

Ray Receives Grant to Attend Conference on Distance Learning

05.17.2010

Southwestern Oklahoma State University and Steven Ray (right), technology specialist in the SWOSU Distance Learning Department, recently received a travel grant through the Higher Education Telecommunication Association of Oklahoma (HETA) in the amount of $1,800. The grant, in part, funded the travel of Ray to the recent ITC Conference in Ft. Worth, Texas. The conference centered on topics like course development, new technologies for course delivery, and solutions other institutions use for challenges faced in distance education. With Ray is SWOSU Provost Blake Sonobe.
