

SWOSU TKE's SIT-A-THON to Benefit Children's Hospital

04.11.2017

Through Thursday (April 13) at 2 p.m., members of Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Tau Kappa Epsilon (TKE) social fraternity are having a SIT-A-THON to raise money and awareness for St. Jude Children's Hospital.

The TKEs will be sitting outside the Stafford Center on the Weatherford campus, according to Josh Armstrong.

TKE's will be accepting donations for St. Jude's and having various fundraising activities as well. The activities include Pie-a-TKE, allowing individuals to throw a pie in the face of a TKE for $2; a FIFA Tourney on Tuesday evening from 7-10 p.m. with a prize for the person with the most wins; and a Wednesday lunch cookout from 11-2 with food/drinks for sale. All proceeds from this event will go directly to St. Jude's.
