Southwestern Oklahoma State University cheer team is gearing up for a year of spirit and excitement on the Weatherford campus, and students have two more chances to join the team.

SWOSU cheer will hold co-ed tryouts on Monday, September 9, at 7:30 p.m. Male athletes are especially needed, according to Coach McKenzie Pshigoda. She said no experience is needed for athletes to tryout. The tryout is closed to the public, and interested students should contact Coach Pshigoda for the tryout location.

On the following Monday, September 16, students can audition for the role of SWOSU mascot Brandy the Bulldog. Tryouts will be held in the Rankin Williams Fieldhouse at 7:30 p.m.

Scholarship monies are available for members of the cheer team and for the mascot.
