04.14.2010

Kids Fest 2010 is planned this Saturday, April 17, from 1-4 p.m. at the Wellness Center on the campus of Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

Kid's Fest 2010 is a free family event for children (babies to age 8) and parents/grandparents/siblings, according to Kim Kelly of the SWOSU Department of Education. Everyone is invited, and there will be free food and games.

The event is sponsored by the SWOSU-Western Early Childhood Association-Student Organization. Kelly said there will be lots of door prizes and helpful materials that will benefit families.

"The SWOSU students have been working hard to make this an enjoyable event," Kelly said.

Due to last year's success, many other programs volunteered to assist WECA this year. Also helping will be the SWOSU Social Work Student Organization, SWOSU School of Nursing, Sigma Sigma Chi sorority, Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation, SWOSU Pom Squad and others.
