

SWOSU Students Hosting Golf Tourney to Raise Funds for Animal Shelter

04.06.2010

Two classes at Southwestern Oklahoma State University and the Friends For Life Animal Society are working together to host a golf tournament to raise funds to build a new animal shelter in western Oklahoma.

Putts for Paws is a four-person golf scramble planned for Saturday, April 17, beginning at 8 a.m. at Sugar Creek Canyon Golf Club in Hinton. Everyone is invited to play.

The two SWOSU Everett Dobson School of Business & Technology classes- Event Management and Sales Skills & Management-allow students to get hands-on experience with this type of activity. The students are working hard to put on a successful event, according to SWOSU Assistant Professor Dr. Tami Moser.

Cost is $300 per team and there will be two prize flights. Cost includes greens fees, golf cart, breakfast and lunch. For additional information, contact Moser at 580.774.3069.

Friends for Life have a 10-acre site south of Clinton and are raising money to construct a sanctuary on the site. The purpose of the organization is to provide a caring, safe and loving environment for abused and abandoned animals.
