

Brown and Hall are SWOSU Employees in the Spotlight

10.07.2005

Jeremy Brown

Adam Hall

Jeremy Brown and Adam E. Hall are the employees in the spotlight during the month of October at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford.

Brown is the assistant men's basketball coach at SWOSU. He has worked at SWOSU for over two years. Brown, originally from Wichita, Kansas, currently lives in Weatherford. He has a master's degree in health and human performance. He enjoys playing golf.

Hall works for the grounds crew at SWOSU. He has worked at the university for over two years. Hall, who was born and raised in Weatherford, currently lives in Weatherford with his wife, Jennifer, and their 3-year-old son, Eli. He attends the Church of the Nazarene in Weatherford. Hall enjoys hunting and fishing.

The employee spotlight is sponsored by the SWOSU Support Personnel Organization.