10.17.2017

Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Computer Club will hold its annual Extra Life Lock-In fundraising game night for the Children's Miracle Network Hospitals starting on Friday evening, October 27, and continuing through early Saturday morning.

The SWOSU Computer Club will provide food and drinks for the event that runs from 6 p.m. until 6 a.m. in the Pioneer Cellular Event Center in the West Corridor on the Weatherford campus.

Fun games will be played throughout the night for the good cause, according to Computer Club co-sponsor Hayden Harrington. Attendees must be 18 years or older. Participants do not have to be SWOSU students to attend. The event is open to the public.

Entrance fee is $15 and is recommended to be donated online. To donate, go to the "SWOSU Computer Club" donation page and donate by October 27.

There will be three video game tournaments held. 2 vs. 2 Halo: Master Chief Collection, Super Smash Bros. on Wii U, and 2 vs. 2 Rocket League. There will also be tabletop games (board, card, etc.) that will be available to rent out for free using your licenses.

It is the attendee's responsibility to bring everything they need to play (i.e. screens, games, game consoles, computers, etc.).

"It's a great cause to stay up and game all night with 100% of the money raised going to benefit local kids through the Children's Miracle Network Hospitals," Harrington said.
