

SWOSU's SID Wins Awards from OCPRA

07.18.2005

Southwestern Oklahoma State University Sports Information Director Justin Tinder (right) recently won several honors from the Oklahoma College Public Relations Association. Tinder tied for first place in sports writing with his SWOSU basketball preview story. He also won second place in sports publications for the SWOSU football media guide. Congratulating Tinder is (left) Brian Adler, who was president of OCPRA. The awards were announced at the recent OCPRA Summer Conference held at Quartz Mountain Resort. The awards competition involved all universities and colleges in Oklahoma.
