Voices of the 21st Century

Dr. John Hays was formally inaugurated as the 16th president of the university on December 5, 2001.

In July 2001, Hays replaced Dr. Joe Anna Hibler, who retired after 10 years as president. State legislators, the Oklahoma Regents for Higher Education, Faculty, Staff and representatives from the Weatherford community were present at the occasion. Others included were students and family.

Fifteen student ambassadors were chosen along with ushers from the Student Government Association. The Weatherford String Quartet provided the reception music.

In accepting the symbolic mace of office, Hays stressed the importance of producing graduates who think critically and analyze issues.

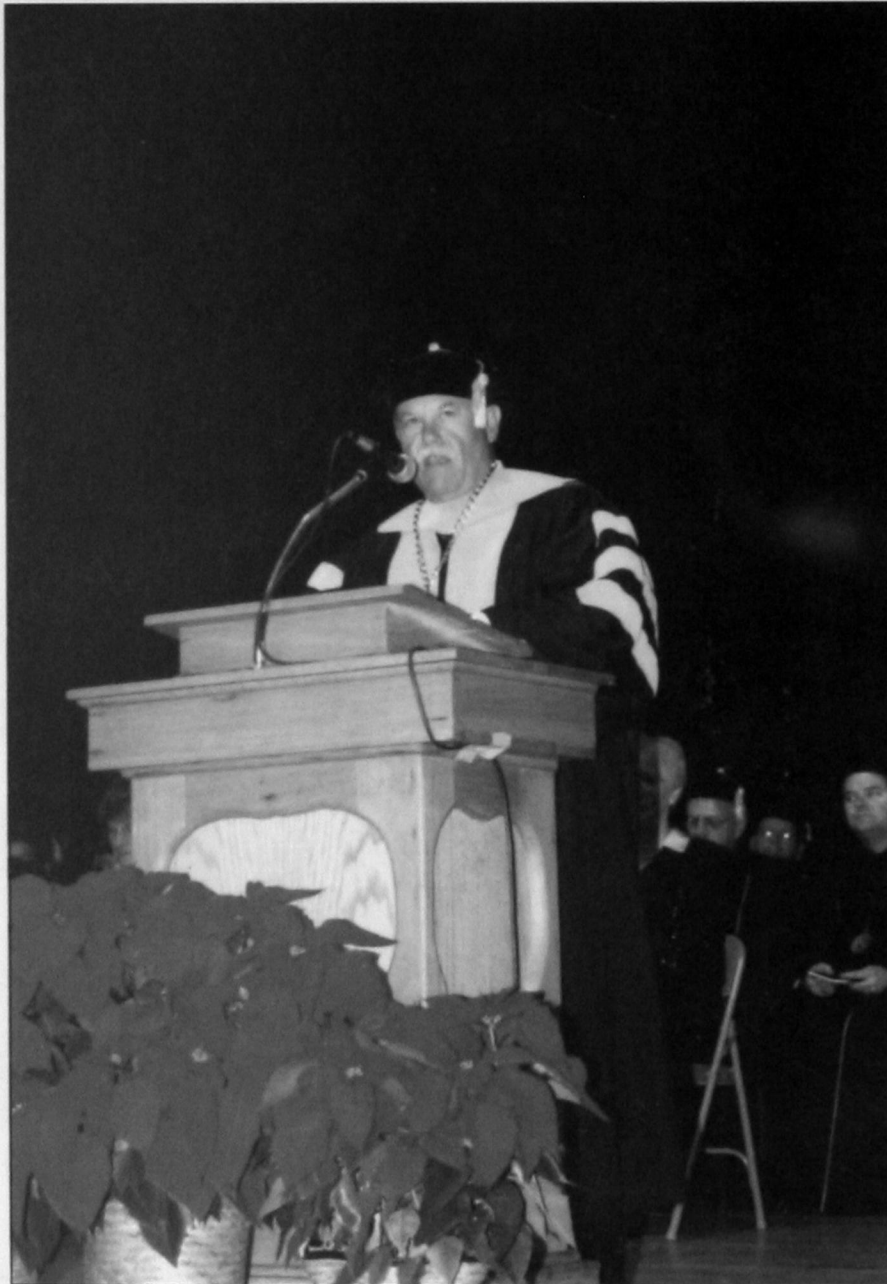

"We must take the initiative to address problems that do exist," he said. "We must keep an open mind to new ideas."

The new president emphasized the importance of knowledge and its role in protecting the nation's liberty. He also stated that university must be active in spreading knowledge now and in the future.

All the stakeholders, students, faculty, support personnel, community and alumni, must work together for success, he said.

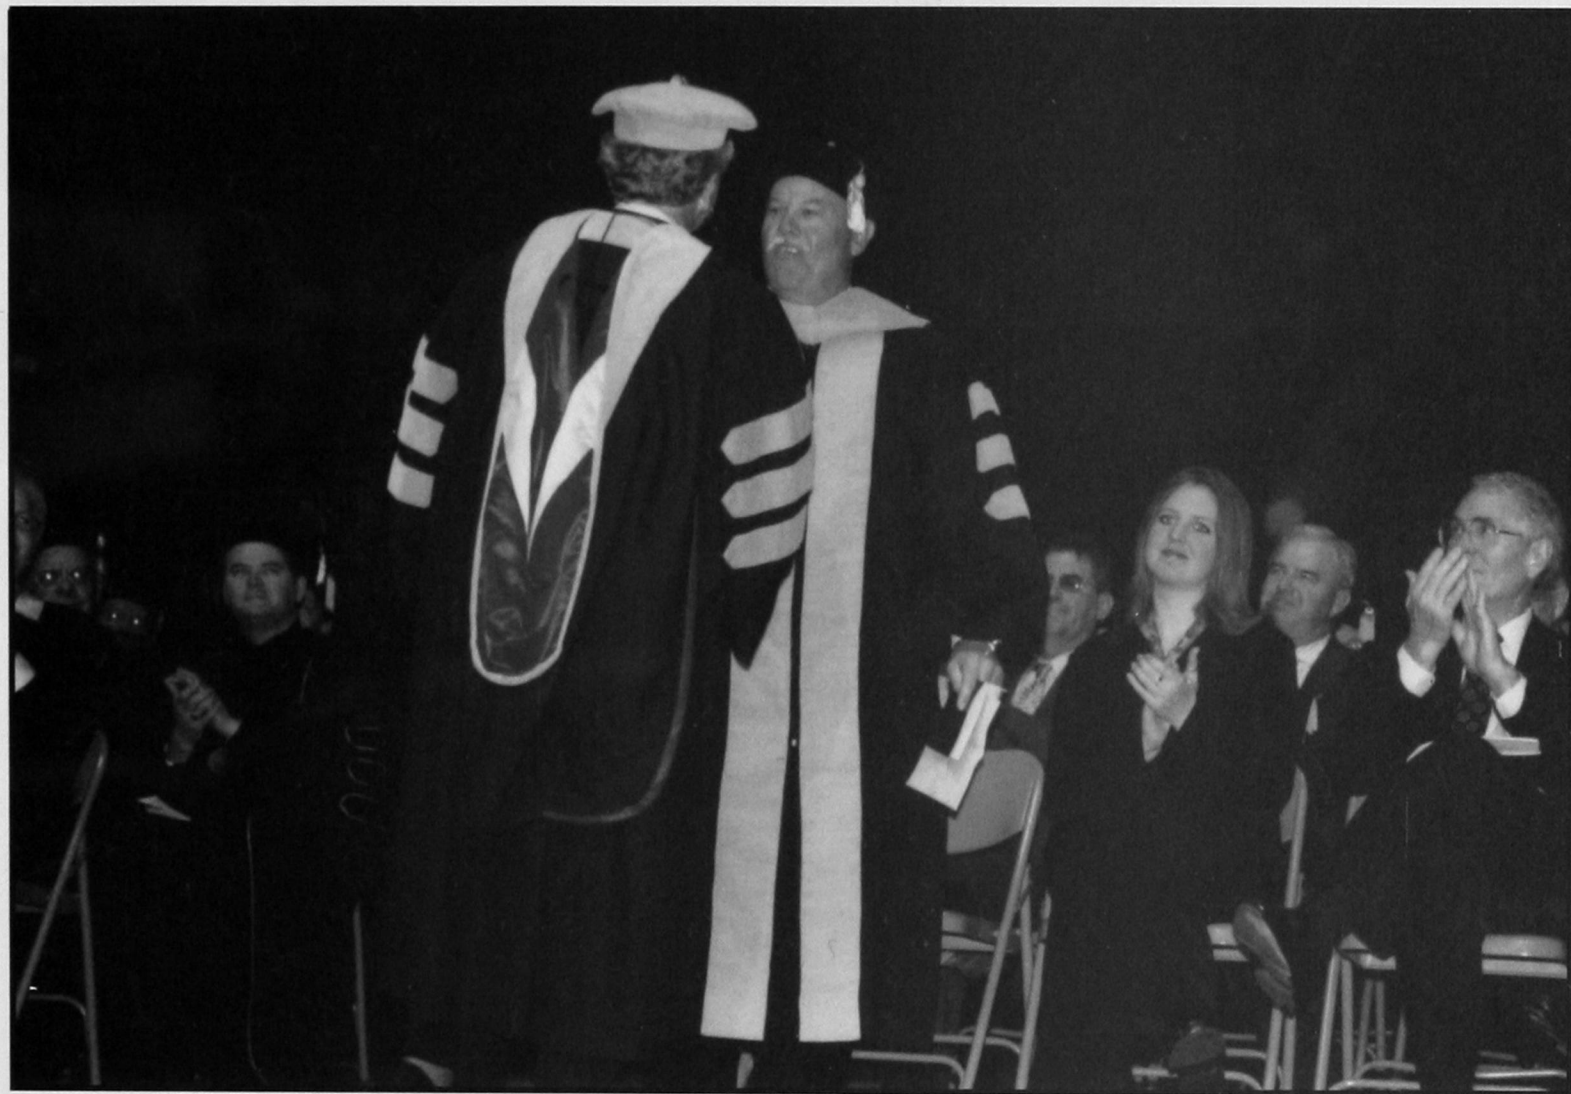

The program hit a patriotic note from the first with the presentation of colors by local National Guardsmen. Cecil Perkins led the Pledge of Allegiance and Charles Klingman sang the National Anthem.

Event of the 21st Century

Our Nation Saw Evil

September 11, 2001

Taken from a Statement by the President in His Address to the Nation

"Today, our fellow citizens, our way of life, our very freedom came under attack in a series of deliberate and deadly terrorist acts. The victims were in airplanes, or in their offices; secretaries, businessmen and women, military and federal workers; moms and dads, friends and neighbors. Thousands of lives were suddenly ended by evil, despicable acts of terror.

A great people has been moved to defend a great nation. Terrorist attacks can shake the foundations of our biggest buildings, but they cannot touch the foundation of America. These acts shattered steel, but they cannot dent the steel of American resolve.

America was targeted for attack because we're the brightest beacon for freedom and opportunity in the world. And no one will keep that light from shining. Today, our nation saw evil, the very worst of human nature. And we responded with the best of America -- with the daring of our rescue workers, with the caring for strangers and neighbors who came to give blood and help in any way they could.

This is a day when all Americans from every walk of life unite in our resolve for justice and peace. America has stood down enemies before, and we will do so this time. None of us will ever forget this day. Yet, we go forward to defend freedom and all that is good and just in our world. Thank you. Good night, and God bless America."

--- George W. Bush

Remembering September 11

When asked the question

"How do you feel the September 11 events have changed your life and the campus of Southwestern?"

students answered:

"The events of September 11th reminded me that my life can change in an instant and I should enjoy every moment that I have been given."

-Amanda Dennison
Sr. History Major

Crowder Lake

Sitting behind a desk all day isn't exactly what a student might call fun. That's why Southwestern gives opportunities for students to take a break from classroom life. Crowder offers many non-traditional classes for students to partake in. Sailing, canoeing, hiking, and rappelling are a few of the activities offered at Crowder Lake. Student's don't have to take classes to enjoy the outdoors. The climbing wall, rappelling wall, ropes course, and fishing are open to students, as are other outdoor activities, such as intro to ropes course, camp counseling, sports officiating, safety education, community recreation, scuba, advanced scuba, racketball, physical fitness, and bowling. Southwestern took over operation of Crowder Lake in 1997, and has built an outdoor education and relaxation haven.

When one thinks of natural disasters in Oklahoma, it's usually tornadoes. On Tuesday, January 29, the National Weather Service issued a winter storm warning for most of Oklahoma to begin late Tuesday and continue throughout Wednesday.

Because of the warmer temperatures, the roads did not ice over. Trees, power lines, and bridges, however, suffered tremendous damage as they bowed down from the pressure of the freezing rain.

"I always thought a tornado would hit us and nothing like this would ever happen," said Brian Allen, assistant hall director at Rogers Hall.

After the university canceled class for Wednesday and Thursday, most residents fled to their respective hometowns or places where they could find refuge. The campus and town went without power for seven days.

Winter's rage hits W'town

More than 20,000 utility poles were snapped due to ice. The students who could not leave were assembled in Stewart Hall, which was heated by a generator.

When the power came back on, Southwestern officials decided to make up the lost time through extra homework, not extra days, much to the delight of the students.

The cleanup continued for weeks throughout Weatherford, and some residents south of town were without power for over a month.

OG&E called it the worst natural disaster in its history.

The School of Arts and Sciences is the largest on the campus. The school's 11 departments -- Art; Biological Sciences; Chemistry and Physics; Computer Science; Health, Physical Education, and Recreation; Language Arts; Mathematics; Music; Psychology; Social Sciences; and Technology -- offer a wide variety of quality, professional programs. Students in the School of Arts and Science gain the preparation required for careers in the professional world.

Students in this school have many opportunities to get involved and make a difference on campus, by working on through the school newspaper, participating in the Pi Kappa Delta speech and debate team, or joining one of the many campus organizations, including the English Club; Alpha Psi Omega; Computer Club; History Club; Kappa Kappa Psi music organization; Kappa Mu Epsilon; Music Therapy Student Association; Physics/Engineering Club; Political Science Association; Psychology Club; Social Work Club; Society of Manufacturing Engineers; Sociology and Criminal Justice Association; and Tau Beta Sigma.

Theatre madness

Pecos Bill and Medea are hits in 2001-2002

"This past year was all about diversity. We went from Pecos Bill to Medea to Mid-night theater."
 Stever Strickler
 Theater Department

Medea was one of Southwestern's outstanding plays of 2001-2002. The production of this play consisted of 22 students, direction by Steve Strickler and technical direction by Daryl Rodriguez. This cast performed at the state KCACTF and recieved the Respondent's Choice Award and the Director's Choice Award. The production then traveled to Forth Worth, TX to participate in the 34th annual Kennedy Center American College Theater Festival. The cast of Medea received a quite flattering standing ovation after its last performance.

Pecos Bill was presented by Southwestern's theater department in 2001. Under the direction of Daryl Rodriguez and the production management of Steve Strickler, this play had the audience rolling in their seats the entire preformance. This play was witty and completely entertaining for all those involved.

School of Business

The School of Business offers a professional, quality education in business that provides students with personal development for careers in the world of government, business, teaching, or graduate level study.

The schools programs are designed to reflect the small business environment found in Western Oklahoma. At the same time, the school prepares students for the environment of large organizations that are significant in today's international trade environment.

The School of Business awards degrees in Accounting; Business Information Systems; Finance; General Business; management; and Marketing. Students are encouraged to extend their learning beyond the classroom by participating in one of the many business related clubs on campus such as Accounting/Finance Club; College Republicans; Marketing/Management Club; and Young Democrats.

School of Health Sciences

The School of Pharmacy has a mission to achieve excellence in teaching, scholarly activity, and service to the state and society.

The minimum standards for admission are completion of at least 60 semester hours, a completed pre-pharmacy curriculum, a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0, and submission of valid PCAT and ACT or SAT scores.

Many students attend Southwestern specifically for the pharmacy program. Students may complete their pre-pharmacy coursework at Southwestern or any accredited college or university offering equivalent pre-pharmacy courses.

Men's and Women's Rodeo

The Southwestern men and women ended the 2001-2002 year in a familiar place — the top of the Central Plains rankings. The men placed just ahead of Ft. Scott (Kan.), while the women were placed second to Oklahoma State University. Both teams look forward to nationals in the summer.

The only unfamiliar aspect of the rodeo teams was the coach, Chad Ramirez, who replaced long-time coach Don Mitchell.

In summer 2001, the Southwestern Oklahoma men's and women's rodeo teams fell just short of earning a national championship, finishing fifth and fourth, respectively, at the College National Finals Rodeo held in Casper June 11-16.

In a field of 62 teams, the SWOSU men notched a fifth place finish with a total of 483 points, while the women finished fourth out of 36 teams with a 285-point total. College of Southern Idaho took the men's national championship with a 925-point tally and Oklahoma State won the women's side with a total of 585 points.

Individually, Jet McCoy was the top men's competitor, finishing fourth in the All-Around with 238 points. McCoy finished ninth in the saddle bronc average and sixth in the bareback. Jet won the third go-round, while also earning top five finishes in the first go-round and the short go.

Brandon Smith also placed in the saddle bronc average with a total of 192 points, while teammate Dustin Murray recorded a third-place finish in the bareback average. Murray won the short go-round of the bareback event, also splitting second place during the third go-round. Justin Hermanson tied for 13th place in bull riding with 72.5 points.

Leading the way for the women was Jennifer Heisman who placed third in the goat tying average. Heisman had top five finishes in every round except the first go-round.

Bulldog Football

After starting the season with two disappointing losses, the bulldogs were able to bounce back with a 49-13 win at Bacone College. Although the bulldogs season started out bitter it became sweet when the bulldogs rallied from behind to beat their arch rivals U.C.O on the road. With only two wins in conference the Bulldogs fell just short of a playoff birth. Lack of experience on offense and defense played a key role in each of the six losses the Dogs suffered. At the start of the season senior Emmons Johnson had this to say about the their inexperience. "Even though we are a kind of young at some positions, our talent level should compensate for lack of inexperience."

Dawgs basketball

The Bulldogs had many explosive superstars on this year's team, one of the best in the history of Southwestern since the switch over to NCAA Division II.

Devon Rice lead the team with an impressive 80 offensive rebounds. Coach Hauser said of this team, "This is the best team by far I've coached since we switched over to NCAA."

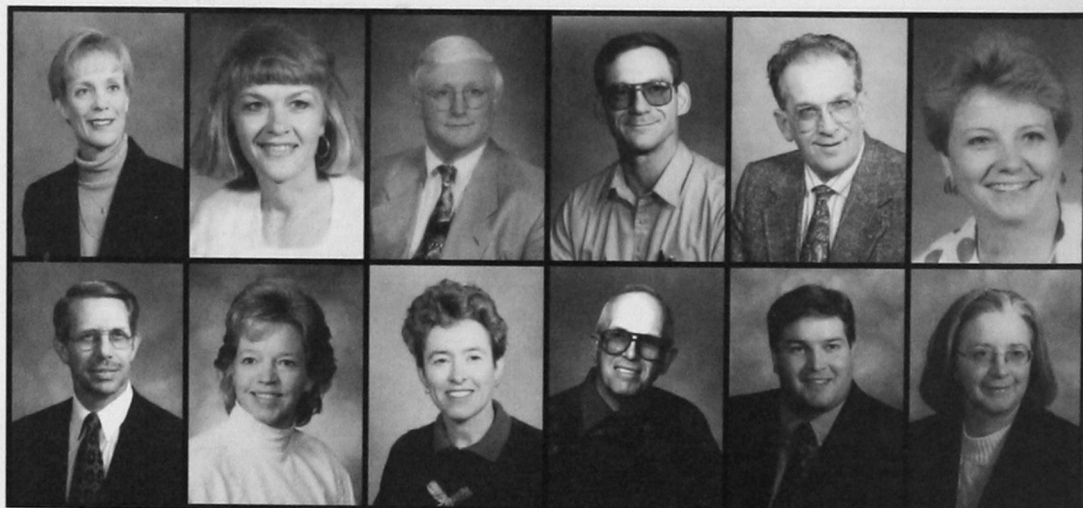

The Southwestern Mens Basketball had an outstanding season in 2001-2002. The Bulldogs finished the year at 17-9 overall, and even more impressive was their 10-1 record at home. Coach George Hauser had high praise for this team. The high tempo style and tenacious defense were too tough for most opponents to tame.

The Lady bulldogs tore through the competition like a child tears open christmas presents. The Heart and Passion that they displayed was inspirational. The women proved their toughness on and off the court. One of many highlights of the year was the upset of the 23rd ranked Lady Savages of Southeastern 66-56. The Lady Bulldogs finished the year at 12-14 overall and 4-7 in the Lone Star North Conference.

When asked if he plans on retiring soon, baseball coach Charles Teasley has a quick reply.

"No way."

The team's performance this year may be a reason why

Teasley wants to stay in the game. The Bulldogs are 29-16 on the year and 13-8 in the Lone Star Conference North Division. They have a couple of star pitchers and a solid hitting lineup.

The good season secured the team a second-place finish in the conference division. At the plate, the team was led by Josh Kilhoffer, while Brent Hill's 2.62 earned run average led the pitchers.

Many times this year the softball team played in the cold at Rader Park

The third season of softball was defined on April 16, when The Lady Bulldogs extended their winning streak to 10 games with a pair of victories over East Central University, 2-1 and 5-3, in Lone Star Conference North Division action at Dean Rader Park. The wins secured second place in the Lone Star Conference North division and moved the Lady Bulldogs to 25-16 overall and 13-5 in the conference.

consecutive victory. Hale (15-6) tossed her 16th complete game of the year, holding the Lady Tigers to one run on four hits. The win gave Hale the SWOSU single-season record for most wins, breaking teammate Nisha Dickson's one-year old record of 14. Hale also tied a single-game record by striking out 11 ECU batters in the contest.

In game two SWOSU senior Tasha Coles threw from the circle for the Lady Bulldogs. Coles rose to the occasion in the first two innings, striking out the first four batters and retiring seven straight to open the game.

In the complete game win, Coles (6-4) gave up eight hits and three earned runs while walking one and striking out nine ECU batters.

SWOSU did the bulk of their damage in the second inning, plating three runs with two outs. Dandy Newton, Hale and Sarah Farrar each tallied RBI-singles in the inning, capitalizing on two ECU errors. Kelly Fitzpatrick scored the Lady Bulldogs only run of the third inning after a failed pick off attempt by the Lady Tigers' catcher.

Men's Golf

New head coach Rocky Powell inherited a team that may have struggled in the 2001 spring season, but has promising new players.

In the first tournament of the season, the Charles Coody West Texas Intercollegiate, Southwestern placed fifth. Southwestern was led by freshman Brian Hostetler. Hostetler shot a one-under par 70 in the final round for a two-day total of 145 (75-70) and a tie for 31st.

Southwestern won their first team title of the season at the Oklahoma Panhandle State Fall Invitational. Hostetler also earned his first collegiate victory, shooting 69-73-142.

Jimmy Thind finished fifth with a score of 77-69=146.

Justin Twyman placed ninth with scores of 78-72=150 and Brandon Cofer shot 77-78=155. Aaron Kauk rounded out the team with scores of 79 and 81.

"I've won in every sport I've coached," said Powell, "and I don't think this will be any different."

Southwestern ended the fall season with a victory and will look to continue the winning in the spring season for fourth place overall.

I thought I played well," said Hostetler, "and I gained some experience."

Women's Golf

The Women's golf team started the fall season with an impressive showing at their first tournament at Prairie West Golf Club in Weatherford.

The Lady Bulldogs finished fourth out of 14 teams. They were led by Clayre Bethel who shot a two-day total of 162 to finish in second place.

At the Oklahoma Panhandle State Fall Invitational in Guymon, Oklahoma the Lady Bulldogs earned their second top five finish of the fall season. Bethel led the team again firing a two-round 163 for another second place finish.

The women's team began the 2002 spring season with a victory at the Golden Suns

Women's Golf Classic in Russellville, Arkansas. The Lady Bulldogs won by 13 strokes and were led by medalist Clayre Bthel. She shot 80-75=155. Jamie Repp finished fifth, shooting 83-83=166 and Amy Killingsworth placed seventh with a total of 171.

A special thanks to Mr. Joel Kendall for vital assistance during various stages in the compilation of the Graduate Record. Also, the students of the Specialized Publications class would like to thank our advisor, Dr. James Silver in the editing process of the Graduate Record 2002.

The 2002 Graduate Record was produced by the journalism department, using Macintosh computers, Adobe Pagemaker, Adobe Photoshop, and Adobe Illustrator. Copy and design is the product of student journalists. All portraits were taken by Blunk Studios of Weatherford. Page reproduction was done by the Southwestern University Press. The ninth edition of The Graduate Record was issued by Southwestern Oklahoma State University as authorized by President Dr. John Hays. Eight Hundred copies have been printed for distribution.
