

The Lone Rangers Win Trips to Cancun in SWOSU Battle of the Genders

02.22.2007

SWOSU students (from left) Matt Tyson of Ft. Cobb, Matt Fleming of Piedmont, Joe Wagnon of Deer Creek and Jeff Peters of Clinton are all smiles as they won trips to Cancun, Mexico, as part of SWOSU's Battle of the Genders competition held recently on the Weatherford campus. Their team was known as The Lone Rangers and they edged out 13 other teams to win the trips.

Four Southwestern Oklahoma State University students won trips to Cancun, Mexico, as part of SWOSU's Battle of the Genders.

Matt Fleming of Piedmont, Jeff Peters of Clinton, Matt Tyson of Ft. Cobb and Joe Wagnon of Deer Creek, known as The Lone Rangers, won the fun-filled contest on the Weatherford campus.

Fourteen teams battled in various events, including chicken rodeo; trivia; ball, ring and string thing; 5-legged race; turkey bowling; sudoku; egg drop, balance beam, pass the orange and fearful food.

The SWOSU Collegiate Activities Board sponsored the two-day event.