Distinguished Alumni

Randy Beutler is a 1983 and 2003 alumnus of SWOSU who earned a Juris Doctor in 2011. Beutler spent nearly a decade teaching History and Government in Oklahoma's public schools and was twice elected "Teacher of the Year" by his fellow educators. He was elected to the Oklahoma House of Representatives in 1992 where he served four terms and was elected Majority Whip before joining the staff of Oklahoma Governor Brad Henry as a Senior Advisor and head of legislative affairs. Following four years of service as SWOSU's Vice President for Public Policy, Beutler began his tenure as SWOSU's 17th President in 2010. During his presidency SWOSU marked its largest-ever building project and secured its largest-ever charitable gift. He helped forge new partnerships with technology centers and public schools that helped expand SWOSU's reach and impact and he led the institution through challenges including the 2020 COVID-19 pandemic and lockdown before his retirement in July 2021. Beutler is the third longest-serving president in SWOSU history.

Richard Darby was born in 1958 and raised in Duke, Oklahoma. He attended Duke High School and was a member of the Duke Tigers basketball and baseball teams. After graduation, Darby enrolled at Western Oklahoma State College and then went on to continue his education at SWOSU where he received a B.A. in political science. In 1984, Darby received his law degree from the University of Oklahoma and spent time practicing law in Altus before beginning his judicial career. Appointed to the Oklahoma Supreme Court by Governor Mary Fallin in April of 2018, Justice Darby serves District Nine, which is located in southwest Oklahoma. Justice Darby previously spent a total of twenty-three years as a district judge for the Third Judicial District, which includes five of Altus's surrounding counties. First as Special Judge for four years, then Associate District Judge for four years, Darby has now proudly served the Oklahoma judiciary for over three decades. Darby is married to Dr. Dana Darby, Head of School at Altus Christian Academy. They have two sons, Ben and Jonathan. Darby is an active member of the First Baptist Church of Altus where he has taught Sunday school for more than twenty years. He is a prior President of the Altus Rotary Club, Rotarian of the Year, and Oklahoma Court Reporters Association Judge of the Year. In 2020, Darby was inducted into the Western Oklahoma State College Alumni Hall of Fame.
