

CAB Plans Homecoming Activities

10.28.2008

Collegiate Activities Board members at SWOSU are getting ready for Homecoming this weekend. CAB will pass out beads, bulldog fangs and candy at the annual parade in conjunction with this year's theme, "Born, Bred & Bleed Bulldog Blue." The parade is at 3 p.m. in downtown Weatherford. Lots of activities are planned this Saturday. Check out www.swosu.edu for more information.

Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Collegiate Activities Board is gearing up for Homecoming activities this Saturday, November 1, on the Weatherford campus.

CAB is passing out spirit beads, bulldog fangs, and candy at the 3 p.m. parade on Saturday to go along with this year's theme, "Born, Bred & Bleed Bulldog Blue."

At the 6 p.m. football game, anyone in SWOSU gear can spin the prize wheel free of charge for a chance to win SWOSU items such as dog paw magnets, ID holders, beach balls, kazoos, staplers, pens, fuzzy dice, bulldog spike-collar bracelets and other prizes.

Also at the game, CAB will give away a PS2 and Guitar Hero. Any SWOSU student wearing SWOSU attire will receive one PS2 and Guitar Hero ticket. Students wearing a Milam Madmen t-shirt will receive a free coke ticket and two tickets for a chance to win the Guitar Hero with Play station 2. The winner will be announced at halftime.

CAB encourages anyone wanting to join the organization to stop by the Dean of Students office, STF 214, call 580.774.7153, or e-mail cab@swosu.edu.
