

Jason Dupree Named Director of Libraries at SWOSU

05.01.2014

Jason Dupree was recently named the Director of Libraries at Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

Dupree will oversee operations of the Al Harris Library on the Weatherford campus and the Oscar McMahan Library on the Sayre campus.

Dupree has been a faculty member at SWOSU since 2002. He holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from Phillips University and a Master of Library and Information Science degree from the University of Oklahoma.

He is currently Head of Public Services for the Al Harris Library and previously held the position instructional services librarian. He has held library and instructor positions at the University of Oklahoma and Oklahoma Baptist University. He has been serving as interim director of the SWOSU Libraries.

Dupree has served on the SWOSU Faculty Senate and on the SWOSU Intellectual Property Committee, Academic Appeals Committee and the university's strategic planning team. Recently, he was appointed to the executive board for the Oklahoma Council of Academic Library Directors.