

Business Professionals Visit Macroeconomics Class at SWOSU-Sayre

03.09.2007

Business professionals from the Sayre and Elk City areas recently visited Patsy Wootton's macroeconomics class on the Sayre campus of Southwestern Oklahoma State University. Keith Carter of InterBank, Lisa Prentiss of State Farm Insurance Agency, and Robbie Gilbert of Great Plains Investment Professionals shared their knowledge with the SWOSU students on topics such as insurance, banking and the financial market.

Carter, vice president at InterBank of Sayre, spoke to the class about the banking industry and answered students' questions concerning banking issues.

Prentiss, a State Farm insurance agent, explained insurance to SWOSU students. Prentiss is pictured with macroeconomics students Sheena Dunn and Kelsey Deal.

Gilbert, financial consultant at Great Plains Investment Professionals, spoke to the class about investments and stock market behavior. She is shown with macroeconomics student Chance Trinkle.