

Landon Hise to Speak at SWOSU-Sayre Graduation

04.29.2015

Landon Hise, chief executive officer/ administrator of Cordell Memorial Hospital, will give the graduation address at the Southwestern Oklahoma State University-Sayre campus 72nd annual Spring Convocation on Friday, May 8.

SWOSU-Sayre graduates will be honored at the 7 p.m. ceremony in the Sayre Public Schools Auditorium.

Hise, an Elk City native, earned degrees from the Sayre and Weatherford campuses of SWOSU. He earned an Associate in Applied Science degree in Radiologic Technology from SWOSU-Sayre in 2006 and then a Bachelor of Science in Health Care Administration from the Weatherford campus in 2008.

Before joining Cordell Memorial Hospital, Hise's professional career included stints at Great Plains Regional Medical Center in Elk City, Shiloh Imaging in Sayre, the Orthopedic Institute's MRI Center in Oklahoma City, Elkview General Hospital in Hobart, and Oklahoma City-based Radiology Partners. Then, last June, Hise was named Cordell Memorial Hospital's chief executive officer. At 31, he is the state's youngest hospital CEO.

Hise is a member of the state's Rural Health Council, which provides hospital CEOs a forum to address health care issues specific to rural communities across Oklahoma. He has also been instrumental in Cordell Memorial Hospital's opening of Cordell Memorial Clinic, which opened in March, and features a full-time Certified Nurse Practitioner, cardiologist and an orthopedic surgeon. Also in March, Cordell Memorial Hospital started one of the first fully-functional Tele-Hospitalist Programs in the state and the only one in western Oklahoma, allowing doctors in Oklahoma City hospitals to "check in" with patients via video, audio and medical feed from the patients' hospital beds in Cordell.

Hise is married to the former Jennifer Wells from Cheyenne. He and Jennifer have one son, Landry.
