

Laura Smith New Director of Student Health Services at SWOSU

08.01.2008

Laura Smith is the new director of student health services at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford.

Smith started August 1, replacing Rebecca McBride.

Smith graduated Cum Laude from the SWOSU School of Nursing in 2002. She has a deep interest in community nursing and her first job was with the Oklahoma State Health Department, where she provided education and preventative care to first-time mothers and their infants.

She worked for two home health firms for the past four years. Smith was director of clinical services for Advanced Homecare Services and recently director of nurses for Encompass Home Health.

Smith and her husband, Garrett, live in Weatherford and they have four children.
