

Patsy Parker Named Associate Dean of SWOSU's Everett Dobson School of Business & Technology

06.11.2015

Dr. Patsy Parker has been appointed associate dean of the Everett Dobson School of Business and Technology at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford.

Parker is a tenured associate professor in the school. She has served at SWOSU since 1999 and as a department chair since 2007. Parker earned a doctor of philosophy degree in higher education administration from the University of Oklahoma. She is active in student recruitment and retention, served as a member of SWOSU's Higher Learning Commission Steering Committee and been active on many other university committees.

In 2014, Parker was awarded the prestigious Bernhardt Academic Excellence Award. In addition to teaching, she serves as managing editor for the Administrative Issues Journal. Parker is active in community service through Rotary International, the Weatherford Area Chamber of Commerce and American Association of University Women.