SGA to hold four debates in the next four weeks

The Student Government Association is going to host open debates on several hot topics in the next four weeks.

Dates and topics include:
 · February 17 — Alcohol on Campus
 · February 24 — Break for Finals
 · March 3 — Co-ed Residence Halls
 · March 10 — Concealed Carry of Firearms on Campus

Tyler Rickey, public relations secretary for the SGA, said debates will be held in Room 104 of the Stafford Center at 6 p.m. He said the SGA hopes to keep the debates to less than one hour each time.

"All students, faculty and staff are encouraged to attend and to offer their input because these are serious and important topics that need to be openly discussed," Rickey said. "Individual input can truly affect the policies to come or whether or not these policies are even written."

Additional information is available by contacting the SGA office at (580) 774-0615. The Student Government Association will host four debates in four consecutive weeks and we are asking for your help.

All students, faculty, and staff are invited to offer their input, and SGA encourages and asks that everyone attends. On February 17th SGA will host a debate concerning alcohol on campus. The debate planned for February 24th concerns SWOSU's final schedules. The debates on March 3rd and March 10th will pertain to the creation of co-ed dormitories on campus, and allowance of the concealed carry of firearms on campus. All debates will be held in Stafford 104 and will begin at 6 PM.

"Please come and offer your input into these matters because what you have to say really does decide policies that affect this campus," Rickey said.

Career Fair to be held next Tuesday in ballroom

Career Fair 2011 will be held on Tuesday, February 15th in the Student Union Ballroom and is open to the public.

Participants should dress professionally and are encouraged to bring copies of their resume. This year participants who are dressed professionally will receive an extra ticket from CAB for a chance to win an iPad at the Pink Out Basketball game on February 16th.

Participants will also be entered to win 1 of 2 $100 Chamber Bucks

Certificates. So far there are 23 companies and organizations registered to attend and several more are anticipated to be there.

Potential participants can go to www.swosu.edu/careers and click on the Career Fairs link to the left to view a list of companies and organizations that will be in attendance. The web site will be updated daily.

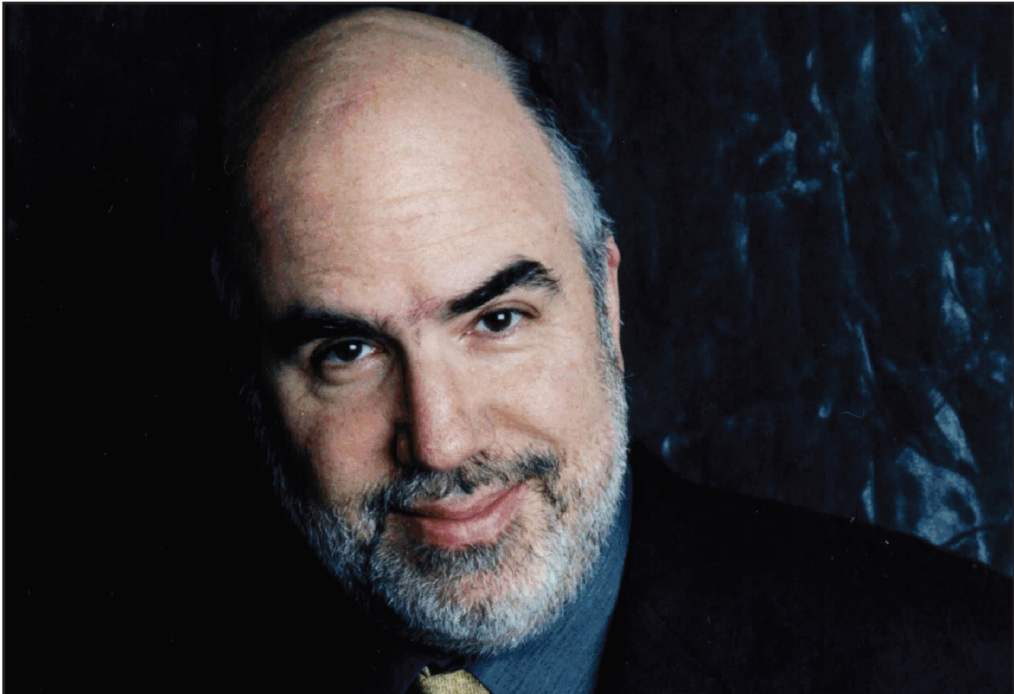

Participants may contact Tiffany Hawkins with SWOSU Career Services at 580-774-3233 or careers@swosu.edu for more information.

Jazz festival features Grammy Award winner

Randy Brecker

Five-time Grammy Award winner Randy Brecker and his quintet will be featured at the 41st annual SWOSU Jazz Festival coming up this Thursday and Friday, February 10-11.

The festival concerts, which will feature the SWOSU Jazz Ensemble "A" directed by Dr. Keith M. Talley and the guest musicians, will be held at 1 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Friday in the SWOSU Fine Arts Center Auditorium.

Tickets, which are $10 for general admission and $3 for students, are on sale at the SWOSU Music Office, Room 100, in the Fine Arts Center or can be obtained before each concert at the door. A free concert featuring the Randy Brecker Quintet will be presented on Thursday, February 10, at 7 p.m. in the Berrong Music Hall Room 101.

Brecker has been shaping the sound of jazz, rhythm and blues, and rock for more than four decades. His trumpet and flugelhorn performances have graced hundreds of albums by a wide range of artists from James Taylor, Bruce Springsteen, Frank Sinatra, Steely Dan, David Sanborn, Jaco Pastorius, Horace Silver and Frank Zappa.

Brecker's quintet will feature Brecker, trumpet and flugelhorn; Ada Rovatti, tenor and soprano saxophone; Dave Kikoski, piano; Steve Laspina, bass; and Adam Nussbaum, drums.

The SWOSU Jazz Festival is presented by the SWOSU Department of Music with the assistance of the Oklahoma Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts. For additional information, contact the SWOSU Music Office at 580-774-3708, email keith.talley@swosu.edu, or visit www.swosujazz.com.

The One Thing You Need to Know

1 Student Workers need to pick up their W2 Forms at the Bursar office located in the Administration Building. All forms not picked up by March 1st will be mailed to recipient's registered address.

Conversation Starters

1 About 7,500 people are expected to take part in Saturday's annual Krispy Kreme Challenge in Raleigh. The rules are simple and stomach-churning: run for two miles, eat a dozen Krispy Kreme doughnuts and then run back along the same two miles.

That's four miles of running to burn off about 2,400 calories. It's for a good cause, though. The race is operated by students at North Carolina State University, and it raises money for the North Carolina Children's Hospital.

2 Police say a western Pennsylvania man stole a Jeep and robbed a bank a day after a judge let him out of jail where he had been awaiting trial on charges of assaulting his girlfriend. Upper Yoder police say 29-year-old Richard Brandon Johnson robbed the First Commonwealth Bank in Bens Creek shortly after it opened Wednesday. He was arrested two hours later and also charged with stealing the Jeep in which police say they found clothes that Johnson wore during the robbery.

Surgeon's talk rescheduled for Feb. 21

Thomas Cashero, M.D., will share his experience of serving as a combat surgeon in the mountains of Northern Afghanistan at an evening presentation on Monday, February 21, on the campus of Southwestern Oklahoma State University. His presentation was scheduled earlier in February but was postponed because of inclement weather.

Dr. Cashero, who was part of a team of surgeons and anesthesiologists operating a MASH unit not far from the Pakistan border, will speak at 7 p.m. in the SWOSU Conference Center, located at the corner of 7th and Davis Streets, in Weatherford. Admission is free and open to the public for the Al Harris Library Showcase Series.

Jason Dupree, head of public services at the library, said viewer discretion is advised because the presentation does include graphic images of medical trauma caused by gunshots and explosions.

The presentation will offer practical, first-hand knowledge for anyone working in emergency rooms or individuals who serve as first responders (i.e., paramedics, firefighters, or law enforcement). The information presented will be very insightful for any college student currently serving with the U.S. military or those individuals pursuing careers as nurses or doctors.

Cashero will dispel common misconceptions about the role of technology and new equipment in combat medicine and emphasize where the real change in medicine has occurred: training, teamwork and philosophy. Cashero will also share stories about additional tasks asked of him in Afghanistan like veterinarian care for U.S. guard dogs, public relations work with local villages and hospitals, security tasks and vehicle maintenance training.

Cashero has practiced medicine for nearly 40 years demonstrating a perpetual dedication to foreign medical opportunities. He has served as a physician in Monrovia, Liberia; Kyoto, Japan; La Paz, Bolivia; and Uromi, Nigeria. In the Army Reserves, he has served twice in Operation Iraqi Freedom and most recently in Operation Enduring Freedom (Afghanistan).

Since 1989, Cashero has held a private practice in Clinton and currently serves as the medical director of Sinor EMS and a surgeon for Integris Clinton Regional Hospital.

Cashero has served in the Army Reserve since 2004. In 2010, he traveled with the 934th Forward Surgical Team (FST), a U.S. Army Reserve unit deployed from Salt Lake City to Forward Operating Base Sharana (Paktika Province, Afghanistan). During his military service, Cashero has earned the following awards: Army Commendation Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Iraqi Campaign Medal, Armed Forces Reserve Medal, NATO Afghanistan Service Medal, and Global War on Terrorism Services Medal.

For more information about the upcoming event, contact Dupree at (580) 774-3031 or jason.dupree@swosu.edu.

Kelly Jewelers, fraternity team up for good cause

Kelley Jewelers and Phi Delta Theta fraternity at SWOSU are teaming up to raise money to fight Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis, also known as Lou Gehrig's disease.

On this Monday through Wednesday, February 7-9, Kelley Jewelers in downtown Weatherford will donate $2 for every student with an SWOSU I.D. that comes into Kelley Jewelers. The "Get Out of the Dawg House" charity event will benefit the ALS Association.

Kelley Jewelers will offer prizes and discounts each day including a "Big Event" drawing on Wednesday evening.

Phi Delt member Kyle Johnson said ALS is a form of motor neuron disease. ALS is a progressive, fatal, neurodegenerative disease caused by the degeneration of motor neurons, the nerve cells in the central nervous system that control voluntary muscle movement. The condition is often called Lou Gehrig's disease in North America, named after the famous New York Yankees baseball player who was diagnosed with the disease in 1939.

The effort is also on Facebook at: <http://www.facebook.com/event.php?eid=151493791571642>

THE SOUTHWESTERN is the student newspaper of Southwestern Oklahoma State University. It is published every Wednesday during the fall and spring semesters, except during holidays and finals week. Students in the editing class serve as section editors, and students in the news gathering and reporting class serve as writers.

The editorial board meets every Wednesday at 2:00 p.m. in the journalism lab, Campbell 211.

THE SOUTHWESTERN encourages comments from the student body, faculty, and administration in the form of letters to the editor. All letters must include a name for consideration; however, the name may be withheld upon request.

The opinions expressed within signed editorials are the opinions of the writers; the opinions expressed in unsigned, boxed editorials are the opinion of the staff. Neither is necessarily the opinion of the university administration, staff or faculty.

SGA Spotlight Open Campus Debates?

Coming very soon the Student Government Association is going to be hosting four debates in four consecutive weeks and we are asking for your help. All students, faculty, and staff are invited to offer their input, and SGA encourages and asks that everyone attends. On February 17th we will be hosting a debate concerning allowing alcohol on campus. February 24th concerns having a break before finals then having finals Monday thru Friday. March 3rd pertains to creating or allowing co-ed dormitories on campus, and March 10th concerns allowing the concealed carry of firearms on campus. All debates will be held in Stafford 104 and will begin at 6 PM. Please come and offer your input into these matters because what you have to say really does decide policies that affect this campus.

SWOSUPalooza 12

Its coming folks! The Student Government Association needs your help planning this huge event! You do not have to be a sworn in member of SGA to help plan this years Palooza, all you have to do is show up! You might possibly even receive a free ticket or t-shirt! If you would like to help decide what bands and activities are held at SWOSUPalooza 12, which is one of the largest concerts held on campus every year, then stop by the SGA House on Thursdays at 5 PM. The SGA House is located south of the Burton House, or just east of the school's volleyball courts. For more information, contact Maria Ortega at ortegamd@student.swosu.edu

Join Us!

If you want to become more involved on campus, take on leadership roles that can actually affect the students and SWOSU as a whole, and also take on a position that looks great to future potential employers, then come join the Student Government Association! We are actively recruiting members, and would love you and your friends to think about joining. Come to Stafford 104 on Thursdays at 6PM and see what we do and how we operate. There is no obligation to join, its open to everyone to come and see!

Students rooting for favorite artists to win Grammy Award

BY TORI NICHOLS
Features Editor

The Bachelor: I don't remember other seasons flying by this fast, but somehow Brad is now down to his final eight bachelorettes. It's come to that point in the season where there are few to no women now that you can just rule out and say are an automatic to go home. All of the favorites still remain and it is now going to be a tough competition.

Last week, everyone got to go to Las Vegas for a quick getaway, and the lucky Shawntel received the one on one date. If I were to have a perfect date it probably would have been the one she received.

They went to one of the best malls in the world and she got to pick out anything she wanted in every store. It was the ultimate shopping spree! Then they still got to go and have their romantic dinner and evening.

I do not think that Shawntel will end up with Brad though. He seemed pretty freaked out when she told him that she was a funeral home director and embalmer. Their conversation does not seem to have much chemistry to me. He ended up keeping her this week though.

The group date was a trip to the NASCAR racetrack, which hit a little too close to home for Emily. Her fiancée that died had been a NASCAR driver. She tried to hold it together, but Brad knew something was wrong.

He felt like a jerk after she told him, but he honestly didn't have any idea. He then spent the rest of the date trying to give her attention and make sure she was all right. This didn't sit well with the other girls. They said they felt like it was Emily's date and they were watching from the outside. He of course also gave Emily the rose at the end of the date.

The last date of the week was the dreaded two on one. He shocked everyone and chose Ashley H and Ashley S., best friends in the house and who both seemed to have strong connections with him. They ended up going to a show and learning choreography to see who had the best chemistry with Brad. They then went to dinner and Brad had to make his decision. He surprised me and chose Ashley H. He said that Ashley H. would make someone a great wife, just not him.

At the rose ceremony, Marisa and Lisa are sent home, which leaves us with our 8 remaining girls. I have a feeling the games are just beginning.

American Idol : The Idol team was in Los Angeles and Austin last week to search for their next superstar sensation. There were several country cuties that were a hit with the judges in Austin and made it through to Hollywood.

The Los Angeles auditions were extremely disappointing. You would think that most of the talent in our country is centered there, but the judges were finding a very difficult time giving away their golden tickets. There were some talented people from the Myspace auditions, (which I thought about doing), but I wasn't too impressed with anyone else.

The judges were extremely entertaining, thank goodness, or I would have been bored out of my mind. This week is when it starts to count though, because it is the beginning of Hollywood week!

The 53rd annual Grammy Award show will be televised by CBS at 7 p.m. this Sunday and the students have spoken.

"I mostly watch the Grammys for the electric and pop music sections. I'm hoping Lady Gaga's 'Telephone' will win" said Cody Carnahan, a junior from Sayre. "Telephone," Gaga's collaborated effort with Beyoncé Knowles, is nominated for Best Pop Collaboration with Vocals.

Several other students seem to be rooting for Gaga, including sophomore Kelsey Blocker of Yukon.

"I'm pretty sure Beyoncé, Lady Gaga, and Miranda Lambert will sweep their categories" Blocker said.

Beyoncé's other nominations include Best Female Pop Vocal Performance for her live version of "Halo."

Lady Gaga has several nominations including Best Short Form Music Video for "Bad Romance," Album of the Year for The Fame Monster, Best Female Pop Vocal Performance for "Bad Romance," Best Pop Vocal Album for The Fame Monster, and Best Dance Recording for "Dance in the Dark."

Lambert has three nominations, including Best Female Country Vocal Performance for "The House That Built Me," Best Country Collaboration with Vocals for her work on "Bad Angel" with Dierks Bentley and Jamey Johnson and Best Country Album for Revolution.

Senior Eric Martin of Weatherford also had high hopes for the outcome of the annual awards.

"I'm hoping 'Empire

Clockwise: Popular musicians like Bruno Mars, Katy Perry, Cee-Lo Green and Lady Gaga are all multiple nominees at this years Grammy Awards.

State of Mind' by Jay-Z and Alicia Keys wins Record of the Year, Mumford and Sons wins Best New Artist, and Contra by Vampire Weekend wins Best Alternative Album.

The nominations for Album of the Year are The Suburbs by Arcade Fire, Recovery by Eminem, Need You Now by Lady Antebellum, The Fame Monster by Lady Gaga and Teenage Dream by Katy Perry.

"I was a little disappointed in the nominations for Album of the Year", Martin said.

Martin wasn't the only one unsatisfied by this year's nominees.

"What in the world is Michael Jackson gonna do with a Grammy?"

said Woodward senior Eryn Brooks. Several musicians are nominated for posthumous awards. Johnny Cash, Arif Mardin, and The Doors are also honored this year.

Freshman Randi Rowland from Tuttle is also disappointed. "Ke$ha's 'We Are Who We Are' should have been nominated for Record of the Year, and there are sucky choices for song of the year," Rowland said.

Junior Shanna Clark of Marlow was excited to see Cee Lo Green nominated in several categories, but she was disappointed when she read the nominees for Best New Artist. "Justin Bieber was nominated? Are you serious? I make Youtube videos, and they never nominated me!" Clark said of the Canadian pop phenomenon who rose to stardom through Youtube videos.

Woodward senior Tyler Powell added, "I'm glad that 'Tighten Up' by The Black Keys was nominated, but I wish that Kid Cudi had been nominated for something."

Senior Tanner Fisher from Calumet, however, had no problem with the nominations. "I see that Sara Bareilles and the cast of Glee are up for several awards. I'd like to see them win", Fisher said.

Green Hornet needs to be swatted

BY DACIA PETERMAN
Staff Reporter

Movies about superheroes usually involve extraordinary power thrust upon an ordinary man or woman by an outside source. This was not so with The Green Hornet. He makes up his own superhero character by competing with the bad guys in being bad.

The Green Hornet, a film adaptation of the classic comic book character, has hit theatres. It stars Seth Rogen as Britt Reid/The Green Hornet, Jay Chou as Kato, and Cameron Diaz as Lenore Case.

Britt Reid, who inherits the premiere Los Angeles newspaper, "The Daily Sentinel", struggles to make something of his life. He is used to extravagance without work, and the transition from party boy to business executive seems to be a difficult one. Facing these new responsibilities, he seeks to make the job his own, but he knows nothing of reporting.

With the inspiration of a coffee-making mechanic named Kato, Reid comes up with an idea that results in bad guys and law enforcement chasing him.

This idea, The Green Hornet, becomes the focus of The Daily Sentinel and Reid's new secretary, Lenore Case, becomes the main investigator. The interaction between these three characters makes up the bulk of the movie. Reid constantly works to gain the affections of Case, while Kato has no trouble in holding a perfectly average conversation with the beautiful reporter. Reid's social skills lack because most of his interactions with people, particularly women, have been at a bar where all were intoxicated.

The purpose of The Green Hornet soon becomes taking down the city's biggest bad guy Chudnofsky. However, with Kato and Reid's recent spat, the quest for justice seems at a stand still.

Reid's character gives off a selfishness, uncommon to the average superhero, as well as a disrespect for people in general. Throughout the movie, the struggles to believe Reid actually makes an effective superhero, and his ridiculous lack of character, distracts from the main plot. Seth Rogen, who plays the main character, co-wrote the script. He also co-wrote the script for the movie Superbad, which I did not take the time to watch because of the content in the trailer. Rogen has also starred in Knocked Up and Pineapple Express.

Kato, the unnamed sidekick, sparkles in contrast to Reid. His superior skill in multiple areas makes one wonder why his was not the main character. He fights crime with dashing good looks and a brave attitude, whereas Reid comes off more as comic relief, and bad comedy at that.

If you enjoy the immature humor of Knocked Up, Pineapple Express, and Superbad and tolerate an overall bad script, this is the movie for you. As for me, I'll stick to Batman, Spiderman, and The X-Men.

Women's team record drops to 10-10

By Sports Information

LAWTON, Okla. – Southwestern Oklahoma State could not cure its recent shooting woes and found itself on the short end of a 68-53 women's basketball score Saturday at Cameron University.

The loss to the Aggies was the second in three days for SWOSU who saw its overall record dip to 10-10 on the year. SWOSU is now 2-6 in the Lone Star Conference North Division Standings and a full two games back of fourth-place, the final spot for qualification for postseason play.

Sumiya Darden had 16 points and 13 rebounds to lead the Bulldogs while she got double-figure scoring help from teammates Holly Jennings with 12 and Michelle Fisher with 10 points.

Cameron, which improved to 11-11 and 4-4 in the LSC North, was led by Nicole Pendarvis with 17 points.

SWOSU finished the game making just 16-of-53 shots against the Aggies for 30%. The Bulldogs were limited to a season-low 23% in their previous meeting. SWOSU's shooting struggles were not limited to just the field. SWOSU made only 46% of its free throws on 15-of-33 attempts.

The Bulldogs had control early and were holding a nice early lead when Darden put SWOSU up 18-11 with 11:13 in the half. The Aggies got back slowly and managed to tie it at the halftime break when Purvis drilled a three-pointer to make it 27-27.

The Aggies pulled ahead for good in the second half and were up 12 when Purvis scored on a bucket to make it 49-37 with 8:10 to play. SWOSU got within seven a few minutes later when Fisher knocked down a three-pointer with 5:43 cutting Cameron's lead to 52-45.

Cameron put the game out of reach with a 14-2 run over the next four minutes and were up 66-57 with just over one minute to play.

SWOSU will have little time to regroup as the Bulldogs will host Texas Woman's University on Wednesday. Tipoff is at 6 p.m. at Rankin Williams Fieldhouse.

Offensive battle ends in defeat

By Sports Information

LAWTON, OKLA. – SOUTHWESTERN OKLAHOMA STATE UNIVERSITY WENT TOE-TO-TOE WITH RIVAL CAMERON UNIVERSITY FOR 40 MINUTES BEFORE THE AGGIES EMERGED WITH A 71-63 VICTORY SATURDAY IN LAWTON.

Cameron's win allowed the Aggies to again forge a tie for fourth place with SWOSU in the Lone Star Conference North Division standings. Both teams are at 3-4 in division play and trail Texas A&M-Commerce and Northeastern State who are a full game ahead in a two-way tie for second. Central Oklahoma is first unbeaten through five games.

The SWOSU-Cameron game was close throughout with neither team leading by more than nine points. The score was tied six times and changed leads 14 times. Both teams shot the ball well with SWOSU making 49% of their attempts and Cameron sinking 51%. The only significant statistical advantage the Aggies had was making five more three-point baskets.

Cameron used one of those three pointers, a basket by Dylan Gilliam, to push the Aggies in front 48-46 with 7:47 to play. Gilliam's trey sparked a 13-4 run that put the Aggies in front for good. The run ended when Desmond Henry powered in a dunk and Cameron's cushion was 58-50 with 3:41 to play.

SWOSU stayed tight and got within three at 61-58 when Chancellor Jones hit two free throws with 1:28 to play. It was again Murray who got loose underneath and put Cameron back in front by 63-58 with his second dunk in a two-minute span.

Ross Moore led SWOSU in scoring with 16 points while Jones chipped in 11. Jamere King added 11 including a late basket that kept SWOSU within striking distance in the final seconds.

Cameron, which improved to 13-9 overall, was led by Murray who finished with 16 points.

SWOSU will next play Saturday, Feb. 12 at East Central before returning home with an important game against Texas A&M-Commerce on Wednesday, Feb. 16.

Baseball team splits opening series

By Sports Information

SAN ANGELO, Texas – Southwestern Oklahoma State University needed some extra time but managed to salvage a split in its season-opening baseball series with Angelo State thanks to a 7-3 victory in the second game of a doubleheader Sunday night. The Bulldogs were beaten 4-1 in game one.

Christian Wise drove in a pair of runs with a two-out single in the top of the 13th inning as the Bulldogs ended the three-hour marathon game in a celebratory fashion. SWOSU scored four runs in the inning thanks in part to a pair of walks, a hit batsman, and a fielding error turning them into runs.

The Bulldogs extended the game into extra innings with a run in the top of the ninth that tied it at 3-3. Andrew Yates led off the inning with a single then advanced to third on an error by the Rams. Nelson Espinal then lifted a deep fly ball to left field that scored Yates on a sacrifice.

Doug Carel got the win in relief for SWOSU pitching a spectacular five innings where he completely shut down ASU without allowing a hit or a run. Carel allowed only one of the Rams 16 batters to reach base during his time on the mound.

Stephen Castiglione retired the Rams in order in the 13th to pick up the save.

The two teams will conclude the series with a single game on Monday at San Angelo, Texas.

Softball team set

By Sports Information

WEATHERFORD, Okla. – The 2011 softball season holds a lot of promise for Southwestern Oklahoma State University and its veteran Head Coach Tami Loy as the Bulldogs have a solid group of returning starters to go with an impressive infusion of newcomers.

"I'm very excited about this group of players and competing against a schedule that will improve us as the season continues," Loy said. "We have great leaders in place, and they have some very specific goals they hope to achieve. They've done a great job of getting our new people to understand our system and buying into what we want to accomplish." SWOSU finished the 2010 season with a 25-27 record and were especially tough on their home field, finishing at 16-9. SWOSU hit .314 as a team, fifth best in the Lone Star Conference, and have many of the same players back this year.

"We see ourselves as much more prolific offensively and can't wait to see that turn into more runs and a lot of action," Loy said. "We have worked to increase our abilities and consistency on defense and we feel like we are stronger at a number of positions."

SWOSU's most improvement could very well come in the pitching area, where the Bulldogs ranked 10th in the league in ERA with a 3.67 mark a year ago.

Cassie Chambliss, a returning right hand pitcher was SWOSU's top pitcher last year. She finished with a 10-15 mark and a 3.13 ERA, pitching 170 innings, striking out 100 batters and threw back-to-back shutouts against Oklahoma Panhandle and Pittsburg State.

Also in the mix, left-hander Katie Raines will return after missing the entire 2010 season due to a broken finger on her pitching hand. As a freshman in 2009, Raines was the Bulldogs most effective pitcher where she posted a 2.95 ERA in 109.1 innings of work.

The season will begin Saturday for the Bulldogs as they host Friends University in a doubleheader on February 5th at 1 p.m.

RES LIFE

The HUNT

Each week students will be given a chance at finding the autographed baseball, located somewhere on the SWOSU campus. The one that locates it will win a prize valued higher than gold. Just bring it to the housing office to receive your prize.

CLUE:
The baseball is still out there to be found,
Follow the clues to look up, down, and all around,
Take a breather before you enter the blue door,
Win this prize and you will be a little less poor,
Now hurry along and find what ought to be found.

Microwave Minutes

WITH CHEF PAUL

Tomato, Basil and Mozerella Breakfast Sandwich

Preparation Time: 8 minutes
Microwave Time: 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 minutes

2 eggs
2 english muffins, cut in half
2 tomato slices

2 to 4 slices of thinly sliced fresh mozzarella
Small handful of fresh, washed basil leaves
Olive oil to taste

Preheat a 2 to 2 1/2-quart or 10-inch square microwave browning dish on HIGH (100%) for 2 minutes. Using oven mitts, carefully remove dish to a heatproof surface. Add 2 teaspoons butter or margarine to hot dish; tilt dish to coat bottom with butter. Carefully break 2 eggs into dish.

With a fork, prick egg yolks straight down through membrane. Cover with a glass lid. Microwave on HIGH (100%) for 45 to 90 seconds until eggs are fully cooked. Remove from oven; let stand, covered, for 2 to 3 minutes before serving.

Open the english muffins, toast them, and drizzle a little olive oil on each muffin. On each muffin, place 1 egg, 1 tomato slice, 1 to 2 slices of mozzarella cheese, and several fresh basil leaves. Finally, top with the second half of the English muffin.

Learnin about Lovin

By Erin DeWalt

Oklahoma Hall will be hosting their annual Valentine's Day Sex Party. All right...get the minds out of the gutter. SWOSU Nurse Laura Smith will be presenting information and answering questions pertinent to a healthy and safe sex life. This includes prevention of STD's, contraception options, and any other questions you may have. Be on the lookout for the date and time of this upcoming event, it will be posted in OK hall and the other Residence Halls.

NAME THAT BABY!!

If you haven't heard, Zack and Elissa Saunders, Hall Directors at Rogers and Jefferson, are having a child! So how do we at R&J choose to celebrate this monumental event?! By auctioning off the name of their child, of course! February 9th at 7:00 pm, R&J will host the first (and last) Saunders Ping-Pong Invitational 2011. The event will include snacks, drinks, and a bracket of the up-and-coming, young Ping-Pong players of the day. They will be vying for the chance to face the Juggernaut, Zack "Big Daddy" Saunders, in the final to win the naming rights of his baby, "_____" Saunders. (I personally am pulling for Nebuchadnezzar.) R&J residents can sign up for one of the sixteen bracket slots February 2nd at 8:00 pm in the front lobby. If worse comes to worst, it's bound to be a great story for Nebuchadnezzar when he gets older! *

* They will not actually win Zach's baby's naming rights. That is ridiculous. They probably won't even beat him in the final anyways. But it's worth a shot.

Basically there are two things you need to know about me. First off, if I had to choose between being a pirate and a ninja, I would be a pirate. Who wants to jump around and throw knives when you can just shoot things and ride around the Caribbean in a super fast ship. But in all reality, I wouldn't want to be either. The second thing that you need to know about me is that I am secretly Harry Potter; J. K. Rowling based her book after my life. So why would I want to be a pirate or a ninja when I am the most famous wizard ever?
