

SWOSU Biology Students Win Awards

05.03.2007

Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Biology Club and Beta Beta Beta recently held their annual honors banquet on the Weatherford campus. Eighteen scholarships and awards were presented to biology students. Among those receiving Otis King Memorial Scholarships were (from left): M'Kenzi Crabb, Hollis; Kassandra Guthmueller, Purcell; Grace Ann Jones, VanBuren, Ark.; and Kassandra Gurtner, Weatherford. Those receiving Jerry and Shawn Grizzle Scholarships were (continuing from the left): Chris Turna, Waukomis; Danielle Gross, Mill Creek; and Whitney Wichert, Pampa, Texas.

Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Biology Club and Beta Beta Beta recently held their annual honors banquet on the Weatherford campus. Eighteen scholarships and awards were presented to biology students. Among those receiving scholarships were (from left): Migun Shakya, Nepal, Ottis and Buena Ballard Memorial Scholarship; Garrett Scott, Granite, Ryan Peters Memorial Scholarship; Ashika Shrestha, Nepal, International/Out of State Biologist Scholarship; and David Supeck of Tulsa (Bishop Kelley) and David Hollrah of Oklahoma City (PC North), both Dr. John and Shirley Huser Scholarships.

Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Biology Club and Beta Beta Beta recently held their annual honors banquet on the Weatherford campus. SWOSU students who were inducted into Tri Beta, a national biological sciences honor society, were (left to right): Srijana Mukhia, Nepal; Zach Moody, Norman; Tiffany Roland, Altus; David Hollrah, Oklahoma City (PC North); Migun Shakya, Nepal; Garrett Scott, Granite; Mercedes Bernard, Granite; Levi Feltman, Cordell; Ashika Shrestha, Nepal; Candace Whitebead, Hinton; and Sarah Gordon, Del City. Not pictured are M'Kenzi Crabb of Hollis and Michael Hammons of Ft. Cobb.

Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Biology Club and Beta Beta Beta recently held their annual honors banquet on the Weatherford campus. Eighteen scholarships and awards were presented to biology students. Winning SWOSU Biology Department Awards were (from left): Michael Johnson, Elk City, Hobart Landreth Research Award; Rye Wilhite, Frederick, Arthur Schuck Outstanding Freshman Award; Ryan Adams, Mountain View, Audubon Henry Neff Pre-Professional Award; Kerri Elliot, Hammon, Tri-Beta Outstanding Senior Award; Levi Feltman, Cordell, Mary Miller Field Biology Award; and Matt Goeringer, Bessie, Charles Torbeck Departmental Service Award.