

SWOSU PBL Officers Plan Busy Year

10.20.2008

Officers are (left to right): Dana Nightingale, Elk City, secretary; Kelsey Zybach, Briscoe, Texas, executive vice president; Jordy Acklin, Mustang, vice president for student relations/Student Government Association representative; faculty advisor Jim Long; Kody Tucker, Sayre, president; Kelsey Boone, Vici, vice president for fundraising; and Alyssa Showman, South Haven KS, treasurer.

The officer team of Phi Beta Lambda (PBL) at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford recently met to discuss fundraising activities and various events they will be hosting for SWOSU students during the upcoming year. The officer team also plans to attend the PBL State Fall Leadership Conference on November 1 in Tulsa. PBL is a national business organization with a local chapter at SWOSU. PBL meets once each month and is open to every major on campus. The local chapter plans to provide students with the opportunity to hear speakers on a wide range of topics.
