

SWOSU Library Employees in Old-Fashioned Clothes

04.20.2007

As part of National Library Week and Oklahoma Centennial activities, several Southwestern Oklahoma State University Al Harris Library employees at Weatherford dressed up April 20 in styles similar to the time of statehood. The employees also served cookies at the library's circulation desk. Among the participants were (front from left): Erin Ingraham, Rosemary Kerlick, Renee Ryburn, Linda Pye and Rachel Hawkins. Back from left--Frederic Murray, Kay Rhoads and Janet Grabeal.
