

Finalists Named for Guitar Hero Competition

02.23.2007

Thirteen Southwestern Oklahoma State University students in Weatherford are finalists for the first ever SWOSU Guitar Hero competition.

The event takes place this Wednesday, February 28, at 7 p.m. in the Memorial Student Union Ballroom. Kappa Gamma Beta is sponsoring the Guitar Hero competition to raise money for the American Cancer Society. The event will have students performing songs from the popular Guitar Hero video game series on Playstation 2.

Finalists are Brandt Arganbright, Cordell; Josh Elder, Killeen TX; Bryce Flowers, Sentinel; Kevin Freeman, Bethany (Putnam City West); Michael Leverich, Edmond (Memorial); Bryan Cole Miller, Sayre; Cory Rash, Turpin; Derek Naranjo, Wichita Falls TX; Luke Ott, Hazelton KS; Eddie Perry, Mt. View; Alistair Randall and Adam Wilczek, both of Lomega; and Brad Yoder, Thomas.

"These guys went through an audition process to have this opportunity," said Zac Dumas, event organizer. "We wanted to find the best performers and gamers at SWOSU."

The public is invited to come and watch the event as audience support will help determine the winner. Tickets are $2 with proceeds going towards the Custer County Relay for Life. For more information, contact Zac Dumas at 580.302-1803.
