

Timed WARP Planned at SWOSU-Sayre

04.18.2006

Southwestern Oklahoma State University at Sayre will hold its 7th annual Timed WARP (writing and research project) event for area high school juniors on Thursday, April 25, on the Sayre Campus.

Judy Haught, language arts instructor on the Sayre campus, said the day's activities will include a research and writing competition for the students and a technology workshop for English teachers. The participants with the top three essays will be awarded scholarships.

In addition, the agenda includes lunch, entertainment and prizes. Additional information is available by contacting Haught at 580.928.5533.