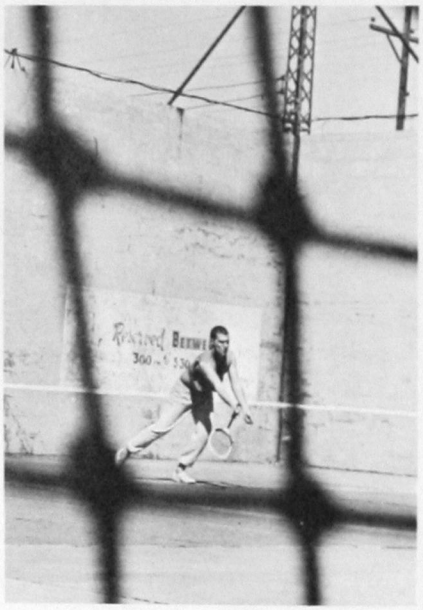
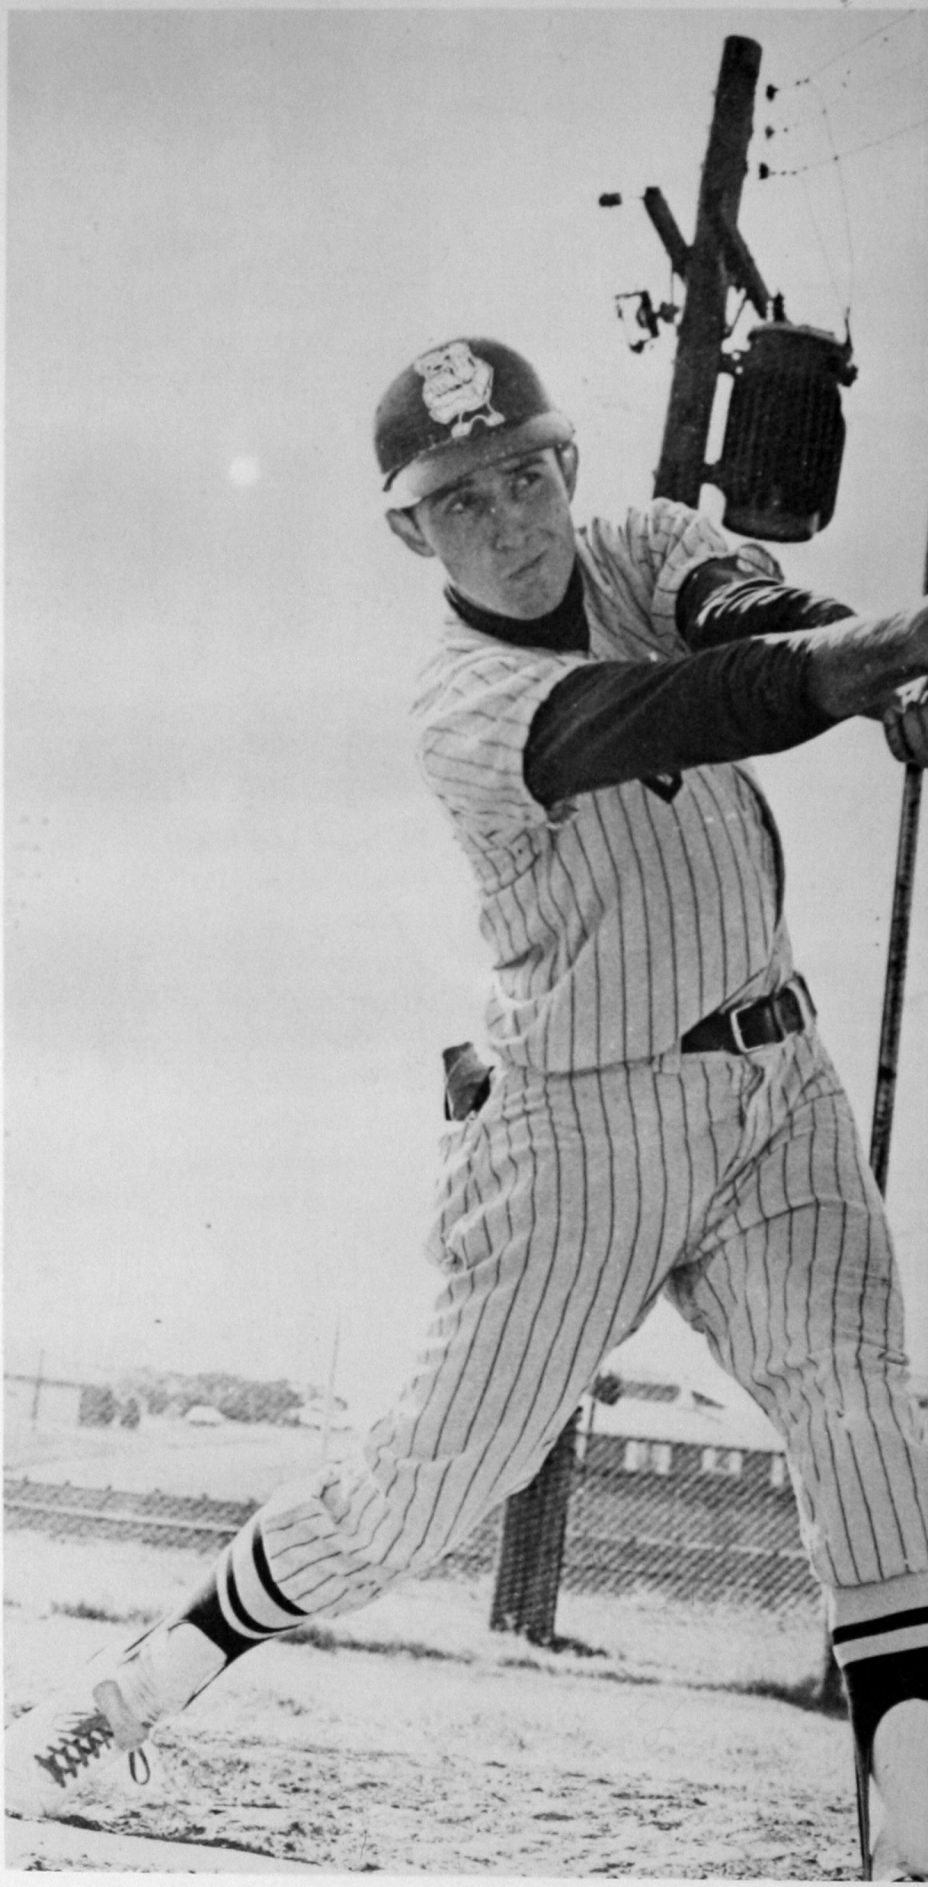
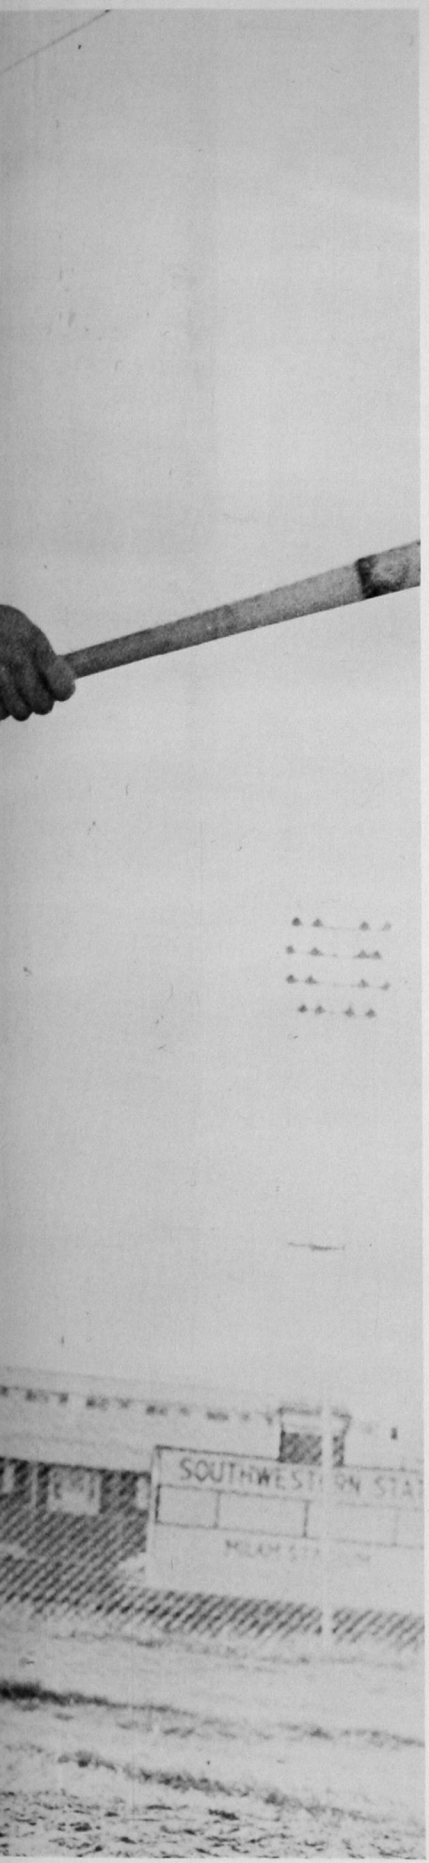
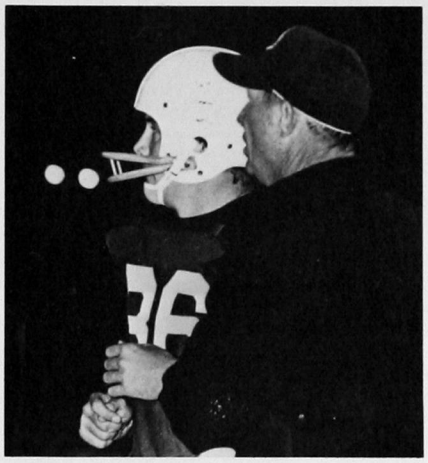
Parades and floats —
Drawn analogies
Of those who
Are seeking truth.
Open minds of youth
Parade down new paths
Of thought.
They seek education
By opening their minds,
Allowing their thoughts
To be channeled
In an individual way
And gain new insight
Of worlds to come.
Searchers are lifted up
Until at last
They see their goal.

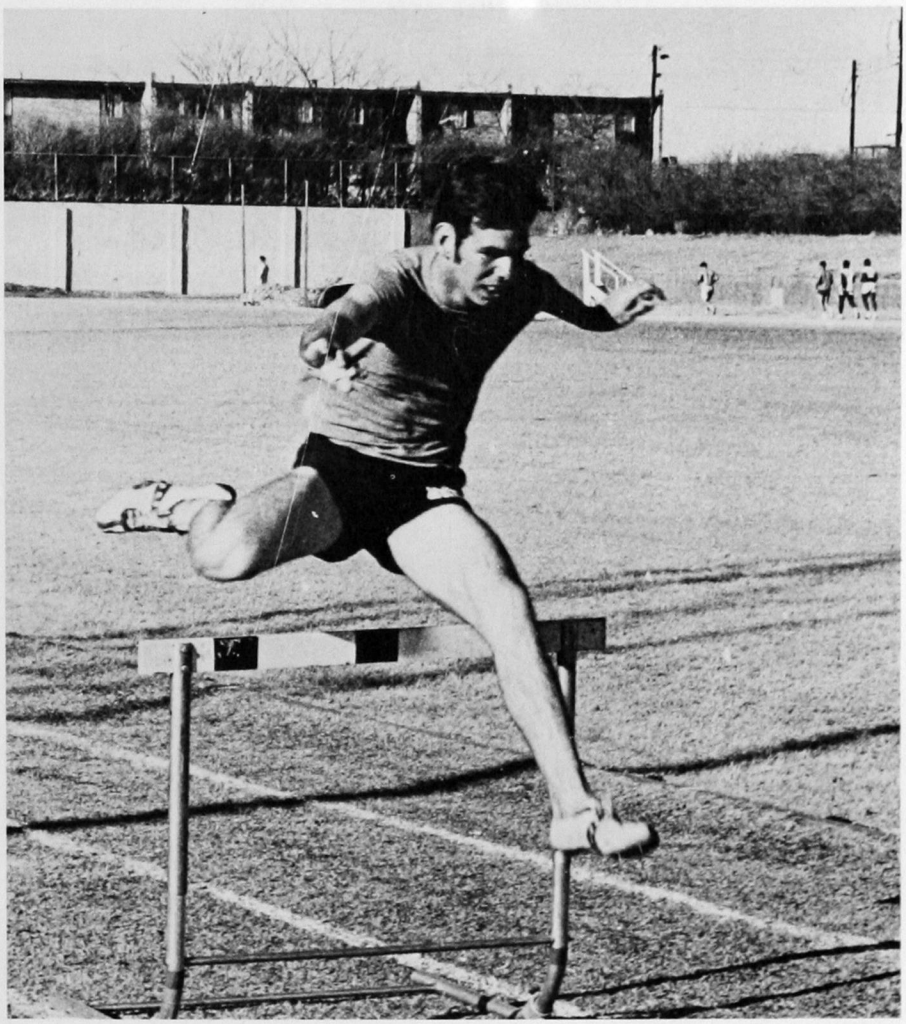




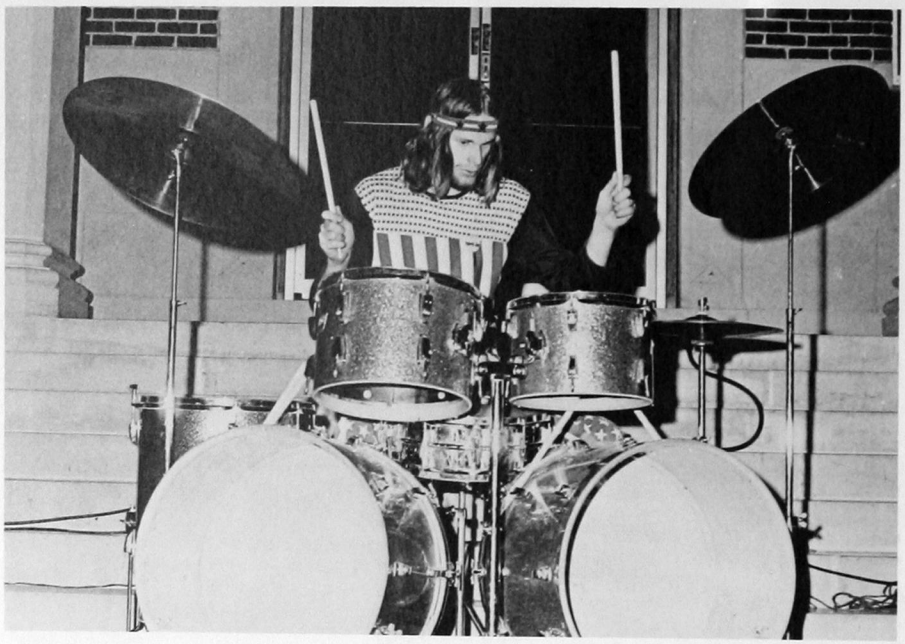


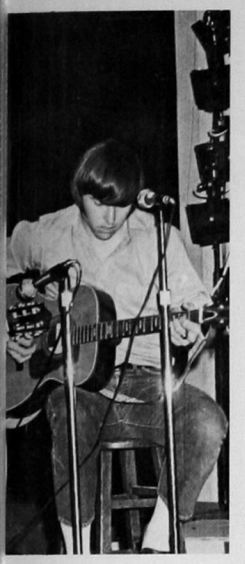


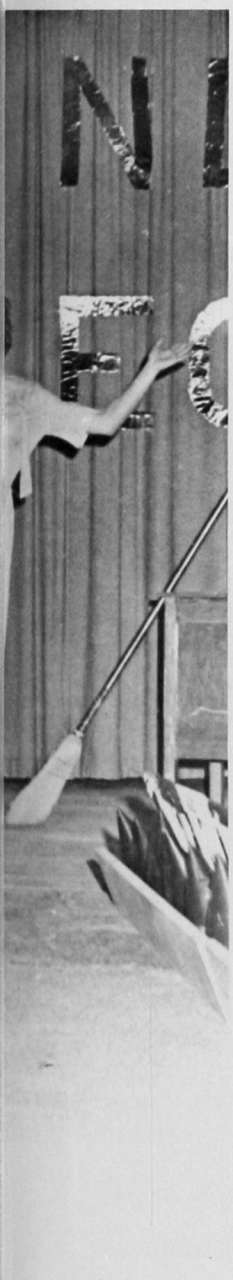
The outcome
Will not always be
The same.
It is pride in the
Playing of the game
That counts.
Pride, when put to surest test,
Is not defeated
When beaten.
It swells up within the sportsman's chest
Until he returns to strive
Again and again.
Through trial he
Finds his destination — victory.

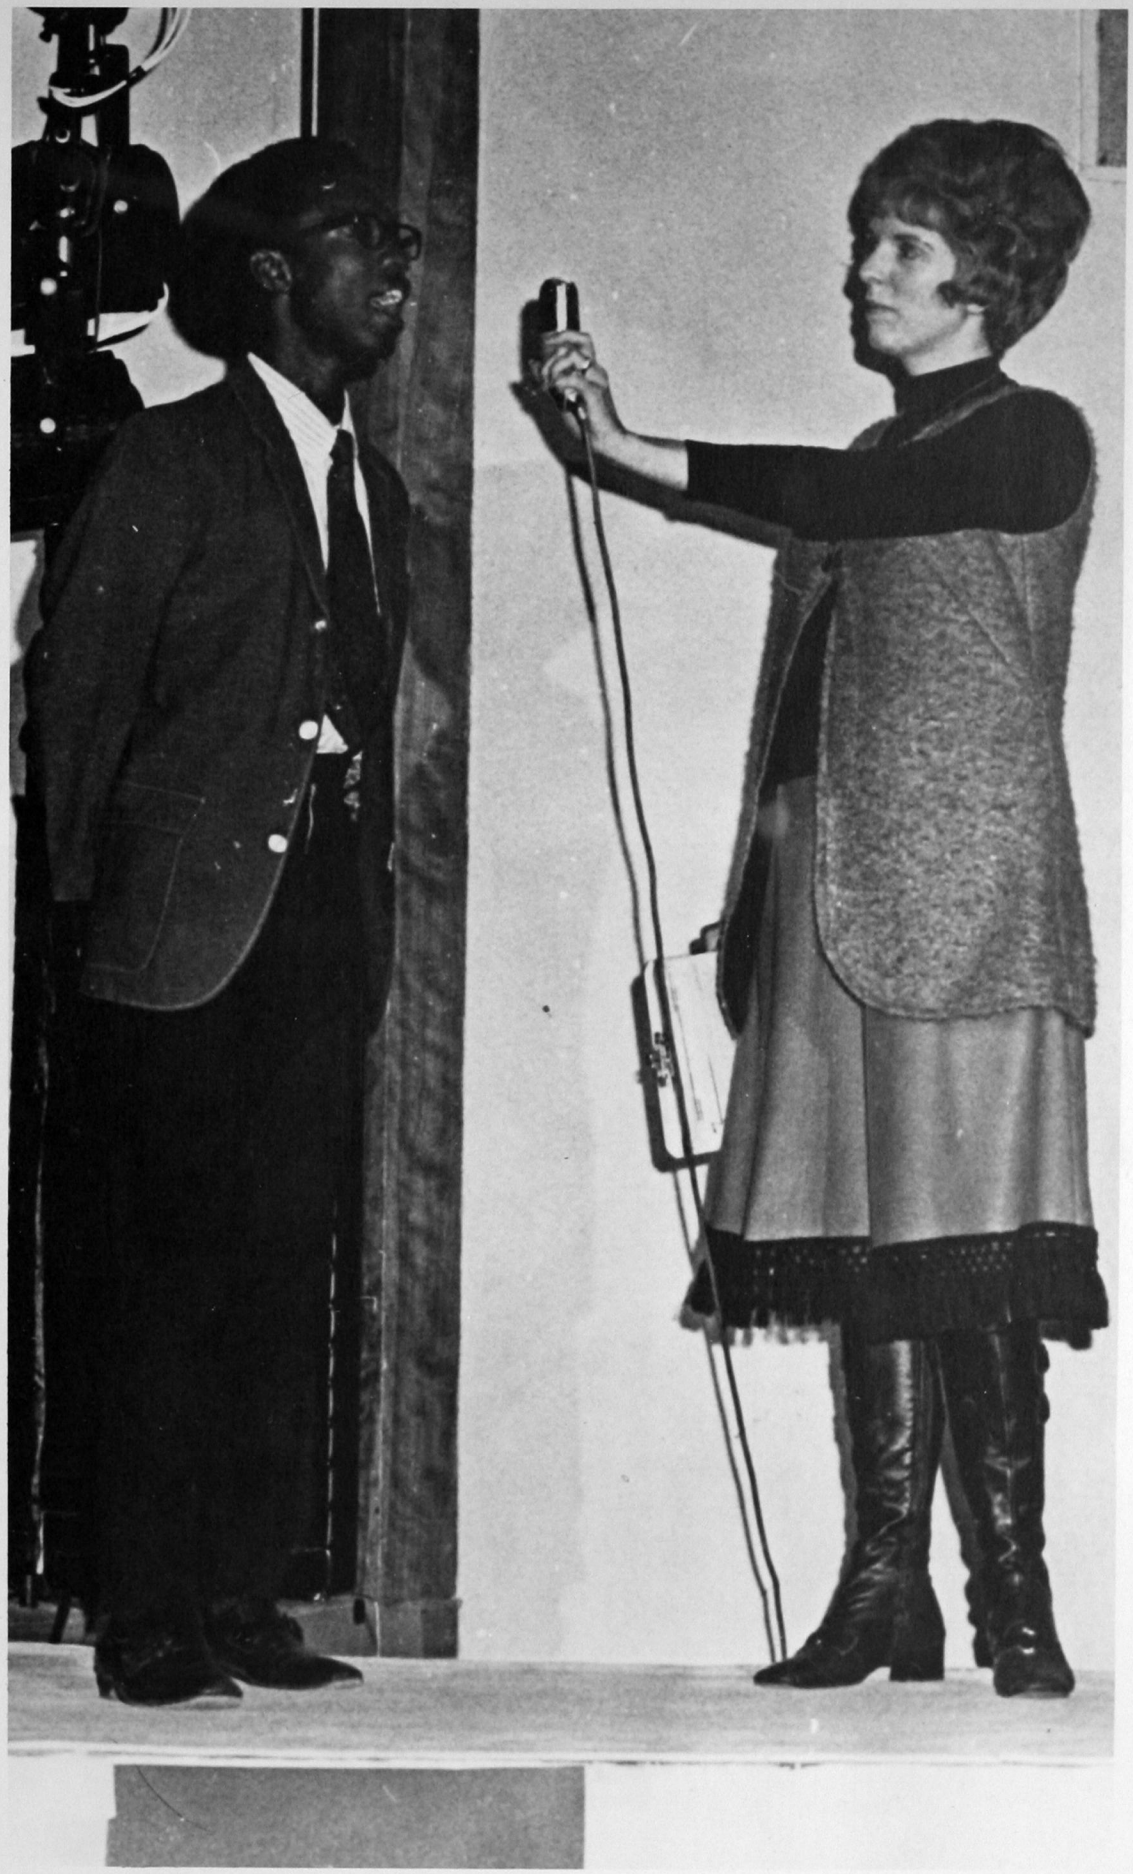


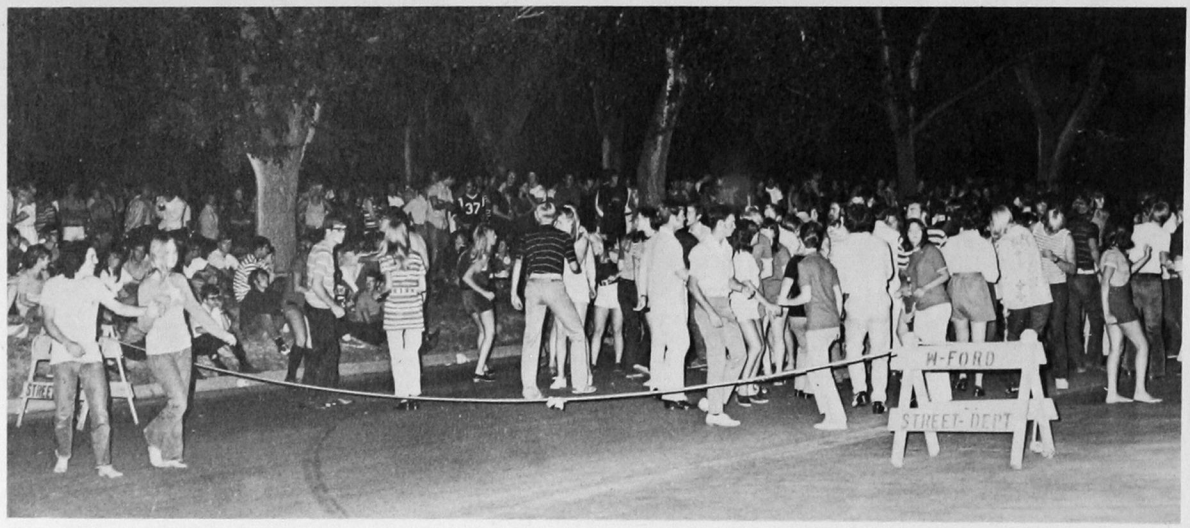
Walking in my shoes
Will not help you to know me.
Thoughts are in my mind.





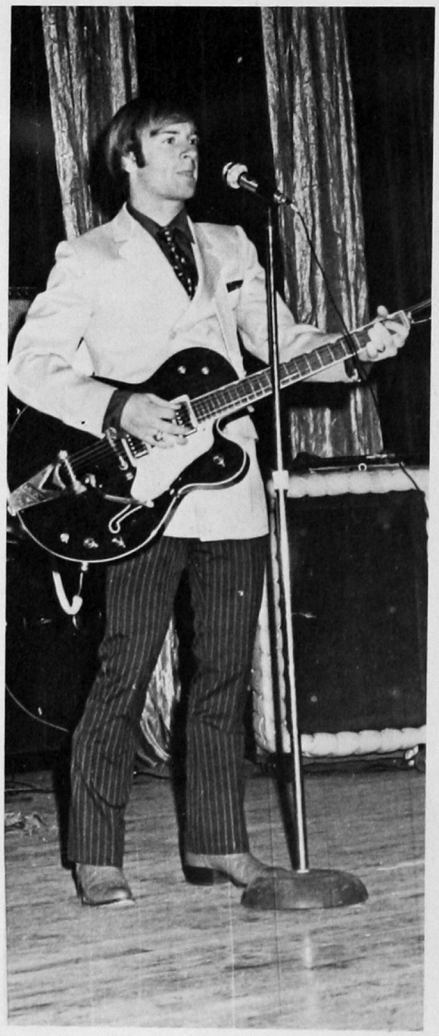


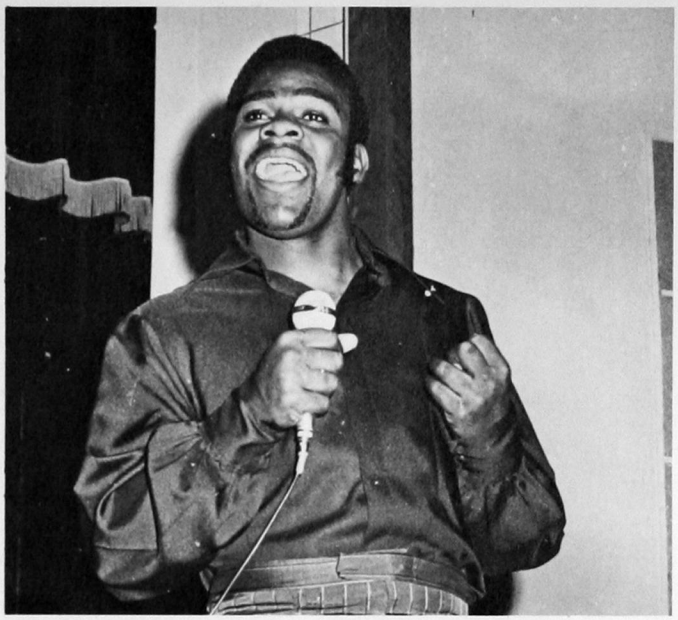




We stamp out rhythm,
Then better we know ourselves:
Sometimes others too.

To sing is release —
A means of self-expression.
Each gives life his song.





Wherever I go
My countenance cries out
What I feel inside.

Stepping to perform,
Lifting our minds with action
We strive for our best.

US 521

Bathed in beauty
Is the ground
As it is found
Under a blanket
Of snow.
Beauty for now
And time to come
As snow melts
And runs down
Pathways into
The earth.
Soon comes the birth
Of a new spring
With tender shoots
Opening forth.
The value of snow
Is forgotten until
Next winter one sees
It has worth.

Chemistry Club

There are two organizations for chemistry students at SWSC: the Chemistry Club, founded in 1954, and the student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemical Society, Chartered in 1959. Membership in the Chemistry Club is open to any student currently enrolled in a chemistry course. Membership in the Student Affiliate Chapter is open to any student enrolled in course work leading toward an associate or bachelor's degree in chemistry, chemical engineering, or a related discipline. These two organizations function both together and independently; the same group of students serve as officers for both. Officers are Kay Gunter, President, Bruce Rumbaugh, Vice-Pres., Ron Marek, Secretary, and Jon Rummel, treasurer. Sponsors are Dr. Allen Lane and Dr. Donald Hertzler.

The purposes of the Chemistry Club, is (1) to promote student-faculty interaction and (2) to emphasize the relevance of chemistry to society. The first is accomplished through socials held throughout the year, in addition to the traditional election of officers at a student-faculty pool tournament in the spring. The second objective is accomplished through such activities as the presentation of programs on chemical topics of general interest, such as pollution; and the sponsorship of a high school Science Day, for which area high-school students are invited to tour the chemistry facilities, see novel demonstrations and talk informally with chemistry majors about chemistry and college life in general.

Sombreros Y Matillas

This Club of students from Spanish language classes met regularly on the second Thursday of each month, with other impromptu meetings in the homes of instructors where projects related to one of the various Hispanic cultures were in progress. During the Fall Semester students made and sold exotic Mexican Piñatas whereas in the Spring Term, the principal activities were concerned with a Dramatic Competition held in Tulsa. Mr. George Hejna of the Drama Dept. directed this production. The two annual Fiestas were the Christmas party and the Mexican Fiesta, when the College Home Economics Dept. prepared and served a savory dinner. The regular monthly programs evolved around various aspects of Hispanic cultures: art, literature, music, and social customs. Their objectives are to truly learn more about our neighbors to the South by active student participation in social meetings which are relevant to subjects read about in classes, thus hopefully fostering an appreciation of the individual roles of other nations in the totality of humanity.

Their motto is perhaps best illustrated by an old peninsular ballad which tells of a young hunter who sees a beautiful ship on the horizon. As it slowly comes nearer, he can hear a sailor at the wheel singing a song of ineffable beauty and mystery. From the shore, the hunter begs the sailor to teach him all of his song, but the mariner replies, "Yo no digo mi canción sino a quien conmigo va." ("I only tell my song to him who comes with me.") The members realize that one cannot stand on the bank; rather, they are plunging in so that they may learn the song and enjoy its beauty and artistic expression, thus enriching their own lives.

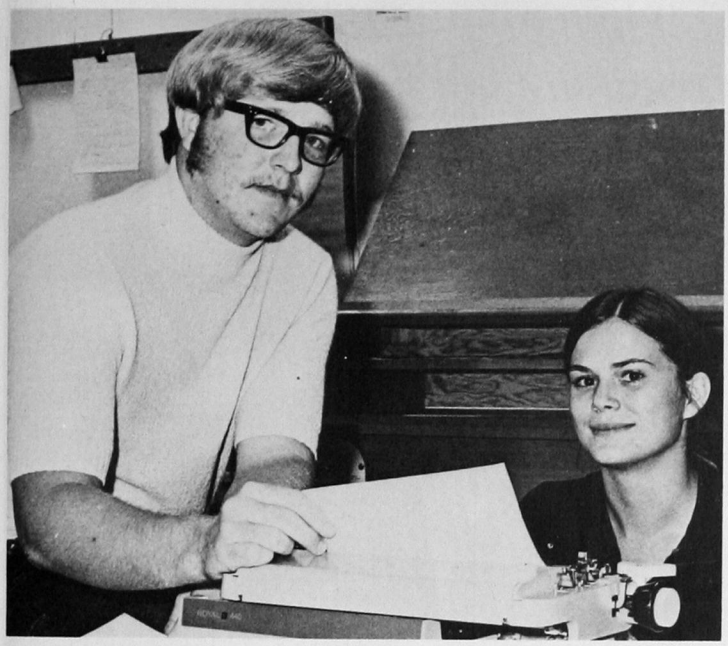
The Southwestern



Fall editor Joe Stebbins and managing editor, Tricia King.

A practical laboratory situation for journalism students is the department's weekly publication, THE SOUTHWESTERN. With features and news articles written by the students for the students of SWSC, the newspaper serves as a learning device for those who will possibly pursue careers in the ever-growing field of news coverage.

Last November THE SOUTHWESTERN was evaluated by the Oklahoma Collegiate Press Association, receiving the following ratings: Superior in writing 100 out of 100 points; features — 50 out of 50 points; sports — 25 out of 25 points. Excellent in: departments — 95 out of 100 points. Good in: news coverage, make-up, art and photography, and headlines.

Yearbook Staff

Rush deadlines, late hours, and seemingly insurmountable problems and obstacles are all part of the production of a yearbook. But when dauntless effort and patience are combined, it is almost inevitable that the task that at one time seemed to be impossible will be completed — at least that held true for the 1972 Bulldog staff.

Back in September we chose "Faces" as the theme for this production, and the staff has tried to transmit this idea throughout the design and make-up of the project. Irregardless of whether you are a student or a faculty member, you the reader will see many familiar faces and most likely many unfamiliar faces — some faces that you will want to remember for a lifetime, and some that you will prefer to forget. But that is all part of life. And it is this life — life at Southwestern State College during 1971 and 1972 that we, the staff of the Bulldog have tried to record here for you.

Library Science

Students flocked to the library at Southwestern in search of information for term paper work, outside reading assignments and an endless list of other course requirements.

In addition to the rows of books, periodicals, and references for students' use, advice of professional librarians was utilized every day. Centrally located on campus, the library is a structure capable of housing 200,000 volumes and can seat 20 percent of the student body at study desks, tables, and lounge areas. The SWSC library with its well-equipped information became a regular hideaway for the average studious student.

Available study aids in the library are the card catalogue, the Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature, and rooms with typewriters. Also available to the students are microfilms of The Wall Street Journal (dating from 1958), the Christian Science Monitor, The New York Times (from 1851), The Daily Oklahoman (from 1895), congressional records, and ERIC's Research in Education.

50,000 Fans Cheered

Sunday November 7, 1971 was a memorable day in the history of the Southwestern State College marching band, for it was then that the group marched before a crowd of 50,000 cheering fans and a large live television audience at Mile High Stadium in Denver, Colorado when they performed the half time entertainment for a Bronco-Detroit game.

In addition to the weeks of practice in the sweltering Oklahoma heat, the members of the band financed their trip by selling fruit and candy. They also sold chances on a painting by Fred Olds of the SWSC Art department and sponsored several other fund raising activities.

At the close of another successful marching season the band was divided into two independent groups: the Symphonic and the Concert bands.

On February 28, the Symphonic band under the direction of Dr. James Jurrens left Weatherford for a four-day concert tour. Among the cities that the band performed in were Altus, Lawton, Marlow, and El Reno.

The concert band, directed by Terry Segress, toured several communities. Erick, Hollis, Hobart, and Shamrock, Texas were several of the cities in which the group played.

Serving as officers for the band this year were: Greg Boggs, president; Irvin Miller, vice-president; and Francy Smudrick as secretary-treasurer.

Pharmacy

Southwestern's School of Pharmacy, one of the top three schools in the nation, is accredited by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education and is a member of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. Our School of Pharmacy also is accredited by the North Central Association of colleges and secondary schools, the National Council for the accreditation of Teacher Education, and of the Oklahoma Commissions for Teacher Education.

The physical facilities of the School of Pharmacy occupy the entire third floor of the Chemistry, Physics and Pharmacy building. This new and modern Science Building was constructed in 1963, and a large addition was completed and occupied in 1969.

A minimum of five years of college work is required for completion of the B.S. in Pharmacy degree. During his stay at Southwestern, the aspiring pharmacist will be thoroughly trained in mathematics, including algebra and trigonometry, plant and animal biology, inorganic chemistry, biochemistry, microbiology, toxicology and jurisprudence, as well as human physiology and the many facets of pharmaceutics.

Alpha Beta Chapter of Kappa Epsilon, the professional women's fraternity, had a full and successful year. Being a professional pharmacy fraternity, Kappa Epsilon strives to advance scholarship, foster professional consciousness and provide a bond of lasting loyalty interest and friendship.

The year began by sending four delegates to the National Convention in Minneapolis, Minnesota. During the rest of the year, there was a coke party for all women in the pharmacy school, an ice cream party for the pledges, a kidnap and breakfast at the Mark, a football game with the Tri-C's and chili supper, a Christmas party and decorating the pharmacy floor and various money-making projects such as selling drug abuse playing cards and selling food at homecoming.

In March, delegates were sent to the Providence Convention in Monroe, Louisiana. They had their annual charity drive and the final activity was the celebration of Founders Day, highlighted by a banquet and impressive displays.

Kappa Psi, a professional pharmacy fraternity, was founded on May 30, 1879. Kappa Psi not only has the distinction of being the first professional fraternity in pharmacy, but today maintains the largest membership of all the pharmaceutical fraternities.

The past year has been a successful one for the local chapter. During Poison Prevention Week, the brothers gave talks on poison prevention to local civic groups and schools.

During the Spring semester Delta Beta was host to the Province VII Convention of Kappa Psi. The two-day convention was attended by delegates from seven states in the province. Business meetings and workshops were conducted here at the college; a banquet in Oklahoma City culminated the convention.

The Chapter's annual Awards Banquet was held at the end of the semester in honor of the graduating seniors of 1971

Kappa Psi's float "The Rush Goes On" won sweepstakes for the third consecutive year.

Future plans included a Christmas party, a Valentine Day party, and other activities would keep the brothers busy throughout the remainder of the school year.

Phi Delta Chi

Alpha Omega Chapter of Phi Delta Chi was founded September 15, 1956. Eleven men started the Chapter. Since then 300 men have been initiated.

Phi Delta Chi participated in many activities on campus. Intramural sports and special service projects for the school of Pharmacy as well as their own special fraternity projects were worked on.

Officers this year were: President, David Shaw; Vice President, Mitch Hull; Treasurer, Roland Roberts; Corresponding Secretary, Andy Congvine; Precate, Glenn Howard; Recording Secretary, Charles Holcomb; and Sponsors, Dr. Douglas Kriesel, and Dr. Carry Broadie.

Rho Chi — Pharmacy's Honorary Scholastic Fraternity

The Rho Chi membership represents the top students scholastically in the School of Pharmacy. Membership is limited to the top 20% of the class (classified second semester, second year professional students) having at least attained a grade point average of 3.0.

Promotion of the pharmaceutical science through emphasis and recognition of superior scholarship, encouragement of graduate study and research, and the stressing of professionalism and ethics are the objectives of Rho Chi. Each year the chapter presents an award to the student completing the most outstanding research project, the top graduating senior pharmacy student, and the second year pre-pharmacy student attaining the highest grade point.

The Beta Upsilon Chapter of the National Rho Chi Honor Society here at the School of Pharmacy is now in its eleventh year of promoting scholarly fellowship in pharmacy by bringing members and faculty together in fraternal and helpful association.

The inception of Oklahoma Gamma of Phi Delta Theta came about at the 1970 National Convention when the Collegiate Diners Service Organization, along with nearly 200 other organizations, petitioned for colony status in the national fraternity. The Diners were one of the select four that were accepted to be colonies of Phi Delta Theta. On December 10 and 11 of this year Oklahoma Gamma was duly installed as the 174th chapter of Phi Delta Theta.

The Phi's at SWSC excelled in all facets of campus life. They provided leadership for the campus by assuming the positions of Student Association President, OIL Delegation Chairman, and several Student Senators.

In intramural athletics the Phi's were undefeated in football, basketball, and softball to be named Champion of each.

The Homecoming Parade included a float entered by the Phi's which earned 1st place awards for the second year.

Student Association

This year the Student Association experienced a new form of government. No longer is student deliberative power vested solely in the Student Senate but now, more realistically, in three branches; Executive, Legislative, and Judiciary. The theme of the Executive Branch, headed by the Student Association President, was "Realism." Through joint efforts of the Executive Branch and the Student Senate a trend has been initiated to provide newly-enfranchised voters an educational facility in which they are able to explore the inner-most workings of legislative systems they will encounter upon departure from this institution.

1971-72 saw a diverse selection of legislation with topics ranging from birth control and V.D. education to assuming some student discipline matters previously handled independently by the college administration. Among those programs which the Senate annually sponsors was the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Legislature. This year's delegation included Scot Boyd, Senator; Gay Hodges, Senator and Floor Leader; and representatives, Bill Hendrix, Andy Wilks, Merrill Jacobs, Bruce Kain, Gary Bond, Jeff Boileau, and Steve Rosenbaum. Hendrix was selected to an O.I.L. task force which was assigned with the duty of lobbying in the Oklahoma State Legislature.

Activities Council

The Activities Council, headed by the vice-chairman of the Student Association, is the working group in promoting activities of students at the Center. The organization has a number of committees functioning in all fields of social and cultural student life.

The Activities Council assumed a role of increased responsibility this year. By appointment of the Executive Branch, the Activities Council became totally autonomous in selecting and determining social activities for the Student Association. Since the Activities Council is open to any and all Student Association members who want to become involved in student activities, this provided added incentive for students to become involved.

The Activities Council, financially supported by the Student Senate, sponsored such activities as Homecoming, Activities Council dances, Activities Council film series, and Big Name Entertainment. This year's Big Name Entertainment included concerts by Mac Davis, Curtis Mayfield, Baby, Bloodrock, and others.

The officers were Gary Burrow, President; Kathy Olds, Vice-President; Karen Tiller, Secretary; and Gail Smith, Treasurer.

The Bible Chair is the name of a dedicated group of Christians serving on the campus of Southwestern State College. Activities include college credit Bible classes, daily devotionals through a code-a-phone system, student devotions on Tuesday and Thursday nights, monthly singing services for the rest homes, and other projects such as Saturday Activist Benevolent Group.

The student leaders for Chi Sigma Omega are: Ron McIlroy, president; Charles Sides, vice-president; Brenda Vickers, treasurer, and heading public relations is Hugh Ann Snyder.

Each year as special projects the Bible Chair sponsors two retreats, a college student lectureship with all student leaders, a High School Day for surrounding area students and numerous get-acquainted activities for the students at Southwestern State College.

Excellent facilities include a 600 volume religious library, T.V. room, kitchen, ping pong room, outdoor game court and assembly room. The facilities are provided by the area Churches of Christ and are available for all the students of Southwestern State College.

Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation, the campus ministry program of the United Methodist Church, is a religious program to serve the students and faculty of SWSC. Its thrust is founded on the principle that the church has something to offer to the college experience and that higher education has something to offer to the church. Wesley's purpose is to make men's lives more meaningful through the Christian gospel.

The Wesley's weeks schedule includes Sunday Celebration, Wednesday Forum, Education Hour and Sunday morning worship.

Newman Club

The Newman Club, whose primary goal is to foster the spiritual, intellectual, and social interests of its members, is a newly formed organization for Catholic college students. Included in the list of the club's activities is the construction of posters for the Sunday response, discussion of religious topics of interest, and sponsorship of a folk mass at St. Eugene's each semester.

Serving as advisors are Reverend Denis Hanrahan and Shiela Roth of the SWSC Music Department.

Baptist Student Union

Since the members of the BSU began placing an emphasis on Bible study and share groups this year, the action has resulted in a number of such groups being established both off campus and in several of the SWSC dorms.

These activities seem to support the number one objective of the group: " . . . to provide opportunities for Christian growth through service, worship, and development of personal spiritual discipline."

But the various activities of the BSU are not strictly religious in nature. After several days of preparation the members of the BSU turned out a first place winning entry for the 1971 SWSC homecoming. And the BSU's twenty-five member choral group, The Missionaires, has continued to sing its way across the state.

Serving as the organization's officers are Jerry Shepard, president; Dennis Glenn, vice-president; Pam Jech, secretary; and Jim Morrison, sponsor.

Indian Heritage Club

The Indian Heritage Club has been quite active this year, beginning with a 2nd place award for their float in the Homecoming parade. Following this the club sponsored a fund-raising Pow-Wow at Carnegie.

The Indian Heritage Club is currently writing up a proposal for a grant from one of the "foundations," the proposal has a dual purpose in that it will provide Indian students with part-time jobs, while allowing them to work with Indian Students in an effort to reduce and prevent high drop-out rates, alcohol and drug abuse, and juvenile delinquency in this area.

In the sports area, the club's intramural basketball team has won its league's championship and will be competing in a post league tournament to determine the over-all champion of the intramural basketball program. Also, the club's basketball team competed and won an independent tournament at Anadarko, Okla.

There are now 86 Indian Students presently enrolled. They consist of 19 different tribes and represent the states of New Mexico, Arizona, Washington, Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, South Dakota, and Oklahoma. The various tribes represented are Kiowa, Commanche, Arapaho, Northern and Southern Cheyenne, Caddo, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Creek, Cherokee, Osage, Ponca, Kickapoo, Delaware, Navajo, Hopi Pueblo, Laguna Pueblo, Sioux, and Yakima.

The Indian Counseling program which was begun in June 1971 has already proven to be beneficial to the Indian students. The program was begun in an effort to reduce the high drop-out rate of Indian Students at SWSC and raise the over-all grade point of the Indian student. There are many reasons why this program has been successful, but the main ones are that Indian counselors are used and the students are able to understand and relate things to them much easier. The other is that the tutoring available to the Indian students is set up on a one-to-one basis.

Southwestern State College captured their fourth consecutive Oklahoma Collegiate Conference football crown during 1971, a feat matched by only one other club in conference history, East Central's 1963-1967 Tigers.

The Bulldogs racked up an 8-2 win-loss mark plus a No. 10 national ranking during their fourth straight banner year, and only a late season stunning upset by Northwestern prevented the then second ranked Bulldogs from capturing a national playoff berth.

Southwestern opened the '71 campaign by blasting Panhandle and Gib Dolezal, 31-7. Fullback Jim Calip rushed for 102 yards, caught 3 passes for 54 yards, and scored three touchdowns in the contest, as his defensive counterparts held Dolezal, one of the NAIA's leading passers, to 79 yards through the air.

Any hopes the Bulldogs had of a perfect season quickly vanished the next week, when non-conference foe Northwest Louisiana bumped Southwestern 17-10. It marked the second straight year the Louisianans had beaten SWSC, and also snapped a 10 game Bulldog winning skein, compiled over the last two years.

After that however, Southwestern ripped off five straight victories, before being stunned by Northwestern.

Southeastern's Savages were the first victims of that win string, falling 40-0, as five different Bulldogs scored touchdowns.

Northeastern provided little more competition the following week, as they were bombed 31-17 during Southwestern's 1971 homecoming.

The Bulldogs then buried Eastern New Mexico 45-28, as tailback Charles Hicks rushed for over 200 yards, in addition to breaking the OCAC career rushing record.

East Central proved to be tougher than expected, but Southwestern went on to defeat the Tigers 17-7, and keep their league mark perfect, along with Central State.

On the seventh week of the season Southwestern unleashed its biggest offensive punch of the year by ripping Langston and Prinson Poindexter 52-0. This time six Bulldogs got into the scoring act, as SWSC jumped all the way from thirteenth to second place in the national rankings.

Then the roof fell in at Alva, where Southwestern suffered one of their worst setbacks in five years, 21-0. The loss not only dropped the Bulldogs out of the top ten, but gave Central State, who had had their championship hopes doused a week earlier by losing to Panhandle 20-14, another shot at the title.

But the Bulldogs, who had other ideas, perhaps showed some of the finest character exemplied in OCAC history, when with their backs at the wall, defeated both rugged third place Cameron and Central on successive Saturdays to bring home their fourth straight conference title.

Seven members of the 1971 team were named to the All-Conference squad, including Hicks, offensive guard Bob Densmore, center Tom McElhaney, defensive halfback Randy Richardson, and defensive linemen Roy Ressler, Eugene Wilton, and Joe Shegog.

In addition, head coach Otis Delaporte was named as "Coach of the Year" in the OCAC fourth straight time, and Hicks was honored as "Offensive Player of the Year."

Following the 1971 season, Hicks signed a National Football League contract with the Green Bay Packers, to touch off a brilliant career at Southwestern.

Fullback Jim Calip scoots around right end for a sizeable gain in the Bulldog's season opening 31-7 pasting of Panhandle.

Bulldogs Compile Seventh Straight Winning Season

Southwestern State College's basketball team racked up an 18-10 won-loss mark during the 1972 campaign, marking the seventh straight year coach Jerry Jobe's ball club had gone over the .500 level.

In addition, the Bulldogs garnered their sixth consecutive NAIA district 9 playoff berth, only to fall to Oklahoma Collegiate Conference champion Northeastern for the fourth straight time, in the first round of those playoffs.

Southwestern's basketball fortunes started out to be anything but another successful season, as they dropped two of their first three contests in the annual John Brown University pre-season tournament.

After that, however, the Bulldogs ripped off three straight home court triumphs including a 91-74 drubbing of two time District 9 champion East Central, before losing to power houses Northeastern and Oklahoma Baptist on the road.

Southwestern returned home for three more victories over Drury, Cameron, and Central State to stand 7-3 at the semester break.

Starting off the second term, the Bulldogs split a road bill with a pair of Missouri clubs, dropping a three point decision to Drury, whom they'd beaten earlier, and winning over Missouri Southern, whom they'd lost to earlier.

The month of February turned out to be sweet success for the defending conference co-champions as they won six of eight ballgames, to finish the regular season at 18-9.

Jim Callen and Joe Pierce provided the biggest scoring punch for the SWSC roundballers during '72, each averaging over 17 points a contest.

All five starters finished in double figures, with senior playmaker Ken Turner, 6-7 transfer Monroe Carter, and junior guard Eddie Crosson all averaging above the 10 point mark, including Callen and Pierce.

Turner, Callen, and All-American baseball hurler Ray Burris, who came off the bench time and again during the season to add valuable defensive play, were the only seniors on the club.

Bulldog Baseballers Finish 5th Nationally

Southwestern State's baseballers completed their best season in history during the 1971 campaign, sweeping to conference, district, and area titles, plus a 5th place finish in the NAIA "College World Series."

Coach Cecil Devine's ballclub compiled a 28—14 overall mark and presented Devine with his fourth consecutive winning season in as many years here.

Led by fireballing righthander Ray Burris, the Bulldogs ended three years of frustration in finishing 2nd to Phillips by winning the Western Division flag, and going on to capture the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference pennant.

They then reeled off six straight playoff victories before falling to Linfield, Oregon in the national quarterfinals.

Burris was also Southwestern's chief offensive threat during the season, hitting at a torrid .405 clip, while playing right field when not pitching.

Three members of the '71 squad were named to the OCAC All-Conference team, including Burris, second baseman Charles Teasley, and shortstop Chris Griffith. In addition, Devine was named the OCAC's "Coach of the Year" and received special recognition at the 6th annual Oklahoma Headliners Banquet, which honors outstanding sports personalities from the Sooner state.

At the close of the season, Ray Burris was named to 1971 All-American squad as a first team pitcher.

Burris, Devine Honored

Ray Burris was selected to the 1971 NAIA first team All-American baseball squad, while leading his Southwestern teammates to the small college "World Series" in Phoenix, Arizona. Burris compiled the best win-loss record in the nation with a 16-4 mark, while posting a nifty 1.50 earned run average.

The Gould, Oklahoma native also set a new NAIA record for strikeouts with 158, and while in Phoenix, garnered a new tournament hitting record for pitchers, with four hits in five times at bat.

A two-year letterman in basketball, Burris was almost as effective at the plate, hitting a sizzling .405.

Only a junior, and possessor of one of the nation's most blazing fastballs, Burris should give opposing and coaches plenty to worry about next year.

Devine was selected as the OCAC's "Coach of the Year" on his way to bringing Southwestern its fourth consecutive winning season since he came here from Burkburnett, Texas.

Devine is also assistant on the Bulldog's football team.

Tracksters Complete "Year of the Dog"

Head coach Clint Ponder

Southwestern State College's 1971 tracksters put the finishing touches on one of the most brilliant years ever posted by a single school in Oklahoma Collegiate Conference history, by winning the school's unprecedented 5th team title, at the annual outdoor OCAC track and field championships.

The Bulldogs crowned six individual champions at the conference meet, including Larry Stinson in the 220 and 440 yard dashes, Jim Glasgow in the 880 yard dash, Henry Shawnee in the mile run, Mike Ryles in the shot put, and Robert Collie in the pole vault, plus winning the 440 and mile relays.

Stinson was named both Southwestern's and the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference's most valuable squadman for '71 and went on to capture 2nd in the 220 yard dash at the national outdoor finals. In addition, he won the title at the NAIA indoor championship meet in the winter of 1972.

Coach Clint Ponder's cindermen set 13 school and 4 conference records during their banner year that included two out of three dual victories.

Ace quarter-miler Larry Stinson adds his second conference championship as he breaks the tape far ahead of his closest competitor.
