

SWOSU Biology Club Hosting Plant Sale on April 11

04.07.2017

Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Biology Club will host a plant sale on Tuesday, April 11, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center lobby on the Weatherford campus. The public is invited.

The club will have a variety of plants for sale including: aloes, small cacti and other easy care succulents; sanseveria (mother-in-law's tongue) and other easy care houseplants; and purple tradescantia—which can be grown as a houseplant or a bedding plant.

Students propagated all the plants using pesticide-free methods.

The plant sale is a fundraiser for the Biology Club and supports various academic and community involvement activities.

For more information, contact faculty sponsors Dr. Rickey Cothran (rickey.cothran@swosu.edu) or Dr. Chris Horton (christopher.horton@swosu.edu).