

SWOSU Student Organization to Celebrate Festival of Colors this Wednesday

03.24.2014

Southwestern Oklahoma State University's student organization, the Southwestern International Student Association, will celebrate Holi this Wednesday, March 26, at 5 p.m. on the Weatherford campus.

Students should meet outside at the southeast corner of the Memorial Student Center and wear clothes that the student won't mind getting colorful. SISA will provide music, colors and refreshments.

Holi is the "Festival of Colors" celebrated mainly in countries in Southern Asia. The spring celebration often features gatherings of people singing, dancing, and throwing colored water and dry powder colors.
