Dear Diary,

This is where I will spend a great portion of my time. I will be listening to lectures, working in the labs, learning new skills, studying in the library, playing the newest in electronic games or just visiting in the lounge. The following pages will show some of the activities that I have been involved in.

Diary

Here we are in the business classes where Katrina is working with stencils and Kristi and Barbara are working diligently on Office Machines. Pam is hoping to pass Shorthand while others are learning to type or improve their typing skills. Nancy, what are you doing? Conducting a pow-wow?

Arlene is sure happy with her duplicated copy. Other students are improving their typing skills while Sadie is learning to use the transcriber. Colleen is learning to file and Candace is learning to use the calculator. Ray, are you trying to cheat?

Many students take advantage of the variety of night classes offered each semester. Some of these are: Business Math, Literature, Government, Records Management, Speech and Welding.

The Arts and Crafts class worked on many projects during the semester. They included macrame, paper mache. They also used craft sticks for flower holders, eagles, butterflies and wreaths. Lou Pipes even made a mouse from fans.

Diary -

We all tried to keep in shape by enrolling in various PE classes.

National MLT Student Of The Year

Sherri Wood, a student in the Medical Laboratory Technician training program at SJC was named the Outstanding MLT Student by American Medical Technologists, a national registry of clinical laboratory personnel. She received an all-expense paid trip to the AMT National Convention in Anaheim, California, the week of August 16, 1981, as well as a memento plaque marking the occasion. Sherri received the award in a special presentation by Ames' Professional Relations Associate Barbara Stanley during AMT's Awards Banquet held August 21 in Anaheim. She is a graduate of Woodward High School and is serving as sophomore representative to the SJC Health Careers Club. Sherri was nominated by her fellow students for the award and was selected from a pool of nationwide nominees by AMT because of her exemplary academic record and her participation in school activities. While in Anaheim, Sherri attended educational seminars and met with professionals working in the clinical laboratory field.

The students in the Health Career field enjoy getting together for hamburgers that have been grilled by their gourmet chef, Mr. Chris Christain. When it comes time to wash dishes they call upon their able vice-president, Vernon Shelton. Along with the fun comes times of learning to use the pipettes and how to measure chemicals correctly.

Anaheim Or Bust

Along with attending the many exhibits, seminars, and banquets at the AMT National Convention, Roxann Coker, Sherri Wood, Melinda Lowry, and Sandra Graumann were able to visit and enjoy Disney land.

- (4) Darlene did you find something of interest?
- (5) Sandra, what are you hiding from?

Dear Diary,

Tonight I went to the Health Careers Taco Supper which was very interesting as usual. Along with a scrumptious meal, I was also entertained when the HCC President, Melinda Lowry, slapped a pie in the face of Vernon Shelton, HCC Vice-President. This seems to be an annual event as the president and vice-president are the team captains for the competitive ticket sales; which decides the receiver of the pie. Also it was announced that Peggy Easter, who is a Freshman Med. Tech. student, had sold over 200 tickets, which greatly benefited the club. All in all, this proved to be a most delightful night.

1. Bottomless-pit Brit is always ready to smile for the camera. 2. Don't be so picky, Robert, swallowing a seed or three never hurt anyone. 3. It's okay, Cheri, you aren't expected to be unsloppy eating H_2O melon. 4. Twinkies!!!! 5. While Rip, Keith, and Randy are concentrating, Carl Don, Rodney, Ronnie, and Scott are wondering what Steve is trying to prove. 6. Apparently, Uncle Max is not in to H_2O melon juice on the hands..

We had a very Merry Christmas at SJC

The SJC Singers performed in concert, while the arts and crafts class along with the library aides decorated the bulletin boards, windows and the tree in the hall. The dorm even had a tree on which Don Wills placed the lights.

In the library we find Kay doing homework, Shelley using the card catalogue to locate a book she is needing, the use of books class doing their assignments and students studying for tests. There are many volumes for pleasure reading as well as reference books and reserved books for all departments to use.
