SAYRE JUNIOR COLLEGE

HOME AGAIN

There is nothing quite as peaceful
As going home again,
Where a man can remember simpler times
And can be a boy again.

He can see the tree he played in
And the creek he used to swim,
And sees the old days gone by . . .
He is home again.

There is nothing quite as peaceful
As going home again,
Where a man can forget the hard times
And the places he has been.

He can (for a moment)
Once more be a boy of ten,
And a tear wells up in his eye . . .
He is home again.

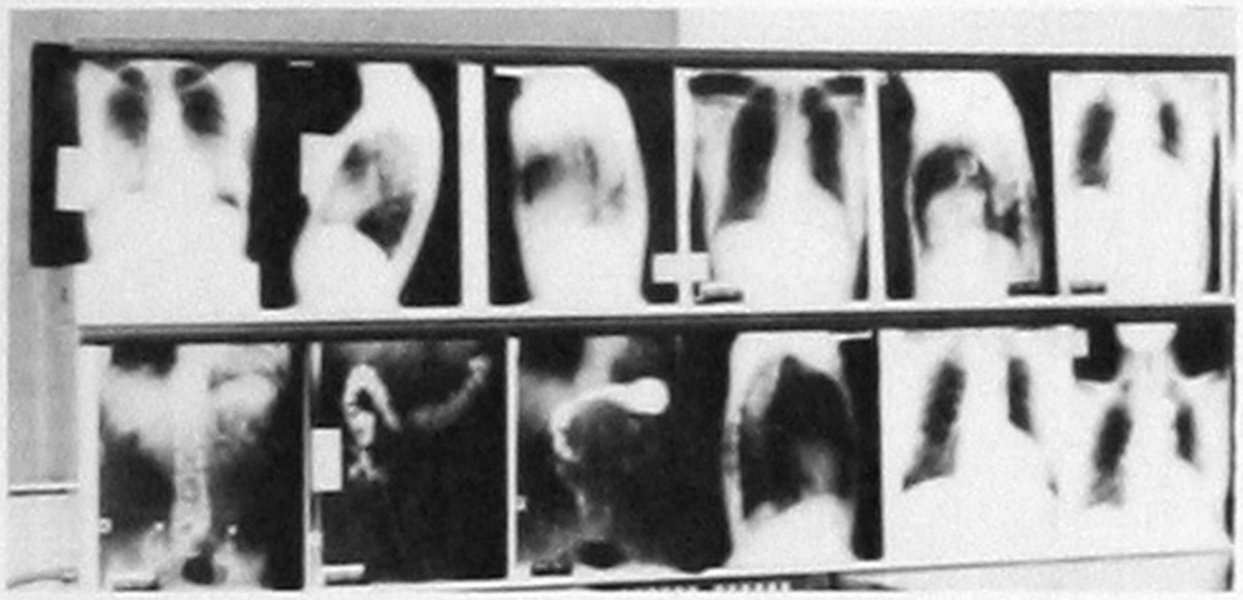
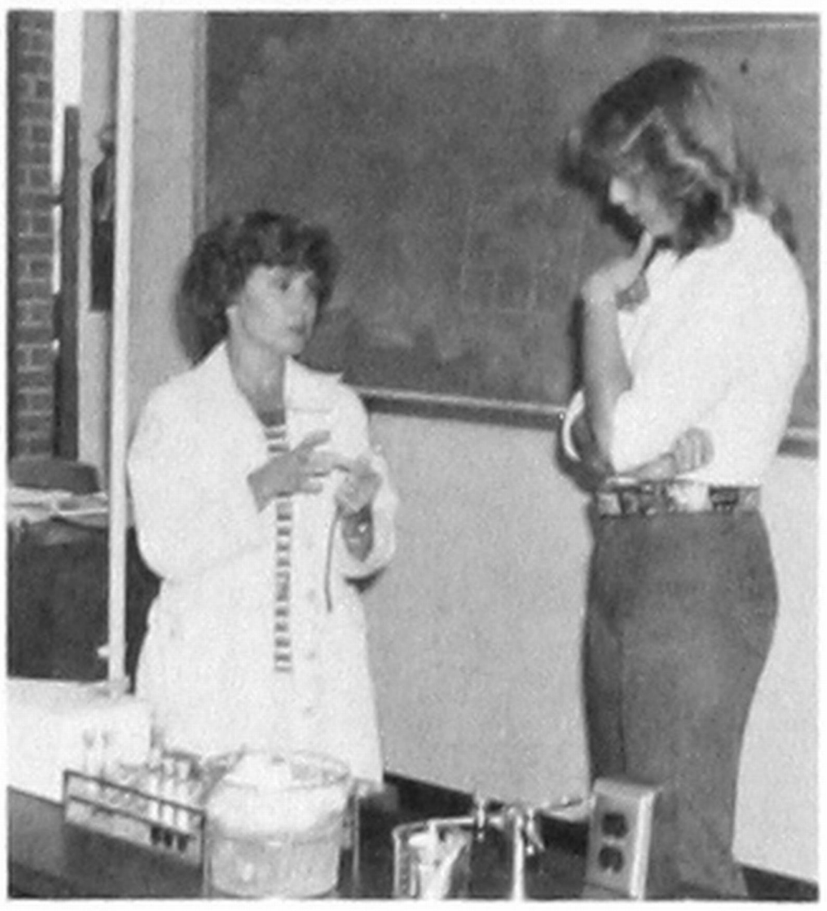
RAD IS A FAD AT S.J.C.



The Radiology Technician is trained to X-ray all parts of the human body.

In the first year Radiology I & II, the students study theory, x-ray production, anatomy and techniques.



Mrs. Sandusky and Mrs. Harris both have their own techniques of teaching. Neither enjoys looking at their students.

Debra Whitson, MT, is a former graduate of SJC. She is the head technician at Roger Mills Memorial Hospital

In Radiology III & IV, students are placed in an approved hospital where they receive clinical training under the supervision of a registered technician plus advanced studies in positioning, patient care and techniques.

BUSINESS

Oops! another error

The business department of SJC offers its students a variety of degrees. The secretarial oriented person has a choice of a one-year or a two-year associate of applied science degree. Both degrees provide the students with training in electronic machines, magnetic keyboards, transcribing units, and electric typewriters preparing them to function successfully in any office situation.

Upon completion of these degrees some students will enter the work force, while others will transfer to four-year colleges and continue work toward a baccalaureate degree program. By preparing today for tomorrow's business needs, students are insuring for themselves a place in the competitive business world.
